A. Introduction

Note: This introduction to Info Source is in large print to assist persons with visual disabilities.

Info Source: Sources of Federal Government Information will make it fast and easy for you to find out about the Government of Canada, its organization and its information holdings. It will help you determine where you should go, write or call to make government enquiries, and is likely to be the first and only step you'll need to take to locate the source of the information you want.

This book is also key to learning how to exercise your rights under two Canadian laws - the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act. See the section entitled "How to apply" to learn how to request information in accordance with these acts.

First, however, it is helpful for you to understand the basic differences between the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act. The information accessible under each Act is different and there are different procedures to obtain it. The following pages describe the essential details.

B. Inside Info Source

This Info Source book has three main components:

Table of Contents

The Table of Contents is organized alphabetically by the commonly used name of the department or agency, such as Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada or Health Canada, rather than by their legal titles, Department of Agriculture and Agri-Food or Department of Health.

Introduction

The Introduction includes:

- information about the terms used throughout the book, some essential points about the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act, and directions on how to locate information by using Info Source or by making a formal request under either Act;
- a summary of the roles and responsibilities of the federal government institutions that are either responsible for the production of Info Source or are responsible for the provision of input to the Info Source publications;
- a listing of Access to Information and Privacy Coordinators, which is organized in the same order as the Table of Contents, gives you the address and telephone number of all Access to Information and Privacy offices; and

- the description of the Standard Program Records — see definition under “Useful Terms” below.

Chapters

There is one chapter for each federal government department or agency subject to the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act, or to the Privacy Act only.

Except for the institutions subject to the Privacy Act only, each chapter contains:

General Information about the institution, including:

- Background
- Responsibilities
- Legislation
- Organization

Information Holdings including:

- Program Records
- Standard Program Records
- Personal Information Banks
- Classes of Personal Information
- Manuals

Additional Information including:

- Address of a central information source, as well as regional addresses, if any
- Reading Room(s)

C. Useful terms

Access to Information and Privacy Coordinator Each federal government department or agency has an Access to Information and Privacy Coordinator. The Coordinators' offices are staffed by people who can answer questions and help you identify the records you wish to see. The Coordinators may be contacted in person, by telephone or by letter. If you send a letter, include as much information as you can to help the staff locate the records you want and send you a reply as soon as possible.

Bank Number (See "Program Record Number or Bank Number" below.)

Classes of Personal Information Other personal information not used administratively or not retrievable by personal identifier, for instance unsolicited opinions, complaints or correspondence, is described under "Classes of Personal Information". This category was included to ensure that government departments and agencies account for all personal information that they hold.

Information Life Cycle The life cycle of information encompasses the stages of the planning, collection, creation, receipt, and capture of information; its organization, retrieval, use, accessibility, dissemination and transmission; its storage, maintenance, and protection; and its disposition and preservation.

Manuals The manuals listed under this title contain the directives, instructions, guidelines or procedures that are used by the employees of a department or agency to carry out its operations, activities or programs.

Multi-Institutional Disposition Authority (MIDA) A MIDA is a Records Disposition Authority granted by the National Archivist to government institutions on a multi-institutional basis, which relates to records managed by all or a multiple number of government institutions, and which allows the institutions empowered to use the authority to dispose of records under certain terms and conditions. The Multi-Institutional Disposition Authorities are designed to eliminate the need for government institutions individually to prepare submissions for and negotiate agreements with the National Archivist for records that have similar administrative or operational status.

There are currently three categories of MIDAs. They are:

1. Transitory Records

- The Authority for the Destruction of Transitory Records

2. Common Administrative Records

- General Administrative Function (Authority No. 98/001)
- Real Property Management Function (Authority No. 2001/002)
- Material Management Function (Authority No. 99/003)
- Comptrollership Function (Authority 99/0004)
- Human Resources Management Function (Authority No. 98/005)

3. Common Operational and Medium-Specific Records

- Institutional Records in the Office of a Minister (Authority No. 96/021)
- Records of Deputy Heads of Government Institutions (Authority No. 96/022)
- Electronic Imaging Systems (Authority No. 96/023)
- Poster-Creating Areas of Government Institutions (Authority No. 96/024)

Audio-Visual Records Stored on Behalf of Client Departments (Authority No. 2001/004)

Questions concerning the application or interpretation of the Multi-Institutional Disposition Authorities may be addressed to the Records Disposition Business Centre of the National Archives of Canada at (613) 947-1483 or by e-mailing RDBC@archives.ca.

Personal Information Banks Personal Information Banks provide a summary of the type of information about individuals that is held by federal departments and agencies. The Privacy Act requires that Personal Information Banks include all personal information that is organized and retrievable by a person's name or by an identifying number, symbol or other particular assigned only to that person. Personal Information Banks must also include personal information that has been or is being used, or is available for use for an administrative purpose.

Personal Information Banks - Federal Employees The Personal Information Banks for Government of Canada employees are now described in a separate publication, Info Source: Sources of Federal Employee Information. This book is available in the office of the Access to Information and Privacy Coordinator at each federal government department or agency, federal government personnel offices and federal libraries.

Program Records The Program Records provide pointers to program information held by each federal government department or agency and describe the subject areas covered by these programs.

Program Record Number or Bank Number The Program Record Number or Bank Number you see at the end of each Program Record or Personal Information Bank helps the Access to Information and Privacy office to locate the information you require.

Reading Room The Access to Information Act requires all government institutions to provide facilities where their manuals can be reviewed. The location of one or more reading rooms is provided under this heading.

Records Disposition Authority In accordance with the provisions of the National Archives of Canada Act, a Records Disposition Authority is the instrument that the National Archivist issues to enable government institutions to dispose of records which no longer have operational utility, either by permitting their destruction, by requiring their transfer to the National Archives or by agreeing to their alienation from the control of the Government of Canada.

Accountability regarding the decision to destroy records and the timing of records destruction rests with individual government institutions. Records Disposition Authorities are normally applied when records are no longer required to support the business functions, operations and activities of the organization.

Retention Guidelines Government institutions are responsible for ensuring that all information/records are managed within an established life cycle. The retention guidelines provide a timetable for the length of time institutional information/records are maintained within the institution, when the information/records are no longer required to meet operational, legal or other requirements, and when the Records Disposition Authorities can be applied to the information/record holdings for final disposition.

It is incumbent upon each government institution to understand and apply any legislation regarding the retention of information and more specifically, its own legislation. Each government institution is therefore required to determine the appropriate retention periods for its records, including those common administration records covered by MIDAs.

Standard Program Records Many departments and agencies use Standard Program Records to list information on administrative subject areas which are common to many institutions, for example Accounts and Accounting, Budgets, Buildings, etc.

D. Roles and Responsibilities

Treasury Board

In accordance with the Access to Information Act, Treasury Board is responsible for the annual creation and dissemination of a publication that provides a description of government organizations, program responsibilities and classes of records with sufficient clarity and detail to enable the public to exercise its rights under the Access to Information Act.

Treasury Board is also responsible for the annual publication of an index of personal information that will both serve to keep the public informed of how the government handles personal information, as well as facilitating the public's ability to exercise its rights under the Privacy Act. Treasury Board Secretariat fulfils these requirements through the annual publication of Info Source that is comprised of the following publications:

- Sources of Federal Government Information
 - ◆ This publication describes the organization and its information holdings
- Sources of Federal Employee Information
 - ◆ This publication lists the personal information banks containing information related to federal employees
- Directory of Federal Government Enquiry Points
 - ◆ This publication contains contact information for federal departments and agencies
- Access to Information Act and Privacy Bulletin
 - ◆ This publication contains summaries of federal court cases and statistics of requests made under the ATIA and PA.

Info Source is distributed to libraries, municipal offices and federal government offices across Canada.

National Archives of Canada

Under the National Archives of Canada Act (1987), the National Archives is charged with various responsibilities regarding the disposition of information created by federal institutions in support of public policy, administration of government and program delivery. These responsibilities include the authorization of records destruction by government institutions and the preservation of records for their historical or archival importance. Through the Government Records Disposition Program, the National Archivist issues Records Disposition Authorities (RDA) to enable government institutions to dispose of records which no longer have operational value, either by permitting their destruction (at the discretion of institutions), by requiring their transfer to the National Archives of Canada, or by agreeing to their alienation from the control of the Government of Canada.

Individual Institutions

Government institutions are required to provide descriptions of their organization and information holdings to Treasury Board Secretariat on an annual basis. These descriptions are utilized in the production of the publications required by the Access to Information Act and Privacy Act. Consequently, each department and agency is responsible for the information it submits.

E. Access to Information Act

The Access to Information Act gives Canadian citizens as well as people and corporations present in Canada the right to have access to federal government records that are not of a personal nature. The Act complements but does not replace other procedures for obtaining government information. It is not intended to limit in any way the access to government information that is normally available to the public upon request.

Wide range of information You can ask for information, no matter what form it is in, including letters, memos, reports, photographs, films, microfilms and computerized data. This Info Source book has been designed to help you pinpoint the department or agency where the information is held and assists you in obtaining it.

Using the Access to Information Act

Some information may be exempt or excluded under the Act.

- Exemptions: Exemptions protect certain types of information that could cause harm if released. For example, some information on national security, law enforcement or trade secrets falls into this category.
- Exclusions: The Access to Information Act does not apply to public information that is already available, such as publications and material in libraries and museums. It also excludes material such as Cabinet documents.
- Note: Of course, the Act cannot give you access to records that are not controlled by the federal government, such as those maintained by provincial or municipal governments or by private organizations such as commercial banks and credit bureaus. Most provincial governments have legislation similar to the Access to Information Act. Consult the provincial government listings in the blue pages of your local telephone book.

How to apply

Once you have decided to make a formal request under the Access to Information Act, there are certain simple procedures to follow:

- Consult Info Source to find the appropriate department or agency.
- Obtain an Access to Information Request Form from any location where Info Source is available (including the Web Site: www.tbs-sct.gc.ca/tbsf-fsct_e.html).
- If it is not convenient for you to fill in a form, you may send a letter, mentioning the Act (see details below).
- Enclose the application fee (see details below).

Send the form or the letter to the Access to Information Coordinator at the appropriate department or agency.

If you decide to submit a letter, you must state clearly that you are requesting information under the Access to Information Act, and include the following:

- name of the government department or agency you believe has the information you want;
- description (be as specific as possible) of the records you want to see;

- preferred method of seeing the records (e.g. do you want to receive photocopies of the original documents or see the originals in the government office where they are located?);
- name, street, address, city or town, province or territory, postal code, telephone number(s) and your signature;
- date of your request;
- application fee.

Fees and costs An application fee of $5 (subject to change) applies and additional costs may be charged for each request. You will be notified in advance if there are additional costs and you may be asked to make a deposit. Cheques and money orders are payable to the Receiver General of Canada (unless otherwise stated).

Turnaround time Government departments must acknowledge your request within 30 days under the Access to Information Act. However, in special cases, they may need more time to process your request. If you feel it's taking too long, you can submit a complaint to the Office of the Information Commissioner.

Information Commissioner

The Information Commissioner investigates formal complaints from members of the public arising from the Access to Information Act. If you have a complaint about the denial of access to information, fees charged for access, the time taken to respond to requests, refusal to give access in the official language requested, Info Source publications and other matters that relate to requesting or obtaining access to records, you may contact:

Office of the Information Commissioner

Place de Ville, 22nd Floor, Tower B
112 Kent Street, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 1H3

General Enquiries	(613) 995-2410

Toll-free	1-800-267-0441
TTY	(613) 992-9190
Web Site	www.infocom.gc.ca

When the Information Commissioner's investigation is completed, an individual who is of the opinion that they have not been given access to all information which they are entitled to receive has the right to apply to the Federal Court - Trial Division for a review of the matter.

F. Privacy Act

In its day-to-day operations, federal government departments and agencies collect personal information from almost all Canadians. The Privacy Act gives Canadian citizens and people present in Canada the right to have access to information that is held about them by the federal government. It also protects against unauthorized disclosure of that personal information. In addition, it strictly controls how the government will collect, use, store, disclose and dispose of any personal information.

Most information is available when you ask Because much of your personal information is available to you informally at your request, this Info Source book has been designed to help you pinpoint the department or agency where the information is held and assist you in obtaining it.

Types of personal information held You probably already know about many of the programs and operations of the government that use personal information such as income tax at Canada Customs and Revenue Agency, citizenship at Citizenship and Immigration Canada and the Employment Insurance program at Human Resources Development Canada.

Note: The Privacy Act does not control nor give you access to records that are not held by the federal government, such as those maintained by provincial or municipal governments or by private organizations such as commercial banks and credit bureaus. Most provincial governments have legislation similar to the Privacy Act. Consult the provincial government listings in the blue pages of your local telephone book.

Some personal information is confidential The federal government must keep some personal information confidential under the Privacy Act, much of which relates to other people, national security or law enforcement.

How to apply

When you have decided to make a formal request under the Privacy Act, there are certain procedures to follow. Remember, you will find what you are looking for faster if you already have a good idea of which department or agency has the information you want.

- Obtain a Personal Information Request Form at any location where Info Source is available (including the Web Site: www.tbs-sct.gc.ca/tbsf-fsct_e.html).
- Fill out the form and identify yourself in such a way that the government can verify who you are, i.e. that it is you, and not someone else, asking for your information. The more precise the information you provide, the faster your request can be answered.
- Send the form to the Privacy Coordinator of the appropriate department or agency.
- There is no charge to apply for information under the Privacy Act.

To change the information If you believe the information that a federal institution has on file about you is untrue or misleading, you can ask to have it corrected. Even if the department or agency does not agree to change this information, it must make a note that you have asked for the change and attach it to the file.

Safeguarding personal information The protection of your personal information and privacy is also a very important purpose of the Privacy Act. The Act states how and when the government can collect, store and dispose of personal information. It also covers specifically why and how the information can be used or given out, as well as who can use or receive it.

Giving out information The government can only disclose your information to someone else with your consent or when one or more of the criteria in the Privacy Act are met, such as to comply with a subpoena.

Turnaround time Under the law, all or most of the information you ask for should be disclosed within 30 days of receiving the request. If a time extension is required, you will be notified within the first 30 days and told why up to another 30 days may be needed.

Privacy Commissioner

The Privacy Commissioner is a representative of the people with the power to look into complaints of improper collection, use, storage, disclosure or disposal of personal information. The Privacy Commissioner can also help if you are dissatisfied with the results of your formal application or the time it has taken to obtain your personal information.

When the Privacy Commissioner's investigation is completed, an individual who is of the opinion that they have not been given access to all of their personal information to which they are entitled, has the right to apply to the Federal Court - Trial Division for a review of the matter.

You can write or call the Privacy Commissioner's office at:

G. Using Info Source quickly and effectively

Determine the correct chapter Turn to the chapter of the department or agency you think has the information, and check the Program Records and the Personal Information Banks.

If you are unsure about the correct department or agency, a telephone call or letter to any Access to Information and Privacy Coordinator's office should provide the answer.

For persons with disabilities Individuals who are unable to exercise their rights using regular procedures may obtain further assistance from any Access to Information and Privacy Coordinator's office.

Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada

Chapter 1

General Information

Background

The Department of Agriculture was established in 1867, the year of Confederation, by an act of Parliament. The formation of the Experimental Farms System followed in 1886 and a Dairy Commissioner was appointed in 1890. The aim of Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada today is to develop and assist the Canadian agriculture and food system to provide for the needs of Canadian consumers and export markets in a manner which ensures a dependable supply of safe, nutritious food at reasonable prices; to ensure equitable returns to producers, processors and marketers; and to meet Canadian food and technological aid commitments to international development. The Minister of Agriculture and Agri-Food, the Department and portfolio agencies administer 35 acts concerning food and agriculture industries. The activities of the Department extend from the farmer to the consumer, through all phases of production, processing and marketing of agriculture and agri-food food products. The Department also assists farmers through crop insurance, price stabilization and agricultural adjustment programs to alleviate losses caused by the weather, changing markets and other hazards. While the collection and use of personal information are necessary for the performance of most activities, they are especially important for the following activities: research; regulation and licensing of imports and exports of livestock and plant products; control and eradication of animal and plant diseases; and administration of various loan and assistance programs.

Responsibilities

The mandate of Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada is to promote the growth, stability and competitiveness of the agri-food sector through policies, programs and services most appropriately provided by the federal government to assist the sector to maximize its contribution to the Canadian economy. The Department's responsibilities embrace most aspects of the agricultural industry. It carries out research into the physical and economic problems of agriculture; assists with market and export development; and carries out programs aimed at environmentally sustainable resource use. The Department enforces laws governing the sales of feed, fertilizers and pesticides; and assists farmers through measures such as crop insurance. It also supervises racetrack betting.

AAFC is in the process of implementing a comprehensive national Agricultural Policy Framework with the goal of making Canada a world leader in Food Safety, Innovation and Environmentally Sustainable Production. To effectively deliver this program, the department is undergoing a major organisational renewal based on a horizontal team approach. During the transition period, the information on AAFC in Info Source is presented under the old organizational structure. For information and assistance in accessing information, please contact the Departmental ATIP Coordinator, Victor Desroches at (613) 759-7083 or the ATIP Manager, Marc-André Gaudet at (613) 759-6765.

Organization

Communications Branch

The primary purpose of this branch is to ensure communication of the department's policies and programs, promote public understanding of AAFC's initiatives and policies; and raise awareness of the sector's importance to Canadian society.

Co-operatives Secretariat

The Co-operatives Secretariat is dedicated to the economic growth and social development of Canada by encouraging the establishment of partnerships between the co-operative sector and the federal government to ensure the development of sustainable co-operative enterprises. To achieve this, the Secretariat advises the government on policies and programs affecting co-operatives and ensures that they take into account co-operative sector needs and that they fall within federal priorities. The Secretariat also acts as a catalyst by raising awareness of governments, key stakeholders and the general public about the co-operative model, particularly through the publication of statistical analysis and various documents. Moreover, the Secretariat has the responsibility to liaise between co-operatives and numerous federal organizations to achieve its mandate.

Corporate Management Branch

This Branch is involved with many facets of the "business of the business". It is responsible for developing and maintaining programs, policies, practices and a strategic vision that supports good decision making within the Department and across the three Core Business Lines. The key roles of Corporate Management Branch include comptrollership policies and practices, strategic planning, knowledge product platforms and standards development, provision of technical support and the operation of the departmental planning cycle. To deliver these support roles the Branch is organized in four functional areas: 1) Strategic Business Planning 2) Finance and Resource Management 3) Information Management; and 4) Assets Management and Capital Planning. Through a relationship with the Canadian Pari-Mutuel Agency, this Branch also has a responsibility to protect the wagering public against fraudulent practices and to help maintain a viable racing industry in Canada.

Departmental Secretariat

The Secretariat is responsible for the correspondence, briefing and activity scheduling systems for the Minister and the Deputy Minister, for tracking and reporting on major current issues of concern to the Department, for Parliamentary Relations, and for providing secretariat services to the Departmental Management Committee and the Heads Up executive Committee of the Department.

Farm Financial Programs Branch

Farm Financial Programs Branch is responsible for the design and implementation of a full range of national programs and services in support of the agriculture and agri-food sector and rural communities. These programs and services are an integral part of the new Agricultural Policy Framework agreed to in Whitehorse by the Federal, Provincial and Territorial Ministers of Agriculture. They are designed to contribute to the industry's ability to achieve greater economic stability despite changes in the marketplace and weather conditions, the facilitation of adaptation and transition, and the promotion of environmental and food safety practices. Producers can apply for programs and services which will help them to maximize productivity. National programs include the Net Income Stabilization Administration (NISA), the Canadian Farm Income Program (CFIP), Crop Insurance, Companion Programs, Loan Guarantees and Advance Payments, and the Canadian Adaptation and Rural Development fund (CARD). The aggressive use of new information technology coupled with modern administrative practices for reporting performance and evaluation measures allows the Branch to streamline program administration, provide new administrative tools and enhance client access.

Human Resources Branch

The Branch promotes and facilitates, in partnership with managers, the optimal management of Human Resources towards the achievement of departmental objectives. The Human Resources Branch develops and administers human resources policies and programs and provides staff training and other related services for a staff of over 5800 employees of the Department, at various locations across Canada.

Market and Industry Services Branch

The mandate of the Market and Industry Services Branch is to work cooperatively with all partners to enhance competitiveness; to improve and secure market access; to enable the agriculture and agri-food sector to capture market opportunities in domestic and export markets, with a focus on processed agricultural products; and to increase domestic and foreign investment in the sector. The Branch priorities are implemented by responsibility centres located in Ottawa (9) and 7 regional offices. The International Trade Policy Directorate's role is to improve and secure markets for agri-food products, improve trade rules and work towards reducing unfair competition in domestic and foreign markets. The Agricultural Industry Services Directorate provides strategic information and services in order to meet departmental and the Canadian sector's needs related to market access, export market development, and sector competitiveness. The Investment Secretariat's role is to increase investment in Canada's agriculture, food and related life science industries. The International Markets Bureau assists the industry in developing and expanding their exports and to develop and implement programs and services for the industry related to international market development. The Food Bureau develops, maintains and provides specific sectoral expertise in the various processed food and beverage sectors in support of government policy, programs and activities. The Bureau also assists the industry in increasing its ability to meet domestic and international market demand, and to encourage and attract investment. The Global Affairs' role is to protect and promote Canadian interests in international agri-food organizations and events. The Strategic Planning and Coordination Division coordinates Branch strategic planning, corporate support activities and manages the Agri-Food Trade Program. The Management Services Division provides support and advice related to business planning, resource management, information systems and general administration. The Intercultural Relations and Human Resources Division provides advice and counselling regarding the development and implementation of intercultural strategies, programs, activities and other related services in order to contribute and facilitate the integration of diversity of the Canadian society through various partnerships and projects. It also provides support to the effective management of the Branch's human resources including recruitment, retention and development of employees. The Regional Offices (Atlantic, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and the Territories, British Columbia) provide "single window" access for regional clients and stakeholders to all Branch programs and services related to market access, market development and investment.

Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration (PFRA)

The Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration (PFRA) works with people on the prairies to develop a viable agricultural industry and sustainable rural economy. In partnership with other levels of government, farm groups, producers and industry, PFRA protects Prairie soils, develops and conserves the area's water resources, and encourages diversification into new crops, value-added processing and other wealth-creating activities. The investigation of degradation problems and the promotion of solutions serve to conserve the soil resource for present and future use. Dependable water supplies for agricultural and other related uses at the farm, community and regional level allow greater variety of agricultural activities and render the economy less sensitive to drought. Operation of community pastures on land not suitable for cultivation and distribution of tree seedlings to promote farm shelterbelts assist in conservation of the soil resource. Operation of water storage and irrigation projects and the development of new water resource projects in cooperation with the provinces enhances economic security and provides development opportunities on the Prairies.

Research Branch

The Branch's mission is to improve the on-going competitiveness of the Canadian food and agriculture sector through the development and transfer of innovation technologies. The Branch focus is on research that is valuable to Canada but which the private sector could not provide profitably, working alone. Specifically, the Branch's research is directed toward reducing the cost of producing and processing food, improving the quality and safety of food products, advancing environmental practices that sustain agricultural production and transferring technology.

Review Branch

This Branch provides senior management with independent assurance and information to facilitate course corrections, management improvements and positive cultural change. We conduct or manage independent reviews which provide information for:

1. Assurance: Financial and non-financial information is reliable and useful for decision-making; reliability and usefulness of performance information; financial controls; management practices and controls
2. Performance Opportunities: Programs, management systems, controls and processes are enhanced; relevance, appropriateness and acceptance of activities; extent program objectives being achieved; cost benefit of programs and activities; best practices and lessons learned; management effectiveness.

Rural Secretariat

The Rural Secretariat, located in Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada, is the central point for rural policy issues within the Government of Canada. The Rural Secretariat's mandate is to provide analysis and advice on issues affecting rural and remote regions; facilitate the creation of partnerships around rural issues and priorities; and promote dialogue between rural stakeholders and the federal government. Programs and initiatives administered by the Rural Secretariat include the Rural Dialogue, the Rural Lens, Canadian Rural Partnership Pilot Projects and the Canadian Agricultural Rural Communities Initiative (CARCI).

Strategic Policy Branch

Strategic Policy Branch is the focal point for policy leadership and development in the department. The Strategic Policy Branch is responsible for the development of comprehensive strategic policies for the Agriculture and Agri-Food portfolio, the provision of appropriate policy advice to the Minister of Agriculture, the Minister Responsible for the Canadian Wheat Board and the Secretary of State for Rural Development, and the provision of departmental input and leadership on horizontal policy files. It creates linkages across policy files and the portfolio. The Branch's mandate is to create and maintain a policy environment which enhances the agriculture and agri-food sector's economic viability and self-reliance and, through the Integrated Risk Management Framework, facilitates the sector in securing its long term success of becoming the world leader in food safety, innovation and environmentally responsible production. This work is carried out in consultation with all partners involved in agriculture and agri-food including producers, provincial and municipal governments, industry, and stakeholder groups.

Agricultural Marketing Programs Act (AMPA)

Description: AMPA has two major programs – the Advance Payments Program and the Price Pooling Program. These programs were formerly known as the Advance Payments for Crops Act, the Cash Flow Enhancement Program, and the Agricultural Products Cooperative Marketing Act. The purpose of APP is to improve marketing opportunities. The government guarantees the repayment of advances issued to producers by the producer organizations and the Canadian Wheat Board as a means of improving cash flow at or after harvest. An individual producer can obtain up to $250,000 with the government paying the interest on the first $50,000 advanced to each producer. The advances are based on the security of the crop the producers have in storage and are repaid as the crop is sold. The PPP is a market development program designed to assist and encourage cooperative marketing of agricultural products and to provide equal return to producers for products of like grade, varieties and types. The program provides a price guarantee to the marketing agencies to protect them against unanticipated declines in the market price of their products. The price guarantee is established using the expected average wholesale price of the product.

Description: Information on the services and technologies to conserve soil, water, air, and genetic resources (plant, animal, and microbial), to meet current and future agricultural and food production needs. Topics: Land, germplasm, pests and biocontrol. Program Record Number: AAFC RBR 195

Program Reviews

Description: Information on the Reviews of departmental programs. Topics: Documentation relating to results of reviews of departmental programs, objectives; analysis of effectiveness and audits of programs systems functions and organizations. Storage Medium: Our Review Branch web site, at the following URL address: <http://www.agr.ca/review/rbmain.html>; hard copy and/or computer diskettes. Program Record Number: AAFC RB 415

Rural Secretariat

Canadian Agricultural Rural Communities Initiative (CARCI)

Description: The Canadian Agricultural Rural Communities Initiative (CARCI) is a three year program designed to increase the viability of agricultural rural communities, particularly those affected by changes in the agricultural sector. CARCI will fund projects that respond to agricultural rural community issues. Eligible activities include: Rural coordination organizations; Partnership projects; Workshops, conferences and Seminars; and Research. CARCI has been allocated $9.3 million from the Canadian Adaptation and Rural Development (CARD II) Fund. Its projects complement other CARD-funded projects and the Canadian Rural Partnership's Pilot Projects. The CARCI initiative responds to CARD's rural development priority. Topics: Proposals from applicants; contribution agreements between AAFC and the proponents; financial information and reports; database program for tracking purpose. Program Record Number: AAFC RRS 302

Canadian Rural Partnership (CRP) Pilot Projects Initiative

Description: The Pilot Projects Initiative is a four-year [1998/99 to 2001-02] program designed to support creative, community-based initiatives that promote strong, sustainable community development in rural and remote areas. The Initiative works through partnerships with other levels of government and with community groups operating in rural areas. Applications are accepted annually - last acceptance date was April 30, 2001. Topics: Proposals from applicants; agreements between departments; contribution agreements between AAFC and the proponents; financial information and reports; database program for tracking purposes. Program Record Number: AAFC RRS 301

Rural Organization Information System (ROIS)

Description: The ROIS contains up-to-date information on national, provincial/territorial and regional rural stakeholder groups. The ROIS includes information such as; mailing and e-mail addresses, telephone and fax numbers, links to web sites, organization and federal government contact names, executive board members, profiles/mandates, and dates and locations of annual and semi-annual meetings. Queries can be conducted by organization; by sector; by subject; by location; by event; and by contact name. Topics: The ROIS was developed for a variety of purposes, such as facilitating the inclusion of relevant rural organizations for government consultations, including the Rural Dialogue (eg. focus groups, workshops, surveys, etc.) and disseminating information from the Government of Canada of interest to rural organizations. Program Record Number: AAFC RRS 303

Strategic Policy Branch

Adapting to Change and Managing Risk-Survey

Description: In January 1998, Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada conducted a large scale study of Canadian farmers' attitudes toward change and risk, and the ways that they deal with these issues on their farm operations. Producers whose main farm enterprise was either field crops, beef cattle, hogs, or horticulture and who had farm sales of at least $ 10,000. To provide benchmark data on producers' attitudes toward change and risk, and their strategies for dealing with these. To segment the farm population based on these attitudes. Use attitudinal data with financial and economic data to better understand producer attitudes and behaviours. Used in assessment and development of safety net programs. Records are maintained for further analysis. 98071 and report is available on the Internet at: www.agr.ca/policy/epad. Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 710

AgriConnexions

Description: An on-line database of government and industry-related information for use by employees of Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada (AAFC) and the Canadian Food Inspection Agency (CFIA). Topics: Profiles of industry associations and provincial and territorial departments with agriculture and rural mandates; upcoming events related to the agriculture and agri-food sector; links to provincial and territorial Web sites and to AAFC's five portfolio organizations. Access: Access to AgriConnexions is through AgriSource, AAFC's Intranet. Storage Medium: Data used by AgriConnexions is stored in an Oracle database. Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 700

Agricultural Development Policy and Analysis

Description: Policy-oriented analyses of agricultural development issues. Topics: Farm costs and incomes; farm income protection; agricultural stabilization; development strategy; energy in agriculture; farm labour programs; land-use policy; farm credit policy; agricultural taxation. Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 485

Agricultural Environmental Stewardship Initiative (AESI)

Description: Information on the three year (2000-2003) Agricultural Environmental Stewardship Initiative (AESI) being implemented by industry-led agricultural adaptation councils in each province. The AESI emphasizes projects that address the regional impacts of agricultural practices on water, soil, and air quality, biodiversity and greenhouse gas emissions. This initiative addresses this issues through education and awareness, technology transfer, and stewardship tools including environmental clubs, environmental management systems, and land use planning. This initiative is funded under the Canadian Adaptation and Rural Development Fund. Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 620

Agriculture-Related Data

Description: Economic data related to agriculture. Topics: Market commentaries (annual and monthly time series); monthly and annual trade data (prices and quantities); source data for Food and Agriculture Regional Model and the hog, slaughter cattle and cow/calf stabilization models (monthly, quarterly and annual time series); miscellaneous economic data on agriculture and food. Access: Files arranged by AGSEC code or commodity (marketing and trade coding system). Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 330

Climate Change Funding Initiative

Description: The Climate Change Funding Initiative (CCFI) is a four-year, $4 million investment to help the agricultural sector address climate change. The Initiative will ultimately contribute to Canada's efforts in meeting its Kyoto commitments to reduce greenhouse gas emissions to six per cent below 1990 levels by 2008-2012. This initiative is funded under the Canadian Adaptation and Rural Development Fund. Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 603

Climate Change Skills and Knowledge Transfer Program

Description: The Climate Change - Skills and Knowledge Transfer Program is a four year initiative being implemented by the Soil Conservation Council of Canada (SCC). The SCC calls the initiative "Taking Charge," as it involves farmers raising farmers' awareness and knowledge of climate change issues, and the application of good environmental practices that can contribute to Canada's reduction of greenhouse gas emissions. Funded through Canadian Adaptation and Rural Development Fund (CARD). Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 604

Countryside Canada

Description: Countryside Canada is a three-year national program of $600,000 designed to strengthen environmental conservation practices within the agricultural sector by recognizing exemplary stewardship efforts of farmers and ranchers across the country. The program acknowledges that an increase in wildlife habitat conservation is dependent, in great part, on the cooperation and enthusiasm of private landowners, including farmers and ranchers. Funded through Canadian Adaptation and Rural Development Fund (CARD). Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 606

Economic Intelligence

Description: Economic intelligence on agricultural production and inputs. Topics: Farm input markets; farm costs and incomes. Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 490

Economic Research on Commodity Markets and Agricultural Market Forecasting

Description: Information on the supplies, consumption, inventories, trade and prices of the major agricultural commodities produced in Canada and on the analysis of factors influencing the behaviour of markets for these commodities. Topics: Dairy and dairy products; livestock and livestock products; poultry and poultry products; fruit, vegetables, honey and maple products; special crops; grains, oilseeds and fodder crop. Storage Medium: Statistics on commodity prices, marketings, stocks, imports, exports, production and disposition are machine-readable. Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 310

Environment Bureau

Description: This Bureau ensures the integration of environmental sustainability in all lines of business for the department. This is done through the formulation of environmental policy, studies of environmental trends relevant to agriculture, and the promotion of environmental sustainable agricultural practices in partnership with others in the department, sector, federal and provincial government, and internationally.

Topics: The Environment Bureau also participates in many domestic and international environmental initiatives with an agri-environmental focus, such as the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) and the World Trade Organisation (WTO). Moreover, information is provided to the sector and the public in general through direct communications, publications, as well as through a website. Environmental sustainability in the agriculture and agri-food sector encompasses a wide range of issues and challenges to traditional agricultural policies. The Environment Bureau's contribution to sustainability may be illustrated by some of the various files it is currently involved in: Climate Change; Agri-Environmental Indicators; Sustainable Development Strategy; Species at Risk; and A new Agri-food Policy Framework. Program Record Number: Related to AAFC SPB 619

Environmental Management System for the Hog Industry

Description: This initiative involves developing an approach towards a certification system for the hog industry. Recognizing that work is already underway in some provinces, the needs and implications in developing a national approach will be investigated. Funded through Canadian Adaptation and Rural Development Fund (CARD). Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 621

Farm Women's Bureau

Description: The mandate of the Farm Women's Bureau is to advocate and promote, in partnership with farm women, the equitable representation of farm women in agricultural policy and decision making. Topics: government policy on gender equality; farm and rural women's representation on federal boards and commissions and in consultations; farm and rural women's issues; information and liaison services to farm women and their organizations; support services to Minister and Secretary of State in their dealings with farm/rural women. Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 500

Livestock Environmental Initiative (LEI)

Description: Information on the Livestock Environmental Initiative (LEI) funded under the Canadian Adaptation and Rural Development (CARD) program. Delivered through an industry-led body, the program is to help the livestock industry to address environmental concerns through research and development of technology, and acceleration of technology assessment and transfer. The emphasis is on promoting technologies and management practices which are technically ready for on-farm application. Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 622

National Soil and Water Conservation Program (NSWCP)

Description: Information on the NSWCP, a two-year (1997/98 - 1998/99) initiative that helped the agriculture and agri-food sector addresses priority environmental sustainability issues through four program areas including: Stewardship, technology transfer/research and development; market opportunities development; and increasing understanding and awareness.

Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 623

Pesticide Minor Use Program Funding Initiative (MUPFI)

Description: MUPFI provides funding from the Canadian Adaptation and Rural Development (CARD) Fund to enhance producers' access to pest management tools. Applications are received from agricultural associations and universities, requesting funding for minor use pesticide research to support registration for minor use label expansions. Funding for joint Canada-U.S. pesticide research is also carried out. This bank contains records of the MUPFI application form, i.e., name, address, telephone and facsimile numbers, project description, proposed project funding, and project work plan, schedule and costs. Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 624

Producer Account Maintenance

Description: Information on transactions between grain buyers and producers under the provisions of the Western Grain Stabilization Act. Topics: Date of transaction; grade of grain; purchaser (name and location); quantity delivered; revenue paid; kind of grain. Access: Files arranged by Canadian Wheat Board permit number. Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 345

Resource and Environmental Programs

Description: Information on environmental issues related to agriculture and programs to encourage environmental management of resources. Topics: Soil and water conservation management studies, wildlife habitat/agriculture interface, environmental assessment and review processes, National Soil Conservation Program, Green Plan initiatives, Environmental Sustainability Initiatives, Land Management Adjustment Program, and pesticide price monitoring National Soil and Water Conservation Program, Hog Environmental Management Strategy, Livestock Environmental Initiative, Country Side Canada, Climate Change Funding Initiative, Climate Change Skills and Knowledge Transfer Program, Agricultural Environmental Stewardship Initiative. Storage Medium: Hard copy and/or computer diskettes. Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 346

Western Grain Transportation Consultations

Description: The western grain handling and transportation consultation process focussed on 1) the Western Grain Transportation Act (WGTA) method of payment options identified by the 1990 Transportation Committee under the Agri-food Policy Review, 2) western grain transportation system efficiencies, 3) the costs associated with moving grain from Thunder Bay to St. Lawrence shipping points, 4) Minimum Compensatory Rates (MCRs) for canola products and 5) the impacts of policy change on rural communities. The consultations were designed to solicit the views of a wide range of stakeholders, primarily at the "grass roots" level. There were approximately 154 public meetings, from coast to coast – but mostly located in western Canada. The information was used to assist in evaluating various options and to assist in making decisions. Topics: Views on options, and method of payments for the above mentioned subjects. Program Record Number: AAFC SPB 801

This information includes names and addresses of the applicants, organizational structures, management and organizational process description, audited financial statements, marketing strategy, historical data on prices received, terms and conditions of guarantee provided. Class of Individuals: Marketing agencies, producers organizations, processors. Purpose: To make informed/consistent decisions regarding the eligibility of the applicant and to establish the price guarantee. Consistent Uses: (1) Information is used to ensure adherence to the terms and conditions of AMPA; (2) to ensure compliance to the terms of the price agreement entered into with the marketing agency (3) to ensure the validity of claims for loss and to determine the government liability payment. Retention and Disposal Standards: These files are retained for a minimum of six years after the termination of the agreement of the liability payment. RDA Number: Under review. TBS Registration: 004270 Bank Number: AAFC PPU 209

Canadian Crop Drought Assistance Program

Description: This bank contains records of applications for drought assistance under the Canadian Crop Drought Assistance Program for the 1988 crop year. This information includes producer names, addresses and land locations, Canadian Wheat Board numbers, irrigation licence numbers, and Irrigation District/Prairie Farm Rehabilitation project name. Class of Individuals: Producers of all cultivated crops in areas determined by the Program to have significantly reduced yields as a result of the 1988 drought in Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario.

Purpose: The information in this bank was compiled in order to facilitate the implementation of the program. It is used to determine the eligibility of producers for assistance and the level of assistance that they will receive under the program formula. It is also used to issue payments. Consistent Uses: (1) Information is used to determine the eligibility and the level of assistance to producers under the program formula, and to issue payments. (2) Data matching is done under Section 155 of the Financial Administration Act. The Minister may authorize retention of funds for indebtedness to recover funds owing under the following: the Advance Payments for Crops Act, the Farm Improvement Loans Act, the Agricultural Stabilization Act, and the Special Canadian Grains Act. The potential for this disclosure was outlined in both the Program Terms and Conditions and the Claim Forms. (3) Information may be used to garnish payments received by individuals under several Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada programs. This activity would be made under the Family Orders and Enforcement Assistance Act. (4) The information will be used by the provinces to collect accounts receivable owing to the federal government from several federal agricultural programs under the Farm Income Assistance Initiative. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained for six years after the date of application. Related to PR#: AAFC FFP 820 TBS Registration: 002584 Bank Number: AAFC PPU 182

Canadian Farm Business Management Program (CFBMP)

Description: This bank contains information on the CFBMP including information necessary to effectively deliver the various activities. CFBMP is an initiative funded by Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada. Implementation is generally through a provincial delivery organization which undertakes to have training materials developed, and training provided to eligible applicants. Program elements differ significantly between provinces. Class of Individuals: Farm producers participating in training courses. Contractors and consultants hired to develop materials and deliver courses. Purpose: This bank is used to identify and address the farm management needs in the agricultural sector and those contracted to undertake the development and delivery of farm business management courses. Consistent Uses: This bank is used to monitor farm management training and related services provided to producers. Retention and Disposal Standards: Files will be retained for the purpose of delivering the three-year initiative and for audit and evaluation purposes by the delivery organizations for periods specified in the agreements; after which, files will then be destroyed.

RDA Number: Under review. Related to PR#: AAFC FFP 487 TBS Registration: 002940 Bank Number: AAFC PPU 253

Canadian Rural Transition Program

Description: The bank contains information on clients' names, addresses, social insurance numbers, descendants' lists, as well as specific business criteria for making determination on eligibility. The case files are kept secured in Canada Employment Centre offices.

Class of Individuals: Farmers who, by reasons of financial difficulty, have left or are leaving agriculture and are seeking assistance under the CRTP. Purpose: The application is the basis for determining the eligibility of an applicant to receive assistance under the Program, i.e. the Transition Grant and Supplementary Transition Assistance. Social insurance numbers (SINs) are collected by the CRTP under the authority of the Unemployment Insurance Act and are also required to determine applicants' eligibility, i.e., whether or not he/she is in receipt of unemployment insurance or social assistance. In addition, the SIN is the basis of identification for payment of eligible applicants by the Department of Supply and Services and is also of use in advising Revenue Canada (Taxation) of any taxable benefits received under CRTP in a given tax year, and receipts are issued accordingly to the client.

Consistent Uses: In cases of acceptance, information rests with Canada Employment Centre offices. In cases of rejection, information is transferred to Ottawa Human Resources Development Canada – CRTP Office/policy Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada where all rejections are reviewed, and in some instances, decisions to reject are overturned. Retention and Disposal Standards: All files will be kept for a minimum of two years after the client's farming activities have ceased. Farm Consultation Service (FCS)

Description: The bank contains information on farmers in financial difficulty who have applied for review of their financial situation under the Farm Consultation Service, a Departmental Program developed as a complimentary program to the farm Debt Mediation Service. Specific information includes the applicant's name, address, principal commodity, creditors, estimated liabilities and list of all assets. The case files are kept secured in the Farm Consultation Service's offices. Class of Individuals: Farmers in financial difficulty. Purpose: The Farm Consultation Service ensure that farmer operators in financial difficulty have access to a financial review of their circumstances that would help resolve their difficulties and prevent more serious problems from occurring in the future. In order for the Farm

Consultation Service to conduct a proper review, accurate financial information is required of the applicant. The information is provided on a Farm Financial Statement and may also include an Operational Plan. Consistent Uses: Copies of the Farm Financial Statement (and Operational Plan) are provided to the applicant. The information is used in evaluating the farmer's operations and developing an operational plan or alternatives to assist in improving the farmer's situation. Retention and Disposal Standards: All files will be kept six years from the date the file is closed or the last administrative action. RDA Number: Under review. Related to PR#: AAFC FFP 486 TBS Registration: 004007 Bank Number: AAFC PPU 226

Farm Debt Mediation Service (FDMS)

Description: The bank contains information on insolvent farmers who have applied for a review of their financial situation and mediation under section 5(1)(a) or (b) of the Farm Debt Mediation Act. Specific information includes the applicant's names, address, principal commodity, creditors, estimated liabilities and list of all assets. The case files are kept secured in the FDMS offices. Class of Individuals: Insolvent farmers Purpose: The Farm Debt Mediation Act ensures that insolvent farmers, whether or not they have received a Notice of Intent to Realize on their security, have access to an impartial third party review and mediation. This includes a review of the farmer's financial affairs and mediation between the farmer and the farmer's creditors for the purpose of assisting them to reach a mutually acceptable arrangement. In order for the Farm Debt Mediation Service to conduct a proper review, accurate financial information is required of the applicant. The information is provided on a Farm Financial Statement and may also include a Recovery Plan. Consistent Uses: Copies of the farmer's Farm Financial Statement (and Recovery Plan) are provided to the mediator and to persons who will be participating in the mediation. The information is used in evaluating the farmer's alternatives and in mediation discussions with the farmer's creditors. The financial information of farmers in the province of Saskatchewan and Manitoba may be provided, with the farmer's consent, to the Saskatchewan farm Land Security Board and the Manitoba Board respectively to assist in their farm debt review programs. Retention and Disposal Standards: All files will be kept for a period of six years from the date the file closed or the last administrative action. RDA Number: Under review. Related to PR#: AAFC FFP 486 TBS Registration: 004008 Bank Number: AAFC PPU 227

Net Income Stabilization Account (NISA)

Description: NISA is a voluntary stabilization program in which individual producers make deposits to an individual account and contributions are matched by the federal and provincial governments. The producer is entitled to make account withdrawals when his net income is low. Class of Individuals: Eligible Canadian producers. Purpose: This information is collected on an annual basis to support producer and government contributions to individual NISA accounts. Portions of this account may be held with private financial institutions such as banks or credit unions. Consistent Uses: (1) In order to ensure that information submitted is consistent with information provided to Revenue Canada for income tax purposes, a link with the Social Insurance Number (SIN) or the Corporate Tax Number will be required. (2) Data obtained may be used for further verification or for program evaluation purposes. (3) Approval on the use of the SIN will be covered under the enabling Safety Net Legislation. (4) Data consisting of producers' NISA bank deposits, for example, will be exchanged with institutions with the producer's consent. (5) Names and addresses of producers may be used for distribution of material on new agricultural programs. (6) Information may be used to garnish payments received by individuals under several Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada programs. This activity would be made under the Family Orders and Enforcement Assistance Act. Retention and Disposal Standards: 7 years after program ends. RDA Number: 2001/008 Related to PR#: AAFC FFP 807 TBS Registration: 002929 Bank Number: AAFC PPU 183

Western Grain Stabilization Program

Description: The bank was used to administer stabilization payments to grain producers. It contains the grain receipts and levy payments of holders of permits issued by the Canadian Wheat Board in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. Class of Individuals: Grain producers in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. Purpose: Files in this bank were used to calculate and issue stabilization payments to participating grain producers. Consistent Uses: Disclosure: (1) On an individual request basis, account information supplied to Revenue Canada to assist in its investigations. (2) The four western provincial crown corporations (Manitoba Crop Insurance Corporation, Saskatchewan Crop Insurance Corporation and the Farm Income and Crop Insurance Branch of the British Columbia Ministry of Agriculture and Food requested use of our data bank. Information provided concerning specific producers' sales by grain type and tonnes (not sales value) and generally extends over a number of crop years. The requests are ongoing and average perhaps one per week involving perhaps a dozen producers at most. In addition, we also provided computer tape files of our participants identified by permit number only while quoting the outstanding levy to be deducted from these accounts. This information was used in conducting audits of crop insurance claims and in pursuing fraudulent claims through the courts. The computer tape files used for matching participant to claimant in order to determine the amount of levy to be deducted from the claimant's indemnity payment (the provincial corporations were registered as designated purchasers under the WAGS Act). (3) Western Grain Transportation Agency: Grain sales information specific to producers in a specific area covering a ten year period was provided. This was an annual request. This information is used to establish compensatory amounts for the additional cost of transporting grain by truck as a result of rail line abandonment and the closure of grain elevators contiguous to it. As additional rail lines become eligible each year for removal from the network, more producers are affected by elevator closures. (4) Canada Grains Council: Historical data which are non-specific as to producer. The data are statistical in nature and used by the council for various analyses and studies. This was an annual request at one time but we have not received a request for the past two years. (5) Auditor General: Complete copies of our master file of name and addresses as well as our payout file. The information is requested annually. The information is used to verify the propriety and accuracy of stabilization payments. (6) RCMP: Detailed information specific to individuals is provided which would include name and address as well as grain sales for one or more years. The information is requested on an as needed basis (very infrequently). This information is issued to conduct criminal investigations. (7) Statistics Canada: Statistical information is provided on an ad hoc basis. Requests are very infrequent. The information is not producer specific and is used to conduct various analyses and studies. (8) Canadian Wheat Board (CWB) Payouts: Producer permit numbers, participant status and the amount of levy yet to be deducted is provided to the CWB once or twice a year. Conversely, each week the CWB furnishes WGSa with a computer tape of name and address changes and new permit number issues. The information enables the CWB to match participant files to their payment files in order to deduct the WGS levy from interim, adjustment and final payments. Information on the payout and the levy by producer is returned for processing to the WGS accounts. The CWB also forwards information weekly providing information about new permit book numbers and name and address which is used to update the WGS data base prior to levy refunds or stabilization payouts. (9) Revenue Canada: Statutory set-offs are received and recorded to intercept amounts owing to the Crown. Levy refunds and stabilization payments are matched to the file of set-offs and may confirmed amounts are diverted to Revenue Canada. (10) Family Orders and Agreements Enforcement Assistance Act: Monthly a computer tape file is received from Justice Canada to perform a name and address match against the WGSa master file. The matching is carried out to identify payees against whom there is an outstanding summons. WGSAs payments are intercepted and set aside for instructions from Justice as to the amount to be diverted. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are held for 20 years. RDA Number: 2001/007. Related to PR#: AAFC FFP 350 TBS Registration: 001715 Bank Number: AAFC PPU 180

This activity would be made under the Family Orders and Enforcement Assistance Act. Retention and Disposal Standards: Files are retained for 3-6 years. RDA Number: 2001/00 Related to PR#: AAFC SPB 346 TBS Registration: 002933 Bank Number: AAFC PPU 246

Risk Management & Safety Net Program - Survey

Description: This bank contains the results of a national survey on risk management and safety net programs. The survey examined risk concerns, producers' use of government programs and private risk management tools, and producers' farm financial situation. Class of Individuals: Interviews were completed with 2, 400 producers in November and December 1999 whose main farm enterprise was field crops, beef cattle, hogs, or horticulture. Purpose: The survey was conducted to examine the use of safety net programs and private risk management tools to help manage price and production risks, and to assess the impact of these tools on farm financial situations.

Consistent Uses: Data will be used to assess safety net programs and the Net Income Stabilization Account. Retention and Disposal Standards: This data will be kept for seven years after the completion of the survey (December 1999). Related to PR#: AAFC SPB 485 TBS Registration: 005111 Bank Number: AAFC PPU 306

General Correspondence and Enquiries

Personal information in this class relates to routine correspondence concerning the regulatory and licensing activities associated with meat inspection, pesticides, feeds and fertilizers, veterinary biologics and the humane transportation of animals. It also relates to general enquiries concerning agricultural research, market intelligence, food advisory information and financial assistance to marketing boards and co-operatives. The personal information contained in this class normally includes the name and address of the enquirer, but is neither arranged nor retrievable by personal identifiers. This form of personal information exists in a fragmented form throughout the subject files controlled by the Department and is normally retrievable only if specifics are provided concerning the subject and the date of the correspondence. The retention period for this class of personal information is controlled by the retention period of the files in which they are stored.

Ministerial Correspondence

This class of information contains correspondence received by the Departmental Secretariat from external organizations and individuals in the form of requests for information, complaints, opinions and other similar submissions related to a broad range of policy issues pertaining to Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada's activities, wherein some unsolicited personal information has been provided by the correspondent. This form of information would be retrievable only if specifics of name, date of communication and subject were to be provided; it is not arranged or retrievable by personal identifiers. The retention periods of these classes of personal information are controlled by the record schedules of the general subject files in which they are stored.

Other Programs and Agreements

This class reflects other programs and agreements not specifically covered under the other classes. These other programs and agreements are aimed at resolving specific problems of a limited nature or in specifically defined areas of the country. For example, Federal-Provincial Agreements such as those under the Agricultural and Rural Development Act (ARDA) are concerned with rural problems of unemployment and social disadvantages. Special ARDA agreements have been used as a vehicle to improve the economic circumstances of native people by providing financial and other assistance to create job opportunities. Personal information may be stored in administering programs falling within this class. This information may include financial, employment, demographic and educational data on individuals. Such data, however, would be stored as part of the general subject files where records are not normally retrieved by name of individual or other personal identifier. This form of personal information is normally retrievable only if specifics are provided concerning the name of the program concerned and the name of the specific project.

Atlantic Canada Opportunities Agency

Chapter 2

General Information

Background

The Atlantic Canada Opportunities Agency (ACOA) was established in 1987 by an Act of Parliament as a federal government organization.

ACOA operates within the Industry Portfolio, which includes 15 departments and agencies that report to Parliament through the Minister of Industry.

Responsibilities

ACOA exists to support and promote new opportunities in the Atlantic provinces – to, in effect work in partnership with the people of the region toward long-term, sustainable economic development; to enhance the growth of earned incomes and good, new jobs.

To fulfill its mandate, ACOA pursues two distinct goals:

- to ensure that a wide variety of business development tools and resources serve the diverse needs of the region's emerging and existing entrepreneurs; and,
- to ensure that all economic development programs and activities in Atlantic Canada are coordinated and designed to improve the climate for business growth generally.

Priorities

ACOA approaches its work in Atlantic Canada in a highly strategic manner, focusing on the creation and growth of small- and medium-sized businesses, on overcoming barriers to growth, and on fostering a development environment in the region as well as on areas of special opportunities.

- ACOA categorizes its priorities as follows:
- Policy, Advocacy and Coordination
- Innovation
- Trade, Tourism and Investment
- Entrepreneur and Business Skills Development
- Community Economic Development
- Access to Capital and Information

Our Programs and Services

To meet its objectives in each of its key strategic development areas, ACOA administers, or is involved in, several programs.

Business Development Program

This program provides financial assistance to small and medium-sized businesses wishing to establish themselves, or expand and modernize their operations. Loans are interest free and unsecured, and are provided especially for those projects considered to be critical to competitiveness, but are often considered to be too risky for conventional lenders.

Bilateral Economic Development Agreements

These are comprehensive, federal-provincial, cost-shared agreements involving strategic investments designed to benefit an industry, a sector, a community, and/or a province.

Pan-Atlantic Economic Development Agreements

These are comprehensive, multi-sectoral initiatives designed to strengthen and support economically significant activities, such as trade, tourism and entrepreneurship.

Canada Business Service Centres

These are administered by ACOA as a network established to provide business-related services and information products to small and medium sized enterprises and entrepreneurs in the region. Access is typically provided through a 1-800 telephone service, internet connection, fax, and walk-in services.

Community Business Development Corporations

ACOA supports these autonomous, not-for-profit corporations which serve most rural areas of the region. They work to assist in the creation of small businesses, and in the expansion, modernization and stabilization of existing businesses. They help entrepreneurs gain access to the information, advice and capital they need to succeed.

Adjustment Programs

These programs provide assistance to communities in the development of alternate forms of employment where traditional industries - particularly the Atlantic groundfishery - have suffered a downturn. Other recent examples of adjustment activities include: Base closure activities, and Borden-Cape Tormentine redevelopment programs, program-related business of the organization.

Legislation

Canada Small Business Financing Act, R.S. 1998
Government Organization Act, Atlantic Canada, R.S.C., 1987

Regional Development Incentives Act, R.S. 1970

 Special Areas Act, R.S. 1985

Organization

Organization Structure: ACOA's Head Office is in Moncton, New Brunswick. It is comprised of the President's office, Policy and Programs, Finance and Corporate Services, Legal Services and Human Resources.

In each capital of the Atlantic provinces, regional Vice-Presidents are responsible for the delivery of ACOA programs. In Sydney, Nova Scotia, the Vice-President of Enterprise Cape Breton Corporation is responsible for delivering ACOA programs in Cape Breton. Each Vice-President is equipped with delegated authorities from the Minister to approve most projects and proposals.

Through its Ottawa office, which reports to the Vice-President responsible for Policy and Programs, ACOA advocates on behalf of Atlantic Canadians in the development of national policies and programs, as well as assisting the region's entrepreneurs in the procurement of federal government contracts.

ACOA legislation provides for an ACOA Advisory Board. The Board members represent all areas of Atlantic Canada. The president of ACOA is Chairperson.

The President of ACOA is also CEO & Chairman of the Board of Directors of Enterprise Cape Breton Corporation (ECBC). ECBC is a Crown Corporation established by legislation to promote and assist the financing and the development of industry on Cape Breton Island in order to provide employment outside the coal-producing industry and to broaden the base of the economy in Cape Breton Island.

Activity Structure

ACOA's program is divided into two main activities or business lines: Development and Corporate Administration. The majority of ACOA's efforts towards the attainment of its objectives are accounted for under Development. The Corporate Administration business line isolates the administrative functions of the Agency from the direct program-related business of the organization.

Development: Support and promote opportunities for economic development in Atlantic Canada, with particular emphasis on small- and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs), through planning, research analysis policy, program and project development and implementation and through advocating the interests of Atlantic Canada in national economic policy, program and project development and implementation.

Corporate Administration: Ensure that ACOA's resources are efficiently and effectively managed and that administrative systems and services are in place to enhance management decision making, managerial accountability and operational control.

Classes of Personal Information

Mailing Lists

This class of personal information contains the names and addresses of individuals who are on a mailing list to receive specific information or publications on departmental programs and activities. The lists are used by all bureaus to distribute departmental information and to respond to requests by individuals. The lists are updated on a continuing basis. The lists are maintained for a minimum of two years.

Ministerial Correspondence

This class of information contains correspondence addressed to the Minister, from external organizations and individuals in the form of requests for information, complaints, opinions and other submissions related to a broad range of policy issues pertaining to ACOA's activities wherein some unsolicited personal information has been provided by the correspondent. This form of information would be retrievable only if specifics of name, date of communication and subject were to be provided; it is not arranged or retrievable by personal identifiers. The retention periods of these classes of personal information are controlled by the record schedules of the general subject files in which they are stored.

Programs and Agreements

This class of information contains documents related to programs and agreements administered by ACOA. Personal information may be stored in administering programs falling within this class. The information may include financial, employment and demographic data on individuals. Such data, however, would be stored as part of the general subject files where records are not normally retrieved by name of individual or other personal identifier. This form of information is normally retrievable only if specifics are provided.

Public Opinion Research

This is a class of records generated by departmental officials who conducted public opinion research on a vast spectrum of topics related to the mandate and mission of ACOA. Retrievable records consist of data gathering instruments, such as, but not exclusively, questionnaires which may contain personal information that reveals the identification of the research subject. Data contained in this class of records are not used for administrative purposes. Individuals seeking access to these records must provide the title of the research project in which they participated, the location and the date of the search, and any other data that may help to identify and locate the personal information they are seeking.

Atlantic Pilotage Authority Canada

Chapter 3

General Information

Background

As a result of recommendations made by the Royal Commission on Pilotage in Canada, the Pilotage Act was assented to by Her Majesty and the Governor-in-Council and proclaimed February 1, 1972.

The Pilotage Act created four pilotage regions with specific authorities, thereby replacing a large number of local pilotage districts. The four pilotage authorities – Atlantic, Laurentian, Great Lakes, and Pacific – are Crown corporations, responsible to Parliament through the Minister of Transport.

The Atlantic Pilotage Authority was incorporated in carrying out the Pilotage Act in 1972, and pursuant to the Financial Administration Act, (Schedule SC 1983-84, 31) was designated a Schedule III Part I Crown corporation.

Responsibilities

The role of the Authority is to establish, operate, maintain and administer, in the interest of safety, an efficient and economical pilotage service within its geographical boundaries – all coastal waters in the Atlantic region. As a further goal, the authority prescribes tariffs of pilotage charges that are fair, reasonable and consistent with providing revenues sufficient to permit the Authority to operate on a self-sustaining financial basis.

Bank of Canada

Chapter 4

General Information

Background

The Bank of Canada is the country's central bank. It was incorporated in 1934 under the Bank of Canada Act. Under the preamble of the Act, unchanged since its inception, the Bank of Canada is required "to regulate credit and currency in the best interests of the economic life of the nation, to control and protect the external value of the national monetary unit and to mitigate by its influence fluctuations in the general level of production, trade, prices and employment, so far as may be possible within the scope of monetary action, and generally to promote the economic and financial welfare of Canada."

Overall responsibility for the management of the Bank is assigned to the Board of Directors, composed of the Governor, the Senior Deputy Governor and 12 directors. The Governor and Senior Deputy Governor are appointed for seven-year terms, the directors for three years. The Deputy Minister of Finance sits on the board as a non-voting member. The Governor is the Chief Executive Officer of the Bank and is responsible for the business of the Bank. As a practical matter, since 1994, the Governing Council, composed of the Governor, the Senior Deputy Governor and the four other Deputy Governors has conducted Monetary Policy. The Executive Management Committee which includes a broader representation of management ensures that matters related to strategic direction and management are reviewed at the executive level.

Responsibilities

The Bank of Canada's primary responsibilities can be grouped into four broad functions: developing and implementing monetary policy, issuing bank notes, promoting the safety and efficiency of Canada's financial systems and providing funds management services.

Monetary policy is the Bank's primary function and most important responsibility. Monetary policy is concerned with managing the rate of monetary expansion in a way that is consistent with preserving the value of money. As part of its financial system role, the Bank oversees and provides operational support for major clearing and settlement systems, and conducts research into financial stability issues. In funds management, the Bank serves as fiscal agent for the government, advising on the management of the federal public debt and providing treasury management services. The Bank also has sole responsibility for issuing Canada's bank notes, undoubtedly its best-known product. This responsibility involves note design (including features that enhance security against counterfeiting), as well as printing, distributing and eventually replacing bank notes. Coinage, on the other hand, is produced by the Royal Canadian Mint. Lastly, as the government's fiscal agent, the Bank advises the government on matters relating to the public debt, issues government debt, maintains bondholder records, and makes payments on behalf of the government for interest and debt redemption.

Legislation

- Bank Act
- Bank of Canada Act
- Currency Act
- Financial Administration Act
- Payment, Clearing and Settlement Act

Organization

♦ Corporate Administration Departments

The Corporate Administration Departments provide advice, information and internal services that support the management of the Bank. The Corporate Administration departments are: Executive and Legal Services, Communications, Corporate Services (information, human resources and financial service, facilities, office, protective and automation services) and Audit Services. Executive and Legal Services provide corporate secretary support to the Bank's Board of Directors and the management of the Bank. Communications provide publication and public information services. As part of the Corporate Services Department, Financial Services (formerly known as Comptroller's Department), is responsible for the internal financial functions of the Bank, statutory financial reporting requirements, accounting in support of the Exchange Fund Account and administration of unclaimed bank balances.

♦ Department of Banking Operations

The overall responsibility of the Department is to provide efficient and effective service to other central banks, international financial organizations, the Government of Canada, chartered banks, trust companies and other financial organizations. Its responsibilities include the security and administration of valuables such as gold and securities, the provision of banking services to other clients, and all aspects of the issuance of bank notes, including custody of the National Currency Collection. The Department also provides fiscal functions for which the Bank of Canada acts as an agent for the Government of Canada. These functions include the clearing of government obligations and receiving deposits for the account of the Government of Canada. Finally the Department participates with the Research Department in the Bank's Regional Presence activities.

◆ Department of Monetary and Financial Analysis

This department is responsible for analyzing the transmission mechanism of monetary policy and contributing to the Bank's role in providing for financial stability. The department monitors and analyzes the evolution of financial variables such as monetary aggregates, credit aggregates and interest rates. It also monitors the evolution of the financial institutions, financial intermediation and payments systems to assess the implications for monetary policy and financial stability. It provides advice on regulatory and supervisory issues related to the financial sector policies under the jurisdiction of the federal government. Finally the department is responsible for the regulatory oversight of major clearing and settlement systems.

◆ Financial Markets Department

This department has both operational and analytical duties. Its most important operational functions are to help implement monetary policy through its activities in financial markets, to conduct foreign exchange operations as fiscal agent for the government and the Bank, and to issue Government of Canada securities (principally treasury bills and marketable bonds) both domestically and abroad. Its analytical function is to monitor conditions in financial markets, forecast key financial flows and study relevant financial relationships. The results are communicated to the Bank's senior officers for their use in formulating monetary policy, advising the government on matters related to debt management, and influencing the development of capital market structures appropriate to Canadian needs.

◆ Debt Administration Office

This department is responsible for administering Government of Canada domestic securities. Its functions include: development and distribution of debt certificates; maintenance of the debt register information; servicing the holders of debt instruments through account statements, interest payments, product information and other client services; and managing the order-taking and redemption processes through intermediaries.

◆ International Department

The principal responsibilities of this department include producing timely analyses of current and prospective economic developments in foreign countries, providing policy advice on issues addressed by international organizations such as the International Monetary Fund and the OECD, and undertaking studies on international financial markets and economic policy issues.

◆ Research Department

This department's primary responsibility is to assess the significance of current economic developments and prospects in Canada and to keep Bank management fully informed about them. An aspect of this responsibility is to seek further understanding of the operation of the economy and of public policies which are, or could be, employed in an attempt to regulate it.

Bondholder Enquiries and Estate Files

Description: This bank contains names, addresses, social insurance numbers, registration or account identifiers and copies of legal documents that support the transfer of ownership of Government of Canada Securities and other correspondence between bondholders, or their authorized representatives, and the Bank of Canada. Included in the correspondence are: requests for information on Government of Canada Securities presently or previously held; communications regarding errors in registration, lost security certificates, coupons and interest cheques. As of June 1995, general inquiries such as requests for information concerning the terms and conditions of specific issues and interpretations of the Domestic Bonds of Canada Regulations are retained only if received in paper form. The medium of retention is electronic. Class of Individuals: General public. Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to store documents that support the transfer of ownership of Government of Canada

Securities and other correspondence between bondholders, or their authorized representatives, and the Bank of Canada. The use of the social insurance number is required under the Income Tax Act.

Consistent Uses: The information is used to respond to enquiries from holders of Government of Canada Securities or their authorized representatives.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Retention periods range from two years to indefinite. The records for lost security certificates or coupons are retained indefinitely if the original security certificates or coupons have not been located. However, if the original security certificate or coupon has been located after a replacement has been issued, these records are destroyed two years after reimbursement to the Bank of Canada. However, if the original security certificate or coupon is located prior to replacement, paper and images are destroyed one year after notification of discovery. The records pertaining to estate matters are held for ten years on microfiche, microfilm or electronic media and are then destroyed. (Authority — Destruction of Securities Regulations) Note: It is normally not necessary to make a formal request under the Privacy Act for your own personal information appearing in this register. Personal inquiries should be directed to New Canada Savings Bonds by calling 1-800-575-5151; by e-mail at csb@csb.gc.ca; by writing to PO Box/CP 2770, Stn/Succ D, Ottawa, Ontario, K1P 1J7. Related to PR#: BOC GSS 335 TBS Registration: 004134 Bank Number: BOC PPU 015

Government of Canada Securities Registers

Description: This bank contains names, addresses, social insurance numbers, registration or account identifiers and a record of the securities held and redeemed by persons. Class of Individuals: Registered owners of Government of Canada Securities. Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to maintain a record from which the liability of the Government of Canada in the form of direct or guaranteed securities can be administered (the liability is established in the Receiver General's account (authority — Financial Administration Act). Other purposes are to establish the status of individual securities and to respond to enquiries from bondholders or their authorized representatives. The use of the social insurance number is required under the Income Tax Act.

Consistent Uses: The information is used in the general administration of the government's debt and, in particular, to maintain a record of ownership of fully registered securities as required by the Domestic Bonds of Canada Regulations issued under the authority of the Financial Administration Act. The registers of fully registered bonds form the basis on which interest payments are made. The registers are also used to consult with bondholders periodically to determine client needs and the level of satisfaction with services provided, and to advise bondholders of new bond offerings. Retention and Disposal Standards:

Records are maintained indefinitely on microfiche, microfilm or electronic media, including a computer database (Authority — Destruction of Securities Regulations). Business Development Bank of Canada

Chapter 7

General Information

Background

The Business Development Bank of Canada (BDC) is a Crown corporation which was established by an Act of Parliament effective October 2, 1975 as the Federal Business Development Bank (FBDB), and continued under its new name by an Act of Parliament on July 13, 1995. FBDB, in turn, had succeeded the Industrial Development Bank which was formed in 1944.

BDC's mandate is to support Canadian entrepreneurship by providing financial and management services, giving particular attention to the needs of small and medium-sized enterprises. A network of branches across Canada provide the full range of the Bank's services to small and medium-sized businesses located in each branch territory.

Responsibilities

The Bank is responsible for acting as a complementary lender, providing funds by means of loans and equity financing to small and medium-sized businesses to fill out or complete services available from commercial financial institutions. Through its Investment Group, the Bank is also responsible for providing venture capital and subordinate financing in addition to, or in place of, loans and guarantees.

Legislation

- Business Development Bank of Canada Act

Organization

The Bank has a network of approximately eighty branches across Canada organized into areas reporting to a Head Office located in Montreal.

Corporate resources located in regional Service Centres and Head Office provide guidance to branches with respect to the application of established Bank policy and procedures. They also process financing applications for amounts exceeding branch limits.

The branches provide financing and management services to small and medium businesses located within their particular territory. Enquiries and applications for financing and managerial support are received by branch personnel and processed in accordance with established policy and procedure.

Furthermore, enquiries and applications may be received through the Business Service Centre located in Head Office.

The various services and departments of the Bank include the following:

Consulting Group (formerly Management Services Division)

The Consulting Group offers BDC's management services by providing consulting services to help Canadian entrepreneurs strengthen their management capabilities.

BDC's consulting services provide entrepreneurs with the specialized support they need to enhance their business performance. Consulting in a variety of areas including finance and accounting, human resources, marketing, planning and general management is provided through a network of experienced business professionals and specialists.

Financial Services

◆ Investment Group

Responsible for all equity, venture capital and subordinate financing. Its role is to act as a catalyst in stimulating the formation of risk capital for companies with high growth potential. It ensures that all proposals satisfy Bank policy and are financially viable. This Division assesses, on a continuing basis, the adequacy and suitability of investment policy and procedures and, when necessary, recommends changes. The services of this Division include direct purchase of a minority ownership interest as well as syndication of proposals to other venture capitalists and financial institutions.

◆ Loans Division

Establishes and oversees policies and procedures with respect to the provision of financial assistance to small and medium-sized businesses. In addition, the Division oversees the management of the Bank's loan portfolio for the entire life of all accounts. Most financing is provided in the form of loans for such purposes as purchasing fixed assets, replenishing working capital, refinancing, and financing a change of ownership. Guarantees may be provided to other financial institutions to enable a business to obtain an adequate line of credit. Through the operations of BDC Connex - BDC's "virtual bank" - BDC offers on-line access to its financial services.

Head Office Departments

◆ Audit and Inspection Department

Conducts reviews of the Bank's systems of internal control.

◆ Controller's

Responsible for all financial planning, accounting and control in the Bank.

◆ Corporate Development

Responsible for formulating the Bank's strategic, corporate and operating plans, analysis of existing activities and corporate development. It also provides information on economic conditions and the impact of the Bank's activities upon the economy.

◆ Corporate Office

Provides the Bank with the strategic direction required to manage its activities and achieve its mandate and objectives.

◆ Government Relations

Responsible for the coordination of communications between the Bank and the Minister, the government and members of Parliament, and has responsibility for international relations.

◆ Human Resources and Administration

Provides the Bank with corporate-wide human resources management. It is also responsible for official languages, employment equity and payroll services. It also provides overall administration support services including lease administration of the Bank's premises.

◆ Insurance

Responsible for insurance related to loan security and corporate insurance.

◆ Legal Services and Corporate Secretariat

Provides legal advice to the Bank in connection with its specific program activities and support departments. This department is also responsible for the Board of Directors, its Committees, and responses to Parliament.

◆ Loan Portfolio Risk Management

Provides an ongoing assessment of the quality of authorized loans and ensures credit risk is minimized.

◆ Marketing

Develops all financial products, and ensure that the Bank's products evolve with the needs of its customers.

◆ Ombudsman's Office

Resolves all customer complaints not solved at other levels.

◆ Public Affairs

This department is responsible for advertising and public relations to promote the role and activities of the Bank.

◆ Systems and Technology

Develops and maintains business systems (manual and computerized) to support the operational functions and management information needs of the Bank.

◆ Training

Responsible for establishing and executing competency standards and accreditation methods to develop a balanced and skilled work force.

◆ Treasury

Responsible for funding of corporate cash requirements, monitoring of cash flow, deposit and investment of corporate funds and interest rate forecasts.

Special Initiatives

The Bank also delivers programs on behalf of other government departments to meet the needs of specific entrepreneurial groups. One such initiative is the administration of the Student Business Loan program on behalf of Human Resources Development Canada. This program encourages full-time students to start-up their own business during the summer months.

Canada Council for the Arts

Chapter 8

General Information

Background

The Canada Council for the Arts was created by the Parliament of Canada in 1957 (Canada Council Act, 1957, RSC 1970 c-2, s. 1 as amended). The mandate of the Canada Council (Section 8(1)) is "to foster and promote the study and enjoyment of, and the production of works in, the arts."

Responsibilities

The general policy objective of the Canada Council for the Arts is to recognize, foster and promote excellence in the arts. Most of its grants are awarded through an extensive system of competitions judged by assessment committees of practising artists and other independent specialists in the particular disciplines.

In addition to its mandate to foster and promote the arts, the Canada Council for the Arts has been assigned responsibility for the Canadian Commission for the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) (Subsection 8(2), Order-in-Council PC 1957-831), in conformity with the constitution of UNESCO.

The Council also administers the Killam program of scholarly awards and prizes, financed from a private legacy. The Public Lending Right Commission, which provides payments to Canadian authors for the public use of their works in Canadian libraries, operates under the aegis of the Council.

Legislation

- Canada Council Act, 1957 Chapter C-2
- The Canada Council By-laws
- Canadian Commission for UNESCO Constitution and By-laws

Organization

Board of Directors

The Council is headed by a Board consisting of 11 members who are appointed by the Governor in Council. The Board meets at least four times a year and is responsible for all policy and financial decisions as well as other matters that are implemented by a staff headed by a Director, who is also appointed by the Governor in Council.

Director's Office

The Director of the Council is the chief executive officer of the Council. The Director's Office is responsible for overseeing and directing the work of the Council staff in the development and delivery of programs, grants and services.

Administration Division

This Division includes the Secretary-Treasurer's Office, the Human Resources Section, the Finance Section, Administrative Services and Information Management Services. The Division provides various corporate services such as personnel, financial and office management as well as the development, implementation and maintenance of Council's automated systems.

Public Affairs, Research and Communications Division

This Division undertakes advocacy initiatives in partnership with artists, arts organizations and other public bodies and institutions, and manages the Council's Parliamentary and business advocacy programs. The Division organizes special events, awards presentations and implements proactive media relations. It houses the Council's research, policy analysis and functions and monitors cultural policy development. It is also responsible for the Council's website and corporate publications. The Outreach Program works as a part of this department and assists artists in developing new audiences and markets for their work on a national and international level.

Arts Division

The Arts Division is headed by a Director and is composed of six arts sections; Dance, Music, Theatre, Visual Arts, Media Arts, Writing and Publishing and three units Inter-Arts Office; Arts Services Unit, and the Aboriginal Arts Secretariat. The Director of the Arts Division is responsible for managing the development and operation of grant programs which provide financial support to Canadian artists and arts organizations. The Arts Services Unit provides administrative services to the arts sections through four major areas of activity; grant and prize application registry; reference and document centre; program information resource centre, program outreach and dissemination; and analysis to program development; and strategic priorities.

Equity Office

This Office supports the Council's strategic focus of equality of opportunity for culturally diverse artists and organizations thus ensuring the application of democratic processes and transparency that foster equal opportunity for all.

Canada Council Art Bank

The Art Bank promotes original contemporary Canadian art through a unique rental program available to public and private sector clients across Canada. It offers clients access to the largest selection of works of art in the country which includes 18,000 paintings, sculptures, drawings, photographs, and prints by over 2,500 artists.

The Prizes and Endowments Section

Administers over 100 individual prizes, fellowships and awards to Canadian artists and scholars each year, for a total of close to $3 million. In addition to the arts prizes, the Council's Killam Program awards prizes and fellowships to Canadian scholars of exceptional ability engaged in significant research projects in the humanities, social sciences and natural sciences. Many of the prizes and awards are privately endowed and are given in perpetuity, in memory of the donors.

Public Lending Right Commission The Public Lending Right (PLR)

Commission administers a program of payments to Canadian authors for the public use of eligible books catalogued in libraries across Canada. The PLR Board is responsible for setting general program policies.

Canadian Commission for UNESCO (United Nations Education, Scientific and Cultural Organization)

The Canadian Commission for UNESCO has been housed within the Canada Council since it was established in 1957. The Commission advises the Government of Canada on its relations with the United Nations Education, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) one of the foremost specialized agencies of the United Nations. The Commission also fosters cooperation between Canadian organizations in civil society and UNESCO.

Canada Customs and Revenue Agency

Chapter 9

General Information

Background

In 1927, the Department of National Revenue Act established the Department of National Revenue by renaming the Department of Customs and Excise. The Department was responsible for assessing and collecting duty and tax, monitoring the movement of people and goods across the Canadian border and protecting Canadian industries from foreign competition.

The same act created a second department to collect income tax, a responsibility that a commissioner from the Department of Finance had been meeting. Each department had the same minister, but had its own departmental organization and deputy minister.

In May 1994, Bill C-2, an act to amend the Department of National Revenue Act received royal assent and formed the legal basis to create a consolidated department to perform the activities previously done by Revenue Canada, Customs and Excise and Revenue Canada, Taxation. A new regional structure was implemented in July 1994, combining the 23 parallel regions of Customs, Excise, and Taxation into six consolidated regions. The Headquarters organization was also consolidated into six restructured program branches and six corporate branches.

On November 1999, Revenue Canada began operations as the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency (CCRA).

Over the past several decades, Revenue Canada has come to play an ever greater role in Canadian society. In addition to its traditional role of administering Canada's tax system, trade policies, and borders services, it now plays a role in revenue generation and income redistribution. It also administers the Free Trade Agreement, the North American Free Trade Agreement, and the World Trade Organization Agreement.

In fulfilling these responsibilities, the Agency administers 66 acts of Parliament, works for the federal, provincial, and territorial governments, and deals with virtually every business and individual in Canada.

Responsibilities

The CCRA's responsibilities include revenue collection, trade administration, customs borders services, and various social and economic payments.

It works for the federal, provincial, and territorial governments, as well as individuals and businesses, to support Canada's social and economic progress.

The CCRA administers the Canada Child Tax Benefit, the goods and services tax/harmonized sales tax (GST/HST) credit, and many provincial and territorial benefit and credit programs. It also collects federal and some provincial income tax, GST/HST, Canada Pension Plan contributions, Employment Insurance premiums, and customs and excise duties. As well, it collects excise tax and, for provinces with agreements with the federal government, provincial sales tax, tobacco taxes, liquor mark-ups, and levies on non-commercial imports.

The CCRA administers the border and trade aspects of the North American Free Trade Agreement and the World Trade Organization (WTO) Agreement, as well as administering Canada's international tax agreements with other countries.

The CCRA works in partnership with law enforcement agencies and federal departments to protect Canadians and society as a whole by preventing illegal and dangerous goods and inadmissible people from entering Canada, and monitoring the movement of controlled and regulated goods.

The CCRA continually strives to deliver our programs and services effectively, fairly, and at the lowest possible cost. Its goals are to:

- provide accessible, responsive, and reliable services and clear informative communications;
- deliver fair, responsible, and effective enforcement programs in a way that directly responds to environmental changes;
- minimize the administrative cost and compliance burden on clients through the streamlining and simplifying of legislation, programs, and operations;
- apply the principles of fairness diligently and consistently in all CCRA programs to keep public confidence and encourage voluntary compliance;
- ensure that employees have the knowledge, skills, and support to work effectively in an environment that promotes and recognizes exemplary performance; and
- support Agency programs and initiatives through responsive, integrated and affordable corporate policies, systems and processes.

Waiver on Withholding System (WOW)

Description: A mainframe 'expert' system database, which is used daily by field officers to process requests for waivers of withholding tax. These requests are received from either non-resident persons under section 102, 105 or 805 of the Income Tax Regulations, or Canadian residents seeking a tax waiver under the Overseas Employment Tax Credit (OETC) program. Under the "Undue Hardship" provision found at subsection 153(1.1) of the Income Tax Act, the Minister may reduce the withholding required if the waiver applicant can demonstrate that the withholding required is in excess of the tax liability to Canada. Names and addresses of applicants and their respective payers or employers, amounts paid for self-employed or employment services days spent in Canada and outside Canada during the term of a contract, expenses claimed and treaty exemptions claimed (non-residents) is some of the information kept in the database. Class of Individuals: Non-resident persons providing employment services in Canada, non-resident persons carrying on business in Canada through a permanent establishment and Canadian residents working overseas for Canadian employers (OETC). Purpose: The information is compiled and reviewed in accordance with each new waiver application under the "Undue Hardship" provision. Current service information may be linked with historical data to help officers determine whether a waiver should be accorded the applicant. Prior to the issuance of a waiver, officers ensure that applicants have complied with their Canadian income tax requirements and responsibilities.

Consistent Uses: Information is used daily as part of processing procedures as well as for trend analysis, program enhancement and for potential enforcement projects. Retention and Disposal Standards: Database was created in 1996 and records have not been deleted since then. Additionally, since historic records are used to review current waiver requests, disposal dates have not been considered. Related to PR#: CCRA CPB 189 TBS Registration: 004465 Bank Number: CCRA PPU 098

Customs Brokers – Professional and Qualified Status

Description: A database is maintained on the computers in the Broker Licensing and Account Security Section. The database lists individual candidates who have successfully completed the "Qualifying" or "Professional" customs brokers examination. Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to maintain a record of all persons who have successfully completed one or both of the customs brokers examinations and to record the customs brokerage firm under whose license authority they transact business. As some individuals may lose their status by being absent from the brokerage industry for a period of time in excess of one year, the database allows the determination of candidates who have "lost" their status and would be required to re-qualify in order to assume certain positions with licensed customs Brokerage firms. Individuals who have been appointed to "qualified positions" with licensed Brokerage firms would also be recorded on the individuals brokerage firm's files. It should be noted that the Qualified Person Requirements is no longer in effect and that no further records will be maintained for the Qualified Person. The Qualified Officer requirement remains and records will continue to be maintained for this individual. The information on the database is mostly available on brokers' files (7637-2/Name of Broker) Retention and Disposal Standards: Files are retained for seven years, then destroyed. RDA Number: 80/022 Related to PR#: CCRA CBR 340 TBS Registration: 000009 Bank Number: CCRA PPU 026

Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation

Chapter 10

General Information

Background

The Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation (CDIC) was established in 1967 by the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation Act. The Corporation is an agent of Her Majesty in right of Canada and is a Crown Corporation named in Part I of Schedule III of the Financial Administration Act. The Corporation reports to Parliament through the Minister of Finance, who has delegated certain responsibilities for CDIC matters to the Secretary of State (International Financial Institutions). The Corporation's objects are to provide insurance against the loss of part or all of deposits, to be instrumental in the promotion of standards of sound business and financial practices for member institutions, and to promote and otherwise contribute to the stability of the financial system in Canada. These objects are to be pursued for the benefit of persons having deposits with member institutions and in such a manner as will minimize the exposure of the Corporation to loss.

Membership

Membership with CDIC is limited to banks, federally incorporated trust or loan companies, and provincially incorporated trust or loan companies. To obtain membership, an application must be submitted to CDIC and approved by its Board of Directors. Provincially incorporated institutions must be authorized by the province of incorporation to apply for deposit insurance.

Under the CDIC Act, the maximum basic protection for eligible deposits is $60,000 per person at each member institution. CDIC provides separate protection for eligible deposits held jointly, in trust, in registered savings plans, and in registered retirement income funds, also to a maximum of $60,000, in each category. Deposits not payable in Canada or repayable in foreign currency are not eligible to be insured.

Responsibilities

The Corporation's primary role is set out above. Other responsibilities include examining the affairs of member institutions in order to obtain information for deposit insurance purposes (under legislation, the examination of member institutions is the responsibility of the Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions (OSFI)); acting as lender of last resort to provide short-term liquidation loans under specified authority; managing the acquired assets of member institutions; and reducing the risk of loss to the Corporation by guaranteeing loans or deposits with a member institution. In addition, the Corporation can act as curator of a bank, or liquidator or receiver of a member institution. Further, CDIC manages and invests funds accumulated from the operations of the Corporation.

To carry out its work, CDIC relies on the work of OSFI and provincial regulators. They are responsible for regulatory supervision and for ensuring that member institutions follow the rules and regulations and remain financially viable. CDIC has no regulatory role. It relies on information provided by the regulator. If a member institution poses a significant risk of loss to the Corporation, CDIC will work closely with the regulator and usually complete an intensive special examination of the company's operations and the value of its assets to clarify CDIC's risk and to establish an information base upon which the Corporation can act promptly toward intervention or failure resolution.

Organization

◆ Board of Directors

CDIC's Board of Directors comprises the Chairperson, the Governor of the Bank of Canada, the Deputy Minister of Finance, and the Superintendent and Deputy Superintendent of Financial Institutions. As well, there are four private sector directors. The Governor in Council appoints the Chairperson, the four private sector directors and the President and CEO.

◆ Office of the President and CEO

The Office of the President and CEO is responsible for the overall management of the corporation and for strategic planning and for liaising with the Board of Directors. All Divisions of the corporation, the Audit and Consulting Services Function (described below) and the departments of Corporate Affairs, International Affairs, and Human Resource Management report to the President and CEO.

◆ Audit and Consulting Services

This department is responsible for an independent examination and review of risks; internal controls, policies and procedures; systems and practices; their application; and the extent to which they protect the interests of the Corporation. Audit and Consulting Services performs these functions in accordance with provisions related to Crown corporations as outlined in the Financial Administration Act.

◆ Field Operations Division

The primary functions of this division are to develop systems and procedures for the conduct of interventions and to manage claims and recoveries associated with past failed member institutions.

◆ Finance and Administration

This division is composed of three departments: Finance and Treasury; Information Systems; and Communications and Public Affairs. The Finance and Treasury Department is responsible for the accounting, financial planning, and treasury activities of the Corporation. Internally, the division provides the diverse services, tools, and environment necessary for Corporation staff to effectively and efficiently carry out their duties. Externally, the division provides specialized services to government, member institutions, and the general public (e.g., 1-800 information lines, public awareness activities, payout support).

◆ Insurance and Risk Assessment Division

The main responsibility of this division is the effective operation of the insurance, member relations, and risk assessment functions of the Corporation. The division is also responsible for developing and establishing standards of sound business and financial practices, and administering the system of differential premiums.

◆ Legal Division

This division is responsible for providing legal counsel and advice in all legal matters affecting the Corporation. It also performs duties assigned to it by the Board of Directors.

Canada Economic Development for Quebec Regions

Chapter 11

General Information

Background

Under the order adopted on February 13, 1998, Economic Development Agency of Canada for the Regions of Quebec (CED) became the new name of the organization formerly known as the Federal Office of Regional Development (Quebec), or FORD(Q). FORD(Q) was created in June 1991, and has been part of the Industry Portfolio since January 1996.

Responsibilities

Part II of the Department of Industry Act, assented to in March 1995, defines the responsibilities of the Minister responsible for Canada Economic Development for Quebec Regions. In terms of regional economic development in Quebec, the Minister responsible for the Agency oversees the creation of approaches, policies and programs, the delivery of programs and services, the establishment of co-operative relationships with partners, and the analysis and dissemination of information.

In this context, Canada Economic Development's mandate is to promote the economic development of the regions of Quebec, paying special attention to those experiencing slow economic growth and inadequate employment, with a view to the enhancement of prosperity and employment in the long term.

Legislation

- Atlantic Enterprise Loan Insurance Regulations with regard to projects in the Province of Quebec
- Canada Small Business Financing Act
- Department of Industry Act regarding regional economic development in the Province of Quebec
- Enterprise Development Regulations with regard to contributions and projects in the Province of Quebec
- Industrial and Regional Development Act regarding activities in the Province of Quebec
- Small Business Loans Act
- Special Areas Act regarding activities in the Province of Quebec

Organization

As member of the Industry Portfolio, Canada Economic Development reports to the Minister of Industry Canada. A Secretary of State assumes the Agency's responsibilities for the economic development of the regions of Quebec.

Canada Economic Development for the Regions of Quebec is headquartered in Montréal and has a network of 14 business offices in various regions of Quebec and provides clients with information on its programs and services through its Internet site, www.dec-ced.gc.ca.

The Executive Assistant and Ministerial Advisor, Assistant Deputy Minister, Operations, Assistant Deputy Minister, Policy, Planning and Information, Director General, Communications, Director General, Resource Management and Director, Legal Services, report to the Deputy Minister.

Deputy Minister

The Deputy Minister is responsible, on behalf of the Minister, for the day-to-day management of the Agency. He also supports and contributes to collective management of the government. He acts as senior policy advisor for the Minister, the Secretary of State and the government, and is assisted in his activities by the Executive Assistant and Ministerial Advisor, who serves as a co-ordinator in support of senior management. The Executive Assistant and Ministerial Advisor heads the Corporate Secretariat, which is responsible for document management, ministerial correspondence, parliamentary relations and enforcement of the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act.

Operations

The Assistant Deputy Minister, Operations, is responsible for program development and the delivery of all Agency products and services, as well as for negotiating and managing partnership agreements with other federal departments and outside organizations, such as financial institutions. He is in charge of implementing agreements with the Quebec government, including the Infrastructure Agreement. The Assistant Deputy Minister, Operations, heads the Regional Operations Branch, the Inter-Regional Intervention and Partnership Branch and a network of 14 business offices throughout Quebec.

The business offices, located in various parts of Quebec, are nerve centres for the delivery of the programs and services of Canada Economic Development for the Regions of Quebec. They play an active role in establishing the Agency's priorities and approaches and in adjusting programs and services to the local situation. Regional teams represent the Agency with local organizations and hold consultations with the community. They also enable the Government of Canada to publicize its policies and its activities with regard to the economic development of the regions.

Policy, Planning and Information

The Assistant Deputy Minister, Policy, Planning and Information, is responsible for defining the Agency's strategic orientations, carrying out the necessary socio-economic studies, providing the Agency's input to the creation of national policy, promoting Quebec regional interests at the federal level, maintaining the quality system, the performance measurement and managing information. He administers these operational entities: Policy and Interdepartmental Advocacy Branch and Advocacy and Industrial Policy Branch, both located in Hull, the Planning and Strategic Orientations Branch and the Quality, Information and Technologies Branch.

Communications

The Communications Branch is responsible for developing and implementing a communication program to inform the public of the Agency's contribution and, in the case of special mandates, the Government of Canada's contribution, to the economic development of the regions of Quebec.

Resource Management

The Resource Management Branch (human, financial and administrative) is responsible for creating programs and policies and delivering strategic and corporate services in all areas related to the management of human resources. The Branch participates in implementing the Expenditure Management System, controlling revenues and expenditures and drawing up financial policies, procedures and systems. It ensures liaison with the Office of the Auditor General of Canada, the Treasury Board Secretariat and the Public Service Commission. Lastly, it is responsible for the management of administrative and real property services, government contracts and purchasing.

Legal Services

The Legal Services Branch provides legal assistance and opinion relevant to the Agency activities. More specifically, Legal Services activities focus on commercial law and its impact on public law. The Branch also provides litigation support services.

The Canada Business Service Centre (CBSC) Initiative was introduced to provide Canadian firms with easier access to a wide range of information on government services, programs and regulations. There are currently 34 federal business departments and agencies participating in this initiative, as well as other levels of government and non-governmental organizations.

Three regional development agencies and Industry Canada (IC) are designated as federal managing partners and are responsible for the development and management of the CBSCs in their areas.

Currently there are twelve CBSC centres, one in every province, the Northwest Territories and the Yukon. The participants and designated federal managing partners who are responsible for the development and management of the CBSCs vary from province to province. Western Economic Diversification (WD) manages the centres in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Industry Canada manages the centres in Ontario, the Yukon and the Northwest Territories. The Canada Economic Development Agency for Quebec Regions (CED) manages the Quebec centre. The Atlantic Canada Opportunities Agency (ACOA) manages the centres in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland.

A national CBSC Secretariat provides centralized support to the network of regional CBSCs and promotes development of the CBSC initiative. The Secretariat is located at Industry Canada. Guidelines for operation of the Secretariat are issued by the Assistant Deputy Ministers' Managing Partners Committee, with representatives from ACOA, WED, IC and CED. It acts as the secretariat for the Managers Operating Committee, the Information Management Committee and the Information Specialists Committee. It also coordinates the dissemination of information from participating federal business departments.

Canada Industrial Relations Board

Chapter 12

General Information

Background

The Canada Industrial Relations Board (CIRB) is an independent, representational, quasi-judicial tribunal responsible for the interpretation and application of the Canada Labour Code, Part I, Industrial Relations, and certain provisions of Part II, Occupational Safety and Health.

Part I of the Canada Labour Code had remained virtually unchanged since 1972. However, with the coming into force on January 1, 1999 of Bill C-19, an Act to amend the Canada Labour Code (Part I), R.S. 1998 C. 26, significant changes were made to the Code in an effort to modernize it and improve the collective bargaining process for federally regulated industries. The Act also replaced the former Canada Labour Relations Board with the Canada Industrial Relations Board.

The Board has jurisdiction in regard to some 700,000 employees engaged in federal jurisdiction industries, which include interprovincial transportation (air, land and water), broadcasting, banking, longshoring and grain handling, and to private sector employees in Nunavut, the Yukon, and the Northwest Territories.

Responsibilities

The Board's mandate is to contribute to and promote effective industrial relations in any work, undertaking or business that falls within the authority of the Parliament of Canada. It interprets and applies the Code in a manner that supports and promotes free collective bargaining and the constructive settlement of disputes.

In general, Part I of the Canada Labour Code charges the Board with a two-fold responsibility: that of granting, modifying and terminating bargaining rights, and that of resolving, through mediation or adjudication, complaints of unfair labour practice concerning violations of the Code by trade unions or employers.

Under Part II of the Code, the Board must rule on complaints by employees alleging that they have been discriminated against or punished for exercising their rights in relation to safety.

On finding a violation of the Code, the Board is empowered to order reinstatement and compensation where appropriate. It is also empowered, upon application, to order employees to return to work in cases of illegal work stoppages and to attempt to resolve or adjudicate, where necessary, various other types of disputes that may arise under Part I of the Code.

Legislation

- Canada Labour Code (Parts I and II)
- Canada Industrial Relations Board Regulations, 2001, SOR/2001-520

Organization

The Board is composed of a chairperson, at least two full-time vice-chairpersons (at present five) and not more than six full-time members (three representing employees and three representing employers) (at present five full-time and four part-time), all appointed by order-in-council. The chairperson and vice-chairpersons are appointed for five-year terms; members are appointed for three-year terms. This makes up the Adjudicative Branch of the Board.

The Board is managed by the executive director, who is responsible for regional operations, case management, information management and information technology, financial and administrative services and human resources. The director general of the Case Processes Branch is responsible for the provision of strategic advice and support in respect of case management and workflow as well as for the direction of Legal Services.

The majority of the Board's staff, as well as its full-time vice-chairpersons and members, work out of the headquarters (National Capital Region) office; the Board also has five regional offices and a satellite office, all staffed with labour relations professionals and case management teams.

Personal Information Banks

Access to Information and Privacy Requests

Description: This bank contains requests submitted by individuals seeking access to information under the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act; replies to such requests; and information relating to their processing. Class of Individuals: Individuals submitting requests for access to information under the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act.

Purpose: The information is used to process formal access requests in accordance with the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act. Consistent Uses: This bank is also used to report to Treasury Board on access requests received under the Acts. Retention and Disposition Standards: Records are retained for two years after the last administrative action, then destroyed. RDA Number: 98/001 TBS Registration: 004457 Bank Number: CIR PPU 020

Religious Objections

Description: This bank contains applications by individuals who, because of religious beliefs, object to joining a trade union or to paying regular union dues to a trade union. The Board may order that a provision in a collective agreement requiring membership in a trade union or the payment of union dues as a condition of employment, not be applied to such employees. Class of Individuals: Individuals who work for companies under federal jurisdiction, as set out in the Canada Labour Code. Purpose: Personal information is obtained solely for the purpose of determining whether an employee's objections to membership in a trade union are based on true religious convictions.

Consistent Uses: Religious objections may occasionally require a public hearing to determine complex issues, which could affect the Board's decision regarding the objections. Such a hearing may result in the publication of a written judgement containing the facts surrounding the application and the Board's reasons for granting, or rejecting, the application.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Simple cases (i.e., those that are withdrawn or settled without the holding of a public hearing) are kept for two years and then destroyed. Other cases are kept by the Board for 10 years, and then transferred to the National Archives of Canada for selective retention. Related to PR#: CLR OPS 030 TBS Registration: 002331 Bank Number: CLR PPU 015

Termination of Bargaining Rights

Description: This bank contains case files concerning applications for revocation of certifications, which grant bargaining agents (unions) the right to represent employees in collective bargaining with employers in the federal jurisdiction. Class of Individuals: Individuals who work for companies under federal jurisdiction, as set out in the Canada Labour Code. Purpose: Personal information is obtained solely for the purpose of determining whether an individual is a member of the bargaining unit and therefore entitled to express support for or against his or her bargaining agent. Consistent Uses: Applications for revocation may occasionally require a public hearing in order to determine complex issues, which could affect the Board's decision and may result in the publication of a written judgement, which will contain the facts surrounding the application and the Board's reasons for granting or rejecting it.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Files are kept for five years for successful applications and three years for unsuccessful applications, then transferred to the National Archives of Canada for selective retention. Cases withdrawn are destroyed after two years. RDA Number: 84-015 Related to PR#: CLR OPS 005 TBS Registration: 000102 Bank Number: CLR PPU 010

Applications for Employment

Description: This bank maintains an inventory of applications from individuals requesting employment with the Department. The files include completed application forms, letters, and curriculum vitae of persons seeking employment with the Department.

Class of Individuals: Individuals seeking employment with the Department. Purpose: The bank is used to review applications of individuals requesting employment with the Department when positions become available.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained for six months and then destroyed. RDA

Number: 98/001 TBS Registration: 004458 Bank Number: CIR PPU 025

Violations of the Canada Labour Code

Description: This bank contains case files concerning complaints by individuals that a section, or sections, of the Canada Labour Code, Parts I and II have been violated by their employer, their union, or another individual. Files may contain information on grievances, work records, or letters from unions or employers containing opinions or comments about individuals.

Class of Individuals: Individuals who work for companies under federal jurisdiction, as set out in the Canada Labour Code. Purpose: Information about individuals is obtained solely for the purpose of bringing about a settlement to the dispute or, failing settlement, for the purpose of adjudication by the Board on the merits of the complaint. Consistent Uses: Information contained in case files, along with testimony given at public hearings may be published in written judgements, which set out the Board's reasons for rejecting or upholding a complaint. Personal information is used solely for the purpose of settling or deciding on the merits of each case and is published solely for the purpose of explaining the Board's reasons for its decision and its policy in like cases. Retention and Disposal Standards: Case files are kept for five years if successful and three years if unsuccessful, and are then transferred to the National Archives of Canada for selective retention. Settled cases are kept for the minimum two years required and then destroyed. RDA

Number: 84-015 Related to PR#: CLR OPS 010 TBS Registration: 000101 Bank Number: CLR PPU 005

Classes of Personal Information

Other Personal Information Banks

Other case files and subject files held by operational services may contain personal information such as names of individuals, addresses, position titles, job descriptions, salaries, and membership in a trade union. The information is not retrievable by personal identifiers and is collected solely for the purpose of administering the Canada Labour Code. All files are organized by file number and are maintained by operational services at headquarters in Ottawa. Regional offices retain duplicate files for the purposes of investigation until the settlement of a case. Some personal information such as job descriptions and salaries may be published in written judgements where it is pertinent to the background of a case in which the Canada Industrial Relations Board decides its decision requires formal elaboration. Such information is usually the result of testimony given at public hearings.

Canada Lands Company Limited

Chapter 13

General Information

Background

Canada Lands Company Limited is an arms-length, self-financing, non-agent Crown corporation reporting to the Parliament of Canada through the Minister of Transport. It was established in 1956 and reactivated in 1995.

Canada Lands Company Limited is subject to the Access to Information and Privacy Acts, whereas its wholly-owned subsidiaries are subject to the Personal Information Protection and Electronics Documents Act.

Responsibilities

The Company optimizes the financial and community value of strategic properties no longer required for program purposes by its customers – Government of Canada departments, agencies and Crown corporations. It accomplishes this through its subsidiaries by purchasing land at fair market value, then improving, managing or selling it in order to produce the best possible benefits for both local communities and the Company's shareholder, the Government of Canada.

Canada Lands Company Limited is a Canada Business Corporations Act corporation and is listed in Schedule III, Part 1 of the Financial Administration Act as a non-agent Crown. It is the parent company of three wholly owned subsidiaries:

- Canada Lands Company CLC Limited - the core real estate business, active in 30 municipalities across Canada;
- Parc Downsview Park Inc. - responsible for developing and managing Downsview Park in Toronto; and
- Old Port of Montréal Corporation Inc. - responsible for redeveloping the Old Port of Montréal and reporting to Parliament as if it were a parent Crown corporation.

Vision Statement: Innovation. Value. Legacy.

Canada Lands Company CLC Limited builds innovative property solutions to create financial value and community legacies for all Canadians.

Organization

President & Chief Executive Officer

The President and Chief Executive Officer of Canada Lands Company Limited, who is the Head of the Institution for the purposes of the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act, exercises all the powers and responsibilities pertaining to this function under the Act in question.

Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation

Chapter 14

General Information

Background

Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC) was incorporated as a Crown corporation in January, 1946, by an Act of Parliament. CMHC has authority to act for the Government of Canada in all matters prescribed under the Housing Acts, principally the National Housing Act (NHA). CMHC reports to Parliament through a designated Minister. Its affairs are managed by a Board of Directors consisting of the Chairman of the Board, the President and eight other members, all appointed by the Governor-in-Council.

Responsibilities

CMHC is a Crown corporation of the Government of Canada. Under the authority of the National Housing Act (NHA) and the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation Act, CMHC's mission is to promote housing quality, affordability and choice for Canadians through four business pillars: Housing finance, Research and Information Transfer, Assisted Housing and International Activities. CMHC's mandate provides the basis for four corporate objectives that focus and guide all of CMHC's activities. CMHC's four corporate objectives are: A. Improve Housing Choice and Affordability for Canadians; B. Improve Housing and Living Conditions for Canadians; C. Support Market Competitiveness, Job-Creation, and Housing Sector Well-Being; and D. Be a Progressive and Responsive Organization.

Legislation

- Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation Act
- Financial Administration Act
- National Housing Act

Organization

♦ Audit and Evaluation Services

Performs comprehensive audits of functions, programs, systems and Federal/Provincial/Territorial Agreements. In addition, conducts special audits involving non-profit and co-op sponsors, real estate fee managers and approved lenders. Periodically evaluates the continued relevance, success and cost-effectiveness of NHA programs and on that basis, the President, with the Board of Directors, recommends to the Minister or Cabinet the reconfirmation, improvement and discontinuance of NHA programs.

♦ CMHC International

CMHC International is responsible for CMHC's involvement in foreign activities related to housing, on behalf of the Government of Canada. Its primary mandate consists of assisting Canadian housing manufacturers and suppliers in developing business opportunities in selected foreign markets, such as the US, Japan, UK, Chile and China. CMHC International also works on a contractual basis with international organizations and countries in transition to assess and improve their housing environment. Certain projects involve short-term or longer-term technical assistance based on the level of expertise required.

♦ Finance, Treasury and Information Technology

This sector is responsible for the financial processes of CMHC and the business systems required to support many of the operational needs of the Corporation. It is also responsible for CMHC's capital market borrowing activities as well as the investment activities of the mortgage insurance fund and mortgage-backed securities guarantee fund. It includes Finance, Information Technology and Treasury.

♦ Human Resources, Legal and Corporate Services

This sector consists of the Human Resources, Legal, Marketing and Administrative Divisions, and the Web Development Group. It is responsible for all aspects of human resources management (including employee relations), as well as Corporate brand development and business line marketing, the provision of legal services, the overall architecture and design of the Corporate web site, and a full range of administrative services (including procurement, document production and records-keeping, translation, security and facilities management). The sector also manages services for external clients including order fulfilment, the CMHC call centre and the Canadian Housing Information Centre.

♦ Insurance and Securitization

This sector consists of Product and Technology Development Division; Insurance Risk and Actuarial Analysis Division; Insurance Servicing Division; Underwriting Division; Securitization Operations; Securitization, Product and Policy Development Division; and, Business Development Division. This sector is responsible for developing, promoting, maintaining and supporting policies, products and services in the area of mortgage insurance and mortgage securitization.

◆ Policy and Programs Sector

This Sector is comprised of the Policy and Research Division, the Assisted Housing Division and the Market Analysis Centre. Programs and activities managed from the sector include: the Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Programs, the Emergency repair Program, Housing Adaptations for Seniors Independence, the Shelter Enhancement Program, F/P/T Agreements, Aboriginal Housing, Loans Administration, Social Housing Programs and the Canadian Centre for Public Private Partnerships in Housing. The sector's activities also include government liaison and policy development, in addition to being responsible for administration of the funds provided under Part IX of the National Housing Act with a mandate to undertake and support research on housing and living conditions, to undertake analysis of housing markets and to disseminate the results to consumers, industry, governments and others.

◆ Strategic Planning, Risk Management and Communications

This sector consists of Strategic Planning, Risk Management, Corporate Relations and Communications, the Innovation Secretariat and the Pension Fund. It is responsible for strategic and corporate planning, performance measurement and reporting and enterprise-wide risk management. The sector develops and implements national communications strategies and is responsible for liaison activities between the Corporation and the Minister's Office. As well, the sector promotes internal communications about corporate performance and fosters the assessment, development and implementation of innovative ideas.

Canada-Newfoundland Offshore Petroleum Board

Chapter 15

General Information

Background

The Canada-Newfoundland Offshore Petroleum Board was established in 1987 as a joint federal/provincial agency pursuant to the federal Canada-Newfoundland Atlantic Accord Implementation Act and by the provincial Canada-Newfoundland Atlantic Accord Implementation Act. These acts brought into law the principles established in a 1985 agreement between the federal government and the provincial government relating to offshore petroleum resources.

Responsibilities

The Board manages the petroleum resources in the Newfoundland offshore area on behalf of the Government of Canada and the Government of Newfoundland and Labrador. Its authority is derived from the legislation implementing the 1985 Atlantic Accord between the two governments.

The Board has a duty to ensure that:

- management of offshore land rights takes place in an orderly way;
- assessments of the resource potential of the offshore area are completed on a timely basis;
- offshore exploration and production activities are conducted in a safe and environmentally responsible manner;
- exploitation of the resource is conducted in accordance with good oilfield practice to optimize recovery and avoid waste;
- operators' procurement decisions are consistent with their statutory obligations and agreements with governments to provide economic and social benefits to Canada, and in particular to Newfoundland; and
- it provides guidance to industry regarding regulatory requirements and encourages continuous improvement in practices that provide for worker safety and environmental protection.

Legislation

- Canada-Newfoundland Atlantic Accord Implementation Newfoundland Act, R.S.N. 1990, c.C-2
- Canada-Newfoundland Atlantic Accord Implementation Act, S.C. 1987, c.3

Organization

The Board consists of seven members who are appointed for fixed terms of office (The Board currently has six Board members). Three members are appointed by the federal government, three by the provincial government and the Chairman is appointed by both the federal and provincial governments. The Chairman also acts on a full-time basis as Chief Executive Officer.

♦ Exploration Department

This Department is responsible for co-ordinating geophysical and geological program authorizations; monitoring and evaluating geological and geophysical programs and exploratory and delineation drilling; determining significant and commercial discovery areas; evaluating undiscovered resource potential of the Board's area of jurisdiction; providing recommendations on development plans and maintaining geological and geophysical databases and cuttings, cores and fluid samples.

♦ Reservoir Engineering Department

This Department is responsible for oil and gas conservation; assessing discovered resources and productive capacities; administering regulations concerning exploitation schemes for depletion of oil and gas pools, reservoir data acquisition and production rate limitation; reviewing and providing recommendations on well evaluation programs, development plans for oil and gas fields, production accounting procedures and testing programs; maintaining the reservoir database; evaluating conservation and enhanced recovery projects; monitoring field performance; and conducting reservoir performance studies.

♦ Operations and Safety Department

This Department is responsible for reviewing and providing recommendations regarding the approval of offshore petroleum exploration, development and production activities; reviewing operators' emergency response plans; monitoring offshore petroleum activities; conducting safety audits and inspections related to procedures, training and equipment; administering and making recommendations regarding the drafting of regulations, their standards and guidelines; monitoring any conditions of approval; co-ordinating with other agencies as required; and providing status reports of offshore petroleum activities.

◆ Environmental Affairs Department

This Department assesses environmental effects; administers and advises on environmental protection regulations and guidelines; establishes and monitors compliance with physical environment and effluent treatment requirements; co-ordinates with other environmental agencies; and reviews operators' environmental emergency contingency plans.

◆ Industrial Benefits Department

This Department provides advice to the Board concerning the administration of the Canada-Newfoundland benefits plan provisions of the legislation, including provisions related to domestic procurement, employment, project management, research and development, education and training, and employment equity.

◆ Legal and Land Department

This Department is responsible for providing legal and land advice and services to the Board. Land matters include the issuance of exploration rights through calls for bids; and the administration of exploration, significant discovery and production licenses.

◆ Administration Department

This Department provides administrative, financial, human resource, and computer services to the Board.

◆ The Executive Committee

The Executive Committee manages the day-to-day activities of the Board. It comprises the Chairman and all of the vice-chairmen.

Canada-Nova Scotia Offshore Petroleum Board

Chapter 16

General Information

Background

The Canada-Nova Scotia Offshore Petroleum Board was established in 1990 as a joint federal-provincial agency pursuant to the federal Canada-Nova Scotia Offshore Petroleum Resources Accord Implementation Act and the provincial Canada-Nova Scotia Offshore Petroleum Resources Accord Implementation (Nova Scotia) Act. These Acts implemented a 1986 agreement between the federal government and Nova Scotia relating to offshore petroleum resources. The Board has offices in Halifax and Dartmouth, Nova Scotia.

Responsibilities

The Board's principal responsibilities include:

- 1) enhancement of safe working conditions for offshore petroleum activities;
- 2) protection of the environment during offshore petroleum activities;
- 3) management of offshore petroleum resources to ensure that operators provide for maximum economic recovery and avoid waste;
- 4) review of industrial benefits matters relating to petroleum activities offshore Nova Scotia so as to ensure that Canadians, with first consideration given to Nova Scotians, have a full and fair opportunity to participate on a competitive basis in the supply of goods and services to be used in any offshore petroleum activities;
- 5) issuance, in a controlled and fair manner, of licenses required to carry out petroleum exploration and development activities offshore Nova Scotia. The Board also maintains a public registry of licenses, curates samples and geological and geophysical information (which is made available to the public following a statutory confidentiality period), and compiles and develops information on petroleum resources within the Nova Scotia Offshore area;
- 6) collection, maintenance and distribution of offshore petroleum information to the petroleum industry, governments and the public in general.

Legislation

- Canada-Nova Scotia Offshore Petroleum Resources Accord Implementation (Nova Scotia) Act, S.N.S. 1987, c. 3.
- Canada-Nova Scotia Offshore Petroleum Resources Accord Implementation Act, S.C. 1988, c. 28.

Organization

The Board consists of five members who are appointed for fixed terms of office (the Board currently has five Board members with one additional appointment pending). The Government of Canada and the Government of Nova Scotia each appoint two members. The Chairman is appointed by both governments. The Board has appointed a Chief Executive Officer who is responsible for day to day operations of the Board and a staff of thirty-three people.

♦ Offshore Petroleum Resources

This Department is responsible for assessing discovered petroleum resources and evaluating the undiscovered petroleum resource potential of the Nova Scotia offshore area; recommending lands for disposition through calls for bids (including the terms and conditions of calls for bids and licences); administering licences under which oil and gas rights are held and maintaining a public registry of such licences; evaluating the results of geological and geophysical surveys and exploratory and development drilling; determining areas to be designated as significant discoveries or commercial discoveries; archiving geological, geophysical and well history reports; and curating cuttings, cores and fluid samples.

♦ Offshore Operations

This Department is responsible for providing recommendations regarding the approval of plans, programs and specific activities related to exploration, development or production; monitoring any conditions of approval; conducting audits and inspections related to procedures, training and equipment; certifying divers and other diving personnel; reviewing operators' emergency response plans; and monitoring and providing status reports on offshore petroleum activities. It is also responsible for conserving oil and gas resources; assessing the productive capacities of wells; monitoring field performance and conducting reservoir performance studies; and administering regulations concerning production schemes, production rate limitations and the acquisition of reservoir data.

♦ Environmental Affairs

This Department assesses the environmental effects of offshore operations as well as risks to offshore operations arising from the physical environment. It administers and advises on environmental protection regulations and guidelines, establishes and monitors compliance with physical environment and effluent treatment requirements, coordinates with other environmental agencies, and reviews operators' environmental emergency contingency plans.

♦ Administration, Industrial Benefits and Legal

This Department provides administrative, financial, human resources and legal services to the Board. The Department is responsible for the Board's external communications, including publications and public relations. The Department also administers statutory requirements concerning employment and industrial benefits plans.

Canada Post Corporation

Chapter 17

Note: This institution is not subject to the Access to Information Act.

General Information

Background

Canada Post Corporation is a federal Crown corporation, established by the Canada Post Corporation Act on October 16, 1981. It collects, processes and delivers mail across Canada, and between Canada and more than 200 postal administrations around the globe. The Corporation is entrusted with nearly 10 billion messages and parcels annually to over 13 million addresses in rural and urban Canada. Products and services are marketed through a network of some 24,000 retail points of purchase.

Canada Post Corporation, with over 56,000 full and part-time employees, is the seventh largest employer in Canada outside of government and, with almost $6 billion in annual revenue, is a large and important part of the transportation and communications sectors of the Canadian economy.

In the course of doing business, Canada Post Corporation maintains and uses records of employees, contractors, customers and others. The Corporation places a high value on the protection and propriety of such personal information; employee access to their records and customer confidentiality are longstanding traditions.

Reliability Checks

Description: This bank contains criminal record name checks and, if applicable, fingerprints, criminal records, recommendations, decisions, appeals and related correspondence. Limited information may exist in automated form as a data element of the Maintain Applicant Activities, Conduct Security Checks module of Systems Applications and Products (SAP). Individuals seeking access to this bank should specify location and dates. Class of Individuals: Prospective Canada Post employees and contractors who do not have security clearances, but who require reliability checks because of their ready access to mail, cash and other valuable assets. Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to help ensure the security of Canada Post employees and property and anything in the course of post.

Consistent Uses: The records are used to help determine an individual's reliability. Identifying information is disclosed to the RCMP in order to determine whether individuals have criminal records.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained for two years after the year the check is completed, and then destroyed. If notified that a pardon has been granted, the criminal records in question are destroyed immediately. Redacted Information: 88/007 TBS
Registration: 001339 Bank Number: CPC PPU 075

Security Clearances

Description: This bank contains such records as personal history forms, criminal record name checks and, if applicable, fingerprints, criminal records, summaries of RCMP and Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS) investigations, adverse findings, appeals, updates, cancellations, pardons and related correspondence. Limited information may exist in automated form, as data elements of the Maintain Applicant Activities, Conduct Security Checks module of Systems Applications and Products (SAP), CPC PPE 804. Data elements include name and clearance level granted versus level required for the position and whether it is due for renewal. Individuals seeking access to this bank should specify location and dates. Class of Individuals: Canada Post contractors who occupy or are about to occupy positions involving access to financial and other assets and sensitive information and systems. Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to help determine the suitability of contractors being considered for or in security-risk positions. Consistent Uses: The records are used to determine the level of security clearance, and to support decisions on transfers, promotions and termination of employment. Monthly computer printouts are used to ensure the security clearance level of individuals is adequate for the positions they occupy. Details of RCMP and CSIS investigations that may have taken place are stored in those agencies' security clearance banks. Retention and Disposal Standards: Paper records are retained for two years after termination of contract and then destroyed. If notified that a pardon has been granted, the criminal records in question are destroyed immediately. TBS Registration: 001338 Bank Number: CPC PPU 070

◆ Customer Relationship Network

Customer Care

Description: This bank contains such records as enquiries, complaints or claims, declarations (in the case of claims) and information relating to their processing. Certain information exists in automated form in the Customer Relationship Management (CRM) module of the Systems Applications and Processes systems (SAP). CRM provides a single point from the Customer Interaction Centre (CIC) screen where customer history can be viewed and transactions such as claims order, enquiries, customer contract or account enquiries can be launched from one screen. Data elements include the names and addresses of the sender and addressee, the nature of the shortcoming (e.g., delay, loss, damage), the type and value of the item, any special services purchased (registry), dates of mailing and claim, insured amount, result of investigation and amount paid. Individuals seeking access to this bank should specify the date and subject matter of their previous enquiry, as well as the names and addresses of the sender and addressee on the article or other identifying information. Class of Individuals: Customers who have submitted enquiries or complaints to Customer Care; or who have applied for indemnification. (Note that payment records also are stored in Accounts Payable, CPC PPU 060; that enquiries and complaints also are processed through the Corporate Correspondence system, CPC PPU 030; and that Risk Management Claims, CPC PPU 050, also includes claims records.) Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to support the management of responses to customer enquiries, as well as the resolution of complaints and claims. Consistent Uses: The records are used to analyze and resolve complaints, claims and other concerns; to respond to enquiries about mail services, regulations and rates; for audit and market research purposes; and to identify trends or patterns. Certain information may be disclosed to Transport Canada, the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency, foreign postal authorities, law enforcement agencies and others, where necessary, to resolve the claim or enquiry. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained for two years after last administrative use (which is normally the issue of a response to an enquirer or indemnification), and then destroyed. Disposal of payment records stored in Accounts Payable is governed by the retention schedule for that bank. RDA Number: 88/007 TBS Registration: 001331 Bank Number: CPC PPU 100

◆ Finance

Classes of Personal Information

Administrative Records

Certain information provided by or about individuals may also be found in administrative records, such as general correspondence and organizational planning files, minutes of committee meetings, daily information books, library loan and distribution lists, fixed asset inventory control reports, general ledger reports, audit reports and evaluations, internal electronic mail communications, video recordings and records relating to visits and conferences involving officials of other postal authorities. Several functions also provide advice on employee, customer or contractor matters concerning areas such as employee relations, labour relations, customer service, corporate security, occupational health and safety, etc. This information may exist in the form of personal notes, drafts, letters, case files and electronic mail messages, duplicates of which are often located in other personal information banks. Retention/disposal standards vary, but comply with a two-year minimum.

Corporate Security

This class includes information detailing complaints received by Corporate Security and the remedial action undertaken. The records are chronologically ordered and thus not retrievable by individual identifier. They include occurrence reports which contain the name, address and phone number of the complainant, the names of the other parties involved, the name of the investigating officer and details concerning causes and remedial action. Should the enquiry result in a suspicion of a postal-related crime or offence, or a Criminal Code offence involving the mail, a file number is added to the occurrence report which is transferred to personal information bank Postal Related Crimes/Offenses (see CPC PPU 085 or in the Systems Applications and Products (SAP). Otherwise, the occurrence reports are retained for two years, at which time they are destroyed. The purpose of such retention is to allow for statistical analyses and quality control.

Marketing and Sales

This class includes Postage Meter Services and marketing information such as marketing program offers e.g. VentureOne, market research studies, various coded mailing lists, market surveys and test reports concerning householders and other Canada Post customers (for example, large volume mailers). The records include correspondence, reports, accounts of sales calls and other meetings with customers, which may contain the names, titles and business addresses of company representatives, as well as profiles of key executives. These records are used for business purposes only, namely to identify customer needs and perceptions and to help make marketing decisions related to product and service mix, price and promotion. Canada Post also temporarily retains certain records which may contain personal information under arrangements with customers and business partners. These records assist in the preparation of account development strategies for national and divisionally managed accounts. Such records are not under the Corporation's sole control and may not be accessed without the prior consent of the customer or business partner involved. Note also that claims and enquiries related to collection and delivery services have been indexed and described as a Canada Post information bank (see Customer Care, CPC PPU 030). Certain records are held in electronic form in the following systems: Cash Receipts, Canadian Wildlife Service, National Accounts and Marketing Mailing List.

Undeliverable Mail

This class of records includes lettermail and parcels that, for any cause, cannot be delivered to the addressee or returned to the sender. This includes mail that cannot be delivered for legal reasons, and mail that is refused by the addressee or on which postage due is not paid by the sender on demand. The treatment of this mail is governed by the Undeliverable Mail Regulations. Undeliverable mail is opened to facilitate delivery to addressee or return to sender. Undeliverable airmail is not returned to the sender or forwarded to an addressee unless it bears a specific request for return or redirection to another address, or has obvious value. Undeliverable international mail is returned to the country of origin unless marked abandoned, in which case it is treated in the same manner as domestic mail. When undeliverable mail of no obvious value does not contain sufficient information to permit the mail to be returned to the sender or forwarded to the addressee, it is destroyed. Where the mail contains cash or merchandise the cash is deposited to the credit of Canada Post Corporation and the merchandise is sold or otherwise disposed of in a manner approved by the Corporation.

Additional Information

Please see the INTRODUCTION to this publication for information on access procedures under the provisions of the Privacy Act.

Records contained within information banks are limited to relevant data subjects. For example, if an individual has never bid on nor been awarded a contract with Canada Post, no record of that individual would exist in the applicable contract bank.

To facilitate access and records retrieval, specific details should be provided, such as those outlined in individual bank descriptions.

If Canada Post exempts any information, the individual refused access is provided with the precise reasons for the exemption and the applicable appeal procedures.

Records are routinely destroyed when their useful life expires; thus, access requests for older records may prove unsuccessful. Individuals are encouraged to seek informal access to their records - employees via their supervisors, and customers, contractors and others via the Canada Post officials with whom they have been dealing.

Canadian Artists and Producers Professional Relations Tribunal

Chapter 19

General Information

Background

The Canadian Artists and Producers Professional Relations Tribunal was created pursuant to the Status of the Artist Act which received Royal Assent in June 1992. The provisions of the Act creating the Tribunal were brought into force in June 1993. The first members of the Tribunal were appointed in March 1995 and the Tribunal has been operational since the substantive provisions of the Act were brought into force in May 1995.

One of the most important features of the Status of the Artist Act is that it establishes a framework for the conduct of professional relations between independent professional artists and producers within the federal jurisdiction.

The Act guarantees the right of artists to join associations that can represent their professional interests and gives them a mechanism through which to advance their socio-economic interests by guaranteeing the right to bargain collectively with producers for the purpose of reaching agreement on the minimum terms and conditions under which an artist will provide services to those producers. The Act also permits producers to form associations for the purposes of bargaining and entering into scale agreements.

Responsibilities

The Tribunal is the independent quasi-judicial agency established to administer the framework governing professional relations between self-employed artists and producers under federal jurisdiction that is prescribed by the Status of the Artist Act. The Tribunal's principal responsibilities are:

- to define the sectors of cultural activity subject to federal jurisdiction that are suitable for collective bargaining;
- to certify artists' associations to represent these sectors;
- to hear and decide complaints of unfair practices filed by artists, artists' associations and producers and to prescribe appropriate remedies.

The Tribunal reports to Parliament through the Minister of Labour. However, certain provisions of the Act specify a role for the Minister of Canadian Heritage.

Legislation

- Status of the Artist Act

Organization

The Tribunal is composed of a Chairperson, a Vice-chairperson and not less than two or more than four other full-time or part-time members. The Chairperson is the Chief Executive Officer of the Tribunal and is responsible for the management of the staff and supervision of the work of the Tribunal.

Canadian Centre for Management Development

Chapter 20

General Information

Background

On April 14, 1988, the Prime Minister announced the creation of the Canadian Centre for Management Development (CCMD), dedicated to excellence in teaching and research into public sector management, enhancing public sector management capabilities, and promoting a strong corporate culture in the federal public service. On March 27, 1991, new legislation entitled Canadian Centre for Management Development Act (Bill C-34) received Royal Assent and the Act was officially proclaimed on December 1, 1991.

The Act provides for the creation of a departmental corporation under the general direction of a Board of Governors. The composition of the Board is to be equally divided between public and non-public sector (academic and business) representatives. The Clerk of the Privy Council is the Chairman of the Board. Among other public sector representatives, the Secretary of the Treasury Board, the President of the Public Service Commission and the President of the Centre are ex officio governors.

Responsibilities

The Centre focuses on the learning and management development needs of managers in the federal public sector. Programs are open to all managers, at all levels, in all departments and in all regions. In addition, the Centre has a capacity to undertake research on public sector management. This includes the development of case histories on major initiatives that may be used to broaden the range of management programs offered within the federal public service. There is one campus in the National Capital Region (NCR), situated in the historic LaSalle Academy on Sussex Drive in downtown Ottawa. Courses are also offered at existing facilities in most regions of Canada.

The clientele of the Centre includes managers at all levels, members of the Executive Group, Deputy Ministers and Senior Governor-in-Council appointees.

Legislation

- Canadian Centre for Management Development Act

Organization

Office of the President

The President of the Centre is appointed by the Governor-in-Council and has the rank and status of a deputy minister. The President is the Chief Executive Officer of the Centre and has control over the form and content of programs, studies and publications of the Centre, the appointment of staff, the contracting for services and any other authority normally exercised by a deputy head pursuant to a statute or delegated authority. The President is assisted in these functions by CCMD's Vice-President. The President also has responsibilities related to Public Service Renewal. The positions reporting to the President are listed below.

◆ Policy, Strategy and Communications Group

The Director General, Policy, Strategy and Communications, is responsible for the corporate policy and communications interests of CCMD. The position also oversees the broader, public-service wide interests of advancing the learning agenda as a management priority.

◆ Career Development Programs Group

The Director General, Career Development Programs, is responsible for the provision of the learning component of the corporate development programs. It includes, the Accelerated Executive Development Program (AEXDP), which is offered to members of the Executive Group and other programs, such as the Management Trainee Program (MTP) and the Direction-Career Assignment Program (CAP), which are designed for feeder groups to the Executive category. The Director-General is also responsible for learning activities for Deputy Ministers, Associate Deputy Ministers, and Assistant Deputy Ministers.

◆ Technology and Learning

The Vice-President of Technology and Learning is responsible for the development of an online library of interactive, multimedia learning resources delivered to desktop computers via the Internet, available any time, anywhere. They are designed for all public servants who want to improve their leadership and management skills and advance their careers. Courses are selected to address topics of great interest to public service managers: leadership, change management, strategic planning and managing human performance.

◆ Leadership Programs

The Director General, Leadership Programs, is responsible for leadership programs that will build the capacity of Public Service executives and managers to provide the leadership required to deal with the challenges facing the Public Service of Canada and to implement its strategies. Three families of programs are provided: foundation courses which provide executives and managers at different levels to begin the leadership development learning journey; leading change courses; and strategy-specific courses connected to specific Public Service strategies.

◆ Strategic Research and Planning Group

The Director General, Strategic Research and Planning, is responsible for the conduct and publication of research projects on a wide range of public sector management issues and concerns, the administration of a fellowship program for senior public and private sector officials and academics, and the management of contributions in support of public sector research.

◆ International Cooperation

The Vice-President, International Cooperation, is responsible for creating a single window to broker requests from other countries for access to Canadian public sector expertise. This window will be supported by a partnership of Canadian federal departments and agencies and eventually other suppliers of public sector expertise, including other levels of government, universities and colleges, non-governmental organizations and private sector organizations. The goals are to support public sector management in other countries, provide global exposure and learning opportunities for Canadian public servants through CCMD International, and to market Canadian public sector know-how more effectively. Within this partnership, the Canadian Centre for Management Development will also lead a coalition of organizations working internationally in the fields of governance and public management.

◆ Learning Events

The Director General, Learning Events, is responsible for the development and management of events that create learning opportunities for public service managers across the country in areas of prime importance to the federal government. Many of those events such as the Armchair discussion series, the ADM Forum and the EX induction program are planned and managed in cooperation with CCMD's federal government partners.

◆ Public Administration Programs

The Director General of the Public Administration Programs is responsible for CCMD's products and services related to the delivery of various knowledge-based classroom courses for managers and executives. The Directorate is comprised of two programs: Advanced Management Courses and the Core Curriculum for Managers. The former offers a suite of courses in two categories – Management Development Courses and Specialty Courses – that together address the corporate needs of both executives and managers by providing them with an opportunity to broaden and deepen their understanding of the functioning of government institutions, the federal context, and how to manage within it. The Core Curriculum is specifically designed for the manager community and is comprised of courses aimed at helping managers develop a shared vision, acquire a common body of government-specific knowledge, master essential management skills and competencies critical to performance, and adopt common values and principles.

◆ Program Services

In addition, three Directors reporting directly to the President are respectively responsible for the provision of all functions related to financial management, human resources management, administration, registration and client analysis (Client Services). The Chief Librarian also reports to the President.

Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety

Chapter 21

General Information

Background

The Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety (CCOHS) is a corporation under Schedule II of the Financial Administration Act, created by Parliament in April, 1978 to act as a national institute to promote the rights of Canadians to a healthy and safe working environment. It is governed by a Council of Governors representing labour, employers and federal, provincial and territorial governments.

Responsibilities

CCOHS promotes a healthier and safer workplace by providing a free occupational health and safety inquiries service to Canadians in both official languages while providing a cost recovery print and electronic information delivery service. The cost recovery service includes publications, training, online electronic services in various formats (CD-ROM, Web, Intranet, magnetic tape).

Specialized services are also offered containing the full text of occupational health and safety and environmental legislation, and regulatory and advisory information on chemicals in the workplace and the environment.

Legislation

- Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety Act
- Financial Administration Act, Schedule II

Organization

CCOHS is a corporation under Schedule II of the Financial Administration Act. Its policies are established by the Council of Governors, which consists of a chairman and 12 representatives from labour, employers' organizations, and the federal, provincial and territorial governments. It meets three times a year. The Chairman is appointed by federal Order-in-Council. The President and Chief Executive Officer supervises and directs the work and staff of the Centre.

There are five departments through which the program is delivered.

Corporate Management

Provides the direction and management of operations at CCOHS.

Inquiries Service

Responds directly to occupational health and safety inquiries from the public.

Health and Safety Products and Services

Provides occupational health and safety products and services to businesses, labour organizations, governments media, and health and safety professionals.

Marketing, Sales & Communications

Provides the promotion, communication, client service and technical support for the products available from CCOHS.

Computer Systems and Services

Provides the technical structure and support services for the production and promotion of occupational health and safety products.

Program Records

Databases accessible through CCOHS' electronic services:

- CHEMINDEX—This is a convenient guide to information resources on over 200,000 chemicals, including CAS registry numbers, chemical names and synonyms that indicate which CCOHS databases contain information on that substance.
- Material Safety Data Sheet (MSDS) and its French counterpart FTSS contain more than 250,000 material safety data sheets as supplied by more than 600 contributors. Users can search for MSDSs by product name, manufacturer or supplier; MSDSs are the most recent available from suppliers. Monthly updates are provided on the internet or as an updated DVD or CD-ROM every three months. More than 60,000 MSDSs are added and removed each quarter to ensure clients are provided with the very latest information available.

- CHEMINFO is a database collection of authoritative, evaluative chemical profiles. Each of the over 1,300 profiles provide a detailed evaluation of health, fire and reactivity hazards, and recommendations on topics such as storage, handling, personal protective equipment, accidental release, first aid and hazard classifications including WHMIS and OSHA. CHEMINFO helps our Canadian and international clients deliver informed and accurate responses to specific chemical questions, recommend safe handling and storage procedures, develop respiratory protection and other PPE programs, conduct workplace risk assessments, assist in developing emergency preparedness plans and in responding to hazardous materials incidents, among other activities.
- Chemical Evaluation Search and Retrieval System (CESARS) is a database that contains more than 800 chemical profiles with comprehensive environmental and health information. CESARS provides detailed descriptions of chemical toxicity to humans, mammals, aquatic and plant life, as well as data on physical-chemical properties, and environmental fate and persistence. Each of the 23 sections contains references and most have topic summaries of key information.
- Domestic/Non-Domestic Substances List (DSL/NDSL) is a Canadian regulatory inventory including nearly 70,000 world-wide commercial chemical substances. Useful for chemical manufacturers, suppliers and importers needing to identify whether a chemical substance is considered existing or new to Canada, in accordance with Canadian Environmental Protection Act (CEPA) guidelines.
- New Jersey Hazardous Substance Fact Sheets (NJHSFS) provides workers, employers, emergency responders, and others with essential information on the hazards and safe use of more than 1,000 industrial chemicals and environmental contaminants. Easy-to-understand fact sheets contain basic summarized information on the health and environmental hazards, safe storage, handling, control measures, first aid, and emergency procedures for common chemicals. Useful glossary of terms, plus basic questions and answers are included in each fact sheet.
- Chemical Hazards Response Information System (CHRIS) This database provides emergency response and hazard information on 1,300 chemicals identified by the US Coast Guard. CHRIS includes practical response recommendations and extensive lists of hazard ratings and classifications for hazardous materials transport, water shipment, water pollution and more.
- The Transport of Dangerous Goods (Transport TDG) database contains approximately 2,500 records on regulatory and other information related to the transportation of dangerous goods (excluding explosives) in Canada. The database contains records for dangerous goods provide proper shipping names and identification numbers, hazard classifications, regulated limits, as well as special provisions for transport. In addition, the North American Emergency Response Guidelines for materials include information on potential health, fire or explosion hazards, public safety and first-aid recommendations, plus immediate actions for fire, spill or leak situations.
- The Transport of Hazardous Materials (TRANSPORT 49CFR) database contains regulatory and other information related to the transportation of hazardous materials in the United States of America. This database includes key transport information for approximately 4,000 regulated materials, including hazard classes, labels and special provisions for transport. In addition, the North American Emergency Response Guidelines for each hazardous material is provided, including potential health, fire or explosion hazards, public safety and first-aid recommendations, plus immediate actions for fire, spill or leak situations.
- CANADIANA is a bibliographic database, which includes a unique collection of Canadian occupational health and safety information, with references to Canadian research reports and studies, plus journal articles, conference proceedings and unpublished materials. CANADIANA provides users with an essential source of Canadian-related information, including French-language literature.
- CISILO, a bibliographic database with references to international occupational health and safety literature, is produced by International Occupational Safety and Health Information Centre/Centre international d'informations de sécurité et d'hygiène du travail (CIS) in Geneva. CIS scans more than 400 journals annually on basic safety and health topics.
- INRS-bibliographie is a French bibliographic database covering the international literature available on the prevention of occupational hazards. Emphasis is placed on french-language literature.
- HSELINE is a database containing more than 200,000 citations with abstracts to worldwide literature on occupational safety and health. It covers all U.K. health and safety commission and health and safety executive publications as well as a wide range of periodicals, books, conference proceedings, reports, and legislation. It is predominantly oriented towards safety and industrial hazards.
- OSHLINE™ with NIOSHTIC®—With over 10,000 records, the OSHLINE™ bibliographic database provides authoritative, up-to-date coverage and concise summaries of published, peer-reviewed OSH-related literature from around the world. Approximately 1,000 new references are added to OSHLINE every three months. In addition, NIOSHTIC provides bibliographic references with summaries of

- over 200,000 other top international, peer-reviewed health and safety publications, including journal articles, research reports, books, studies and more, from the U.S. National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH).
- RTECS® —The NIOSH Registry of Toxic Effects of Chemical Substances (RTECS) database provides critical toxicological information with citations from more than 2,500 international journals, textbooks, technical reports, scientific proceedings and compendia. RTECS is an authoritative source for chemical hazard information, with more than 150,000 substances with approximately 400,000 chemical names and synonyms plus over 120,000 unique CAS numbers.
 - NIOSH Pocket Guide to Chemical Hazards (NPG) 5th Greenbook Edition is an internationally recognized reference database for evaluating workplace chemical hazards. The NPG database offers concise, industrial hygiene data for nearly 700 chemicals, including symptoms of exposure, exposure limits, respirator selections and protective measures.
 - Canadian EnviroOSH Legislation is a series of documents that provide the complete text of all Canadian health, safety and environmental legislation, as well as critical guidelines and codes of practice in one complete collection. Canadian enviroOSH Legislation gives Canadians immediate access to their rights and responsibilities in health, safety and the environment, providing one-stop access to quality-assured information for all Canadian jurisdictions. The "Plus Standards" series of databases also contain the complete text of all documents, enabling users to determine the context of the information and how it applies to their situation. From legislation documents, users can click and go directly to the complete text of those referenced standards from the Canadian Standards Association (CSA) and the Canadian General Standards Board (CGSB).
 - Unjust Dismissal — Updated semi-annually, the Human Resources Development Canada (HRDC) – Labour Program CD-ROM provides details of cases under the Canada Labour Code (CLC). It includes information regarding the employer/employee, type of industry/occupation, and summaries of decisions made at various stages of the proceedings.
 - TOXLINE® on CCINFOdisc is a collection of toxicological information from the U.S. National Library of Medicine (NLM), containing over 1,000,000 references to published material and research in progress in the areas of environmental pollution, chemical testing, agents causing birth defects, food and water contamination, carcinogenic effects and occupational hazards and more. It includes references from 15 secondary sources for 1981 to present.
 - HSDB®—A key reliable resource on hazardous chemicals, this database provides comprehensive, peer-reviewed data profiles (150 fields) on more than 4,500 potentially toxic chemicals, created and updated by the U.S. National Library of Medicine. Also, this database includes a wide range of standards, guidelines and regulatory data for use by environmental workplace and transport personnel. HSDB is an excellent source of hard-to-find data for chemicals on topics including toxic effects, environmental fate, and accident reports. Program Record Number: OHS ISS 055
 - ILO Encyclopedia of Occupational Health & Safety – CCOHS offers an Web-based version of the International Labour Organisation's (ILO) comprehensive encyclopedia of occupational health and safety, giving easier access to the most authoritative, comprehensive and easy-to-understand coverage of the core and allied fields encompassing occupational health and safety. This database contains 1,000 articles written by internationally recognized experts, including critical information on more than 2,000 chemicals plus a comprehensive international directory of authors and contributors.
 - IPCS INCHEM – the IPCS INCHEM collection of databases offers quick and easy access to thousands of searchable documents related to the sound management of chemicals. It is an invaluable resource for all safety professionals and those concerned with the safe use of chemicals. IPCS INCHEM databases bring together the most current peer-reviewed publications and database records from the world's top international bodies. It is now freely accessible via the Internet or for a $250 annual investment for single or multi-user CD-ROM subscriptions.
 - IPCS INTOX – This Databank and Poison Centre Software are essential tools for poison centres and related units concerned with preventing, recording, evaluating, diagnosing, treating and reporting on chemical emergencies. Both these database-driven tools allow professionals to: respond rapidly to poisonings by their being able to rapidly retrieve and present essential information about the toxic agents and their effects; record and manage data systematically; plus, respond quickly to emergency inquiries regarding poisons and access information from more than 100 experts and those responding to emergencies concerning toxic exposures. The IPCS INTOX Programme provides a forum for collaboration between experts and those responding to emergencies concerning toxic exposures. Being part of this expanding global network is an important benefit for participants, as they are able to share information via the INTOX global network. The programme has been coordinated by the IPCS in collaboration with the Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety.

Inquiries

Description: A toll-free person-to-person service that answers questions on specific occupational health and safety matters. The answers to the most commonly asked occupational health and safety questions (3,000) are also available on the CCOHS Website in the area called OSH Answers. Topics: Chemical hazards, physical hazards, occupational diseases, biological hazards, psycho social issues, occupational safety, ergonomics, occupational health and safety administration. Program Record Number: OHS IRS 041

Canadian Commercial Corporation

Chapter 22

General Information

Background

A federal Crown Corporation established in 1946 by an Act of Parliament, CCC is the official export sales agency of the Government of Canada. It has a broad legislated mandate: "to assist in the development of trade between Canada and other nations".

Responsibilities

CCC is an integral part of the Government of Canada's trade team offering services which complement the export financing and insurance activities of Export Development Corporation as well as the market intelligence and promotional activities of the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade (DFAIT) and other federal departments and agencies.

The Canadian Commercial Corporation (CCC) is an export sales and contracting agency, wholly owned by the Government of Canada. CCC works with Canadian exporters and their international buyers to facilitate export sales through its unique government-backed guarantee of contract performance.

Specializing in sales to foreign governments, CCC can act as a prime contractor and use its governmental status to sign export sales on behalf of Canadian exporters, guaranteeing its full and satisfactory completion.

Legislation

- Canadian Commercial Corporation Act

Organization

The board of directors is comprised of Canadian business executives, public service officials and the President of the Corporation. The President and Chief Executive officer directs the business of the Corporation and exercises further power and duties as assigned by the Board. On March 21, 2002, An Act to amend the Canadian Commercial Corporation Act separating the positions of President and Chair of the Board was assented. As of August 2002, the new Chairperson has yet to be appointed.

♦ Business Operations

These units handle U.S. and International business, market opportunities development, and regional operations including business development, preparation of bids and proposals, contract negotiations and contracting administration. These units are also responsible for the Progress Payment Program that gives access to pre-shipment financing to some small and medium sized enterprises.

♦ Corporate Strategy

This unit is responsible for increasing awareness and usage of CCC services among exporters, trade intermediaries, foreign buyers. It focuses on strategic planning, sectoral marketing, communications, media, government relations, events and trade shows. This unit is also responsible for planning and implementing the IM/IT infrastructure for the Corporation.

♦ Human Resources & Administration

The unit oversees the human resources, administration, health and safety, official languages, rewards and recognition, multiculturalism, translation and security requirements of the Corporation.

♦ Risk and Financial Services

This unit is responsible for ensuring sound financial and risk management practices for all policies and programs of the Corporation.

Canadian Cultural Property Export Review Board

Chapter 23

General Information

Background

The Cultural Property Export Review Board was established through the Cultural Property Export and Import Act on September 6, 1977. The duties of the Review Board as set out in section 20 of the Act are: pursuant to section 29, to review applications for export permits; pursuant to section 30, to make determinations respecting fair cash offers to purchase; and pursuant to section 32 and section 33.1, to make determinations and redeterminations for the purpose of subparagraph 39(1)(a) (i.1) or 110(1)(b.1) of the Income Tax Act.

Administrative services to the Review Board are provided through the Department of Canadian Heritage by the Movable Cultural Property Secretariat. All Review Board files are housed with the Secretariat. The personal information they contain pertains to members of the Review Board, applications for grants, loans, cultural property export permits, appeals against the refusal of cultural property export permits and applications for the certification of cultural property submitted on behalf of donors or vendors. Application forms are filed by number but can be accessed through a manual cross-index or automated system containing the name of the appellant (in the case of an appeal) or the donor/vendor (in the case of certification). Review Board member files are maintained in alphabetical order.

Responsibilities

The Review Board is responsible for preserving in Canada significant examples of Canadian heritage in movable cultural property, reviewing applications for export permits, making determinations on fair cash offers to purchase and making determinations for the purposes of the Income Tax Act. It also provides advice to the Minister of Canadian Heritage on matters affecting the preservation in Canada of the heritage in movable cultural property. In particular, it recommends to the Minister, pursuant to section 35 of the Act, grants and loans to designated institutions and public authorities in Canada for the purchase of objects for which permits have been refused under the Act, or for the purchase of cultural property outside Canada that is related to the national heritage. The grants and loans are made out of monies appropriated annually by Parliament.

In reviewing an application for an export permit the Board must determine whether the object in question: is included in the Canadian Cultural Property Export Control List; is of outstanding significance by reason of its close association with Canadian history or national life, its aesthetic qualities or its value in the study of the arts or sciences; is of such a degree of national importance that its loss would significantly diminish the national heritage.

Where the Review Board determines that the cultural property subject of an application meets the criteria of outstanding significance and national importance, and the cultural property qualifies for certification for income tax purposes, the Review Board issues a Cultural Property Income Tax Certificate to the donor/vendor, once legal disposition has been made to the institution making such an application. It should be noted that objects proposed for certification need not be included in the Canadian Cultural Property Export Control List. Thus objects less than 50 years old or made by a living person may qualify. It should also be noted that a certified cultural property subject of a Cultural Property Income Tax Certificate is exempt from tax on taxable capital gains when disposed of (by gift or sale) to an institution or public authority in Canada designated for the purpose and, in the case of a donation, also qualifies for the 100 percent tax credit provision under the Income Tax Act.

Appeals

Description: An applicant for a cultural property export permit, whose permit is refused by an expert examiner, may appeal this decision to the Canadian Cultural Property Export Review Board. The process of appeal, including the disposition of the relevant information, is set out in section 29 of the Cultural Property Export and Import Act. The information in this bank includes the original permit application, the advice of the expert examiner and any other experts consulted, and administrative correspondence related to the conduct of the appeal. In each case, the information contained in an appeal file is shared with all interested parties. Class of Individuals: Individuals seeking to export cultural property which is subject to control. Purpose: To determine if an export permit should be granted.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Files are kept for ten years. RDA Number: 79/002 Related to PR#: CPE CPI 005 TBS Registration: 000116 Bank Number: CPE PPU 005

Certification

Description: The purpose of this bank is to enable the Review Board to make determinations concerning the certification of cultural property for income tax purposes, and to issue cultural property income tax certificates. The application files contain information concerning the fair market value of objects being transferred to designated institutions by individual donors or vendors. Material held in the bank includes the application, appraisals, declaration of authenticity, information on provenance, significance of the object, deeds of gift or purchase agreements and, in the case of a sale, the purchase price. Copies of any advice from experts consulted and a copy of the tax certificate are also included. Class of Individuals: Individuals who donate or sell cultural property to designated Canadian cultural institutions. Purpose: Certification of cultural property for income tax purposes and the issuance of cultural property income tax certificates. Retention and Disposal Standards: Files are retained for ten years and are then transferred to the National Archives of Canada. RDA Number: 79/002 Related to PR#: CPE CPI 005 TBS Registration: 000117 Bank Number: CPE PPU 010

Certification - Appeals Before the Tax Court

Description: In accordance with section 33.1 of the Cultural Property Export and Import Act, redeterminations of fair market value made by the Canadian Cultural Property Export Review Board may be appealed to the Tax Court of Canada. Any person who has irrevocably disposed of an object, the fair market value of which has been redetermined under subsection 32(5), to a designated institution or public authority may, within ninety days after the day on which a Cultural Property Income Tax Certificate is issued in relation to that object, appeal the redetermination to the Tax Court of Canada. Material held in the bank includes the Notice to Appeal filed with the Tax Court, correspondence with legal counsel, reports prepared by expert witnesses, court documents, copies of the original tax certificate, correspondence, and application for certification of cultural property for income tax purposes. Note: Some of these records may be protected by solicitor client privilege. Classes of Individuals: Individuals who donate or sell cultural property to designated institutions. Purpose: The Tax Court of Canada may confirm or vary the fair market value and, for the purposes of the Income Tax Act, the value fixed by the Court is deemed to be the fair market value of the object determined by the Review Board in respect of its disposition. Retention and Disposal Standards: Files are retained for ten years and are then transferred to the National Archives of Canada. RDA Number: 94/010 TBS Registration: 004255 Bank Number: CPE PPU 030

Export Permits

Description: In accordance with section 4 of the Cultural Property Export and Import Act, an export permit must be obtained for cultural property which is more than 50 years old and made by a person who is no longer living. The permit application procedures are set out in the Act and the regulations. This bank contains original permit applications and supporting documentation, including correspondence and photographs. Class of Individuals: Applicants for export permits and general export permits. Purpose: The information was compiled in accordance with the regulations established under the Cultural Property Export and Import Act for export controls affecting cultural property. Retention and Disposal Standards: Files are retained for ten years and are then transferred to the National Archives of Canada. Related to PR#: CPE CPI 005 TBS Registration: 002588 Bank Number: CPE PPU 015

Permit Officers, Expert Examiners and Applications for Grants and Loans

Description: This bank contains information about individuals designated as permit issuing officers and expert examiners for the purposes of export controls affecting cultural property. Permit issuing officers are employees of Revenue Canada who issue the permits, while expert examiners are employees of curatorial institutions who make determinations about the objects being exported. Grants for the purchase of cultural property are available for objects for which export permits have been refused, or which are located outside of Canada and are related to the Canadian national heritage. Class of Individuals: Employees of Revenue Canada; museum curators; dealers and collectors of cultural property. Purpose: The information has been compiled to maintain listings of permit issuing officers and expert examiners responsible for ensuring the efficient operations of the export control system. Information about individuals selling cultural property is required to establish their eligibility for a grant. Retention and Disposal Standards: Files are retained for ten years and then transferred to the National Archives of Canada. Related to PR#: CPE CPI 005 TBS Registration: 002587 Bank Number: CPE PPU 020

Review Board Members

Description: Section 18 of the Cultural Property Export and Import Act establishes the Canadian Cultural Property Export Review Board and defines the composition of its membership. Information in this bank includes the curricula vitae of members, Orders-in-Council appointing them to the Board, correspondence, travel expense claims, press releases and articles by and about members. Class of Individuals: Members of the public; curators; dealers and collectors.

Purpose: The information was compiled to determine the professional qualifications of individuals and their eligibility for membership on the Board. Some information is also used in the completion of travel documentation and for remuneration of members.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Files are retained for ten years and are then transferred to the National Archives of Canada. Related to PR#: CPE CPI 005 TBS Registration: 002589 Bank Number: CPE PPU 025

Canadian Dairy Commission

Chapter 24

General Information

Background

The Canadian Dairy Commission, a Crown Corporation established by the Canadian Dairy Commission Act in October 1966, is accountable to Parliament through the Minister of Agriculture and Agri-Food. A chairman and chief executive officer, a vice-chairman and a commissioner are appointed by Governor in Council to head the corporation. Funded by the federal government, producers and the marketplace, the Commission strives to balance and serve the interests of all dairy stakeholders – producers, processors, further processors, exporters, consumers and governments.

Responsibilities

The legislated objectives of the Commission are to provide efficient producers of milk and cream with the opportunity of obtaining a fair return for their labour and investment, and to provide consumers with a continuous and adequate supply of dairy products of high quality.

The Commission has the authority to purchase, store, process or sell dairy products; to make payments to milk and cream producers for the purpose of stabilizing the price of industrial milk and cream (program terminated as of January 31, 2002); to investigate matters relating to the production, processing or marketing of any dairy product; and to help promote the use of dairy products.

In meeting its legislated objectives, the Commission carries out a wide range of activities. It calculates support prices at which it will purchase butter and skim milk powder. These prices are used as a reference at the provincial level in pricing milk components sold to processors. It also works with the private sector to balance the seasonal demand and supply of industrial milk products for the domestic market through the operation of storage programs and facilitates the export of dairy products to world markets within Canada's World Trade Organization (WTO) commitments. Additionally, the Commission acts as first receiver of butter imports to fulfill Canada's international trade obligations and administers a permit system which provides further processors and exporters with access to competitively-priced milk components for use in the manufacturing of dairy products and products containing dairy ingredients.

The supply of industrial milk is managed nationally through the establishment of Market Sharing Quotas (MSQ) as determined by provisions of the National Milk Marketing Plan. The Commission, in chairing the Canadian Milk Supply Management Committee (CMSMC), calculates and recommends the level of national MSQ and provincial market shares that are determined by the CMSMC. On behalf of Canadian dairy producers, the Commission administers and acts as a Secretariat to the revenue pooling and market sharing systems.

Legislation

- Canadian Dairy Commission Act

Organization

CDC policy analysts, agricultural economists, financial and marketing specialists, communications specialists, and support staff carry out work which ranges from helping industry develop broad dairy policies and facilitating the calculation of the national quota for industrial milk, to assessing the changing demand for dairy products, and facilitating the export of dairy products on the world market up to Canada's WTO commitments.

Canadian Environmental Assessment Agency

Chapter 25

General Information

Background

The Canadian Environmental Assessment Agency (the Agency) was created on December 21, 1994 to administer the federal environmental assessment process under the Canadian Environmental Assessment Act. The Agency reports directly to the Minister of the Environment. The Agency is a federal department dedicated to administering and promoting environmental assessment policies and practices of the federal government. Its mission is to provide Canadians with high-quality federal environmental assessments that contribute to informed decision making in support of sustainable development.

Responsibilities

The Agency's main responsibilities are: to administer the federal environmental assessment process; to provide advice to the Minister of the Environment on the Minister's responsibilities under the Act; to provide opportunities for public participation in the federal environmental assessment process and to promote sound environmental assessment practices.

Legislation

The Canadian Environmental Assessment Act is complemented by the following regulations:

- the Law List;
- the Comprehensive Study List;
- the Inclusion List;
- the Exclusion List;
- the Federal Authorities Regulations;
- the Projects Outside Canada Environmental Assessment Regulations;
- the Regulations Respecting Co-ordination by Federal Authorities of Environmental Assessment Procedures and Requirements Regulations; and
- the Canada Port Authority Environment Assessment Regulations.

Organization

The Agency is structured in three main sectors: Program Delivery, Policy Development and Corporate Services. The Agency's Legal Services reports directly to the President, who heads the Agency.

Legal Services

Legal Services provides professional legal services to the Agency and other federal departments regarding the design and implementation of the Act and the environmental assessment regulatory framework.

Program Delivery Sector

Project Assessment

Project Assessment develops and manages effective and independent public reviews and mediations to fulfil the Agency's mission and manages the Participant Funding Program.

It also undertakes and manages the Agency's responsibilities for comprehensive studies and class screenings; provides guidance to responsible authorities and proponents; and advocates timely, efficient, high-quality environmental assessments of projects.

Regional Liaison and Guidance

Regional Liaison and Guidance provides the Agency's clients across the country with information, advice and services to enhance the quality of environmental assessment to promote compliance with the Act and its regulations. It offers advice and training on the Act and good environmental assessment practices.

The six regional offices across Canada provide expert advice, training and information on environmental assessment activities and practices to other federal departments and agencies, the provinces and territories, First Nations, industry, universities, environmental groups and other stakeholders.

Regional Liaison and Guidance also provides advice and support services to the President of the Agency as the federal Administrator of the James Bay and Northern Quebec Agreement (JBNQA). It also provides guidance to partners and stakeholders on environmental assessments under the JBNQA.

Policy Development Sector

Legislative and Regulatory Affairs

Legislative and Regulatory Affairs provides a legislative and regulatory framework for integrating environmental assessment into federal decision making and monitors and promotes compliance within that framework.

It provides support to the Minister's Regulatory Advisory Committee and the federal government Senior Management Committee on Environmental Assessment.

Policy Analysis

Policy Analysis facilitates the consistent application of federal environmental assessment requirements through interdepartmental co-ordination and harmonization with environmental assessment processes of provinces and other jurisdictions. It provides guidance to departments in their fulfilment of the 1999 Cabinet Directive on the Environmental Assessment of Policy, Plan and Program Proposals.

It provides advice on Aboriginal environmental assessment matters to the Agency and other clients in order to shape the federal approach to integrating environmental assessment requirements into comprehensive land-claim agreements, self-government agreements and federal devolution initiatives.

It also represents Canada in international negotiations related to environmental assessment.

Corporate Services Sector

Communications

Communications provides communications advice, planning, production and related services in support of the Agency's strategic objectives. It promotes environmental assessment to the public. Communications manages the Agency's web site and a communications program which facilitates informed public participation in the federal environmental assessment process. The Agency's web site can be accessed at www.ceaa-acee.gc.ca. Communications also manages the parliamentary relations, ministerial services and Access to Information Act and Privacy Act activities.

Ministerial Correspondence

The Ministerial Correspondence Unit ensures the timely processing of ministerial correspondence relating to environmental assessment.

Finance and Administration

Finance and Administration provides financial and administrative advice to the Agency.

Human Resources

Human Resources provides professional advice and human resources services to all of the Agency's employees.

Classes of Personal Information

General Correspondence

Correspondence received from external organizations and individuals in the format of requests for information, complaints, comments and suggestions related to a broad range of issues pertaining to the Agency.

The personal information contained in this class normally includes the name and address of the enquirer. However, this information is fragmented throughout the subject files and is normally retrievable only if the name, subject and the date of correspondence is provided.

Information pertaining to environmental assessments may be disclosed to foreign, provincial or municipal governments as well as other interested parties unless the individual expressly requests confidentiality.

The retention periods of these classes of personal information depend on the record disposal schedules of the general subject files in which they are stored.

Mailing Lists

This class contains correspondence and mailing lists, which may contain personal information in the form of an individual's name, mailing address at home or business.

The purpose of this class is to maintain standard lists for the mailing of publications, reports, press releases and other documentation on the Agency's activities and programs.

Records on the automated system are updated as required to take changes into account.

Ministerial Correspondence

This class of information contains correspondence addressed to the Minister and received by the Agency's correspondence unit from external organisations and individuals in the form of requests for information, complaints, opinions and other similar submissions related to a broad range of issues pertaining to the Agency's activities, wherein some unsolicited personal information has been provided by the correspondents. This type of information would be retrievable only if specifics of name, date of communication and subject are provided.

Information pertaining to environmental assessments may be disclosed to foreign, provincial or municipal governments as well as other interested parties unless the individual expressly requests confidentiality.

The retention period for these classes of information depends on the record schedules of the subject files in which the information is stored.

Canadian Food Inspection Agency

Chapter 26

General Information

Background

The Canadian Food Inspection Agency (CFIA) was created in 1997 to consolidate the delivery of all federally mandated food inspection, plant protection and animal health programs - delivery that was previously provided by four federal government departments: Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada, Fisheries and Oceans Canada, Health Canada and Industry Canada.

Responsibilities

The Canadian Food Inspection Agency, reporting to the Minister of Agriculture and Agri-Food, delivers all federal inspection services related to

- food;
- animal health; and
- plant protection.

This includes responsibility for the administration and enforcement of 13 Acts and 32 sets of regulations.

Health Canada, reporting to the Minister of Health, establishes policies and standards relating to the safety and nutritional quality of food sold in Canada. In addition, Health Canada assesses the effectiveness of CFIA's activities related to food safety.

Legislation

- Agriculture and Agri-Food Administrative Monetary Penalties Act
- Canada Agricultural Products Act
- Canadian Food Inspection Agency Act
- Consumer Packaging and Labelling Act (as it relates to food)
- Feeds Act
- Fertilizers Act
- Fish Inspection Act
- Food and Drugs Act, Sections 2 and 27 (as it relates to food)
- Health of Animals Act
- Meat Inspection Act
- Plant Breeders' Rights Act
- Plant Protection Act
- Seeds Act

Organization

Canadian Food Inspection Agency

The Agency Executive consists of the President, an Executive Vice-President, a Vice-President Operations, a Vice-President Programs, a Vice-President Public & Regulatory Affairs, a Vice-President Human Resources, an Associate Vice-President Science Evaluation, a Comptroller, an Executive Director International Affairs, an Executive Director Corporate Audit & Review, a Director Legal Services, a Senior Advisor to the President and a Special Advisor to the President.

Program Records

Analytical Methodology Development

Description: Information on analytical methodologies to support and enhance the quality of scientific analysis provided by the division. Topics: Methodology research proposals; assessment studies; methods validation; establishment and dissemination of methodology; program review; analytical literature surveys; research reports; publications; investigational sampling requests, and results. Program Record Number: CFIA AMD 070

Biological Programs

Description: Information on the identification of pests and on analysis of pest risk. Topics: Lists of intercepted pests; insects and plant diseases; surveys; pest identification; and analysis of pest risk. Program Record Number: CFIA BIO 170

Disease Control

Description: Information on the prevention, control and eradication of communicable and other diseases, and on compensation for related losses. Topics: Animal diseases — brucellosis, tuberculosis, rabies and other indigenous diseases; foreign animal diseases; reportable diseases of animals and poultry; artificial insemination; embryo transfer; veterinary biologics; the following database: Wildlife Serum Bank. Storage Medium: Machine-readable records are available on brucellosis survey arranged by herd at headquarters; also on herd serum banking and rabies control. Program Record Number: CFIA CON 025

Export and Domestic Programs (Plants)

Description: Information on the planning and maintenance of a national program designed to prevent the spread of pests within Canada, survey for and control quarantine pests occurring in Canada and to ensure the acceptance of Canadian agricultural and forestry products in export markets and for movement within Canada by being free of plant pests and meeting the health standards of the receiving country or region.

Topics: Export agriculture and forestry products to foreign and domestic markets; pest distribution (publications); ship, mill and elevator sanitation inspection; plant quarantine importation requirements of foreign and domestic market; decontamination and fumigation; pesticide application, phytosanitary export and domestic movement certification; quarantines; the following database: Plant Pest Database. Program Record Number: CFIA EDP 156

Export and Import

Description: Information on the certification of Canadian meat and meat products and egg and egg products for export to comply with the requirements of foreign countries. Compliance of imported meat, meat products and egg and egg products and all of the byproducts with Canadian standards. Topics: Import certification; Export certification; foreign inspection system and foreign country residue monitoring programs and establishment reviews; review of registered Canadian and foreign facilities to comply with export and import requirements; statistics; complaints; enforcement and compliance; policy development.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Information is presently maintained in archives for a period of 15 years. Storage Medium: List of all approved foreign establishment; products for import and export, and statistics on the import and export of meat are computer available. Program Record Number: CFIA EXP 090

Export Testing and Certification

Description: Information on the acceptability of Canadian animals and products for export by ensuring their being free of disease or disease-causing agents and by meeting the standards of importing countries.

Topics: Species of animals; disease and disease-causing agents; import requirements of foreign countries; export testing programs and certification; facilitating export; export of livestock, non-traditional exotic species, birds; poultry; export of plants.

Program Record Number: CFIA ETC 020

Feed Evaluation, Registration and Compliance

Description: Information on pre-sale evaluation of feed, registration of feed, and inspection of feed production and products to ensure compliance with regulatory requirements. Topics: Evaluation of feed; approval of single ingredients; correspondence; labelling; certificates of registration; registration continuance certificates; product inspection; Feedmill inspection; toxicity, residues and diseases; violations; hay and straw grading; the following database:

Livestock Feeds Contaminants Database. Storage Medium: Feed database of registered products and listing of analytical results of feed samples are machine-readable; microfilm for expired certificates of registration and company correspondence. Program Record Number: CFIA FRC 145

Fertilizer Evaluation, Registration and Compliance

Description: Information on pre-sale evaluation and registration of fertilizer and on inspection of fertilizer products to ensure compliance with regulatory requirements. Topics: Evaluating fertilizer; approval of single ingredients; correspondence; labelling; certificates of registration; product inspection; toxicity residues and diseases; violations; the following databases: Compendium of Fertilizer-Use Pesticides, Heavy Metal Concentrations in Fertilizers and Fertilizer Materials, Levels of Pesticide Contaminants in Fertilizers.

Storage Medium: Listing of analytical results of fertilizer samples, Canadian fertilizer plant statistics and fertilizer database of registered products are machine-readable.

Program Record Number: CFIA FEV 150

Fish Inspection

Description: Inspection of fish products in export including inter-provincial and import for safety and quality; inspection of industry Quality Management Program. Topics: Product inspection and certification for export; monitoring of industry processing and grading practices; inspection of fish harvesting, handling, transportation, storage and processing facilities, development and testing of grade standards; development and enforcement of regulations. Access: Records are arranged numerically by subject. Storage Medium: Listing of analytical results of fertilizer samples, Canadian fertilizer plant statistics and fertilizer database of registered products are machine-readable. Program Record Number: CFIA INS 483

Grading, Standards and Labelling (Dairy, Fruit and Vegetables)

Description: Information on grading programs, quality standards and on the design and control of labelling requirements. Topics: Standards — dairy, fresh fruit and vegetables, processed fruit and vegetables, honey and maple products; grading of dairy products; monitoring the grading of fruit and vegetable products; label design and approval; packaging; weight and volumes; studies and surveys; policy development; consultation with governmental and non-governmental organizations. Program Record Number: CFIA DFV 045

Humane Treatment of Animals

Description: Information on the prevention of stress-related diseases in animals and humane treatment of animals being transported within Canada or imported to or exported from Canada. Topics:

Enquiries; reports; correspondence; transportation systems; ports of entry; recommended codes of practice for farm animals. Program Record Number: CFIA HTA 010

Import and Export (Seed Potatoes)

Description: Information on the control of imports, export certification, and facilitation of seed potato trade. Topics: Phytosanitary agreements; facilitation of trade; import standards; export certification; complaint investigation (foreign); evaluation of foreign certification programs. Program Record Number: CFIA IMP 125

Import Program (Plants)

Description: Information on the planning and maintenance of a national program to prevent the introduction and establishment in Canada of foreign plant pests detrimental to the Canadian agricultural and forestry industries. Topics: Import permits; port inspection statistics, commercial; port inspection statistics, non-commercial; quarantine and decontamination; importation of agricultural and forest products. Storage Medium: Airport inspection file is machine-readable. Program Record Number: CFIA IPP 155

Inspection, Testing and Certification

Description: Information on the inspection and testing of seed potatoes, and certification for domestic markets. Topics: Seed multiplication; seed potato improvement; inspection; enforcement; training programs; storage and transportation; testing (seed lots, field and post-harvest); inventory of varieties; assessment of varieties; complaint investigation (domestic); federal-provincial consultations. Program Record Number: CFIA ITC 115

Pathology Services

Description: Diagnostic service and research activities related to animal diseases, consultation and licensing for use of biologics, veterinary and pest control products. Topics: Diseases (agents of disease, transmission to humans, economic loss due to disease); diagnostic activities; diagnostic reagents; registration consulting service; licensing and use of biologics, veterinary and pest control products. Program Record Number: CFIA PAT 005

Plant Registration and Licencing

Description: Information on the registration of storages, slaughtering and processing plants and meat rendering plants. Licensing of grading stations for meat and egg products. Topics: Policy development, construction specifications, equipment, inspection records. Program Record Number: CFIA PRL 080

Red Meat Grading Program

Description: Information on a national and regional program audits on red meat grading program delivery.

Topics: Grading, audits and monitoring of grading accuracy and delivery of red meat; complaints, enforcement; policy development. Program Record Number: CFIA RMG 035

Registration and Product Standards (Meat and Poultry Products)

Description: Information on standards for the processing, grading and marking of poultry and poultry products, red meat, egg and egg products. Topics: Sanitation and building standards; grading standards; poultry packaging and labelling; import and export requirements; policy development; consultation with industry; Program Record Number: CFIA RPS 030

Registration, Licensing and Arbitration

Description: Information on the registration of fresh and processed fruit and vegetable, honey and maple products processing plants, dairy plants, and fresh produce warehouses; the licensing of dealers and brokers; and the arbitration of disputes. Topics: Registration of establishments — dairies; fresh and processed fruit and vegetable, honey and maple products processing plants; fresh produce warehouses; licensing of dealers and brokers; suspension or cancellation of registration; list of registered processors; arbitration boards; complaints; policy development. Program Record Number: CFIA RLA 050

Regulatory Communication

Description: Includes guidelines and procedures relative to the dissemination of technical information via various media. Topics: Regulatory communication; computer systems; presentations; publications; regulatory information by telephone. Program Record Number: CFIA REC 051

Scientific Analysis

Description: Information on analytical tests to ensure conformity with established quality-assurance and safety standards for certain products and facilities. Topics: Requests for analysis; analytical reports; test results; product safety; sampling programs (quotas); provision standards; consultation with national and international, governmental and non-governmental organizations; methods of analysis; statistics; laboratory accreditation protocols; audits; check samples; quality assurance protocols. Access: Files arranged by date sampled, laboratory number or by commodity, region, date and type of test. Certain files are kept in regional laboratories. Storage Medium: LIMS computer database contains samples received and reported, tests requested and performed, and computer-generated certificates of analysis are machine-readable. Additional data stored in Personal Computer Databases.

Program Record Number: CFIA SCI 065

Seed Potato Programs

Description: Information on the planning and maintenance of a national program designed to provide seed potatoes of a class and quality that will meet the demands of both domestic and export markets.

Topics: Seed potato certification standards; import requirements of foreign and domestic markets; export and domestic certification standards. Program Record Number: CFIA SEE 161

Seed Standards

Description: Information on the development of new or amended seed quality standards; packaging and labelling. Program Record Number: CFIA STA 105

Standards and Labels

Description: Information on the development of and compliance with standards and labels to ensure quality, nutritional value and safety of agri-food products. Topics: The information is available on CFIA web site. Program Record Number: CFIA LAB 085

Standards and Specifications

Description: Information on guidelines, specifications and standards on seed potatoes. Topics: Standards and labelling; laboratory facilities; transportation; storage; seed potato varieties; policy development. Program Record Number: CFIA SPE 120

Training for Inspection and Monitoring (Meat Hygiene)

Description: Information on training for the inspection and monitoring of food animals, meat products and plant sanitation. Topics: Inspection techniques for various species, sanitation practices, humane handling, meat processing; basic meat science; basic microbiology; food borne pathogens; biological residues. Storage Medium: Training materials in written format as modules with visual components on video or filmstrip with audio cassette. Program Record Number: CFIA TIM 076

Variety Registration

Description: Information on the evaluation of new varieties of seeds for the purpose of registration. Topics: Registration of seeds; list of registered varieties; unregistered varieties. Program Record Number: CFIA VAR 110

Personal Information Banks

Accreditation of Private Seed Testing Laboratories

Description: This bank contains technical information on organization, management, testing equipment, sample throughput and the performance rating of the laboratory in performance monitoring programs. Class of Individuals: Seed laboratory proprietors, accredited seed analysts. Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to maintain records of the businesses and individuals who have been accredited to test and grade seed along with the technical data on the bases for the accreditation, and subsequent performance of the quality of the seed testing carried out by the laboratory. Consistent Uses: To assess, on the basis of performance and maintenance of the facilities and staff, if the accreditation should be continued or withdrawn. Retention and Disposal Standards: Under review. Related to PR#: CFIA 105 TBS Registration: 003139 Bank Number: CFIA PPU 103

Accredited Private Seed Analyst

Description: This bank contains technical information on persons that applied for and written an accredited seed analyst exam. It contains a copy of their results and any certificates awarded. Class of Individuals: Seed analysts working for private seed testing laboratories or seed firms. Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to maintain a record of the persons who have written the exam and the results they achieved in the exam. Consistent Uses: To assess the level of the actual persons' competence should they want to obtain a higher level of accreditation. The file is used to confirm that the level of accreditation that a seed laboratory merits based on the qualification of its complements of accredited seed analysts. Retention and Disposal Standards: Under review. Related to PR#: CFIA 105 TBS Registration: 003138 Bank Number: CFIA PPU 102

Animal Health Importation Program

Description: This bank contains information related to the importation of animals, animal products and by-products, veterinary biologics and related items. Examples are cattle, horses, poultry, animal semen and embryos, meat, animal hides, veterinary vaccines, serums, toxins, etc. The information relates to permits, applications, quarantines, test results, numbers imported, etc. Class of Individuals: Information relates primarily to the identification of Canadian importers and, to a lesser extent, exporters in other countries. Purpose: To provide statistical information on imported commodities, to enable tracebacks for disease purposes and to provide an inventory of animals, commodities, owners, etc. for reference and consultation purposes. Consistent Uses: The bank is used primarily for issuing import permits, quarantining animals and birds, import statistic compilation, tracing back from disease outbreaks, verification of legal entry of animals, etc., into Canada. Retention and Disposal Standards: Under review. RDA Number: 93-023 Related to PR#: CFIA 015 TBS Registration: 001711 Bank Number: CFIA PPU 011

Application for Compensation (PVYn)

Description: Name, address, telephone number, legal description of persons (farmers), property, production and sale records and grower's seed potato certification number. Class of Individuals: Farmers mainly. Purpose: For the purpose of awarding compensation payments to persons (farmers mainly) affected by the plant virus PVYn. Consistent Uses: It is expected that there will be some form of data sharing with the provinces and the potato marketing boards. Retention and Disposal Standards: Under review. Related to PR#: CFIA 161 TBS Registration: 002941 Bank Number: CFIA PPU 012

Artificial Insemination (A.I.) Units

Description: Information contained in the bank includes reports on owners of male donor animals in the A.I. units; name, identification and test results of the animals; records on the amount of semen being imported into the country to be stored at the A.I. units; and records showing the amount of semen exported.

Class of Individuals: Individuals who have had semen collection of their animals done at artificial insemination units. Purpose: The purpose of this information bank is to support the prevention of disease transmission through the use of artificial insemination. Consistent Uses: This bank is used in the monitoring of artificial insemination units and for issuing licences, export certificates and import permits. Retention and Disposal Standards: Under review. RDA Number: 93-023 Related to PR#: CFIA 025 TBS Registration: 000880 Bank Number: CFIA PPU 055

Authorization of Establishments to Certify Seed

Description: This bank contains technical information on seed handling equipment, seed sale data and product compliance data. Class of Individuals: Seed establishment proprietors. Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to maintain a record of businesses and individuals who have been authorized to tag and seal certified seed, and/or sell certified seed in bulk, along with technical data on the basis of the authorization and subsequent performance of the seed from such establishments in meeting standards under the Seeds Act and Regulations. Consistent Uses: To assess on the basis of product performance whether authorization should be continued or withdrawn to certify seed. Retention and Disposal Standards: Under review. RDA Number: 93-023 Related to PR#: CFIA 095 TBS Registration: 000890 Bank Number: CFIA PPU 105

Canadian Processed Poultry Stations

Description: As per the livestock and Poultry Carcass grading Regulations, under the Canada Agricultural Products Act, this bank contains documentation prepared by federal inspectors on registration, processed poultry grading standards, application, program delivery and audits. Topics: Sanitation, product analyses, audits. Class of Individuals: Registered processed poultry station operators. Purpose: To provide historical records on processed poultry stations, grading standards, compliance for graded poultry. Consistent Uses: The primary use of the files is to accumulate for weekly publication a provincial and Canadian record of processed poultry stations' output for use by the Canadian poultry industry. Retention and Disposal Standards: Under review. RDA Number: 93-023 Related to PR#: CFIA 035 TBS Registration: 000885 Bank Number: CFIA PPU 080

Canadian Registered Hatcheries (Chicken and/or Turkey)

Description: Documentation prepared by federal inspectors on hatchery permit issuance, hatchery premises plans, inspections and audit reports. Topics:

Permits, plans, inspections monitoring and audits.

Class of Individuals: Chicken/turkey hatchery operators. Purpose: To provide an historical record on hatcheries registered under the Hatchery Regulations of the Health of Animals Act. Consistent Uses: Health status, program performance, delivery as it relates to the production of healthy disease free chicks and poults. Retention and Disposal Standards: Under review. RDA Number: 93-023 Related to PR#: CFIA 035 TBS Registration: 000884 Bank Number: CFIA PPU 075

Consumer Complaint Database

Description: Information on complaints received from consumers and buyers of fish products including name, address and phone number of the complainant, details of the complaint and the results of the investigations. Class of Individuals: Consumers and buyers of fish products. Purpose: To record particulars of complaints from consumers and buyers of fish products and investigations related thereto. Consistent Uses: In cases of suspected food poisoning, other data including illness symptoms are stored. Retention and Disposal Standards: Under review. Related to PR#: CFIA 080 TBS Registration: 003623 Bank Number: CFIA PPU 095

Development & Implementation of HACCP systems

Description: The National Hazard Analysis Critical Control Point (HACCP) adaptation contribution program will provide contribution funding to small and medium sized federally registered food processing establishments to develop implement HACCP systems. Class of Individuals: Owners of small & medium sized federally registered food processing establishments. Purpose: To collect information about participating establishments and their owners such as name, address, SIN, size and progress through HACCP implementation in order to determine the usefulness of the program dollars spent. Consistent Uses: none at the present time. Retention and Disposal Standards: Under review. Related to PR#: CFIA 080 TBS Registration: 004005 Bank Number: CFIA PPU 036

Disease Investigation

Description: Information contained in the bank includes reports on herds in which there have been an unusual number of deaths or other uncommon occurrences; reports from veterinary practitioners reporting unusual occurrences in their area; reports from veterinarians in charge of registered establishments reporting high incidence of disease in one particular herd or flock. Class of Individuals: Livestock owners who have had uncommon occurrences in their herds or flocks. Purpose: The purpose of this information bank is to support the monitoring of livestock diseases in Canada in accordance with the Health of Animals Act. Consistent Uses: The primary use of this bank is to report unusual occurrences of animal disease. Retention and Disposal Standards: Under review. RDA Number: 93-023 Related to PR#: CFIA 025 TBS Registration: 000874 Bank Number: CFIA PPU 025

Canadian Forces Grievance Board

Chapter 27

General Information

Background

The Canadian Forces Grievance Board (CFGB) was established on March 1, 2000 as a result of legislation that contained comprehensive amendments to modernize the National Defence Act (NDA). These amendments are designed to help renew the Canadian Forces. One of the reforms was aimed at creating an independent review of grievances through the establishment of the Canadian Forces Grievance Board. The establishment of the Board is defined in section 29 of the NDA. Chapter 7.12 of the Queen's Regulations and Orders applicable to the Canadian Forces that govern the types of grievances referred to the CFGB came into effect on June 15, 2000.

Responsibilities

The Canadian Forces Grievance Board is an external and independent "arms length" legal body, established by the National Defence Act (NDA), that is mandated to investigate and review grievances referred to it by the Chief of Defence Staff (CDS) and to providing findings and recommendations to the CDS regarding grievances so referred. The Canadian Forces Grievance Board has the power to summon witnesses, to compel the production of evidence when the Board considers it necessary and to determine and modify its own rules of procedure. Although the Board's findings and recommendations are not binding, the CDS must provide reasons in writing to the Board and the grievor if he does not act upon them. The Board reports annually to Parliament through the Minister of Defence.

Legislation

- Canadian Forces Grievance Board Rules of Procedure
- National Defence Act
- Queen's Regulations and Orders applicable to the Canadian Forces

Organization

The Canadian Forces Grievance Board is designated as a department within the meaning and for the purposes of the Financial Administration Act. Treasury Board is its employer.

The Board is responsible for the operational review of certain types of grievances referred to the Board by the Chief of Defence Staff. The review program provides an analysis and reporting service and associated procedural and logistical services required to support an orderly and effective review process.

◆ Board Membership

The Board is made up of a chairperson, a full-time vice-chairperson, a part-time vice-chairperson and part-time members, all appointed by the Governor in Council. The Chairperson is a full time member, is the Chief Executive Officer of the Board and has supervision over and direction of the work of the Board staff. The senior staff consists of an Executive Director, a Director, Grievance Analysis, a General Counsel, and a Director, Corporate Services.

◆ Director, Corporate Services (COR)

The Director, Corporate Services is accountable for designing, developing and implementing a corporate services infrastructure which meets the needs of the Canadian Forces Grievance Board.

◆ Director, Grievance Analysis

The Director, Grievance Analysis is responsible for researching and investigating the information that the Board needs to make recommendations on grievance cases.

◆ Executive Director

The Board's Executive Director is responsible for providing strategic leadership, as well as developing and implementing the Board's management framework, its strategic priorities, its business plan, and its financial and human resources, reviewing its progress and the political and legislative challenges facing the Board, and negotiating on behalf of the Board with central agencies.

◆ General Counsel

The General Counsel is accountable for directing the provision of legal advice, interpretation and opinions to the Canadian Forces Grievance Board, legal representation at Board hearings, and representation of the Board before the Federal Court of Canada.

Canadian Grain Commission

Chapter 28

General Information

Background

The Canadian Grain Commission (CGC) is a federal agency reporting to the Canadian Parliament through the Minister of Agriculture and Agri-Food. The CGC:

- Regulates grain handling in Canada
- Establishes and maintains standards of quality for Canadian grains

The CGC's vision statement is as follows:

- Excellence in grain quality assurance
- We will maintain unbiased third-party objectivity.
- We will do what is good for the entire grain industry.
- The quality of grains, oilseeds and pulses is the focal point of our expertise.
- Quality is anything that enhances the value of Canadian grain.
- We are a business-like government organization.
 - We will ask "Does it make sense?"
 - We will work to our strengths.
 - We will focus on clients needs.

Its mission is:

To be a leader in providing grain quality management and quantity assurance, dedicated to excellent and responsive service supporting producers, all sectors of the grain industry and their customers.

Responsibilities

The CGC delivers a grain quality and quantity assurance program that results in consistent and reliable shipments of grain that meet contract specifications for quality, safety and quantity. Quality is Canada's competitive edge in the world market. Quality and quantity assurance services include:

- Inspecting grain to certify quality, including all grain received at and shipped from terminals, all grain exported from transfer elevators, and submitted samples of grain from producers and the grain trade
- Certifying weights for grain exports, supervising weighing at terminals, conducting audits of terminal and transfer elevator stocks and inspecting terminal and transfer elevator scales
- Identifying and explaining the relationships between the physical and biochemical properties of grain and the end-use value of grain

Developing fast, accurate, economical, and meaningful methods for evaluating grain quality

- Supporting the sale and market development of grains and oilseeds by giving technical advice on grain and oilseed quality and end uses, and by evaluating the quality of plant breeders' cultivars to ensure that they have the physical and quality criteria needed for registration
- Screening, monitoring and certifying grain shipments to ensure that Canadian grain is not only safe but meets strict international tolerances for toxic contaminants
- Providing information to marketers and processors of Canadian grain on the quality of commercial grain shipments and of each harvest
- Investigating and resolving complaints and inquiries related to the quality and quantity of Canadian grain
- Providing other specialized services requested by the grain industry

The CGC also regulates the grain industry to ensure the fair treatment of producers and the integrity of grain transactions and to maintain grain quality as grain is moved through marketing channels. Regulation includes:

- Licensing eligible grain dealers and elevator companies
- Conducting audits of licensees' liabilities to producers
- Monitoring the financial position of licensees and obtaining security to protect producers in case of a default by a licensee
- Developing and setting grain quality standards
- Inspecting grains and grain handling facilities to ensure freedom from insect infestations
- Collecting and publishing statistics on grain handling, storage, and movement
- Administering producer cars
- Mediating and resolving producer complaints concerning grain transactions

The CGC provides other services of value to the grain industry in Canada and abroad, such as:

- Operating the Grain Inventory Accounting System and facilitating information flow on behalf of the grain trade
- Providing grain quality data
- Offering general and custom-designed grain industry training courses
- Conducting contract work, for example, repairing moisture meters and doing chemical analyses of grain

The CGC provides services to CGC staff, such as:

- Administration
- Communications
- Finance
- Information technology
- Policy development
- Library
- Health and safety

Legislation

- Canada Grain Act

Organization

Canadian Grain Commission

The CGC is organized into the Executive, Corporate Services, Grain Research Laboratory (GRL), Industry Services, and Finance. Its head office is located in Winnipeg, Manitoba. Industry Services comprises five regions: Bayport, Eastern, Pacific, Prairie and Thunder Bay. The CGC employs approximately 700 employees.

The Executive consists of three commissioners, appointed by government, who set policy and provide leadership, and the chief operating officer who oversees operations. Assistant commissioners, also appointed by government, work closely with producers and other industry members in rural development. Assistant commissioners inform producers and the industry about the CGC's role and responsibilities and act as mediators.

The chair of the Grain Appeal Tribunal reports directly to the chief commissioner. The Tribunal is an independent committee appointed by the CGC. It examines appeals by those dissatisfied with the grade assigned on an official sample and makes a final decision.

of samples of grain and grain screenings obtained by Commission employees or submitted by grain industry.

Topics: Quality of samples submitted; quality of grain handled by terminal and transfer elevators; special treatment of grain in terminal elevator; elevator inspections and infestation control; primary and export standard samples; reinspections. Access: The files are located in Winnipeg and in regional offices. Program Record Number: CGC CGC 565

General Correspondence and Enquiries

Personal information in this class relates to routine correspondence concerning the regulatory and licensing activities associated with grain quality, grain inspection and weighing, and producer cars. It also relates to general enquiries concerning scientific research, and food advisory. The personal information contained in this class normally includes the name and address of the enquirer, but is neither arranged nor retrievable by personal identifiers. This form of personal information exists in a fragmented form throughout the subject files controlled by the Department and is normally retrievable only if specifics are provided concerning the subject and the date of the correspondence. The retention period for this class of personal information is controlled by the retention period of the files in which they are stored.

Ministerial Correspondence

This class of information contains correspondence received by the Departmental Secretariat from external organizations and individuals in the form of requests for information, complaints, opinions and other similar submissions related to a broad range of policy issues pertaining to the Canadian Grain Commission and Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada's activities, wherein some unsolicited personal information has been provided by the correspondent. This form of information would be retrievable only if specifics of name, date of communication and subject were to be provided; it is not arranged or retrievable by personal identifiers. The retention periods of these classes of personal information are controlled by the record schedules of the general subject files in which they are stored.

Other Programs and Agreements

This class reflects other programs and agreements not specifically covered under the other classes. These other programs and agreements are aimed at resolving specific problems of a limited nature or in specifically defined areas of the country. This information may include financial, employment, demographic and educational data on individuals. Such data, however, would be stored as part of the general subject files where records are not normally retrieved by name of individual or other personal identifier. This form of personal information is normally retrievable only if specifics are provided concerning the name of the program concerned and the name of the specific project.

Canadian Heritage

Chapter 29

General Information

Background

The Department of Canadian Heritage was created on June 25, 1993, through the reorganization of the federal government. The Act to establish the Department of Canadian Heritage and to amend or repeal certain other acts was proclaimed on June 12, 1996. The Department's mission is to contribute to a more cohesive and creative Canada. We honor this commitment to Canadians by promoting the creation, dissemination and preservation of diverse Canadian cultural works, stories and symbols reflective of our past and expressive of our values and aspirations. To enhance the quality of our lives, Canadian Heritage fosters access to and participation in Canada's cultural life. The Department strengthens connections among Canadians and deepens understanding across diverse communities to ensure that all Canadians can participate in civic life. In Canada, we have developed a distinctive model of shared citizenship based on diversity, mutual accommodation, respect and responsibility; that is why Canadian Heritage promotes citizen's rights and responsibilities and fosters opportunities for all to participate in Canada's civic life.

Responsibilities

The Department of Canadian Heritage is responsible for policies and programs relating to arts, culture, movable heritage, archaeology, broadcasting, Canadian identity, multiculturalism, official languages and sport, as well as broad policies relating to built and natural heritage.

Areas of responsibility include: developing Canadian cultural affairs and broadcasting policy; assisting cultural industries and arts and heritage organizations; encouraging the creation, production, distribution and consumption of cultural and heritage goods and services; creating opportunities for young Canadians to participate in exchange programs and promoting exchanges and related activities; fostering Canadians' collective sense of self and promoting the civic participation of all members of Canadian society; supporting the voluntary sector; promoting a greater understanding of human rights; enhancing the participation of urban and off-reserve aboriginal organizations in Canadian society; managing programs and initiatives related to the multicultural character of Canadian society; encouraging and developing amateur sport; advancing the equality of status and use of the official languages and supporting the development of official-language minority communities.

Legislation

The following statutes are administered, in whole or in part, by the portfolio of Canadian Heritage:

- An Act to Incorporate the Jules et Paul-Émile Léger Foundation

Organization

Deputy Minister's Office

Human Resources and Workplace Management

Reporting to the Deputy Minister, the Human Resources and Workplace Management provides services and advice to the Management Committee and to managers of the Department on all matters involving human resources management, protection and safety services and facilities management services. Thus, the Branch ensures human resources services in the National Capital Region and in Regional Offices.

Portfolio Affairs

The Portfolio Affairs office provides a strategic focus to the Department's interactions with members of the Portfolio by coordinating and integrating issues related to the policy, resources planning, reporting, marketing and communications of the 18 agencies and Crown corporations for which the Minister of Canadian Heritage is responsible. It manages Ministerial and Deputy Ministerial meetings with the Chairs of Crown corporations and the heads of other Portfolio organizations and oversees the process of Governor in Council and Ministerial appointments.

Corporate Secretary

◆ Government Business Directorate

The Government Business Directorate manages Cabinet, Parliamentary, Legislative and Regulatory business for the Minister, Secretary of State, and senior management. The Directorate pilots departmental initiatives through Cabinet and the Parliamentary system, reviews and advises on departmental and governmental Cabinet documents and briefs the Minister. It also coordinates daily Question Period preparations, tracks Parliamentary committee activity, in addition, the Directorate prepares the short-term departmental work plan, and coordinates departmental input to Government-wide initiatives such as the Federal Regulatory Plan. As well, it undertakes special projects such as departmental input to the Speech from the Throne.

◆ Executive Services Branch

The Executive Services Branch was established in October 2000, bringing together ministerial, administrative and operational services into a central branch to coordinate senior management committees, to plan events and opportunities for the Minister and Secretaries of State to carry the Department's message to key events and stakeholders, and to manage and respond to requests and inquiries from the public.

There are five groups within the Executive Services: the Ministerial Correspondence Secretariat, the Bureau of Ministerial Events, the Access to Information and Privacy Secretariat, the Executive Services Secretariat and the Operational Services Unit.

Legal Counsel

Reporting to the Deputy Minister, the Legal services are provided by lawyers from the Department of Justice who offer program managers a wide range of services, including preparing opinions on the laws administered by the Department, drafting regulatory texts and giving advice on policies being developed.

Citizenship and Heritage Sector

The Citizenship and Heritage Sector was created to deepen our understanding of our shared citizenship and to strengthen it. In order to bring a comprehensive perspective on what it means to be a citizen of this country, the new sector integrates programs and policy in areas of heritage, multiculturalism, official languages, Canadian studies, exchanges and citizen participation.

The new sector emphasizes creating a greater sense of connection among Canadians through, for instance, the promotion of inter-cultural understanding and responsible citizenship, broad engagement in the preservation of our heritage and deeper understanding of the evolving Canadian legacy.

Strategic Policy and Management Branch

Strategic Policy and Management Branch directs the strategic planning process, coordinates policy development and provides advisory services, human resource and financial management for the Sector. It provides policy advice to the Minister of Canadian Heritage and the Secretary of State (Multiculturalism) (Status of Women) and (Amateur Sport) with respect to the Sector's product/service lines delivered by the following branches: Citizens' Participation and Promotion; Multiculturalism and Aboriginal Peoples' Programs; Official Languages; and by divisions created for special initiatives. The Branch also represents the Sector's interests by taking part in intradepartmental and interdepartmental working groups. In addition, it conducts research on public opinion and socio-demographic factors in order to better orient the Sector's strategic decision-making at the Sector level.

Citizen Participation and Promotion Branch

The Citizen Participation and Promotion Branch is responsible for two principal areas of activity:

- Exchanges Canada
- Community Partnerships Program

◆ Exchanges Canada

Exchanges Canada is a Government of Canada initiative that creates opportunities for young Canadians to connect with one another and experience the diversity of Canadian communities, languages and cultures. Exchanges Canada offers a single window (1-800-O-CANADA and www.exchanges.gc.ca) to information on hundreds of exchange initiatives and Exchange related activities throughout Canada and abroad. Exchanges Canada programs aim to help young Canadians gain knowledge and understanding of Canada, connect to one another and appreciate the diversity and shared aspects of the Canadian experience. The Government of Canada provides funding to organizations that administer exchanges in collaboration with Exchanges Canada. Special consideration is given to encourage participation from groups traditionally under-represented in exchange programs, such as Aboriginal youth, youth with disabilities, youth from low-income households, and youth from rural or isolated regions. These exchanges fall under two streams of programs: Youth Exchanges Canada and Youth Forums Canada.

Youth Exchanges Canada offers exchanges to groups of 10-30 young Canadians between the ages of 11 and 18. Groups are twinned with a group of youth approximately the same age from another part of the country. The exchanges are reciprocal in that each group travels to its twin community and then hosts the other group in its community. Participants must play an active role in organizing the exchange, do research on both their own and their twin's communities, and participate in fundraising and activity planning.

Youth Forums Canada provides funding to support projects that give youth an opportunity to connect with one another through a variety of means, including forums, conferences, as well as innovative projects. Youth Forums Canada also provides funding to Katimavik, a national program that offers young people the opportunity to live in three different regions of Canada as part of a group of 11 people from the four corners of the country. Participants develop interpersonal skills, work on community projects, learn a second language, while participating in a variety of unique activities.

◆ Community Partnerships Program

The Community Partnerships Program (CPP) is an element of the Department of Canadian Heritage's commitment to contribute to a cohesive and creative Canada and clearly supports the Department's strategic objectives of strengthening connections between Canadians and fostering opportunities to participate in civic life. The specific objectives of the program are to: raise awareness of the contributions of volunteers and the voluntary sector to Canadian society; promote citizens' participation and engagement in Canadian society through volunteering and community involvement; and strengthen voluntary organisations' capacity to provide programs and services for the benefit of Canadians.

The Community Partnerships Program plays a key role in the delivery of the Government of Canada's Voluntary Sector Initiative (VSI), which is a joint initiative to strengthen the capacity of the voluntary sector and to enhance the relationship between the sector and the Government of Canada. In support of the VSI, the program is responsible for delivering the Canada Voluntarism Initiative, which was announced on December 5, 2001, by the Prime Minister, to sustain and enhance voluntarism in Canada and serve as a lasting legacy of the International Year of Volunteers 2001. CPP also provides secretariat services to the Awareness Joint Table, and is responsible for overall departmental VSI policy and coordination, including the Sector Involvement in Departmental Policy Development (SIDPD) projects.

Multiculturalism and Aboriginal Peoples Branch

The Multiculturalism and Aboriginal Peoples Branch groups policy and program activities related to multiculturalism, Aboriginal citizens and human rights. The Branch supports the Government's agenda for promoting Canadian identity, for Aboriginal peoples and for the inclusion and valuing of all citizens in the social fabric of the country.

◆ Aboriginal Peoples' and Human Rights Program Directorate

The Directorate promotes the development, understanding, respect for and enjoyment of human rights in Canada; coordinates consultations on the domestic implementation of international human rights instruments, and promotes the full social, cultural and economic potential of Aboriginal people off-reserve and their equitable participation in Canadian society.

Human Rights Program

Promotes knowledge of human rights through various education and promotion activities, and coordinates the preparation of Canada's reports on the implementation of United Nations and other international human rights instruments. The activities of the Program include the provision of both financial and technical support to non-governmental organizations concerned with human rights education, development and research, and assisting and coordinating federal/provincial/territorial consultations on human rights in Canada. The Program also funds the Court Challenges Program of Canada for test cases on official languages and equality rights guaranteed under Canada's Constitution (administered at arms-length from the Government).

Aboriginal Peoples' Program

Coordination and administration of a series of Aboriginal community-based programs that serve the off-reserve First Nations (status and non-status), the Inuit and the Métis peoples. Two key features of programming include program devolution to Aboriginal organizations for their management and administration and community-based projects that are initiated and managed by Aboriginal peoples. Programming falls under three themes: core funding and capacity-building, Aboriginal youth programs and cultural and language development, and is designed to support and facilitate the enhancement of the capacities of Aboriginal communities and organizations to participate in various fora and processes dealing with Aboriginal governance and the social, cultural, political, legal and economic issues affecting the lives of Aboriginal peoples in Canadian society. Funding for programs and initiatives is provided through the Aboriginal Friendship Centres Program, the Northern Native Broadcast Access Program, the Aboriginal Representative Organizations Program, the Aboriginal Women's Program, the Urban Multipurpose Aboriginal Youth Centres Initiative, the Aboriginal Languages Initiative and Young Canada Works for Urban Aboriginal Youth. The Aboriginal Peoples' Program also administers three Aboriginal languages agreements with the Northwest Territories, the Yukon, and Nunavut.

◆ Multiculturalism Directorate

Canada's cohesion is built on diversity. The Multiculturalism Program of the Department of Canadian Heritage is one important means by which the government pursues the identity, social justice and civic participation goals of the Multiculturalism policy of 1971, which, in this year 2002, celebrates thirty years of accomplishments. The Multiculturalism Act of 1988, reaffirmed multiculturalism as a fundamental characteristic of Canadian society.

Under the Multiculturalism Program, the Government of Canada provides funding assistance, in the form of grants and contributions, for projects that:

- Assist in the development of strategies that facilitate participation of ethnic, religious and cultural communities in Canadian society.

- Increase public awareness, understanding and informed public dialogue about multiculturalism, racism and cultural diversity in Canada.
- Improve the ability of public institutions to respond to diversity and assist in identifying and removing barriers.
- Encourage and assist in the development of inclusive policies, programs and practices within federal department and agencies so that they meet their obligations under the Canadian Multiculturalism Act.

Official Languages Support Programs Branch

The objectives of the Official Languages Support Programs Branch are to promote the full recognition and use of both English and French in Canadian society and to encourage the development of Francophone and Anglophone communities in minority situations.

Minority Language Education and Services

In partnership with provinces and territories, the Official Languages Support Programs Branch (OLSP) helps minority school boards offer their clients education of a comparable quality to that offered to the majority. Other measures are implemented to extend post-secondary Francophone education throughout the country, especially in key areas such as health, by using distance education and partnerships with existing institutions. OLSP also works in partnership with the provinces and territories to deliver provincial, territorial and municipal services in the minority language.

Second Language Education

In co-operation with provincial and territorial governments, OLSP supports the delivery of quality French and English as second-language instruction at all levels, and works to promote and strengthen second official-language learning among Anglophone and Francophone majorities in Canada.

Direct Support to Communities

With the Canada-community agreements concluded with each provincial and territorial community, OLSP works with communities to consolidate their network of agencies, to pursue their development priorities, to contribute actively to their local cultural and economic life, and to support projects with national benefits. Furthermore, OLSP coordinates the implementation of section 41 of the Official Languages Act to strengthen the contribution by federal institutions to the development of official-language minority communities. A new initiative, the Interdepartmental Partnership with Official-Language Communities, is implemented to encourage and stimulate partnerships among these communities and federal agencies.

Promoting Canadian Linguistic Duality

To promote the bilingual character of our country as a fundamental part of our national identity, OLSP continues its effort to promote the Francophonie in Canada, one of the pillars of our country's cultural diversity. It also strengthens the visibility of official languages and of the Government of Canada's commitments to the public, community associations, and federal, provincial and territorial agencies and institutions. OLSP, for instance, offers young people the opportunity to experience linguistic duality through exchange programs, supports volunteer agencies wishing to offer their services in both official languages, and promotes the presence and recognition of French on the Internet. Internationally, OLSP promotes its expertise in linguistic development, including the Canadian language industries and linguistic tourism.

♦ Parks Policy and Liaison

The Directorate's role is to manage the Parks Canada Agency's legislative, cabinet and financing priorities, coordinate conservation-related strategic policy needs and advise the Minister and Deputy Minister. Parks Policy and Liaison offers a "single window" service on Parks Canada-related business, with the exception of national historic sites, and collaborates with but is separate from the Portfolio Affairs Office.

Canadian Conservation Institute

Reflecting its priority of providing the widest possible access to the knowledge developed by its conservators and scientists, CCI publishes an increasing amount of information on its website, www.cci-icc.gc.ca. It also provides assured response to all inquiries via a Client Services Desk, 613-998-3721. In order to respond to an increasing interest from the general public for information on the preservation of personal artifacts, family heirlooms, and memorabilia, CCI has created a new public website, www.preservation.gc.ca. The new "Preserving my Heritage" Web site contains a wide range of practical how-to-care-for information, fascinating insights into the world of preservation, a virtual tour of the Institute's conservation and research laboratories, and much more.

Canadian Heritage Information Network (CHIN)

CHIN's mission is "to broker effective access to Canadian and international heritage information for public education and enjoyment and for the collective benefit of Canadian museums". As of May 2002, more than 730 Canadian museums had joined in the collaborative effort to develop content for online audiences.

Through the Virtual Museum of Canada (VMC) at virtualmuseum.ca, CHIN assists the Canadian museum community in achieving a collective online presence. Launched in March 2001, the VMC has received numerous awards and attracted more than 3 million online visits during its first year.

The CHIN Web site, at www.chin.gc.ca, provides the heritage community with access to professional resources, with a particular focus on skills development for the creation, presentation and management of digital content. CHIN products and services include online courses on image digitization and automated collections management systems; information about professional events and career opportunities; research and reference tools; a national inventory of nearly 4 million museum objects, including artefacts, natural science specimens and archaeological sites; intellectual property publications; bibliographies and data dictionaries.

CHIN also represents the museum community in international projects related to access to heritage information. In addition to the VMC and CHIN portals, CHIN also manages the international Conservation Information Network's Web site.

♦ Heritage Policy Branch

The Branch is responsible for the development of legislation and national policies and strategies aimed at protecting and enhancing public access to Canada's artistic, historic, built, natural and scientific heritage. The Branch maintains ongoing liaison with federal heritage agencies, and with national heritage organizations and other non-governmental organizations. The Branch is also responsible for the design and delivery of heritage programs such as the Museums Assistance Program, the Movable Cultural Property Program; the heritage components of the Young Canada Works Program; and the Canada Traveling Exhibitions Indemnification Program; and provides the Secretariat to the Canadian Cultural Property Export Review Board.

Public Affairs and Communications Sector (PACS)

The Public Affairs and Communications Sector is mandated to ensure an integrated, coherent and proactive approach in how PCH reaches out to Canadians. In contributing to government's important role in bringing Canadians together, PACS communicates and delivers PCH programs, events, stories, and shared experiences, domestically and internationally and ensures that regional perspectives are represented at the departmental Executive table and that PCH policies, programs, communications and services are informed by regional perspectives and delivered in a regionally sensitive way.

• Communications Branch

The Communications Branch promotes the policies, programs and services of the Department and ensures that the Department is visible, accessible and accountable to the public that it services; it advises the Department's senior management, sectors and programs on all issues relating to communications with the public, client-group and the media.

Partnering, Sponsorship and Collaborative Arrangements

The central focus of this Program is to provide a focus and a consistent approach for partnering and sponsorship activity within Canadian Heritage, provide expert assistance and advice to officers, managers and executives concerning the design and management of collaborative arrangements; promote training and encourage sharing of experiences; advise on valuation and monitor for consistency in setting values throughout Canadian Heritage; and implement a Registry of Corporate Sponsorships.

◆ E-services Branch

The central focus of the branch is to promote outreach, participation and engagement through the use of the Internet. To do this, E-Services merges several Canadian Heritage web-based initiatives (cultural portal, departmental public Web site, CultureCanada.gc.ca cluster, Canadian Cultural Observatory) and the GOL Office under one vision and approach. It integrates Internet-related planning and project management with issues related to public policy development, research, business transformation and departmental and governmental liaison functions.

Government On-Line (GOL)

Working collaboratively and horizontally across the Department of Canadian Heritage, the Government On-Line Office is the one-stop planning, policy and research entity responsible for realizing the 1999 Speech from the Throne vision to make Canada "known around the world as the government most connected to its citizens..." The GOL Office is also the liaison between Canadian Heritage, central agencies, and other federal departments in the common challenge that is putting services to Canadians on-line.

Canadian Cultural Observatory

The Canadian Cultural Observatory is a collaborative national observatory that connects Canadian cultural decision makers and stakeholders to comprehensive and authoritative information on cultural activity throughout Canada and abroad. Its primary focus is to provide a specialized Canadian cultural on and off-line monitoring, information dissemination and networking service for cultural planners and managers, researchers and students, policy analysts and makers, media workers and advocates.

Canadian Cultural Portal

CultureCanada.gc.ca is an overarching cultural portal designed to make it easier for Canadians to access on-line resources, to experience the work of Canadian artists and creators on-line, and to participate in on-line communities to exchange different points of view, such as the Digital Commons e-democracy forum.

eCommunications

eCommunications develops and maintains the Canadian Heritage public Web site, a key service of information on the Department, including its services, programs and key messages. This site is also a vehicle for public outreach, hosting online consultations. eCommunications has also developed, and continues to manage CultureCanada.gc.ca as noted above.

◆ Events & Conferences Branch

Through its various programs, the key objectives of the Events and Conferences Branch are to promote and strengthen Canadian identity and pride and highlight Canada's major accomplishments. The Branch is also responsible for commemorating and celebrating Canada and the people, events and symbols that have shaped our identity.

Expositions

Organizes Canada's participation in international expositions held abroad, working closely with other federal departments, provinces and territories and the private sector. It represents the Government of Canada at the Bureau international des expositions (BIE), the body which controls the frequency and the quality of international expositions, and is responsible for the fulfilment of the BIE Convention when expositions are hosted in Canada.

Canada 2004-2008

Canada 2004-2008 is the first five-year plan proposed for celebrations, commemorations and learning. On the basis of annual themes, Canada 2004-2008 will give Canadians, mostly young Canadians, the opportunity to learn about their country, their history, their citizenship and Canadian accomplishments in all fields of human activity; to commemorate and to celebrate Canada; and to explore the values and the challenges which make up our history and which will shape our future.

◆ Canadian Identity Directorate

Canadian Studies Program

The goal of the National Outreach & Learning Unit is to increase the Canadian public's knowledge of Canada. The Program encourages Canadians to learn about Canada by providing financial assistance to eligible individuals, organizations, companies and foundations working to develop learning materials (books, films, new media) about Canada. It administers an annual funding competition and an annual call for proposals for the production of learning materials about Canada. The program works with not-for-profit groups such as the Association for Canadian Studies in the development of projects that will benefit the field of Canadian Studies, or will support innovative learning initiatives. It initiates special projects and initiatives and works in partnership with a variety of governmental and non-governmental organizations on special projects to achieve the Program's goals. Finally, the program produces learning materials and resources available in print and through the Canadian Studies Web site (www.pch.gc.ca/csp-pec) such as the "EDUAction" resource guides for Canadian teachers.

National Initiatives

The Initiatives Program coordinates the delivery of special programs that reinforce pride in Canada and being Canadian. It is currently responsible for the Path of Heroes initiative, the goal of which is to enhance an awareness and appreciation of the heroes who have built and continue to build our country. The Path of Heroes includes a physical path in the National Capital area delineating eight routes intended as walking tours. In close partnership with 35 federal partners, a kit with pull-out brochures has been developed. An interactive Web site (www.heroes.gc.ca) has also been created in order to involve Canadians in a national dialogue about our national, regional and local heroes. The National Initiatives Program is currently examining various strategies for extending the reach and impact of the Path of Heroes program.

State Ceremonial and Protocol

The objectives of State Ceremonial and Protocol are to enhance awareness and appreciation of Canada and being Canadian by undertaking activities that include: the organization and delivery of national ceremonies (e.g. installation of new Governors General, State funerals, official Canada Day ceremonies, inauguration of monuments) and visits to Canada by members of the Royal Family, provision of ceremonial and protocol advice, administration of federal responsibilities for Lieutenant Governors, oversee and coordinate use of a gift bank for use by the Governor General, members of the Canadian Ministry and deputy heads; and oversee use of Parliament Hill for activities. It also includes special initiatives such as the fostering of community-based national celebrations marking the upcoming Golden Jubilee celebrations in 2002 for Her Majesty the Queen.

Celebrate Canada!

The objective of Celebrate Canada! is to create opportunities for Canadians to connect in celebrating Canadian history, diversity and achievements; to commemorate people, places and events that have marked Canada's development; and to promote and protect Canadian symbols. The main activities of the Celebrate Canada program include: the identification, promotion and protection of national symbols; design and delivery of the Celebrate Canada activities for celebrations across Canada including the Poster Challenge and the Great Canadian Adventure Board game; promotion of National Flag of Canada Day and the development and implementation of a national policy on Commemorations.

Information and Research on Canada Program

The sole recipient of the Information and Research on Canada Program is the Council for Canadian Unity (CCU) for the operations and activities of the CUU's Centre for Research and Information on Canada (CRIC). Founded in 1996, the CRIC focuses on research, communication and education. Its purpose is to inform and educate all Canadians about their country. Initiatives include: Opinion Canada, a bi-monthly bulletin; Direction, a weekly newsletter; a Web site, fact sheets published three times a month; opinion poll tracking; regional and provincial roundtables on Canadian unity; and Handbook on Canada, a pocket-book size reference.

◆ Policy, Planning and Management Branch

The Policy, Planning and Management Branch is responsible for the management of strategic, business planning and reporting functions for the PAC sector, directing public affairs, public opinion research and trends analysis for both the sector and the department, providing policy advice to the ADMs of the Sector and other senior executives of the department, and leading the coordination of policy development in the sector in international and domestic public affairs. The Branch is also accountable for the management of regional liaison and coordination between the departments five regions and headquarters, the management and operations of ministerial correspondence and the management of financial, human and IM/IT resources for the PAC sector. It also provides some policy advice and services to the Minister of Canadian Heritage and the Secretaries of State (Multiculturalism and Status of Women, and Amateur Sport).

◆ Regional Liaison

A network of five regional offices, in Moncton, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver, manages and delivers programs, serves clients, provides daily liaison with the public and contributes to the development and implementation of departmental policies. Twenty-eight points of service across the country ensure that Canadians have access to departmental programs and services.

International and Intergovernmental Affairs Sector

The International and Intergovernmental Affairs Sector was created in the Spring of 2002. The Sector's mandate is to provide an integrated approach to intergovernmental and international relations and to give greater coherence to international policies and programs by integrating all corresponding programs within one sector. Sport Canada is also located within this sector.

The International and Intergovernmental Affairs Sector is responsible for the international relations and international affairs such as the International Network on Cultural Diversity; involvement in the International Francophonie; Trade and Investment; the Department's federal-provincial/territorial relations; the policies and program for Sport Canada; and for the Vancouver/Whistler 2010 Olympic Winter Games Bid.

◆ International Affairs Branch

The International Affairs Branch provides a strategic focal point for policy effort to advance Canadian cultural objectives on the world stage. Through departmental participation in international cultural fora and International outreach and engagement activities, international affairs strives to influence the international environment in support of national policy and program priorities.

International Affairs comprise two directorates which manage policy, planning and participation. These include: International Relations and Policy Development Directorate which, in addition to its responsibilities for multilateral and bilateral cooperation, is the lead on the international cultural diversity agenda and the New International Instrument on Cultural Diversity (NIICD); and Francophonie international Directorate, which works to build the presence of Canada in the international Francophone community, including the promotion of Francophone-Canadian culture through the management of and participation in TV5 International.

◆ Trade and Investment Branch

The Trade and Investment Branch provides a focal point within the Department of Canadian Heritage for expertise on international trade and investment issues, including trade negotiations, disputes and international business development. The Department of Canadian Heritage is a core member of Team Canada Inc and ensures the inclusion of cultural trade interests in the federal government international business strategies. The Branch operates in close cooperation with the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade to determine how best to meet domestic cultural policy objectives, and the government's international business objectives.

The Trade Routes program, designed to address international business development of the cultural sector, was launched in November 2001. This innovative and market-driven program is specifically designed to facilitate the cultural sectors trade development needs for both small and medium sized businesses that are part of a long-term industry strategy, including Aboriginal, women and young exporters.

◆ Federal-Provincial/Territorial Relations and Aboriginal Affairs

The Federal-Provincial/Territorial Relations and Aboriginal Affairs Directorate is composed of a team responsible for Federal-Provincial/Territorial (FPT) Relations and one responsible for Aboriginal Affairs. The Directorate has overall responsibilities for implementing the departmental Federal-Provincial/Territorial Relations Strategic Framework which aims for a collaborative approach with provinces and territories.

The Directorate also encompasses a team dedicated to coordinating the Department's approach to tourism. As part of this effort, the Directorate will lead the Department's two-year collaboration with the provinces and territories on a workplan to improve the relationship between cultural/heritage and tourism.

◆ Sport Canada Branch

Through the policies and programs of Sport Canada, the Government of Canada is involved in enhancing the capacity of the Canadian sport system, encouraging high performance athletic excellence and participation in sport. This helps Canadians with talent and dedication to achieve excellence in international sport, thereby strengthening the unique contribution of sport to Canadian culture and society.

To this end, the Branch provides expertise and financial assistance to national sport organizations, athletes, coaches and organizing committees of major sport events and other activities connected to sport which support departmental and federal objectives. It also looks after the dissemination of research results and knowledge. In addition, the Branch recently completed the development of a new Canadian Sport Policy and received the approval of the federal and all provincial and territorial Ministers responsible for sport during a Minister's Conference in April 2002.

◆ Vancouver 2010 Olympic Bid Secretariat

The Vancouver 2010 Bid Secretariat was established to assist the Bid Corporation with all aspects of organizing Vancouver's bid for the 2010 Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games. The Secretariat acts as a one-stop point of contact with more than 20 federal departments, agencies and crown corporations responsible for providing services connected with the Bid. The Secretariat also works closely in partnership with officials from the Province of British Columbia, the city of Vancouver, the Resort Municipality of Whistler, the Canadian Olympic Association and the Canadian Paralympic Committee in planning for the 2010 Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games. The International Olympic Committee will decide the host city for the 2010 Olympic and Paralympic Games in the summer of 2003.

Planning Portfolio and Corporate Affairs Sector

The mandate of the Planning and Corporate Affairs Sector is to enable the department to deliver the highest possible service to Canadians. It is intended that by developing such a capacity, services to clients, both internal and external, will be improved in ways that produce better results for Canadians. The Sector encompasses the Corporate Planning Branch, Knowledge, Information and Technology Services, the Financial Management Branch, the Corporate Review Branch and the Office of Modern Management.

◆ Corporate Planning Branch

The Corporate Planning Branch is responsible for providing leadership in the development, articulation and implementation of planning processes and systems for the Department, including both its strategic and tactical components. Its mandate covers the full range of departmental policies, programs and operations. As such, the Corporate Planning Branch plays a critical role in assessing the Department's strategic environment, in coordinating the departmental priority-setting process and in orchestrating internal initiatives. To support its mandate, the Corporate Planning Branch manages on behalf of the Department the development and implementation of an environmental scanning process, the departmental Sustainable Development Strategy as well as business planning activities and the preparation of the annual Report on Plans and Priorities (RPP).

◆ Knowledge, Information and Technology Services

The Knowledge, Information and Technology Services' (KITS) mandate is to provide its clients in PCH with IM/IT leadership and expert advice in the area of technology and information management. KITS is responsible for developing and implementing an Information Management and Information Technology (IM/IT) strategy that will form the foundation of the Department's evolution into a state-of-the-art, knowledge-based learning organization.

KITS is responsible for developing and maintaining corporate systems and providing an efficient and secure technical infrastructure. The Branch is also responsible for strengthening its IM/IT capacity to meet its Government on-Line commitments in the next four years and beyond. KITS's long term objective is to build an integrated, networked IM/IT service level organization to support PCH's business drivers.

◆ Financial Management Branch

The Financial Management Branch is responsible for developing and implementing the financial management framework in Canadian Heritage that is the foundation for sound decision-making and sound comptrollership practices. The Branch has four directorates:

- The Financial Planning and Resource Utilization Directorate is responsible for the development and maintenance of an integrated financial management framework; the funding of departmental operations through the preparation of departmental Budgets and Estimates; monitoring, controlling, and providing advice for the optimum utilization of resources allocated to the Department; and developing and directing the implementation of sound financial planning, financial control and departmental reporting at the corporate level, and management reporting at the senior management level.
- The Grants and Contributions Directorate is responsible for maintaining an appropriate management framework to ensure due diligence in the management and administration of the department's grants and contributions programs; advising Program management in the areas of financial analysis and compliance with Treasury Board Terms and Conditions and policies; developing appropriate policies and procedures; providing advice and training to departmental staff and program managers; and supporting users of the Department's Grants and Contributions Information Management System.
- The Accounting Services, Financial Policy and Systems Directorate is responsible for departmental accounting operations; issue of payments and collection of revenues; maintaining the departmental delegation of signing authorities; production of Public Accounts; overseeing financial systems, policies and training; development and operation of the Department's Integrated Financial and Materiel System (IFMS); and Salary Management System (SMS).
- The Contracting and Materiel Management Directorate is responsible for providing advice and support to management in the areas of goods and services contracting, partnerships, sponsorships, warehousing, fleet operations and assets tracking.

◆ Corporate Review Branch

The mandate of the Corporate Review Branch is to provide information to senior management on how effectively and efficiently the Department's resources have been used and to make the necessary recommendations on how their use could be improved. It provides information, analysis and advice to managers at all levels of purposes of strategic planning, priority setting, resource allocation, policy and program development, and performance reporting.

The Branch primarily directs and coordinates the Department's audits and evaluations. It helps managers assess policies, programs and operations so they can identify, understand and report on the results obtained. The information thus obtained is used to report to Parliament and central agencies and to provide advice to the Deputy Minister, Minister and Secretaries of State. The Branch has namely the lead for the preparation of the "Departmental Performance Report (DPR) to be submitted to TBS each year, using a results-based management format.

In accordance with the new Treasury Board Policies on Internal Audit and on Evaluation Policy, the Branch is committed to: a) provide departmental management with objective assessments about the design and operation of management practices, control systems, and information, in keeping with modern comptrollership principles and thereby contributing to the government's continuous management improvement program and accountability for results; and b) ensure that the government has timely, strategically focused, objective and evidence-based information on the performance of its policies, programs and initiatives to produce better results for Canadians.

◆ Office of Modern Management

The Office of Modern Management was established in the spring of 2001 to assist the Department in the implementation of the Government's modern management/comptrollership agenda. The Office was staffed by seasoned, senior professionals and has been working on the four management priorities identified by a capacity assessment undertaken in late 2000-2001: integrated planning and reporting, integrated risk management, values and ethics, and modern managers' practices and competencies. The Office is finalizing a comprehensive Modern Management Action Plan that will include these priorities as well as other related management initiatives that aim to improve results for Canadians: program renewal, information for decision-making, G&C management excellence, HR modernization, and Government on Line/Service Improvement.

Cultural Affairs Sector

The Cultural Affairs Sector helps put policies into place and deliver programs for Canada's cultural and broadcasting industries. Its mandate is to develop a sustainable, competitive environment in Canada, through both domestic and international measures, for the creation, production and distribution of Canadian content in all media, including film, video, radio, television, publishing, sound recording, and multimedia, and to contribute to their exportability.

In fulfilling its mandate the sector works closely with portfolio agencies — including the National Film Board, Telefilm Canada, the Canada Council for the Arts, the National Arts Centre, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, and the Canadian Radio — Television and Telecommunications Commission. The sector advises the Minister on all matters related to its mandate.

◆ Arts Policy Branch

The Arts Policy Branch develops national strategies, policies and programs to assist Canadian artists and non-profit cultural organizations, and conducts related research. It is responsible for the Cultural Initiatives Program, the National Arts Training Program, and a new infrastructure initiative called the Cultural Spaces Canada Program. The Branch is currently developing program instruments addressing the issues of financial and organizational stability in arts and heritage organizations, enhanced access to the arts for Canadians, and strengthened linkages between communities and the arts. It also advises the Minister on policies regarding the Canada Council for the Arts and the National Arts Centre.

◆ Broadcasting Policy and Innovation Branch

Through formulating policies, proposing legislation, and designing and administering programs in relation to the Canadian broadcasting system, the Branch is responsible for ensuring that the Canadian broadcasting system contributes to the realization of Canadian social, cultural and economic objectives; enhancing the production and exhibition of Canadian television and radio programming and their availability to Canadians; and providing advice concerning the implementation of policies and programs by the independent agencies responsible for these activities including the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation (CBC), and the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission (CRTC). The Branch provides advice in relation to responsibilities of the Minister under the Broadcasting Act with respect to the issuance of policy directions to the CRTC and the review of CRTC broadcasting decisions.

◆ Copyright Policy Branch

Copyright has been described as the foundation upon which all cultural creation is built. Copyright allows creators to be fairly compensated for their works, and provides a mechanism through which Canada's rich cultural heritage is disseminated and made accessible to the greatest possible number of citizens. Copyright promotes and protects all forms of creative endeavor, and thus supports the development of all Canadian cultural industries. The Copyright Policy Branch is responsible for formulating national policies, and for proposing legislative amendments to the Copyright Act when necessary. The work of the Branch ensures, through the development of policies and legislation, the legal recognition and protection of the economic and moral rights of creators and users.

◆ Film Video and Sound Recording Branch

By formulating national policies, designing and administering programs in the fields of film, video and sound recording, the Branch is responsible for helping to sustain a strong domestic film and video industry, as well as a strong domestic sound recording industry; enhancing the production and distribution of Canadian films, video programs and sound recording to ensure their availability to Canadians; and providing advice concerning the implementation of policies and programs by the cultural agencies such as the National Film Board and Telefilm Canada, which are consistent with the federal government's cultural policy and objectives. Through the Canadian Audio-Visual Certification Office, it also co-administers Canada's film and video tax credit programs with the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency.

◆ Publishing Policy and Programs Branch

By formulating and developing national policies, proposing legislation and designing and administering programs in the fields of book and periodical publishing, the Publishing Policy and Programs Branch is responsible for fostering the creation, publication and dissemination of Canadian authored books and periodicals containing Canadian editorial content. This is achieved through supporting the Canadian-owned book and periodical publishing sectors. The Branch also supports the Canadian book and periodical publishing industries by providing direct financial assistance to Canadian publishers, by ensuring that market conditions do not unfairly jeopardize the ability of Canadian publishers to produce books and periodicals, or by ensuring that Canadian publishers remain competitive in the marketplace. The Publishing Policy and Programs Branch works closely with other departments, Canada Council for the Arts, stakeholders and clients to ensure a strong Canadian-owned industrial infrastructure within the Canadian publishing industry.

◆ Canadian Culture On Line

The Canadian Culture Online Policy and the Canadian Culture Online Program are part of the Department's strategy to encourage a uniquely Canadian presence on the Internet. Their objectives are to help create Canadian content for the Internet, encourage Canadians to access that content and help create the right environment for Canada to become a leader in digital content production. Important areas of emphasis include the creation of original French language content and content for young Canadians.

◆ Cultural Investment Review

The mission and objectives of the Cultural Sector Investment Review Directorate focus on the contribution to Canadian culture and diversity of foreign-owned cultural businesses operating in Canada. Through the application of the Investment Canada Act, the Directorate ensures that the review of investments by non-Canadians in the cultural sector results in net benefits to Canada and to the Canadian cultural industry infrastructure.

Information is not filed by personal identifier, but is filed with application forms. Files are retained for 25 years and then transferred to the National Archives of Canada for selective retention. (See also Program Records: - Canadian Audio-Visual Certification Office (CAVCO), Canadian Film or Video Production Tax Credit Program (CPTC) and Film or Video Production Services Tax Credit Program (PSTC)).

Canadian Heritage Information Network (CHIN)

This class of personal information is pertinent to the collection of museum objects by Canadian museums. The purpose of the information is to create a national inventory of museum collections and to assist museums in managing their collections and developing online content. The documents may contain references to individuals with whom Canadian museums deal in relation to collecting or Web development. Also contained is basic biographical information on Canadian artists. The records are created and supplied by Canadian museums and are maintained as long as is necessary for their management. As well, information provided by Virtual Museum of Canada (VMC) users who register to receive e-mail updates is collected using Secure Socket Layer (SSL), a privacy enhancing technology. This information is kept under CHIN's control, protected under the Privacy Act, and is not provided to any third party. Information concerning the use of VMC content is gathered through "traffic data" for the purposes of statistical analysis, and is disclosed to third parties only in aggregate form. This information is captured in standard Web logs and through feedback.

Cultural Initiatives Program

This class of personal information contains applications and supporting documentation submitted by cultural organizations seeking financial assistance for their activities. These documents may contain personal information pertaining to the directors and officers of cultural organizations including names and addresses. As well, the curriculum vitae of participants and/or expert advisors to the proposed activity may be held on file. This information is not filed by personal identifier but rather by cultural organization or activity title. This information was compiled to assess applications for funding of projects under the program including management development projects, capital projects and festivals and special events such as national conferences, etc. Records maintained by headquarters are retained for seven years, then transferred to National Archives of Canada for selective retention. Records are also maintained by the Department's Regional Offices which are responsible for the management of the Program.

Canadian Human Rights Commission

Chapter 30

General Information

Background

The Canadian Human Rights Commission was given its mandate with the passage in July, 1977 of the Canadian Human Rights Act. The Act became operative on March 1, 1978.

Responsibilities

The Commission's program objective is to give effect to the principle that within the federal sphere every individual should have an equal opportunity to participate in Canadian life consistent with his or her duties and obligations as a member of the Canadian society.

Specifically, the Commission deals with complaints of discrimination in employment, in the provision of goods, services, facilities and/or accommodation customarily available to the general public and in the provision of commercial premises or residential accommodation, based on any of the eleven prohibited grounds of discrimination enumerated in the Act: race, national or ethnic origin, colour, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, family status, disability, or conviction of an offence for which a pardon has been granted. The Commission also attempts to resolve cases through mediation or conciliation before considering the tribunal process.

The Canadian Human Rights Act prohibits discrimination in policies and practices affecting wages for male and female employees who are performing work of equal value. As a result, the Commission investigates complaints alleging inequities in wage-related practices.

The Commission also carries out employment equity audits of federal departments, agencies, and federally regulated employers. The Employment Equity Act mandates the Commission to perform these audits and report to Parliament on the results every year.

The Commission also has a statutory responsibility to discourage and reduce discriminatory practices through public education, liaison, and any other means it considers appropriate. This responsibility is discharged by producing promotional and educational materials, developing and conducting information programs to foster public understanding of the principles of equal opportunity enshrined in the Canadian Human Rights Act, and by working cooperatively with employers and service providers both at the headquarters and regional levels.

The Commission functions as an independent agency and reports to Parliament.

Canadian Human Rights Tribunal

Chapter 31

General Information

Background

The Canadian Human Rights Tribunal (Tribunal) was established in its original form in 1977 by the Canadian Human Rights Act (CHRA). Formerly known as the "Human Rights Tribunal Panel", the Tribunal was funded and administratively supported through the Canadian Human Rights Commission (Commission) until 1997 when it officially became a fully independent agency scheduled under the Financial Administration Act. A year earlier, the Tribunal's mandate had been expanded to include the adjudication of proceedings under the Employment Equity Act (EEA). Therefore, members of the Tribunal also act as the Employment Equity Review Tribunal (EERT).

Responsibilities

The Tribunal is a quasi-judicial tribunal that publicly hears complaints of discrimination referred to it by the Commission in order to determine, for the most part, whether the activities of federally-regulated employers and service providers violate the CHRA. The purpose of the CHRA is to protect individuals from discrimination and to promote equality of opportunity. It prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, national or ethnic origin, colour, religion, age, sex, marital status, family status, sexual orientation, disability, and conviction for which a pardon has been granted. The Tribunal's main objective is to ensure that the CHRA is applied fairly and impartially.

In particular, the Tribunal may hear complaints of discrimination in the provision of goods, services, facilities or accommodation customarily available to the general public; in the provision of commercial premises or residential accommodation, or; in matters related to employment. Complaints are based on one or more of the eleven grounds of discrimination enumerated above. The Tribunal also hears complaints alleging wage disparity between men and women performing work of equal value in the same establishment. Finally, it has jurisdiction to hear complaints of telephonic communication likely to expose persons to hatred or contempt by reason of their identification on discriminatory grounds. The parties to a Tribunal proceeding include the Commission, the complainant and the person alleged to have engaged in the discriminatory practice ("respondent"). The Tribunal decides if discrimination has occurred based on evidence and the law. If it finds that the complaint is substantiated, the Tribunal issues an order to the respondent, setting out the remedies.

Apart from its adjudications under the CHRA, the Tribunal's mandate also includes hearing matters under the EEA. The EEA governs most federally regulated employers and obliges them to eliminate systemic barriers to a fully representative workforce. Two general types of proceedings can give rise to the constitution of an EERT: (1) Proceedings initiated by an employer, or by the Commission, wherein the Tribunal examines the validity of a "direction to comply with the EEA" previously issued by the Commission to the employer; (2) Proceedings initiated by a private sector employer, or by the Minister of Human Resources Development, wherein the Tribunal examines the appropriateness of monetary penalties previously assessed by the Minister against the employer in respect of certain kinds of non-compliance with the EEA. The Tribunal convenes a hearing, hears evidence and argument and makes an order either granting or denying the relief sought.

Legislation

- Canadian Human Rights Act (R.S., 1985, c. H-6)
- Employment Equity Act (S.C. 1995, c.44)

Organization

Tribunal Members

The Tribunal is comprised of a full-time Chairperson and Vice-chairperson, as well as up to thirteen additional full- or part-time members (at present two full-time members and seven part-time members), all appointed by the Governor in Council. The Chairperson and Vice-chairperson may be appointed for terms of up to seven years while the other members may hold office for no more than five years. Currently the Chairperson and Vice-chairperson are serving five year terms and the other members have been appointed to terms of three years.

When a case is referred to the Tribunal under the CHRA or the EEA, the Chairperson designates either one or three members to hear the case. In carrying out their adjudicative functions members set dates for disclosure, hear and decide preliminary objections, preside over hearings where testimony and other evidence is presented, deal with motions, listen to argument and make decisions on the merits of the case (including remedy where appropriate). The Chairperson and Vice-chairperson also develop policies and establish rules of procedure for the Tribunal's adjudication processes.

Tribunal Staff

♦ Registry

The Registry's activities are entirely separate from the adjudication process. The Registrar of the Tribunal and his staff plan and arrange hearings, they serve as a liaison between the parties and members, and they direct the Tribunal's administrative operations. The Registrar is the Senior Public servant and Chief Operations Officer of the Tribunal whose duties include providing administrative support and procedural guidance to the members, as well as budgeting and allocating resources for the Tribunal. The Registry's staff is divided into the following sections: Registry Operations, Research Services, Corporate Services, Network Services and Financial Services.

♦ Registry Operations

Registry Operations' Manager is responsible for the planning and organization of all cases that are referred to the Tribunal for hearing, the development of operational policies and procedures relating to the administration of the hearing process, and the supervision of Registry Officers. The Registry Officers provide logistical support services to the Tribunal including advice and guidance as to media coverage, scheduling of witnesses, hearing dates, and procedural matters.

♦ Research Services

Research Services assists the Tribunal members, on large and complex cases, by cataloguing evidence and locating items in the record as directed by the Tribunal.

♦ Corporate Services

Corporate Services is responsible for the delivery of all corporate and administrative services to the Tribunal, including procurement, records management, office accommodation, telecommunications, contracting of professional services, and reception services.

♦ Network Services

Network Services provides all IT support to Tribunal members and staff, including network systems maintenance, purchases, installation, and testing of hardware and software.

♦ Financial Services

Financial Services is responsible for the delivery of all financial services to the Tribunal, including processing and recording all account transactions, monitoring the budget and providing reports to Parliament and central agencies.

Access to Information and Privacy Request Data

Description: This bank contains information about individuals who have submitted formal requests to the Tribunal under the Access to Information Act or the Privacy Act, the Tribunal's replies, and information relating to request processing. Personal Information may include names, addresses, e-mail addresses, and telephone and fax numbers. Class of Individuals: All individuals who submit access requests under either Act. Purpose: To respond to requests for information pursuant to the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act. Consistent Uses: To retain access requests and their replies for future reference and to report annually to Treasury Board Secretariat and Parliament on requests received and completed.

Retention and Disposal Standards: These records are retained for at least two years after the last administrative action. RD Number: 94/032 TBS Registration: 005320 Bank Number: HRT PPU 201

Case Files

Description: Personal information pertaining to referrals for inquiries from the Canadian Human Rights Commission under the CHRA, Canadian Human Rights Commission applications under the EEA, or employers' requests under the EEA, including questionnaires, particulars, documents, correspondence, transcripts, and exhibits relating to a case and its parties; personal information relating to administrative aspects of all cases. Class of Individuals: General public, parties, witnesses. Purpose: To retain a record of all proceedings before the Tribunal. Consistent Uses: Where a Tribunal decision or ruling is challenged before the Federal Court, relevant material from the corresponding case file is disclosed to the Court and to the parties involved. Retention and Disposal Standards: Information in this bank is retained for ten years and is then transferred to the National Archives of Canada for archival purposes. RD Number: 94/032 TBS Registration: 005321 Bank Number: HRT PPU 001

Professional and Personal Service Contracts

Description: This bank contains information relating to the procurement and implementation of contracts and any correspondence with holders of contracts. Class of Individuals: General public, individuals engaged under contract. Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to maintain a record concerning professional and personal service contracts and to record payments made to individuals engaged under contract with the Tribunal. Consistent Uses: To support decisions relating to the selection of qualified individuals to provide personal and professional services. Retention and Disposal Standards: The information in this bank is retained for five years and is then transferred to the National Archives of Canada. RD Number: 94/032 TBS Registration: 005322 Bank Number: HRT PPU 120

Description: This bank contains biographies and other information relating to individuals appointed to the Tribunal/Tribunal Panel, including employment histories, addresses, phone numbers, fees and travel expense claims etc. Class of Individuals: Individuals appointed to the Tribunal/Tribunal Panel by order of the Governor in Council. Purpose: To retain a personnel record of members of the Tribunal/Tribunal Panel and their experience related to human rights issues. Consistent Uses: This information would be used to deal with outstanding claims by members for fees, expenses, etc. and to contact inactive members to deal with outstanding issues arising out of cases. Biographical information of current members is made available on the Canadian Human Rights Tribunal website.

Retention and Disposal Standards: The information in this bank is retained for five years after the expiry of each member's term, then transferred to the National Archives of Canada for archival purposes. RD Number: 94/032 TBS Registration: 005323 Bank Number: HRT PPU 110

In the course of conducting the general programs and activities of the Tribunal, categories of personal information may be accumulated which are not contained in the specific personal information banks described above. Such personal information may consist of compliments, complaints (other than complaints made under the CHRA and referred by the Commission), suggestions, opinions, proposals, enquiries, mailing lists and other correspondence which may include names, addresses, telephone numbers, etc. This type of information is not normally retrievable by the name of an individual or other personal identifier. It can be located only if specific and sufficient details are provided concerning the event or activity of interest. The retention period of this information is controlled by the records disposal schedules of the general subject files in which they are stored.

Canadian Institutes of Health Research

Chapter 32

General Information

Background

CIHR (Canadian Institutes of Health Research) is the major federal agency responsible for funding health research in Canada. The CIHR concept is an innovative one - a multi-disciplinary approach organized through a framework of thirteen "virtual" institutes, each dedicated to a specific research area, linking and supporting researchers pursuing common goals. Institutes bring together researchers who approach health challenges from different disciplinary perspectives, drawing on the combined strengths of these approaches. The four pillars of CIHR include biomedical, clinical science, health systems and services, and the social, cultural and other factors that affect the health of populations. CIHR Institutes are not centralized "bricks and mortar" facilities, they are "virtual" organizations that fund researchers located in universities, hospitals and other research centres across Canada. CIHR Institutes are a source of scientific leadership establishing priorities that facilitate research efforts in Canada.

Responsibilities

According to the Canadian Institutes of Health Research Act, the objective of the CIHR is to excel, according to internationally accepted standards of scientific excellence, in the creation of new knowledge and its translation into improved health for Canadians, more effective health services and products and a strengthened Canadian health care system.

The institutes promote and build upon Canada's firm foundation of research excellence. They engage the research community and encourage interdisciplinary, integrative health research. Through their Scientific Directors and Institute Advisory Boards and under the guidance of the Governing Council, they work together to forge a health research agenda across disciplines, sectors, and regions that embraces scientific opportunity and reflects the emerging health needs of Canadians, the evolution of the health care system and the information needs of health policy decision-makers. They facilitate partnerships and accelerate the transfer of new knowledge into benefits for Canadians.

Legislation

- Canadian Institutes of Health Research Act, Chapter 6, Statutes of Canada 2000

Organization

CIHR is run by a President and a Governing Council of 19 members. The Governing Council sets the overall strategic direction, goals and policies. It establishes, maintains, and terminates Health Research Institutes and determines the mandate of each. As outlined in the legislation, the Governing Council is responsible for the management of the CIHR, including:

- developing its strategic directions, goals and policies;
- evaluating its overall performance, including with respect to achievement of its objective;
- approving its budget;
- establishing a peer review process for research proposals made to the CIHR;
- approving funding for research;
- approving other expenditures to carry out its objective;
- establishing policies respecting consulting and collaborating with persons and organizations that have an interest in health research; and
- dealing with any other matter that the Governing Council considers related to the affairs of the CIHR.

Thirteen research Institutes have been created in the areas of Aboriginal Peoples' Health, Aging, Cancer Research, Circulatory and Respiratory Health, Genetics, Gender and Health, Health Services and Policy Research, Human Development, Child and Youth Health, Infection and Immunity, Musculoskeletal Health and Arthritis, Nutrition, Metabolism and Diabetes, Neurosciences, Mental Health and Addiction, Population and Public Health.

Led by Scientific Directors and guided by the wisdom of Institute Advisory Boards composed of various health stakeholders, Institutes encourage researchers, voluntary health organizations, government and other partners to work together to shape the Canadian research agenda and translate research findings into practice within Canada's health system.

All applications for Grants and Awards are subject to a rigorous peer review process by volunteer committees of experts in their fields. Successful applications are approved by Council. Day to day CIHR activities are conducted by a Secretariat of approximately 250 employees located in Ottawa.

Secretariat

The secretariat, which has the general responsibility for the administration of the Mandate, is divided into an Ethics branch and four portfolios under the direction of four Vice-Presidents:

♦ Ethics

Responsible for ethics in Research.

♦ Corporate Affairs Portfolio

Governance

Responsible for coordination of activities and meetings of Governing Council and various Executive Committees involved in corporate governance of CIHR.

Corporate Performance Management

Responsible for evaluation and audit of CIHR

Corporate Planning and Policy

Marketing and Communications

Responsible for promoting the nature, scope and significance of health research in Canada.

♦ Service and Operations Portfolio

Finance and Administration

IM/IT

Responsible for web service, records management and Information Technology Services

Human Resources

♦ Partnerships and Knowledge Translation Portfolio

Partnerships

Responsible for initiating and maintaining strategic alliances and partnerships between CIHR, related federal, provincial and municipal agencies and voluntary and non-for profit organizations.

◆ Research Portfolio

Knowledge Creation Programs

Description: Information related to a series of CIHR's programs designed to support research projects and salaries of scientists. Topics: Grants and awards.

Access: Files arranged by name of principal applicant.

Storage Medium: Computerized data base and paper case files Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 285

Career Investigators

Description: Originally called the Associateship Program, the Career Investigators program was established in 1956 as a means of providing funds for salaries of a limited number of individuals of outstanding ability and training who made research a full-time career. No new appointments are being made by the CIHR. Career investigators appointed in 1975 and earlier will continue in their appointment, subject to the terms and conditions under which they accepted the award. Topics: Individual's career investigator application; committee decision; administration of the award; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 055

Clinical Trials

Description: CIHR will consider the funding of clinical trials which assess, in a rigorous manner the efficacy of diagnostic and therapeutic procedures, as well as workshops or meetings of the prospective participants. CIHR will not provide support for the sole purpose of satisfying regulatory requirements. Topics: Applications; reviews by external referees; committee assessment; notification and administration of grants; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 160

Clinician-Scientist

Description: The Clinician-Scientist Award is offered to highly qualified and motivated clinicians who have been identified by a Canadian medical or dental school as having strong potential to become clinician-scientists. At the time of application, candidates will have recently completed their specialty clinical training (or will shortly do so). They should be undertaking, or intend to undertake, research training to be followed by a career as a clinician-scientist. Topics: Applications; committee assessment; notification and administration of the award; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 165

Collaborative Genomics Special Project Grants

Description: This program was designed to provide support for research by teams of three or more investigators carrying out an integrated program of genomics research. Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the grant; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 305

Doctoral Research Awards

Description: Doctoral Research Awards are intended to provided special recognition and support to students who are pursuing a doctoral degree in the health sciences in Canada. Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the award; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 300

Equipment Grants

Description: Applications for Equipment Grants will be considered in relation to the proposed science of the project for which the equipment is required. Where equipment is required for a project for which an application is being submitted for an operating grant, the equipment should be included in it. A separate equipment application is required only in a year where an application for operating funds has not been made. Topics: Applications; reviews by external referees; committee assessment; notification and administration of grants; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 020

Fields of Research

Description: Information on areas peripheral to medical research for which CIHR has some responsibility. Topics: Research in the fields of dentistry; schools of pharmacy; psychology; occupational health and safety; gerontology; surgery and veterinary medicine; space research; mental research; general correspondence. Access: File arranged by subject. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 115

Fund for Research in the Fields of Dyskinesia and Torticollis

Description: CIHR has responsibility for administering a fund for research in the fields of dyskinesia and torticollis. The fund was established by an anonymous donor and the income derived from it is to be used for the support of research, either basic or clinical or both, in the broad field of movement disorders known as dyskinesia and more particularly for research in the movement disorder known as torticollis. Topics:

Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the grant; general correspondence.

Access: Information arranged by name of applicant.

Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 111

General Research Grants

Description: Grants made each year to the dean of each school of medicine, dentistry, and pharmacy, to be used for the support of research at the discretion of the dean, except for the stipulation that they not be used for the payment or supplementation of salaries of academic personnel, construction costs or overhead expenses.

Topics: Notification of the grant to the dean; financial statement; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by university. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 045

Groups

Description: CIHR groups provide full support for teams of accomplished investigators who wish to develop collaborative programs in what appear to be especially productive areas. The members of a group are expected to devote their entire research effort to the program of the group and to be free of the ordinary responsibilities of a faculty member. Topics: Application of group director and colleagues; executive and Governing Council decisions; administration of the group; general correspondence.

Access: Information arranged by name of applicant.

Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 030

Health Professional Student Research Awards (formerly known as the Burroughs Wellcome Fund Student Research Awards)

Description: A number of Awards will be provided each year to each Canadian School of medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, pharmacy, optometry, nursing, midwifery, audiology, speech language pathology, dietetics, occupational therapy, chiropractic and clinical psychology programs to enable health professional students to gain exposure to research at any time throughout the year. Topics: Deans' reports; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 085

Institutional Establishment and Development Grant

Description: To increase the capacity of all Canadian research institutions to undertake excellent health research. Accordingly, it announces a one-time opportunity for Institutional Grants, With two specific objectives:

- Establishment Grants: To facilitate the recruitment to Canadian institutions of excellent international health researchers, or Canadian citizens who have established their reputation for excellence in health research through careers developed outside Canada.
- Development Grants: To permit underdeveloped institutions to undertake activities which will increase their competitiveness in applications for CIHR funding.

Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the grant; general correspondence.

Access: Information arranged by name of applicant.

Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 345

Intellectual Property Management Program

Description: Accelerate the transfer of knowledge and technology residing in Canadian universities and hospitals for the benefit of Canada. IPM grants are intended to strengthen the ability of these institutions to manage their intellectual property, to attract potential users and to promote the professional development of intellectual property personnel. The ultimate goal is to contribute to the strengthening of Canada's competitiveness in a knowledge-based global economy. A joint participation with the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council (NSERC) and the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC).

Topics: Individual's application to NSERC; committee decision; administration of the grant; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 405

Interdisciplinary Health Research Teams (IHRTs)

Description: Interdisciplinary Health Research Teams (IHRTs) will consist of five or more researchers who will pool their expertise, different perspectives, and resources to address or resolve an important health research issue. Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the grant; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 320

International Scientific Exchange

Description: CIHR participates in a number of exchange programs each with a separate agreement, which are intended to foster collaboration between scientists in Canada and those in Argentina, Brazil, the People's Republic of China, France and Italy. Topics: Applications; reviews by external referees; committee assessment; notification and administration of grants; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 185

Investigators

Description: This program provides salary support for independent investigators who have made outstanding contributions and have demonstrated leadership in their field. It is intended for health researchers who, early in their career, have developed a reputation for excellence in research. A candidate must hold either a health professional degree, or a PhD degree (or the equivalent). Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the award; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 060

Maintenance Grants

Description: The costs of maintaining instruments that are not shared facilities should be included as part of an application for operating funds. CIHR will consider applications for the maintenance of equipment used by a single investigator in a year when an application for operating funds is not being submitted. Topics: Applications; reviews by external referees; committee assessment; notification and administration of grants; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 025

Maintenance Grants for Multi-User Equipment

Description: CIHR will consider applications for Maintenance Grants to cover the costs of maintaining facilities which are shared by groups of researchers within a department, faculty, university or region. The number of investigators is unlimited and it must be clear that multiple research programs will benefit from the maintenance requested. Facilities such as electron microscopes, analytical ultracentrifuges and gas-liquid chromatography/ mass spectrometer systems that are operated under the general supervision of the applicant (but not necessarily requiring the active collaboration of the applicant in the various projects for which the facility is to be used), are appropriate for Maintenance Grants for Multi-User Equipment. Topics: Applications; reviews by external referees; committee assessment; notification and administration of grant; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 175

MD/PHD Studentships

Description: Studentships are offered to students who are registered in a combined MD/PHD program at one of the following institutions: British Columbia, Calgary, Dalhousie, McGill, Montreal, Toronto or Western Ontario. Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the award; general

correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 080

Michael Smith Award for Excellence

Description: In 1993, Dr. Michael Smith shared the Nobel prize for chemistry for discovering and developing a crucial technique, known as site-directed mutagenesis, used in genetic engineering. His discovery enabled researchers to gain enormous insights into the structure and function of genes and proteins. To honour Dr. Smith, CIHR has established the Michael Smith Award for Excellence. Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the award; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 245

Multi-User Equipment Grants

Description: CIHR will consider applications for multi-user equipment grants to augment the research capabilities for a large number of funded investigators within an institution or region. The number of investigators is unlimited and it must be clear that multiple research programs will benefit from the equipment requested. Examples are electron microscope facilities, imaging, spectroscopy, DNA/protein sequence-synthesis capabilities. Topics: Applications; reviews by external referees; committee assessment; notification and administration of grants; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 180

New Investigators

Description: This program is intended to provide the opportunity for new investigators to develop and demonstrate their independence in initiating and conducting health research. A candidate must hold a health professional degree, or a PhD degree (or the equivalent), must have shown promise of attaining competence as an independent investigator, and should in normal circumstances not be registered for a higher degree at the time of application or undertake such studies during the period of the appointment. Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the award; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 065

Operating Grants

Description: Information about operating grants to provide support for new or continuing research activities by individuals or small groups of investigators working in collaboration. Topics: Applications; reviews by external referees; committee assessment; notification and administration of grants; general correspondence.

Access: Information arranged by name of applicant.

Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 010

Opportunity Program

Description: The Opportunity Program will support workshops, consensus conferences, strategic planning exercises and similar activities. Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the grant; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 315

Partnerships

Description: Information related to CIHR's Partnership Research Program which aim to increase the number of grants, awards for training and other forms of salary support. Topics: Various agreements between CIHR and Pharmaceutical companies, non-profit Organizations and Government. See CIHR web site for complete listing of Agreements. (www.cihr.ca) Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 240

Postdoctoral Fellowships

Description: Postdoctoral Fellowships provide support for highly qualified candidates to add to their experience by engaging in research either in Canada or abroad. A candidate must hold, or be completing, either a PhD or a health professional degree (or equivalent) in a field such as medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, optometry, veterinary medicine, chiropractic, nursing or rehabilitative science. Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the award; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 075

President's Fund

Description: Information related to funds made available for grants and awards in support of projects that cannot benefit from the assistance available under the CIHR's regular programs. Topics: Individual's request; decision; administration; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 270

Proof of Principle Program

Description: The objective of the Proof of Principle (POP) program is to facilitate and improve the efficiency of the commercial transfer to knowledge and technology resulting from CIHR-funded grants and awards. The POP program grants are for the support of research projects designed to establish proof of principle of an invention/discovery and thus ascertain and better enable and/or improve the resulting economic benefit. Topics: Individual's applications; reviews by external referees; committee assessment; notification and administration of grants; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 330

Research Survey

Description: Information on surveys established by CIHR to gather general statistical data on selected aspects of the research community for use by CIHR in determining the research requirements of the health science community across Canada. Topics: Graduate students; medical research support; research personnel; research trainees; research costs; health science research funding; academic degrees; fellowships and scholarships from other agencies; tropical and infectious diseases. Access: File arranged by subject. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 120

Science Writer Scholarships

Description: CIHR has established scholarships at both undergraduate and graduate levels to increase the number of Canadian science writers engaged in communicating the findings and implications of health research. Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the award; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 365

Senior Investigators

Description: This program is designed to contribute to the salary of investigators of exceptional merit who are leaders in their field. Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of award; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 255

Senior Research Fellowships

Description: Senior Research Fellowships are offered to outstanding candidates who have been identified by a Canadian institution as having strong potential to become an independent investigator. The program has two phases: Phase 1 (Training) provides a stipend for up to two years of support and a research and travel allowance. Phase 2 (Salary) provides a contribution to the salary of the recipient for two years plus a research allowance and fringe benefits. Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the award; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 070

Short-term Exchange Grant

Description: Designed to facilitate cross-disciplinary training opportunities by providing financial support primarily to biomedical and health-associated researchers, for short-term (three months maximum) exchange visits to appropriate research centres for specialized training. Topics: Applications; reviews by the Institute of Genetics; committee assessment; notification and administration of grants; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 410

Special Projects

Description: CIHR will consider projects in those subject areas which do not fall within the terms of reference of the Operating Grants Program. A preliminary proposal, in the form of a letter, should be made, providing the title of the project, a clear description of its objectives, the name(s) of the applicant(s), the amount requested and the anticipated duration of support required. Topics: Applications; reviews by external referees; committee assessment; notification and administration of grants; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 195

Strategic Programs

Description: Strategic Programs refer to research funding and/or training initiatives related to CIHR priorities and designed to contribute to CIHR strategic initiatives. Strategic programs, particularly CIHR Institute funding opportunities are launched through Requests for Applications (RFAs) four times a year. Topics: Here is the list of the RFAs: Aboriginal Capacity and Developmental Research Environments (ACADRE). Career Transition Award. Celera Genome Database Grant. Child and Youth Health. Clinical Investigatorship Award. Clinician Scientists in Infectious Disease. Diabetes. Diabetes Surveillance System (NDSS) Grant. Excellence, Innovation and Advancement in the Study of Obesity and Healthy Body Weight. Fetal Alcohol Syndrome and Fetal Alcohol Effect. Financing Health Care in the Face of Changing Public Expectations. Global Health Research Program Development and Planning Grants. Health Professionals undertaking research – Post Doctoral Awards. HIV/AIDS. Improving Access to Appropriate Health Services for Marginalized Groups. Innovative Projects. Injuries and Accidents. Institutional Establishment Grants – Repatriation of outstanding researchers in circulatory and respiratory health. Interdisciplinary Capacity Enhancement Teams Grant (ICE). Invention – Tools, Techniques and Devices for Research and Medicine. Jessie Boyd & Charles Scriver MD/PHD Studentship Award. Knowledge Translation Strategies for Health Research. Needs, Gaps, Opportunities Assessment Grant in the Area of Microbial Contamination of Food and Water and Anti-Microbial Resistance. New Discoveries. New Emerging Team (NET) Grant Program in the area Antimicrobial Resistance, Health System Implications and Health Outcomes. New Frontiers Program. New Perspectives on Gender and Health. Novel Population Genetic and Genetic Epidemiological Methods for Studies of Complex Genetic Diseases. Operating Grants. Pilot Projects. Proof of Principle Initiative. Reducing Health Disparities and Promoting the Health of Vulnerable Populations. Strategic Initiative on Healthy Gametes and Great Embryos. Strategic Training Initiative in Health Research. Translation Acceleration Grants Program for Breast Cancer Control. Understanding and Addressing the Impacts of Physical and Social Environments on Health. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 500

The Michael Smith Awards for Research Personnel

Description: In 1993, Dr. Michael Smith was honoured with the Nobel Prize for Chemistry for his discovery and development of a crucial technique, known as site-directed mutagenesis, used in genetic engineering. His discovery enabled researchers to gain enormous insights into the structure and function of genes and proteins. Throughout his career, Dr. Smith strongly encouraged young people to pursue science as a career, and he has used his prize to promote science, encourage women to pursue interests in science and support research on severe mental illnesses, especially schizophrenia. In honouring Dr. Smith's scientific accomplishments and is lifelong promotion of science, CIHR offers Doctoral Research Award, Postdoctoral Fellowship and New Investigator awards in his name. These awards are offered to outstanding individuals whose research focus is the molecular genetics of the central nervous system with application to severe mental illnesses, especially schizophrenia. Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the award; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 250

Training Program Grants

Description: CIHR wishes to encourage transdisciplinary, integrative health research, in part through the training of the next generation of researchers, and to increase the capacity of Canada's health research enterprise to address important research questions in all areas of health research. To achieve these strategic objectives in health research training, CIHR has developed a new funding mechanism, the CIHR Training Program Grant. A CIHR Training Program consists of a group of excellent mentors/educators, accomplished in health research, who work collaboratively to offer a research training program of defined format and content to a group of trainees. Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the grant; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 325

Tri-Council Workshop/Networking Program

Description: The objective of this program is to help the research community to plan collaborative research projects which will be submitted to CIHR and health-related programs of the granting councils. Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the grant; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 310

Workshops and Symposia

Description: As part of its program for research in the health sciences, CIHR is prepared to support a limited number of applications for the support of workshops and certain types of symposia held in Canada. Topics: Individual's application; committee decision; administration of the grant; general correspondence. Access: Information arranged by name of applicant. Storage Medium: Computerized database and paper case files. Program Record Number: CIHR CIHR 112

Personal Information Banks

◆ Governance

Membership of Governing Council and Committees

Description: This bank contains letters nominating individuals for service on Governing Council and its committees, letters of invitation, thank you letters and Conflict of Interest Acknowledgement. The information is used to assist in the selection and appointment of members. The membership of Governing Council and Committees is made public. Persons requesting access should provide name, affiliation, name of committee and date of membership. Class of Individuals: Members of the health science community, federal employees and members of the public. Purpose: The information is used to assist in the selection and appointment of members for the membership of Governing Council and its Committees. Retention and Disposal Standards: Files in this bank are retained for eight years: active two years and dormant six years. They are then transferred to the National Archives of Canada for selective retention. RDA Number: 95/020 TBS Registration: 000528 Bank Number: CIHR PPU 020

◆ Ethics

Compliance- Integrity in Research and Scholarship

Description: This bank includes correspondence and reports collected and generated in the course of monitoring institutional and individual compliance with the Tri-Council Policy Statement on Integrity in Research and Scholarship. It may include allegations of non-compliance, requests from CIHR to research institutions to explore allegations, summaries of institutional findings and sanctions imposed by CIHR or Universities. Class of Individuals: Individuals who make allegations about breaches of the Tri-Council Policy Statement on Integrity in Research and Scholarship, individuals who are the subject of allegations, officials in research institution or in the academic community involved in determining whether allegations are well-founded. Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to monitor the compliance of research institutions and individual researchers with the Tri-Council Policy Statement on Integrity in Research and Scholarship. Retention and Disposal

Standards: Five years after the last administrative action. Summary Information related to sanctions maintained for the duration of the sanction. Related to PR#: CIHR CIHR 275 TBS Registration: 003980 Bank Number: CIHR PPU 050

◆ Services and Operations

Access Request Data Bank

Description: This bank contains access requests submitted to CIHR under the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act. It also contains replies to such requests and information related to their processing.

Class of Individuals: Applicants under the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act. Purpose: This information is used for the administration of the above Acts. It is used for processing access requests only, and to report on the number of access requests received annually. Retention and Disposal

Standards: Files are maintained for two years following the last administrative action. RDA Number: 86/001 TBS Registration: 001610 Bank Number: CIHR PPU 035

Applicants' History Sheets and Notification of Award

Description: This bank contains Applicants' History Sheets for individuals, which are kept in the Programs Branch. These sheets, which are cumulative over the life of the program, are identified by the applicant's name and file number. They also contain information such as the title of the grant application, amount requested and funded or rejected. The Finance Section also keeps copies of notifications of awards, which contain the applicant's name, address, university, grant number and amount awarded. This information relates to investigators holding an academic appointment in a Canadian Health Science Faculty, and Research Trainees. This information is used to maintain a history of the CIHR's financial support to individuals. Consistent uses are to provide historical data which assist the peer review process. Class of Individuals: Investigators holding an academic appointment in a Canadian School of medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, nursing, optometry, or pharmacy. Purpose: This bank is used to identify applicants and to constitute a history of CIHR support to individuals and organizations. Retention and Disposal Standards: The bank is updated annually. RDA Number: 95/020 TBS Registration: 003368 Bank Number: CIHR PPU 045

Application for Employment File

Description: The purpose of this bank is to maintain a record of information relating to applications for employment received from the general public. This bank contains completed application forms, letters and curricula vitae of persons interested in working for the CIHR. Access to this bank will require name, address and date of birth. Class of Individuals: General public.

Purpose: It is used to select candidates for Canadian Institutes of Health Research when vacancies arise.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained for two years and then destroyed. RDA Number: 86/001 TBS Registration: 000669 Bank Number: CIHR PPU 030

◆ Partnership and Knowledge Translation Portfolio

Partnerships Grants and Awards Application and Assessment Records

Description: This bank contains supporting documentation of proposed projects and of individual applications for funding under one of the several Partnership programs sponsored by the CIHR. It contains applications, third-party assessments, committee assessments, site visit-reports, and training, travel and financial administration details on the support of successful applicants. Individuals identified are those applicants meeting the criteria for each program, as amended from time to time, and published in the Canadian Institutes of Health Research's Grants and Awards Guide. Class of Individuals: This information relates to investigators holding an academic appointment in a faculty of health science in a Canadian university, or employees of a company (the term "company" is understood to mean an organization, industry or consortium which produces health care products or services). Purpose: This information is used to evaluate the relative merits of the proposals (with the purpose of funding or not funding) and for observing the progress of those proposals that are funded. Consistent Uses: CIHR also uses information in this bank to identify prospective referees and committee members, to evaluate its programs, and to produce statistics and planning information. Some data is shared between the CIHR and participants in this program. Retention and Disposal Standards: Files in this bank are retained for eight years: active two years after termination or rejection of special program and dormant six years. They are then transferred to the National Archives of Canada for selective retention.

◆ Research Portfolio

Grants Applicants and Committee Records

Description: The purpose of this bank is to maintain a record of the applications and assessment records of health scientists applying for funding of research projects by CIHR. It contains the relevant Canadian Institutes of Health Research application form and supporting data presented by the applicant, referee and committee assessments of the project, the ranking awarded, the decision of CIHR, and if successful, the financial and administrative data pertaining to its support. Individuals identified are those making project proposals to CIHR. Class of Individuals: Investigators holding an academic appointment in a Canadian School of medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, nursing, optometry, or pharmacy. Purpose: Information in the bank is evaluated to assess the relative merit of the proposal for the purpose of funding or not funding the project. Consistent Uses: Information in the bank provides the basis for planning and budgeting of health sciences research activities by CIHR, and is useful in the monitoring of the peer review system. Information is shared with the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council (SER PPU 004) and the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SHR PPU 015, 020). The results of competitions are forwarded to university research administration officers and Dean's Offices who are responsible for processing application from their institutions before sending them to CIHR, for administering the grants and for informing the candidates of the outcome of their applications.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Files in this bank are retained for eight years: active two years after termination or rejection of grant and dormant six years. They are then transferred to the National Archives of Canada for selective retention. RDA Number: 95/020 Related to PR#: CIHR CIHR 010, 015, 020, 025, 030, 045, 160, 240, 245, 320, 325, 330, 335, 340, 345, 350, 355, 360, 370, 375, 385, 390, 395, 400 405 TBS Registration: 000525 Bank Number: CIHR PPU 005

Awards Applicants and Committee Records

Description: This bank contains records of individual applications for funding under one of several personnel support programs sponsored by the CIHR. It contains applications, third-party appraisals, committee assessments, training, travel and financial administration details on the support of successful applicants. Individuals identified are those applicants meeting the criteria for each program as amended from time to time and published in the Canadian Institutes of Health Research Grants and Awards Guide. Class of Individuals: Research trainees with BSC, MD, DDS, DVM, MSC, PhD, and D. Pharmacy professors holding an appointment in university or affiliated institutions. Purpose: Information in this data bank is used to assess the education and other requirements necessary to meet the criteria of the applicable program, and to evaluate the merits of the application for funding. Consistent Uses: Information in the bank provides the basis for planning and budgeting of health sciences research activities by the CIHR, and is useful in the monitoring of the peer review system. Information is shared with the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council (SER PPU 015) and the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SHR PPU 010). The social insurance number is required from the recipients of certain awards to comply with the Income Tax Act. The results of competitions are forwarded to university research administration officers and Dean's Offices who are responsible for processing application from their institutions before sending them to CIHR, for administering the grants and for informing the candidates of the outcome of their applications.

Lists of External Referees

Description: This bank contains names, affiliation and mailing address of individuals, in Canada and abroad, who are asked by the CIHR to review proposals for grants and awards. The information is used to select external referees for research proposals. Persons requesting access should provide field of research, name and affiliation. Class of Individuals: Members of the health science community in Canada and abroad.

Purpose: The information is used to select external referees for research proposals. Retention and Disposal Standards: The information is retained until superseded by updates or withdrawals of individuals. Withdrawn referee names are kept for two years (active) and six years dormant for reference purposes and then transferred to National Archives of Canada for selective retention. RDA Number: 95/020 TBS Registration: 000668 Bank Number: CIHR PPU 025

Special Programs Application, Assessment Records and Other Programs

Description: The purpose of this file is to provide supporting documentation of proposed projects for funding by the Canadian Institutes of Health Research. It contains applications, third-party assessments, and administrative correspondence in the funding of successful projects. Some files identify individuals of the health services scientific community making proposals to CIHR. Class of Individuals: Investigators holding an academic appointment in a Canadian School of medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, nursing, optometry, or pharmacy. Purpose: Information in the bank is used to evaluate the relative merits of the proposals with the purpose of funding or not funding and for observing the progress of those that are funded. Consistent Uses: Information in the bank provides the basis for planning and budgeting of health sciences research activities by the CIHR, and is useful in the monitoring of the peer review system. Information is shared with the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SHR PPU 025) and Health Canada (HCan PPU 105). Canadian International Development Agency

Chapter 33

General Information

Background

The Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA) supports the sustainable development in developing countries in order to reduce poverty and to contribute to a more secure, equitable and prosperous world.

Responsibilities

CIDA is the federal agency responsible for implementing Canada's Official Development Assistance (ODA) program and for administering most of the ODA budget. CIDA's aid program is administered through a number of aid delivery channels: bilateral (government-to-government) assistance, multilateral development institutions, and supports the development activities of non-governmental organizations (NGOs) and the private sector.

Legislation

- Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade
- Financial Administration Act
- International Development (Financial Institutions) Continuing Assistance Act

Organization

The Agency is headed by the President who reports directly to the Minister for International Cooperation. The Senior Vice-President, the Secretary General, eight Vice-Presidents, two Directors General, and one Chief Information Officer assist the President. These branches are: Africa and Middle East, Americas, Asia, Canadian Partnership, Central and Eastern Europe, Communications, Human Resources and Corporate Services, Information Management and Technology, Multilateral Programs, Performance Review and Policy.

The Corporate Secretariat is responsible for the coordination of four executive committees and forums, the executive correspondence and requests received under the Access to Information and Privacy Acts. It is also responsible for the activities related to Parliamentary Relations and Cabinet Liaison.

In addition, the President, the Executive Committee and the Agency are supported by two Secretariats responsible for providing advice with respect to transformation and renewal within the Agency. These Secretariats are the Knowledge Management Secretariat and the Business Transformation Unit.

The role of the Knowledge Management Secretariat is to facilitate, support and advise CIDA with respect to the transformation of CIDA into a knowledge-based learning organization.

The Business Transformation Unit (BTU) has been mandated to provide perspective, analysis and support to the Executive Committee for the processes of organizational renewal underway within CIDA. CIDA's future and relevance depends on how it adapts to the changing world of development co-operation. The cooperative objective: to improve the Agency's ability to integrate lessons learned from its 30 years of development cooperation experience and apply them systematically as good working practices from which we all can benefit, so as, ultimately to strengthen aid effectiveness.

♦ Policy Branch

Policy Branch formulates and maintains the ODA policy framework in support of the Agency's mandate and program priorities in the context of Canada's broader foreign policy objectives and interests. It monitors issues and trends in development assistance and provides strategic advice and information to the Minister, the Agency and other government departments on a wide range of long- and short-term development policy and strategic issues. The Branch also provides specialized expertise on scientific and technical matters and, in certain cases - e.g. environmental assessment - verifies Agency compliance with legislation.

Policy Branch takes the lead on strategic planning and management of the International Assistance Envelope. At the domestic level, the Branch works closely with other departments and agencies on policy research and development, as well as on issues management, to ensure that government policy reflects the full diversity of Canada's relationships with developing countries. At the international level, the Branch focuses on improving the co-ordination of Canadian development policies with those of other donor countries - e.g., through the Development Assistance Committee of the OECD. Policy Branch also helps to represent Canada's interests in international fora and verifies that relevant international commitments undertaken by Canada are reflected in the government's international development policies.

Policy Branch includes five Directorates: (1) Policy Analysis and Development Directorate; (2) Scientific, Technical and Advisory Services Directorate; (3) Social Policies Directorate; (4) Corporate Planning and Co-ordination Directorate; and (5) Human Development Directorate.

◆ Performance Review Branch

Helps improve CIDA's management performance and development effectiveness, through its internal audit, evaluation and Results-Based management activities. Performance Review provides assurance, independent and objective information and advice to management on the continued relevance, success and cost-effectiveness of key CIDA policies, programs and projects, and on the effectiveness of the management systems, processes and practices. It also provides methodological support to branches on performance measurement as well as on the development and implementation of performance measurement frameworks.

◆ Canadian Partnership Branch

The Canadian Partnership Branch (CPB) manages CIDA's relationships with a broad diversity of Canadian and international organizations involved in development activities worldwide. Its mandate is to promote mutually beneficial partnerships between Canadian and developing country organizations to support sustainable development and reduce poverty in the developing world.

The programs of the Canadian Partnership Branch respond to initiatives of Canadian organizations in accordance with Canada's foreign policy priorities. A principal distinguishing feature of CPB programming is its responsiveness. CPB's Canadian partners are responsible for the planning and implementation of their own policies, programs and projects in collaboration with their developing country partners. Another distinguishing feature of CPB's programming is cost sharing. All Canadian and developing country partner organizations are required to contribute resources to their development initiatives. The funds available to CPB represent approximately 15 percent of CIDA's budget.

A final feature is the sheer magnitude of Canadian participation in terms of the number of activities, the diversity of programs and projects funded, and the involvement of Canadians from all walks of life. At any given time, CPB maintains relationships with more than 1,000 Canadian partner organizations and private sector firms, supporting more than 1300 projects and programs in virtually every sector in over 130 developing countries. Canadian partners include private firms, business associations, non-governmental development organizations, universities and colleges, volunteer sending agencies, municipalities, professional associations, cooperatives, unions, and environmental groups.

The Canadian Partnership Branch is divided into five specialized divisions to deal with its diverse partners: the Industrial Cooperation Program Division for the business community; the Institutional Co-operation

Division for educational institutions, professional associations, membership organizations, cooperatives and unions; the Non-Governmental Organizations (NGO) Division for non-profit organizations whose main focus is international development; the Youth Action Division; and the Policy, Strategic Planning and Operations Division.

◆ Multilateral Programmes Branch

CIDA funds for multilateral programs are channelled through United Nations agencies and other international development organizations. In addition, CIDA and the Department of Finance provide funds to international financial institutions (IFIs) such as the Regional Development Banks and the World Bank. While the organizations are responsible for the administration of projects, Canada participates in their governing bodies to ensure that the organizations are operating within appropriate policy and operational guidelines, and that they meet Canada's interests and those of the international community as a whole. The Multilateral Branch is composed of five divisions.

◆ Central and Eastern Europe Branch

The Central and Eastern Europe Branch focuses on supporting democratic development and economic liberalization in Central and Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union, by building mutually beneficial partnerships. Within this overall framework of promoting Canadian global interests and security, including nuclear safety, the Central and Eastern Europe Program aims to assist the transition to market-based economies; to facilitate Canadian trade and investment links with the region; and to encourage good governance, democracy and adherence to international norms.

The program works through partnerships, which transfer knowledge, skills and technology between Canadian organizations and those in the recipient country. In this way, Canada is helping the countries of Central and Eastern Europe reorient their human resources, build and adapt key institutions, and develop the policies needed to run a stable market economy and modern democracy - and, ultimately, to attract more foreign trade and investment. The program also aims to improve the safety of Soviet-designed nuclear power stations and continues to provide humanitarian assistance in countries such as Bosnia.

Canada has funded a program in Central and Eastern Europe since 1989, but it is only since 1995 that CIDA has delivered this assistance on behalf of Canadians. The special budget for helping countries in transition is in addition to, and separate from, the official development assistance (ODA) budget.

◆ Africa and Middle East Branch

CIDA's Africa and Middle East Branch is headed by a Vice-president and is subdivided into ten divisions: Policy, Strategic Planning and Technical Services; Management Services and Employee Development; North Africa and Middle East; Sahel and Ivory Coast; Atlantic West Africa; Gulf of Guinea Region; Southern Africa; Eastern Africa and the Horn of Africa; Central Africa and Great Lakes; and Panafrican Program and Francophonie.

The policies and strategies developed for cooperation with Africa and the Middle East complement Canada's foreign policy objectives and are in line with the specific mandate of CIDA. The Branch has two principle objectives: poverty reduction and the promotion of peace and security.

◆ Americas Branch

The Americas Region consists of 35 developing countries, organized by the Americas Branch into the following four geographic divisions: the Caribbean; Haiti, Cuba and the Dominican Republic; Central America; South America and the Inter-American programme. In addition, for programme management and policy co-ordination purposes, the Branch has a Policy, Planning and Management Division.

The Americas Region is highly diverse geographically, developmentally, and with respect to resource distribution. ODA (CIDA?) supports development activities that promote social development, political, economic, social and environmental sustainability with a strategy of pursuing equitable development for increased economic growth and poverty reduction. Sectors of involvement include: health, water and sanitation, education, child protection, agriculture, economic development, environment, forestry, fisheries, transport, energy, telecommunications, and mining. Activities in the area of social development, institutional support, and industrial co-operation can be funded through Bilateral, Multilateral, and Partnership channels and implemented by Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs), Non-Governmental Institutions (NGIs), and private sector enterprises. CIDA also supports small development projects in almost all countries through the Canada Fund for Local Initiatives. CIDA promotes equality between women and men through all of its activities as well as through regional gender equality funds.

◆ Asia Branch

The principal role of Asia Branch is to plan, develop and implement Canada's bilateral development co-operation program in Asia by matching Canadian capabilities and resources with the needs of recipient countries.

Under the direction of a Vice-president, Asia Branch comprises seven geographic programs as well as strategic policy planning and strategic management divisions. Each geographic program is responsible for the identification, development and management of development co-operation activities with one or several recipient countries.

The goal of Asia Branch is to promote growth with equity in Asia. It has adapted its programs and projects to meet the changing realities of the increasingly diverse economies of the region and therefore undertakes a wide range of specific development initiatives, from direct grassroots poverty reduction to helping governments improve economic and social policy frameworks, as well as helping Asian private sectors access expertise and technology from the Canadian private sector. Special attention is given to reinforcing national and regional security through support to better governance, democratic development and human rights activities.

The Branch implements projects across Asia by using contractors, consultants, non-governmental organizations (NGOs) and individual cooperants. Some projects, such as Canada Funds, are managed in Asia by High Commission or Embassy staff. There are approximately 450 ongoing projects, including 21 Canada Funds, across the range of CIDA's six priorities. Programming in the areas of basic human needs and human rights, good governance and democratic development account for more than 50% of the Branch's operational budget of approximately $230 million in 2001/2002. Other development priorities receiving strong support are governance, gender equality, environment and private sector development.

◆ Human Resources and Corporate Services Branch

The Human Resources and Corporate Services Branch role is to promote a qualified, productive and sustainable workforce as well as an enabling environment which encourages organizational effectiveness, service improvement and continuous learning in order to support the Agency in the pursuit of its mandate. It develops, implements, and encourages the use of corporate tools, mechanisms and practices in the sectors of human resources, administrative and security services, finance, contracting management; and, facilitates the adoption by the Agency of exemplary practices in these areas.

The Branch is responsible for the delivery of an array of user-driven programs and services for the Agency in the sectors of: human resources, administrative and security services, finance, and contracting management according to CIDA's plans and priorities. Constant provision of advice and support in these sectors must be assured while, at the same time, new and improved services and government-wide initiatives are implemented using new technology to facilitate the rapid access to services, information and tools.

◆ Information Management and Technology Branch

The Information Management and Technology Branch (IMTB) provides CIDA with corporate informatics support associated with information management, information technology and office automation. The Branch also helps CIDA identify valuable emerging technologies and information-management techniques, and integrate them with our own strategies.

The major strategic thrusts outlined in the IM/IT Strategy define IMTB's role:

- to help the Agency use technology to deliver projects and programs efficiently, effectively and through collaboration;
- to use technology to support CIDA's need to manage and capitalize on its relationships;
- to support CIDA's ability to leverage the Agency's investments, knowledge and experience to achieve greater impact; this must be done by facilitating the strategic implementation of subject and sector portals with technology-based environments that support collaboration and sharing with other stakeholders;
- to improve the capture, management of and access to CIDA's paper and electronic documents and records in order to make effective and efficient use of the information they hold; and
- to provide technological tools to enable all CIDA staff, regardless of location, to access, capture, retrieve and reuse Agency information.

These strategic thrusts complement the Agency's business objectives.

The Branch currently has five divisions.

◆ Communications Branch

Communications Branch works with broadcasters, independent producers and educators to produce television and radio programs about international development projects, issues and policies. We publish brochures on programs, information kits on new initiatives. We make available our collection of 100,000 photographic images that document Canada's role in international development.

We respond to calls from the media for information, and we respond to thousands of inquiries from Canadians—from schoolchildren, university students and business people. Through our Speakers' Program, senior CIDA staff meet with community leaders across the country. We organize media events with local partners in the regions to highlight their involvement in development projects.

Telling Canadians about the results of our aid program does make a difference.

◆ Policy Branch

Policy Analysis and Development Directorate

Description: The Policy Analysis and Development Directorate is responsible for developing and managing an integrated policy analysis, research and development capacity for the Agency. The Directorate provides leadership in the articulation of a vision for the Agency, and in the formulation of Agency policies across a wide-range of social and economic sectors, based on a solid foundation of research and analysis. In this capacity, the Directorate plays a leading role in representing the Agency in international fora and in the interdepartmental policy development process. Program Record Number: IDA YAD 1035

Strategic Policy Division

Description: Strategic Policy Division is responsible for providing strategic policy advice regarding the overall direction of the Agency to the Minister, President and Executive Committee. It is responsible for monitoring and analysing the changing context for international assistance, including the geopolitical context, trends in development thinking and the domestic environment with a view to articulating the implications for CIDA's approach to development assistance. In this capacity, the Division takes a lead role in coordinating the preparation of major Agency policy documents and in developing the reporting systems needed to track implementation of these policies. Program Record Number: IDA YSP 1036

Economic Policies Division

Description: The Division is responsible for contributing to the Agency's policy base in three general areas: trade and development, international finance for development, and other areas pertaining to economic development, including micro-finance, infrastructure services, and natural resources. It has corporate policy responsibilities on tied aid, and for Agency policies on private-sector development, infrastructure services, and poverty reduction. It provides advice to the Minister, President, senior management and the various branches on these subjects and economic development issues in general. It provides input into Canadian positions at various international fora including the World Bank and the IMF, OECD-DAC, UNCTAD, WTO, and G7/8 meetings. In concert with other divisions and government departments, the Division monitors and advises the Agency on emerging issues in economic development. Program Record Number: IDA YDA 1008

Environment Policies Division

Description: Environment is a cross cutting issue in all of CIDA's work and is a priority sector programming.

The Environment Policies Division provides policy analysis and seeks strategic opportunities to influence policies and programmes of CIDA and its partners, including other government departments to ensure that development cooperation is environmentally sustainable. The Division also provides analysis and advice on environment and sustainable development issues for CIDA's programs, the President and the Minister, represents the Agency and Canada in national and international fora addressing environmental sustainability globally and in developing countries. CIDA is the lead agency for Canada, both as a donor and domestically, as an affected party, for the implementation of the UN Convention to Combat Desertification in countries experiencing serious drought and desertification (UNCCD). This Division is the seat of the national Desertification Convention Office. The office works with CIDA programs to assist developing countries to integrate drought and desertification into their national sustainable development plans and policies. The Environment Policies Division works with other branches of CIDA and other government departments to build Canadian policy positions for international negotiations on multilateral environmental agreement (MEAs) such as persistent organic pollutants, climate change, biodiversity and desertification. The Division houses the Canada Climate Change Development Fund Secretariat which administers a special fund for climate change and reports to an Interdepartmental Governing Board.

Program Record Number: IDA YEN 1010

Analysis and Research Division

Description: The Division is responsible for undertaking a program of analysis and research to support the development of Agency policy positions and programming. The Division works on both country-specific and broader thematic issues. Gender Equality and Child Protection Division

Description: Gender Equality is a cross cutting issue in all of CIDA's work. The Division is responsible for the development, promotion and support of CIDA's Policy on Gender Equality (1999). The Division provides analysis and advice on gender equality issues to CIDA's staff, senior management and the Minister. It also provides support by developing procedures, technical guides, training programs, and other tools to assist CIDA's operational branches to comply with the Gender Equality Policy guidelines and the Federal Plan for Gender Equality. The Division also promotes the mainstreaming of gender issues in development programming through international bodies such as the OECD Working Party on Gender Equality and Women's Empowerment and the United Nations Commission on the Status of Women. The Division's Child Protection Unit, was created by the Minister in 2000, to support the development and implementation of the Child Protection Action Plan, one of the components of CIDA's Social Development Agenda. The Action Plan strengthens CIDA's programming for children, as it ensures that the most marginalized children, child labourers, children affected by armed conflict, children with disabilities, sexually exploited children, children living or working on the streets, children facing discrimination because of their ethnic or religious identity, and children in conflict with the law or institutional care, are included in CIDA's programmes.

The Unit also manages a Child Protection Research Fund. Program Record Number: IDA YWD 1015

◆ Corporate Planning and Co-ordination Directorate

Corporate Planning Division

Description: Corporate Planning is responsible for directing the development of the strategic corporate planning, budgeting and reporting framework and process to ensure the effective alignment of Agency programs with its corporate mandate, priorities and policies. Corporate Planning has four core functions: Leads the management in the strategic planning of the International Assistance Envelope (IAE); Oversees the strategic corporate planning and reporting framework and process; Provides information to Parliament, OGDs, external agencies, and the public on the Agency's direction and performance. The Division directs and coordinates the development of the Agency's Sustainable development Strategy and monitors its implementation. It also provides input, in conjunction with other divisions, to policy positions on sustainable development-related issues. Program Record Number: IDA YDG 1003

Policy Co-ordination Division

Description: The Policy Co-ordination Division supports the Agency's executives and the Minister in the co-ordination of Agency positions on current, critical and horizontal public policy issues. It promotes consistency and coherence in development policy at all levels in CIDA through dialogue and information exchange with CIDA's other branches. It also coordinates Agency relations with other government departments involved in Official Development Assistance (ODA) and with the International Development Research Centre (IDRC). Furthermore, the Division is responsible for the Agency's relations with other donor countries and, through the Development Assistance Committee (DAC) of the OECD, works to enhance the coordination of Canadian development policies with other donors. Program Record Number: IDA YDC 1014

Branch Management Services Division

Description: Responsible for the development and co-ordination of all mechanisms and systems for human, financial and information resources management and planning in Policy Branch. Human Development Directorate

Description: The Human Development Directorate is charged with the mandate to conduct preparatory research, and internal/external consultation and networking activities in order to prepare cross cutting and integrated thematic policy concepts, frameworks, legislative/regulatory changes, approaches and strategies that will support and advance CIDA's capabilities for bringing the issues of: i) local ownership; ii) indigenous knowledge; and iii) race, culture, and ethnicity into the mainstream of the Agency's poverty reduction goals, and development co-operation programming. The Division provides timely and expert advice, reports and executive briefings on the aforementioned thematic areas, to the Minister, the President and other key Agency officials. The Directorate is additionally responsible for the preparation and publication of "Development Express", which serves as the Agency's premier applied research journal on current and emerging issues in international development. This journal is strategically disseminated within the Agency, as well as to other interested public sector Departments, the International Development Research, and NGO communities. Program Record Number: IDA YHD 1007

♦ Canadian Partnership Branch

Industrial Cooperation Division

Description: This division provides financial support for the creation of long term partnerships between Canadian firms and their partners and customers in developing countries or to enhance the infrastructure of developing countries. In this way, the business communities of developing countries gain access to the technologies, capital and skills that are urgently needed to strengthen their economic and industrial growth. The projects are carried out in a context of sustainable development and are mutually beneficial. Depending on the scope of the activities or the geographic preference of a business, the proposals are handled by the Division's Americas, Asia or Africa and the Middle East Bureaus, which operate with the same criteria. Program Record Number: IDA SEL 6201

Institutional Cooperation Division

Description: The objective of this division is to support initiatives of Canadian institutions in partnership with developing countries to strengthen their capacity to achieve sustainable development. Canadian institutions supported by the program are national, regional and local not-for-profit organizations, universities, colleges, unions, cooperatives, membership organizations, or professional associations as well as environmental organizations. The division is also responsible for scholarship programs. Scholarships are offered to individuals in developing countries that are members of La Francophonie and students in developing countries in the field of marine resources. Policy, Strategic Planning and Operations Division

Description: This Division supports the management and operation of the Canadian Partnership Branch. The Policy section assesses, evaluates and develops policies, programs and systems for the branch and provides social issues/thematic guidance in areas such as human resources development, gender equality and the environment. The Strategic Planning section is responsible for information management, results-based management and performance review for the branch. The External Relations and Consultations unit co-ordinates CIDA's consultations with its Canadian partners and is one of the Agency's chief intermediaries with stakeholders. The International Conference Secretariat provides funding to organizations that host international conferences. The division also provides operational, administrative and technical services to the branch, including financial and information management as well as human resources development. Program Record Number: IDA SPE 6117

♦ Multilateral

Policy, Planning and Management Division

Description: The division is responsible for Branch management processes and issues. It includes work planning, resources and budgetary allocations, computerized systems, information management and administrative services. It ensures synergy, coherence and consistency with other branches on these issues. The division enhances performance issues, provides policy support to the other divisions in the Branch and offers policy advice to the Vice-President on corporate policy issues. Program Record Number: IDA MPM 5102

The Program Against Hunger, Malnutrition and Disease

Description: CIDA's Program Against Hunger, Malnutrition and Disease's function is to respond to emergencies and to foster development. The overriding goal is to reduce hunger and malnutrition and disease as obstacles to sustainable development. The link between nutrition, health and poverty is at the core of the PAHMD's activities: malnutrition causes disease; disease prevents people from working; the loss of income results in increased hunger. To break this cycle, complementary initiatives in the areas of health, food and nutrition support, income generation and institutional strengthening are being implemented. These include, for example, micronutrient deficiencies (vitamin A, iron and iodine), which cause serious health problems and reduce the benefits of food intake. PAHMD is also active in targeted food aid to improve the nutritional status of women and children, or as an incentive for vulnerable populations to attend health clinics for immunization and other primary health services, and food-for-work programs. Ninety percent of CIDA's food aid program is tied to the purchase of Canadian commodities and services. Wheat, pulses and vegetable oils are the main food commodities purchased, with wheat flour, corn and canned fish also provided to a lesser extent. Local customs, end-use and the ratio of price-to-nutritional value are determining factors in the selection of products. The bulk of CIDA's food aid assistance is provided through the United Nations' World Food Program, through bilateral channels (country-to-country) and through Canadian NGOs such as the Canadian Foodgrains Bank, CARE, Oxfam and World Vision Canada. Program Record Number: IDA PAHMD 5107

International Financial Institutions Division

Description: The division develops and implements Canada's policies towards the international financial institutions as mechanisms for development financing. It provides investments (paid in capital) and guarantees (callable capital) to facilitate the recycling of private capital resources for development financing, and in so doing significantly multiplies the availability of such financing. The funds are provided to Regional Development Banks. It also provides funding to the concessional windows of these Regional Development Banks, which lend resources to the poorer developing countries at very low rates of interest. The division participates with other departments in the management of Canadian funding provided through the Department of Finance to the World Bank Group, and in management of Canada's relationship with the IMF. The division participates with other departments in the management of Canadian funding is also responsible for the management of is also responsible for the management of Canadian assistance provided to the Global Environment Facility, the Multilateral Fund for the Implementation of the Montreal Protocol, and the International Fund for Agricultural Development. The division fosters policies within the IFIs that are consistent with the developmental and humanitarian principles of Canadian foreign policy, particularly a focus on poverty reduction. It also promotes policies to improve the developmental effectiveness of these institutions. In addition, the Division manages a portfolio of Trust Funds to support project preparation work and policy analysis by Canadian firms and institutions at the IFIs and it contributes to special thematic funds at these institutions. Program Record Number: IDA MFD 5401

International Humanitarian Assistance Program

Description: The division provides financial support for efforts to alleviate human suffering caused by natural and human-caused disasters abroad. This assistance is normally channelled through international institutions and Canadian and international non-governmental organizations involved in such work. Core funding is given in support of the programs of three major institutions: the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, the United Nations Relief and Work Agency for Palestinian Refugees, and the International Committee of the Red Cross. Grants are also given in support of special appeals launched by these and other humanitarian institutions, including Canadian NGOs specialising in relief work. To ensure the flexibility needed by an emergency response mechanism, a policy of providing largely untied international human assistance program grants is maintained. The Division also has a unit dealing with rapid assessment and response to disasters. The Peacebuilding Unit manages the Peace building fund which provides grants for rapid peace building support to conflict-affected countries. Program Record Number: IDA MHA 5301

United Nations and Commonwealth Programs Division

Description: The division seeks to improve the functioning and development effectiveness of UN and Commonwealth development institutions, and supports innovative approaches to development priorities that draw on these institutions' capacities. These organizations and programs include UN bodies such as the UN Development Program, UNICEF, the World Health Organization, the UN Population Fund and UNAIDS, plus institutions of the Commonwealth. The Mine Action Unit provides policy leadership and coordination for CIDA programming in support of humanitarian demining, victim assistance and mine awareness, with funds from the Canadian Landmine Fund. Program Record Number: IDA MUN 5501

◆ Central and Eastern Europe Branch

Russia, Ukraine, and Nuclear Programs

Description: This Division administers Canada's technical cooperation programme with Russia and Ukraine, and the nuclear safety program. Program

Record Number: IDA RZF 3119

Central and Northern Europe, Regional, Multilateral, and "Renaissance"

Description: This Division covers the programming in the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Hungary, Poland, Latvia, Lithuania, and Estonia. It also administers a regional programme for these countries, plus multilateral projects for the branch with organizations such as the World Bank and the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development. The Division also is responsible for the Renaissance Eastern Europe, which assists Canadian firms interested in establishing long-term business relationships in Central and Eastern Europe.

Program Record Number: IDA RZC 3104

Southern Europe, Central Asia, and Humanitarian Programs

Description: This Division is responsible for programming in Romania, Bosnia, Croatia, and the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia, as well as the Balkans, the Caucasus and the Central Asian Republics. It also administers the Branch's humanitarian program.

Program Record Number: IDA RZE 3120

Policy, Planning, and Financial Services

Description: This Division is responsible for Branch policy, for liaison with other CIDA Branches, for financial and administrative services, including contracts, for personnel management and staffing, for training, and for program and project performance assessment.

Program Record Number: IDA RZP 3101

◆ Africa and Middle East Branch

The Policy, Strategic and Technical Services Division

Description: The Policy, Strategic Planning and Technical Services Division supports the Vice-President and the Branch Managerial Group on Branch strategic decisions and related day-to-day operations. It provides leadership on Branch policy development, strategic planning, development of sector/thematic frameworks and aid resource allocation. The Division manages the Branch programming and budgeting function and contributes to the programming initiatives of regional divisions. The Division co-ordinates the Branch performance review function as well as communication, information and knowledge management. BFP also serves as an innovation centre for the Branch and is the leading division for representing and advocating AMEB interests. AMEB Technical Services comprises 21 specialists whose areas of competence cover the key aspect of our development co-operation programme.

Their scientific and technical advice contributes to the planning, implementation, monitoring and evaluation cycle of programmes and projects. These scientific and technical specialists (S & T) also contribute to strategic planning exercises in the Branch and the Agency. In addition, they play an important role in ensuring the quality of S & T services provided to the Branch by external consultants. Program Record Number: IDA BFP 4202

Atlantic West Africa Division

Description: The region is composed of 7 countries: Senegal, Guinea, Mauritania, Gambia, Cape Verde, Guinea-Bissau and Sierra Leone. There are major bilateral programs in Senegal and Guinea, a small bilateral program in Mauritania, and various smaller responsive programs in the other countries (including a Canada Fund for Local Initiatives in each country). The major programming themes in the region are (1) basic human needs, and (2) accelerated and equitable economic development. Under the first theme, the main project activities are in basic education and health. Under the second theme, the main projects are focussing on micro-finance, support for small/medium enterprises, basic infrastructures, sustainable management of natural resources and capacity-building to raise the productivity of the informal sector, with particular attention on women as a target group.

Program Record Number: IDA BFR 4233

Central Africa and the Great Lakes Division

Description: The region is composed of: (i) two core programming countries, Cameroon and Rwanda. (ii) two countries are in transition: Gabon and the Democratic Republic of Congo; (iii) six other countries where Canadian bilateral support is limited to the Canada Fund and a small portion of regional or Panafrikan projects: Burundi, Chad, Central African Republic, Republic of Congo, Sao Tome and Principe, and Equatorial Guinea. The current focus of the Cameroon program is on the sustainable management of tropical forests, increasing revenues for the poor and meeting basic human needs. Its programme framework covers the period 2001-2006. The focus of the Rwanda program is on strengthening governance, promoting the role of women, and on meeting the basic human needs of vulnerable groups. CIDA's interim DRC program responds to the present crisis through programming focusing on (i) support for national reconciliation/peace initiatives; (ii) support in rehabilitating basic social and economic services. The promotion of gender equality and the participation of Congolese women is also a cross-cutting theme. As soon as the conditions allow it, the Central Africa and Great Lakes Division intends to present a proposal for a more substantial long-term CIDA program in the DRC. The focus of the DRC programme is humanitarian assistance, peace and reconciliation and the provision of basic health and economic services. International Humanitarian Assistance, provided by CIDA's Multilateral Branch, provides substantial additional resources to Rwanda, Burundi and the Democratic Republic of Congo.

Program Record Number: IDA BFG 4287

Eastern Africa and the Horn of Africa Division

Description: Eastern Africa and the Horn of Africa Division is comprised of the following countries: Comoros, Djibouti, Eritrea, Ethiopia, Kenya, Madagascar, Mauritius, Seychelles, Somalia, Sudan, Tanzania, and Uganda. The general objectives of CIDA's programs in the Eastern Africa and Horn of Africa region are to: 1) promote regional peace and security; 2) address food security; 3) support efforts to meet basic human needs, including basic education; democratic development, good governance and human rights; gender equity; and 4) promote economic development. A Canada Fund for Local Initiatives is active in each country to help support small-scale projects. Program Record Number: IDA BFK 4218

Gulf of Guinea Division

Description: The Gulf of Guinea Division is responsible for managing CIDA's bilateral development assistance programs in Ghana, Togo and Nigeria. The Nigeria Program is still being developed and there are very limited activities in Togo. The Ghana program is one of CIDA's largest assistance programs, in which CIDA is continuing over 40 years of support to the country's development. Its current focus is on improving food security, establishment of sustainable potable water systems, and strengthening central and local governments. CIDA reopened the Nigeria program in 1999 with short term initiatives that reinforce the emergence of democracy and respect for human rights, immunization against polio and anti-corruption efforts. The longer term program focus will be on health and the environment. Togo is the beneficiary of a small embassy-managed Canada Fund for Local Initiatives which finances non-government activities aimed at reducing poverty and encouraging democracy.

Program Record Number: IDA BFW 4249

Management Services and Employee Development Division

Description: The Management Services and Employee Development Division plans and directs financial administration, contracting, administration and human resources development services. In this context, the Management Services and Employee Development Division is responsible for a team of specialists in administrative, financial and contracting services who contribute a wide-ranging background of knowledge and experience. The team gives professional and impartial financial management advice to program managers and project officers to support them in the management of their programs and projects. This Division is also responsible for the management of the administration and salary budget for the Branch as a whole. Additionally, they staff all vacancies and plan training programs tailored to the needs of the Branch's employees. Program Record Number: IDA BFX 4205

North Africa and Middle East Division

Description: This program includes North Africa (Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia), Middle East (Jordan, West Bank/Gaza, Lebanon, Yemen) and Egypt. CIDA's programming supports three themes: the search for peace, development of democratic institutions, and achievement of equality through poverty reduction and capacity building. Sustainable development vitally complements efforts made to reach a lasting peace in the Middle East. The Canadian aid program pursues the following objectives: supporting the transition to economies based on market forces as well as equitable distribution of wealth; strengthening public institutions; promoting the establishment of quality basic education systems, open to both girls and boys; helping civil society to meet new social, political and economic challenges; fostering employment and human resource development, and favouring the emergence and consolidation of mutually beneficial partnerships between Canada and the region. Program Record Number: IDA BFM 4256

Pan Africa and Francophonie Division

Description: The main objectives of the Pan-African Program are to build Africa's capacity to take responsibility for development tools and promote the emergence and building of a network of institutions capable of action on Africa's wide challenges. 1) to build inter regional cooperation in seeking innovative solutions to continental and/or inter regional problems, especially in the areas of social development (health, nutrition, education), governance (peace and security transboundary environmental issues, gender equality) and economic development (regional and pan-African integration, micro-finance and cooperatives). The program works in close collaboration with a number of multilateral institutions through a multi-donor approach and through strategic alliances. The Francophonie Program basically aims to support the Government of Canada's goals to strengthen solidarity and cooperation among the countries of La Francophonie through the multilateral institutions and programs of this international organization. The program also supports multi-country projects derived from the key themes of recent Francophonie summits. Program Record Number: IDA BFT 4244

Sahel, Benin and Ivory Coast Division

Description: The Sahel, Benin and Ivory Coast program comprises the bilateral cooperation activities that CIDA conducts in Mali, Burkina Faso, Niger, Benin and Ivory Coast, and with the Club du Sahel, the Permanent Inter-State Commission on Drought Control in the Sahel (CILSS), the Senegal River Development

Organization (OMVS), ECOWAS, as well as a number of regional activities in the Sahel region. Canadian cooperation strategies in these countries focus on poverty reduction and specifically basic human needs, the development of local economies, women and development, the environment, and good governance. Programs in the countries concerned are tailored to reflect the degree to which they assume responsibility for their development, the history of our cooperation, their political ties with Canada and, above all, particularly urgent needs relating to poverty reduction. The regional program consists in providing support to economic and political integration to ECOWAS and its member countries. Regional instability, attributed to poverty, the fragility of political regimes newly committed to democratization, and the dependence of indebted economies, indicates that the Sahel and Ivory Coast Region is possibly a high risk area. Program Record Number: IDA BFN 4207

Southern Africa Division

Description: Southern Africa is composed of 11 countries, of which Malawi, Mozambique, South Africa, Zambia and Zimbabwe constitute the main countries of concentration for CIDA's Southern Africa Program. Some of the region's major development challenges include: poverty reduction, education, health (especially HIV/AIDS), gender equity and the status of women, governance and democratic development, human rights, population migration, regional cooperation, economic development, natural resources management, and the environment. CIDA's bilateral priorities for the region include basic human needs, such as health, water and education, particularly targeting women and children; to place special emphasis on HIV/AIDS and its impacts: encourage economic reform and employment creation by supporting the region's private sector to protect the environment and promote sound management of the natural resource base; to provide direct support for democratic and legal systems development, good governance and human rights; to support regional cooperation and security; and responding to humanitarian needs, including food shortages. Program Record Number: IDA BFO 4270

◆ Americas Branch

Caribbean Programme

Description: Commonwealth Caribbean programme assists Caribbean countries to remain competitive in an increasingly liberalized global economy, to strengthen their environmental management capabilities and to address social issues such as HIV/AIDS and basic education. The programme also emphasizes support to projects which promote regional co-operation and integration to increase self-reliance. The Programme is organized around two country-specific programmes (Jamaica and Guyana), a sub-region program in the Eastern Caribbean (focuses mainly on Grenada, St. Vincent and the Grenadines, Dominica, St. Lucia, Antigua/Barbuda, St. Kitts/Nevis), and a Caribbean Regional programme (taking in Trinidad and Tobago, Barbados, Montserrat, Belize, the British Virgin Islands, Anguilla and Suriname, along with the remaining Commonwealth Caribbean states).

Program Record Number: IDA BMB 4428

Haiti, Cuba and the Dominican Republic

Description: The Haiti programme aims to address basic human needs, (education and health) and support economic growth (eg. by improving electricity availability) as well as to consolidate democracy and strengthen civil society. The Cuba programme aims to provide assistance to the ongoing economic modernization process; strengthen the environment sector; respond to social sector needs; and encourage participatory approaches to local development. CIDA's role in the Dominican Republic is limited to the Canada Fund for Local Initiatives and to mechanisms of the Canadian Partnership Branch. In addition, Haiti and the Dominican Republic benefit from CIDA regional programs. Program Record Number: IDA BMH 4449

Central America Programme

Description: CIDA's bilateral programme covers Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Guatemala and El Salvador. Panama receives some support through regional programming. Canadian International Trade Tribunal

Chapter 34

General Information

Background

Bill C-110, which established the Canadian International Trade Tribunal (CITT) and dissolved the Canadian Import Tribunal, the Tariff Board and the Textile and Clothing Board, received Royal Assent on September 13, 1988. Sections of the Canadian International Trade Tribunal Act establishing the corporate structure of the CITT were proclaimed on September 15, 1988. Sections of the Act giving the CITT operational responsibilities and dissolving the Canadian Import Tribunal, the Tariff Board and the Textile and Clothing Board came into force on December 31, 1988. Pursuant to the NAFTA Implementation Act, on January 1, 1994, the Tribunal became Canada's bid challenge authority in respect of federal government procurement as contemplated under Article 1017 of NAFTA. The Tribunal succeeds the Procurement Review Board of Canada in this capacity. The Tribunal also acts as the bid challenge authority under the Agreement on Internal Trade (AIT) and the World Trade Organization Agreement on Government Procurement (WTO).

Responsibilities

The CITT is a quasi-judicial tribunal responsible for conducting dumping and countervailing injury inquiries, making inquiries and carrying out recommendations as directed and considering import safeguard complaints by domestic producers. It is empowered to deal with appeals from decisions of the Minister of National Revenue or the Commissioner of the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency involving mainly customs and excise matters. The Tribunal receives and decides complaints from Canadian, American and Mexican suppliers who believe that the procurement process conducted by the Canadian Federal Government was not carried out in accordance with NAFTA, as well as complaints under the AIT and the WTO. The Tribunal also conducts investigations into requests from Canadian producers for tariff relief on imported textile inputs used in their production operations.

Legislation

- Canadian International Trade Tribunal Act, 1988
- Customs Act (R.S.C., 1985, C-54)
- Excise Tax Act (R.S.C., 1985, C-E14)
- Special Import Measures Act (R.S.C., 1985, C-515)

Organization

The Tribunal consists of a Chairperson, two vice-chairpersons, and not more than six other permanent members to be appointed by the Governor in Council. The Governor in Council may also appoint up to five temporary members, as required. The Tribunal is supported by the Research Branch, the Legal Services Branch and the Secretariat.

Contract Files

Description: This bank contains a record of all personal and professional service contracts entered into by the CMCC. It contains information such as the request for service by the manager, the original contractual document, and reasons for not authorizing payment if the terms of the contract have not been met. Active files are kept within the Contracts Management Section. Class of Individuals: Information relates to individuals from the private sector under contract for services to CMCC. Purpose: For contracting services. Consistent Uses: Maintaining information on all service contracts entered into by CMCC. Retention and Disposal Standards: Six fiscal years, then destroyed. TBS Registration: 000377 RD Number: 86/001 Bank Number: CMC PPU 010

Requests from Federal Investigative Bodies

Description: This bank contains requests for personal information made pursuant to paragraph 8(2)e) of the Privacy Act by federal investigative bodies, the replies to such requests, the records of information disclosed, any correspondence with Privacy Commissioner and all records relating to the processing of the requests. Class of Individuals: Individuals being investigated by federal investigative bodies. Purpose: To meet the requirements of the Act. Consistent Uses: Compiling statistics relating to requests from federal investigative bodies. Retention and Disposal Standards: Documents destroyed after last action. TBS Registration: 003456 RD Number: 86/001 Bank Number: CMC PPU 025

◆ Research and Collections Branch

Collections

Description: This bank contains complete information pertaining to the collection of objects by the CMCC. It may contain information such as name, address, correspondence, evaluation report, income tax and insurance forms, contract and all pertinent information involving an individual who is selling or giving an object to the CMCC for inclusion in its collections. Class of Individuals: Individuals with which the CMCC deals, in relation to collecting. Purpose: To maintain complete information about objects collected or collectable by the CMCC. The information is classified by objects or names. Consistent Uses: Determination of value of objects for income tax or insurance purposes.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Retained indefinitely. TBS Registration: 003453 RDA Number: 86/001 Bank Number: CMC PPU 005

Classes of Personal Information

Some CMCC files summarized in the program records contain personal information which is not used in a decision-making process directly affecting the individual to whom it relates. Examples are inquiries about CMC and CWM collections, programmes and services, information and advice given to individuals by CMC and CWM employees about museums and museum objects, and information about individuals in documents relating to grants or proposed grants to institutions.

These classes of personal information are kept on the relevant subject files and are not identifiable by name of the individual or other personal identifier. To retrieve these classes of personal information, the CMCC would need as much detail as possible about the subject matter, the geographic location and the time the information would have come to the CMC or the CWM.

The retention periods for these classes of personal information are the same as those for the subject files containing the information.

Canadian Museum of Nature

Chapter 36

General Information

Background

The Canadian Museum of Nature (CMN), a Crown Corporation, was established in 1990 by the Museums Act, and reports to parliament through the Minister of Canadian Heritage. It is administered by its own directorate under the authority of a Board of Trustees. The President is the Chief Executive Officer of the CMN.

Responsibilities

The purposes of the Corporation, as defined in the Act, are to establish and maintain for research and posterity a collection of natural history objects, with special but not exclusive reference to Canada, and to use the collection, the knowledge derived from it and the understanding it represents, to increase throughout Canada and internationally, interest, knowledge, appreciation and respect for the natural world.

Legislation

- The Museums Act, 1990

Organization

◆ Directorate

The Directorate is responsible for the overall planning, management and direction of the CMN with regards to its programmes, resources and products. The Directorate includes the Office of the President (Chief Executive Officer), the Vice-President (Chief Operating Officer), and the Secretary to the Board of Trustees.

◆ Corporate Services Divisions

These divisions perform the CMN's administrative support functions and include the following: Financial Services, Human Resource Services, Facility Management Services, Communications Services, IT & Library Services and Information Services.

◆ Collections Division

This division develops, manages and preserves the CMN's collection of natural history objects, and provides collection-based services and products.

◆ Research Division

This division plans and conducts research projects, coordinates collection-based research throughout Canada, and creates nature-based scientific expertise and knowledge.

◆ Exhibition Services Division

This division plans, designs, builds and maintains the CMN's various permanent, temporary and travelling exhibitions.

◆ Community Services Division

This division plans, implements and evaluates the CMN's Education programming (Community and School Programs, Interpretation, Special Events, etc.) and operates the CMN's Victoria Memorial Museum Building (VMMB).

◆ Development Division

This division establishes, develops and maintains relationships with the business world and implements the CMN's fundraising and development activities and campaigns.

Canadian Nuclear Safety Commission

Chapter 37

General Information

Background

The Nuclear Safety and Control Act was passed by Parliament in 1997 to better reflect the current regulatory mandate and priorities. The legislation replaced the Atomic Energy Control Act and paved the way for the creation of the Canadian Nuclear Safety Commission (CNSC). The strengthened regulations and new authorities given to the Commission represent the first major overhaul of Canada's nuclear regulatory regime since the creation of the Atomic Energy Control Board (AECB) more than 50 years ago. The Commission's creation follows the coming into force of the Nuclear Safety and Control Act on May 31, 2000. It is a departmental corporation, named in Schedule II of the Financial Administration Act. The CNSC reports to Parliament through a designated Minister, currently the Minister of Natural Resources Canada.

Responsibilities

Our mandate is to ensure that the use of nuclear energy in Canada does not pose an unreasonable risk to health, safety, the environment and national security. This mandate extends to the control of import and export of nuclear materials and other prescribed substances, equipment and technology, and to fulfilling Canada's obligations under the Canada-International Atomic Energy Agency Safeguards Agreement, pursuant to the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons. We achieve our mandate through regulations that establish a comprehensive licensing system which covers nuclear facilities, nuclear materials and other prescribed substances and equipment, including the certification of domestic and foreign transport package designs. This licensing system, which operates on a cost recovery basis, is administered to take into account the concerns and responsibilities of federal and provincial government departments in such areas as health, environment, transport, and labour. We also contribute to international agencies and, through cooperation agreements, assist other countries in improving their regulatory controls of nuclear materials and facilities.

Legislation

- Nuclear Safety & Control Act, S.C. 1997, chapter 9
- Nuclear Liability Act, R.S.C., 1985, chapter N-28

Organization

The Commission is constituted as a corporate body of up to seven members, one of whom is President and Chief Executive Officer appointed by the Governor in Council. Through the President, the Commission receives advice from a Legal Services Unit, composed of legal experts provided from the Department of Justice and a medical liaison officer, who represents the Group of Medical Advisors. Our officers and employees implement the policies of the Commission and make recommendations to the Commission on regulatory matters. Staff is organized into four directorates and one secretariat as described below.

Directorate of Reactor Regulation

The Directorate of Reactor Regulation is responsible for regulating the operation of all nuclear power plants in Canada. It is responsible for the development of safety standards and licensing conditions, for assessment of licence applications, for preparing licensing recommendations to the Commission, and for compliance activities.

Directorate of Fuel Cycle and Materials Regulation

The Directorate of Fuel Cycle and Materials Regulation is responsible for the regulation of uranium mining and processing, research facilities, particle accelerators, nuclear substances and devices, decommissioning and waste management, and the packaging and transportation of radioactive materials.

Directorate of Environmental and Human Performance Assessment

The Directorate of Environmental and Human Performance Assessment (DEHPA) assesses licensee performance in the areas of radiation and environmental protection, quality assurance, training and human factors. This directorate is also responsible for technical training of CNSC and foreign staff; CNSC obligations related to the Canadian Environmental Assessment Act; and for investigation of accidents and significant events.

Directorate of Corporate Services

Corporate Services is responsible for the CNSC's programs and policies for the management of its financial and human resources and for its information, physical and information technology assets. In addition, Corporate Services is responsible for the organization's communications, external relations, strategic planning and emergency preparedness programs.

Office of Regulatory Affairs

The Office of Regulatory Affairs is responsible for organization-wide programs, initiatives and actions that enhance the CNSC's regulatory effectiveness, efficiency and overall operation.

Office of International Affairs

The Office of International Affairs (OIA) licenses the export and import of controlled nuclear items. It implements Canada's bilateral nuclear cooperation agreements, international safeguards agreements, domestic nuclear security and international physical protection requirements. The OIA manages a safeguards research and development program, advises on multilateral nuclear non-proliferation issues and coordinates the CNSC's participation in other international activities.

Secretariat

The Secretariat plans the business of the Commission and gives technical and administrative support to the President and to the other Commission members. This involves related communications with the Minister's Office and all other stakeholders, including government departments, intervenors, licensees, media and the public. The Secretariat is also the official registrar in relation to Commission documentation and manages the hearing process.

Particle Accelerators

Description: General information on particle accelerators. Topics: Courses and seminars; standards and guidelines; technical information; and relations with Health Canada. Program Record Number: AEB DFC 075

Prescribed Equipment

Description: Information on general export control of prescribed equipment, such as nuclear reactors, fuel processing facilities, heavy water plants and nuclear accelerators. Program Record Number: AEB DRS 125

Prescribed Substances

Description: Information on prescribed substances, which are defined as radioactive isotopes of all elements and any substances containing such isotopes which are designated as capable of releasing atomic energy. The CNSC maintains files on all licensed users and producers of radioisotopes in Canada. Topics: Use; exports; policies; health precautions. Program Record Number: AEB DFC 155

Prescribed Substances – Accidents, Unauthorized Uses

Description: Information on situations where possible risk to workers and the public is caused by radioactive contamination and exposure. Topics: Contamination of jewellery and pottery; improper safeguards for radioisotopes use - hospitals, pharmaceutical labs, research labs; transportation accidents; unauthorized uses of radioactive materials; contamination. Program Record Number: AEB DFC 175

Provincial Governments

Description: Information on dealings with the provincial governments and two territories. Program Record Number: AEB SEC 240

Public Information

Description: Information requests; Federal Identity Program; programs; policies and procedures; projects and publications; public opinion projects; editorial services; translation and revision. Program Record Number: AEB SEC 020

Quality Assurance

Description: Information on the overall design quality of nuclear facilities. Topics: Standards; manufacturers; manufacturer quality assurance programs. Program Record Number: AEB DAA 110

Radiation Protection

Description: Information on radiation protection for workers, public and environment affected by reactor facilities. Program Record Number: AEB DRR 040

Radioactive Waste Management Facilities

Description: Information on every radioactive waste management facility in Canada. Topics: Low-level storage; high-level storage; reactor wastes; uranium tailings; chemical treatment; licensing; maintenance; compliance. Program Record Number: AEB DFC 190

Reactor Codes and Standards

Description: Quality assurance codes and standards used in the design of nuclear facilities. Topics: Components; inspections; quality control; reliability and maintainability of concrete containment structures; protective systems and instrumentation; and seismic design requirements for CANDU. Program Record Number: AEB DAA 095

Reactor Operating Training

Description: Information retained to help in the preparation of the evaluation of training programs and the examination of reactor operators according to CNSC standards. Topics: Ontario Power Generation, Hydro-Québec, New Brunswick Electric Power; Bruce Power; AECL. Program Record Number: AEB DRR 070

Reactor Safety

Description: Information on the development of safety requirements for nuclear facilities. Topics: Siting guides; reactor safety criteria. Program Record Number: AEB DRR 090

Reactors – General

Description: General information on the operation of reactor facilities. Program Record Number: AEB DRR 030

Regulatory Documents

Description: Information on the development of CNSC regulatory documents excluding nuclear safety legislation and Canadian nuclear safety and control regulations. Documents are developed using public consultation and used for the guidance of licensees and other regulated persons involved with the nuclear energy field and prescribed substances. Topics: Regulatory documents, public consultation. Program Record Number: CNS ORA 255

Safeguards

Description: Policies and measures for the non-proliferation of nuclear energy. Topics: Domestic and international safeguards; costs; reference documents; instrumentation; inspection procedures; accountability; visits and inventories of nuclear facilities in Canada; safeguards inspectors; special studies on accountability for highly enriched uranium and non-destructive measurement devices. Program Record Number: AEB DRS 150

Safeguards Support Program

Description: Research and development contract reports and Safeguard Support Program Reports.

Program Record Number: AEB DRS 250

Security

Description: Information on the physical security of nuclear facilities and personnel. Program Record

Number: AEB DRS 140

Steam Rebuild Programs

Description: Information on improvements of original deficient steam generators in some of the reactors.

Topics: 600MW, 500MW, and 850MW steam generator rebuild programs. Program Record

Number: AEB DRR 050

Transportation

Description: Policies, regulations and practices for the safe handling and transportation of radioactive materials in Canada and abroad. Topics: Shipping regulations; labelling requirements for radioisotopes; transportation of radioactive waste; liability insurance; regulations for all modes of transportation - air, road, rail and marine; certificates; Canada Post Corporation; emergency procedures; accidents and standards; transportation of nuclear materials to and from foreign countries; endorsements from foreign countries for shipping containers; technical aspects of shipping, containers and testing programs. Program Record Number: AEB DFC 160

United Nations Disarmament Commission

Description: Information on the United Nations Non-Proliferation Treaty on Nuclear Weapons, international safeguards, international agreements and various United Nations committees on nuclear energy. Program Record Number: AEB DRS 145

Personal Information Banks

Access Request Data Bank

Description: This bank contains the access request forms sent by individuals requesting access to files, the replies to such requests and information related to their processing. Class of Individuals: Canadian citizens, permanent residents of Canada and individuals present in Canada. Purpose: It is used for processing access requests only, and to report on the number of access requests received annually. Retention and Disposal Standards: These files will be kept for two years and then destroyed. TBS Registration: 004128 Bank Number: AEB PPU 045

Applications for Employment

Description: This bank exists to maintain an inventory of applicants from the general public or the federal government for employment with the CNSC. It includes correspondence, applications for employment, curricula vitae and other personal information. Class of Individuals: Individuals seeking employment. Purpose: This bank is used to identify applicants for possible future appointments to the Commission staff. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained in the bank for six months and then destroyed. TBS Registration: 004126 Bank Number: AEB PPU 035

Examinations and Results

Description: This bank maintains a record of the examinations given to personnel at nuclear reactor facilities. Data includes names of individuals, titles of examinations written and results in terms of success or failure. Class of Individuals: Employees at Class I facilities (nuclear generating stations and non-power facilities). Purpose: The CNSC sets these examinations to ensure that the requirements for operating personnel are met. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained indefinitely. Paper and electronic copies of the information which is stored as a subset of this bank are retained for two years before they are transferred to classified waste. RD Number: 91-024 TBS Registration: 004123 Bank Number: AEB PPU 015

Exposure Device Operator

Description: This bank maintains a record of the personal information and certification results for all candidates certified or seeking certification as exposure device operators, and those previously certified as Qualified Operators. Data includes names and addresses of individuals, titles of examinations written and results in terms of success or failure. Class of Individuals: Individuals employed or seeking employment as Exposure Device Operators. Purpose: The CNSC certifies exposure device operators based on education, training and experience. This database tracks all candidates information in relation to certification. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained for as long as the individual is certified. When the individual is no longer certified, records are transferred to the National Archives of Canada. RD Number: 91-024 TBS Registration: 005095 Bank Number: CNS PPU 060

Health and Safety Regulations: Inspection Officers

Description: This bank may contain data on nationality, age, sex, education and special training, and employment history, as well as correspondence with provinces leading to appointments. There may be sensitive material relating to federal-provincial negotiations for service. Class of Individuals: Canadian citizens and residents of Canada. Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to record information relating to the appointment of employees of provincial government departments or health institutes, to act as inspectors under the Nuclear Safety and Control Regulations. The bank provides an up-to-date identification of individuals appointed as inspectors. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are kept for 5 years and then destroyed. RD Number: 91-024 TBS Registration: 004122 Bank Number: AEB PPU 010

Health and Safety Regulations: Medical Advisers

Description: The bank contains names and details concerning present employment and area of jurisdiction, and communications between the CNSC and parent agencies or the individuals prior to appointment. The bank provides an up-to-date status of individual appointments by name. Individuals this bank relates to are all qualified medical officers, who may be from provincial government departments, hospitals, institutions, or the federal service. Class of Individuals: Canadian citizens, medical officers. Purpose: The purpose of the bank is to record information on the appointment of medical advisers to the CNSC. Retention and Disposal Standards:

Records are retained during the tenure of appointment and for two years subsequently, they are then sent to the National Archives of Canada. RD Number: 91-024 TBS Registration: 004121 Bank Number: AEB PPU 005

Personal Service Contract Files

Description: The bank includes basic personal data, subject matter and terms of contract. Class of Individuals: Information on organizations and individuals from the private sector under contract for services. Purpose: The purpose of the bank is to maintain an accurate account of all contracts. The primary use of the bank is to record negotiations between the CNSC and the individuals concerned. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained for two years before being transferred to the National Archives of Canada. RD Number: 91-024 TBS Registration: 004127 Bank Number: AEB PPU 040

Reactor Operators and Training

Description: Data in this bank include a record of correspondence, details of education and experience, and basic personal information. Class of Individuals: Employees at reactor sites. Purpose: The purpose of the bank is to provide an accurate and up-to-date record of all information on authorizations and appointments of individuals to designated positions at nuclear generating stations and research reactor sites. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained for two years before being transferred to the National Archives of Canada. RD Number: 91-024 TBS Registration: 004124 Bank Number: AEB PPU 020

Reactor Personnel

Description: Data includes summaries of the individual's examination results, copies of all certifications issued for the appointment of the individual to designated positions, and correspondence specifically relating to the individual. Class of Individuals: Employees who work at Class I facilities (nuclear generating stations and non-power facilities) and individuals employed or seeking employment as Exposure Device Operators. Purpose: The purpose of the bank is to maintain a record of each individual's examination and certification for designated appointments at Class I facilities and individuals employed or seeking employment as Exposure Device Operators. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained for as long as the individual is certified. When the individual is no longer certified, records are transferred to the National Archives of Canada. RD Number: 91-024 TBS Registration: 004125 Bank Number: AEB PPU 025

Miner Exposure Database

Description: This bank contains basic personal information collected from the personnel files of all miners who worked at the Rio Algom and Denison Mines in Elliott Lake from the early 1950's to the mid-1980's. Class of Individuals: Miners exposed to radioactive dust and radon progeny in the course of their work. Purpose: This bank will be used for research and statistical analysis purposes, including linking individuals to cancer registries. These analyses will help determine a more accurate risk of lung cancer and other health effects from exposure to radon progeny. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are kept until statistical analyses are complete after which time the data will be destroyed. TBS Registration: 004129 Bank Number: AEB PPU 050

Classes of Personal Information

Reports and Surveys

This class of information contains personal information based on a dietary survey performed by a consultant on behalf of the CNSC. Personal information may include particulars such as dietary interests, remuneration, age, gender, health, marital status and educational background of individuals. Such personal information is stored as part of the general subject files where records are not normally retrieved by name or individual or other personal identifier. The retention periods for these classes of personal information are controlled by the record schedules of the general subject files in which they are stored.

Canadian Polar Commission

Chapter 38

General Information

Background

In September 1985 the Minister of Indian Affairs and Northern Development commissioned a study group to investigate the state of Canadian polar science. Based on extensive consultations with Canada's northern research community, government departments, and non-government organizations, the study group produced its report, Canada and Polar Science, in March 1987. Among its recommendations was a call for the creation of "a national body ...to provide ongoing contact, at a senior level, between the federal government and those concerned with Canadian polar science and research".

Professor Thomas Symon's report The Shield of Achilles, which became the draft of a mandate for the Canadian Polar Commission, expressed concern that a new commission not duplicate the efforts of other institutions, but "...build upon, complement and support the work of the many diverse existing Canadian institutions, programmes, and organizations that are dedicated to the development of polar knowledge".

The Canadian Polar Commission was established by Parliament in 1991 as Canada's national advisory agency on polar affairs. It supports Canada's polar research community by developing new information resources and technologies, and by helping bring a fresh and vital perspective to bear on Canadian policy making with respect to the Arctic and Antarctic. The Commission encourages the growth of new partnerships between the science community and Northern Canadians, and seeks actively to raise the profile of polar research at the national level.

Responsibilities

- The Polar Commission's mandate requires it to:
- Monitor polar knowledge in Canada and around the world
- Work with Canadian and international institutions to determine scientific and other priorities
- Encourage support for Canadian polar research
- Communicate polar research information to Canadians
- Foster international co-operation in the advancement of polar knowledge
- The Commission can:
- Initiate, sponsor and support conferences, seminars, and meetings

- Undertake and support studies on matters relating to the polar regions, and publish and disseminate relevant studies and reports
- Recognize relevant achievements and contributions and give prominence to Canadian polar scientific research and its application
- Support and encourage organizations, institutions, and individuals involved in polar research

Legislation

- Canadian Polar Commission Act (February 1991)

Organization

The Canadian Polar Commission Board members are selected for their northern expertise, and to reflect the ethnic, linguistic, and regional diversity of Canada's polar regions. Full-time employees in the Public Service of Canada are not eligible. Members hold office for three years, and may be appointed for a second term.

Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission

Chapter 39

General Information

Background

The Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission (CRTC) is an independent public authority that operates at "arm's length" from government and reports to Parliament through the Minister of Canadian Heritage. It was established by Parliament in 1968 as a successor to the Board of Broadcast Governors, an earlier regulatory agency with a mandate to regulate and supervise all aspects of the Canadian broadcasting system. These responsibilities were enlarged in 1976 by the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission Act, under which the Commission assumed responsibility from the Canadian Transport Commission for regulating telecommunications carriers within federal jurisdiction.

On 4 June 1991 a new Broadcasting Act was proclaimed. On 25 October 1993 the new Telecommunications Act, replacing the Railway Act and the National Telecommunications Powers and Procedures Act, was proclaimed. As a result of a 26 April 1994 decision by the Supreme Court of Canada involving Téléphone Guèvremont Inc., 49 telephone companies providing services on a strictly local or intra-provincial basis, but with interconnection to inter-provincial services, and formerly subject to provincial legislative and regulatory authority, were brought within federal legislative authority and became therefore subject to the CRTC's jurisdiction. The Telecommunications Act was amended in May 1998 to give the CRTC new statutory responsibilities including a licensing regime for international communications services, responsibility for the administration of numbering plans, authority to establish and administer a universal service fund to provide financial support for access by Canadians to basic telecommunications services.

Responsibilities

In broadcasting matters, the CRTC regulates and supervises the public, community and private sectors with a view to implementing the broadcasting policy for Canada set out in section 3 of the Broadcasting Act. It has the power, inter alia, to issue, renew and amend licences and to set any conditions of licence it deems appropriate. With respect to federally-regulated telecommunications carriers, the CRTC has the power to ensure that the rates charged by the carriers are just and reasonable, and that Canadian carriers do not unjustly discriminate in relation to the provision of telecommunication services. The Commission's approval is also required for traffic and certain other types of agreements. The Commission also has powers to forbear from the regulation of services of Canadian carriers. In order to fulfil its mandate, the CRTC collects a variety of information pertaining to applicants and existing licensees of programming, distribution or network undertakings across the country. Financial and operating information is collected on a yearly basis in Annual Returns. Programming on radio and television is monitored: television stations, including pay television and specialty services, must submit detailed program logs monthly and radio stations must submit their program logs upon request. In the course of the public hearing process, information concerning the applications being heard is made available for public examination, as outlined in the CRTC Rules of Procedure. These public files include the text of any intervention made by anyone wishing to express his/her views with respect to particular applications or issues raised in public hearings. In telecommunications hearings, interrogatories and other more formal practices may be carried out, as outlined in the CRTC Telecommunications Rules of Procedure. The Commission receives complaints and inquiries from specific individuals or corporations, or interest groups regarding both broadcasting and telecommunications. Copies of complaints relating to broadcasting matters are forwarded to the licensee concerned for comment and placed on a file available for examination by the public. As appropriate, they may be forwarded to the Canadian Broadcast Standards Council (the CBSC), which administers industry standards and codes of conduct or to the Cable Television Standards Council (CTSC) which administers Cable Service Standards.

Organization

The Secretary General

The Office of the Secretary General is the formal point of contact for the general public and industry with the Commission and communicates decisions and notices on behalf of the Commission.

Broadcasting Directorate

The Broadcasting Directorate is responsible for providing the Commission with all information needed to regulate those broadcasting undertakings subject to the CRTC's jurisdiction and for developing general broadcasting regulatory policy for adoption by the Commission. The Directorate develops advice and recommendations to the Commission in order to implement the Broadcasting Policy for Canada set out in section 3 of the Broadcasting Act as well as the regulatory policy set out in section 5. The Broadcasting Directorate is headed by the Executive Director, Broadcasting. The responsibilities of the Directorate are carried out by four divisions reporting to the Executive Director, Broadcasting.

◆ Broadcasting Operations Group

Broadcasting Operations is responsible for all aspects of the licensing process (issue, amendment, renewal) for radio, television, pay and specialty services and for broadcasting distribution undertakings, including new applications, renewals, changes to conditions of license, certification of programming as Canadian. It verifies the corporate ownership structure, completes applications, manages related public hearings; oversees the implementation of decisions through supervisory, regulatory, monitoring and interpretative methods and processes; monitors licensee compliance with prescribed economic, social, financial and technical criteria and other conditions of license; represents the CRTC with the industry, provincial and municipal governments, other federal government departments, and interest groups; identifies emerging trends and issues, develops impact scenarios.

◆ Competitive Disputes Group

Competitive Disputes is responsible for the timely and efficient review and disposition of competitive disputes in a rapidly evolving competitive communications environment, including disputes of complaints arising from programming undertakings (pay, pay-per-view, video-on-demand, and specialty services) seeking access to broadcasting distribution undertakings (cable, DTH, MDS); from allegations of undue preference conduct by programming undertakings or broadcasting distribution undertakings; from alleged contravention of the Commission exemption orders; and, from allegations of inappropriate dealings with respect to exclusive or preferential programming rights. Conducts alternative dispute resolution processes including staff mediation or arbitration. Ensures that complaints and disputes are resolved in a manner consistent with public policy objectives established by the Broadcasting Act, and Commission policies and regulations made there under.

◆ Policy Group

The Policy Group is accountable for planning, organizing and leading the provision of timely and competent analysis and recommendations regarding the economic, social, cultural, competitive and technical implications of proposed regulatory policies, applications or decisions with respect to conventional radio and television services, discretionary services, broadcasting distribution undertakings and social policy, recognizing the distinctions and special needs of Canada's English and French language markets. The Group determines and directs research and analysis and makes recommendations on the formulation, definition and enhancement of regulatory frameworks, strategies and policies that address social, cultural, economic and competitive issues.

◆ Economic Analysis and Research Group

The Economic Analysis and Research Group plans, organizes, coordinates and leads environmental scanning, tracking, research and analysis related to the identification, recognition, monitoring and assessment of critical issues, trends and developments affecting Canada's broadcasting and related industries in both the domestic and global marketplaces; monitors and assesses the impact of government strategies, regulatory and policy decisions and of international regulatory and market forces on the economic performance and the structure of the broadcasting sector; provides strategic information and recommendations on the application of research and analysis findings to the elaboration or review of broadcasting regulatory frameworks and Commission strategies and policy decisions; directs the diffusion of policy and market research to the public and the broadcast industry to assist intervenors in their participation in public hearings and other consultative processes and facilitates transparency in all Commission processes.

Communications Branch

The Communications Branch develops and carries out all communications strategies to inform the public, media, and regulated industries; elaborates on our messages and put in place strategies and initiate public forums to better engage open discussions with the general public; works towards ensuring that the Commission's views and decisions are transmitted in user-friendly language and distributed in areas accessible to all Canadians; and ensures that the Commission's role, mandate and vision are clear.

Finance and Corporate Services Branch

This Branch provides financial, program planning, management and administrative services to ensure the most cost effective and efficient operation of the Commission. It is responsible for corporate resource based issues including cost recovery, policy issues dealing with CRTC Broadcasting Licence Fees and Telecommunications Fees, collection of fees, financial operations, budget management and control, and the preparation of departmental financial statements and Public Accounts; for maintaining a corporate library for information references on the communications industry in Canada; for administrative services including accommodation, telecommunications services, fleet management, and departmental security; and for corporate services including performance measurement, evaluations, business re-engineering studies, special projects and the preparation and co-ordination of key Parliamentary accountability documents such as the Report on Plans and Priorities and the Departmental Performance Report.

Informatics and Records Management

The Informatics and Records Management Division is accountable for the co-ordination, administration, development, production and support of all information systems, and for mail, transport, and freight services to guarantee the collection, organization, maintenance, management and transmission of information. This accountability extends to the long term planning, implementation and evaluation of all processes related to the management of information as a corporate resource, as well as the responsibilities outlined in the federal government's Management of Government Information (MGI) Policy.

Human Resources

Human Resources assists the Commission to carry out its mandate by ensuring it has sufficient staff which are competent, trained, deployed where needed, appropriately compensated and representative of the Canadian population. This entails the design of the organization and its positions, the recruitment and selection of employees, the investment in staff learning and development, the administration of pay and employee benefits and the maintenance of a positive work environment within the CRTC. Many of these services are governed by the Acts of Parliament which apply to human resource management across the Public Service.

Legal Directorate

The Legal Directorate is responsible for providing the Commission and its Chairman with legal services and advice respecting the implementation and interpretation of broadcasting, telecommunications and other related legislation. The Legal Directorate:

- advises the Commission and its Chairman on the CRTC Act, the Broadcasting Act and Telecommunications Act, as well as statutory instruments such as regulations and rules of procedure made pursuant to these Acts, related federal and provincial legislation, and conflict of interest rules and guidelines;
- conducts questioning at public hearings and represents the CRTC during legal proceedings;
- provides advice on applications, procedural matters and the legal implications of policies formulated to further the Commission legislative objectives;
- deals with complaints received by the Commission alleging violations of statutes or regulations;
- drafts amendments to regulations; and
- maintains a law library.

Secretariat and Client Services Branch

Secretariat and Client Services provides secretariat support to committee activities of the Commission; coordinates the Commission's Vision agenda management, and public hearing schedule; directs the Commission's regional offices as well as the public examination rooms; responds to requests under the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act; drafts Commission decisions; issues all public notices, decisions and orders; responds to requests for general information and handles telephone inquiries and complaints on broadcasting and telecommunications issues; responds to public inquiries and written complaints; provides liaison with self-regulatory councils.

◆ Regional Offices

Our representatives located in Vancouver, Edmonton, Winnipeg, Regina, Toronto, Montreal and Halifax explain the Commission's mandate, policies and decisions to the public, industry, special interest groups, governments and the media. They also deal with complaints and inquiries from the public and other interested parties and provide regional feedback to headquarters on a variety of issues, including regional concerns and licensee performance and provide access to and research capacity with the Commission's documents and public files.

Telecommunications Directorate

The Telecommunications Directorate develops advice and recommendations to the Commission to ensure the implementation of Canadian telecommunications objectives set out in the Telecommunications Act. The Directorate ensures that Canadian carriers provide telecommunications services and charge rates on terms that are just and reasonable, and do not unjustly discriminate or provide an unreasonable preference toward any person. Five branches reporting to the Executive Director carry out the responsibilities of the Telecommunications Directorate.

◆ Policy, Number Administration and Consumer Affairs

This branch's mandate is to establish, review and interpret, where necessary, the policies of the Commission. In addition, this branch assists other branches in their review or development of regulatory frameworks. This branch is responsible for ensuring that the Commission's policies and determinations will result in a consumer friendly marketplace. Goals in this regard include the promotion of competition, the protection of consumers and the support for access for all consumers. This branch is also responsible for overseeing number administration as it relates to the North American Numbering Plan. Finally, this branch oversees quality of service provided by the telephone companies to subscribers.

◆ Tariff and Service Costing

The Tariff and Service Costing branch is responsible for the assessment of and advice pertaining to tariff applications such as for services provided to residential and business customers and to other providers of telecommunications services. It also provides advice regarding the development of regulatory frameworks concerning the pricing of telecommunications services. This branch is responsible for the assessment of Phase II service costing studies.

◆ Competition and Technology

The Competition and Technology group has the responsibility to encourage the use of industry negotiated processes such as CISC to resolve operational and administrative matters among carriers. Included with this are inter-carrier agreements. This branch has been formed to address the growing need for timely and efficient reaction to competitive disputes. This will ensure that competition rolls out fairly and in a manner consistent with the Commission's policies. This group's mandate is to be able to identify disputes, to explore alternative dispute mechanisms to resolve disputes and if necessary bring issues before the Commission for final resolution on an expedited basis.

This branch also provides the necessary support and leadership relative to issues that involve technical matters, taking into account the technological evolution that is taking place in the telecommunications industry. New technology-driven communications services will erode distinctions between industry sectors. As such, there is a need for this group to stay abreast of these changes as to put in place the appropriate regulatory frameworks reflective of this technological evolution both in Canada and globally.

◆ Financial Analysis Branch

Financial analysis provides analysis and advice on aspects of regulatory frameworks, financial activities of the telephone companies, contribution charges paid in support of telephone service to high cost areas, service improvement plans and costing methodologies. The Branch is also responsible for information collected to monitor the telecommunications industry and acts as liaison for the CRTC with the Independent Telephone Companies.

◆ Planning and Operations

Planning and Operations provides analysis and advice on all aspects of ownership regulations for carriers, on all aspects of regulations for international telecommunications licenses, and on the review and issuance of operating permits for competitive local exchange carriers. The Group also determines the eligible regulatory revenues used to assess telecom fees on participating telecom companies to ensure the operation and fulfilment of the regulatory mandate of the Telecommunications Directorate and the telecom-related functions of the Commission.

The Group is also responsible for the planning function of the Telecommunications Directorate to ensure the efficient operation of the Branch in terms of strategic planning, and the development and management of systems and procedures for Telecom and the portion of the CRTC website for Telecom. The Group also monitors all telecommunications applications and report to the public on their status, through the Telecom Service Standards.

Canadian Security Intelligence Service

Chapter 40

General Information

Background

The Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS) has operated pursuant to the Canadian Security Intelligence Service Act, since its inception in 1984.

Responsibilities

CSIS collects, analyzes and retains information and intelligence respecting activities that may on reasonable grounds be suspected of constituting threats to the security of Canada, and reports to and advises the Government of Canada in relation to these matters.

The Service also plays a role in providing security assessments to departments of the Government of Canada (in accordance with section 13 of the CSIS Act and government security policy) and may provide security assessments to the government of a province or any department thereof, any police force in a province, and to the government of a foreign state or institution thereof or an international organization of states or institutions thereof when a security clearance is a required condition of employment. As well, CSIS may advise any Minister of the Crown on matters relating to the security of Canada, or provide any Minister of the Crown with information relating to security matters or criminal activities that is relevant to the exercise of any power or the performance of any duty or function by that Minister under the Citizenship Act or the Immigration Act. It may also conduct such investigations as are necessary in order to provide security assessments or advice to Ministers. Further, CSIS may, in relation to the defence of Canada or the conduct of international affairs, assist the Minister of National Defence or the Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Trade, within Canada, in the collection of information or intelligence relating to the capabilities, intentions or activities of any foreign state or group of foreign states or any person other than a Canadian citizen or permanent resident, or corporation.

Legislation

- Canadian Security Intelligence Service Act

Organization

The Director, under the direction of the Minister, has the control and management of CSIS and all matters connected therewith. The Assistant Director, Secretariat has the responsibility to support the activities of the Director and senior management. The Assistant Director Corporate has general responsibility for information management, internal security, management services, technical and scientific services. The Deputy Director Operations has responsibility for foreign liaison, human sources, operational support and the regional offices. The Assistant Director Operations reports to the Deputy Director Operations regarding the counter-terrorism, counter-intelligence, security screening, analysis and production programs. The Assistant Director Human Resources has overall responsibility for human resource programs.

Canadian Security Intelligence Service Investigational Records

Description: This bank contains personal information on identifiable individuals whose activities are suspected of constituting threats to the security of Canada; on identifiable individuals who are or were being managed as confidential sources of information; on identifiable individuals no longer investigated by CSIS but whose activities did constitute threats to the security of Canada and which still meet the collection criteria stipulated in section 12 of the CSIS Act, and on identifiable individuals the investigation of whom relate to the conduct of international affairs, the defence of Canada or any state allied or associated with Canada or the detection, prevention or suppression of subversive or hostile activities. Exempt Bank Status: This bank has been designated as an exempt bank by Order-in-Council No.14 (CSIS) dated 26 November 1992. Class of Individuals: Individuals suspected of espionage or sabotage against Canada or the interests of Canada; individuals involved in foreign influenced activities within or relating to Canada that are clandestine or deceptive or involve a threat to any person; individuals involved in activities within or related to Canada directed toward the use of serious acts of violence to achieve a political objective within Canada or a foreign state; or individuals whose activities are directed toward the unlawful covert undermining, or the overthrow by violence, of the constitutionally established government system in Canada; or any other activities described in the definition of "threats to the security of Canada" at section 2 of the CSIS Act; individuals identified relating to a national security concern, the defence of Canada or the conduct of the international affairs of Canada; and individuals who are confidential sources of information. Purpose: Collected under section 12 of the CSIS Act with respect to threats to the security of Canada; under section 15 concerning the collection of information for the purpose of providing advice pursuant to section 14; and under section 16 concerning the collection of information or intelligence relating to the capabilities, intentions or activities of foreign states and certain persons. Consistent Uses: CSIS may only disclose information it obtains if it does so in accordance with the controls of subsection 19(2) of the CSIS Act. First, it may disclose information for the purposes of the performance of its duties and functions under the CSIS Act or the administration or enforcement of that Act, or as required by any other law. The Service may thus disclose personal information to the Government of Canada, for example, as part of its duty to report, and give advice, thereto in relation to activities suspected of constituting threats to the security of Canada. Secondly, where the information in its possession may be used in the investigation or prosecution of an alleged contravention of the law, or where it relates to the conduct of Canada's international affairs or to the defence of Canada, then it may be disclosed to the appropriate police officials and Attorney General, to the Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Trade and to the Minister of National Defence, respectively. Thirdly, information may be disclosed where, in the opinion of the Minister, disclosure to any Minister of the Crown or person in the Public Service of Canada is essential in the public interest and that interest clearly outweighs any invasion of privacy that could result from the disclosure. Pursuant to section 13 and 14 of the CSIS Act, CSIS may also disclose information in the preparation of a domestic or foreign security assessment, or in providing advice under the Citizenship Act or Immigration Act. Personal information may also be disclosed to the Inspector General and the Security Intelligence Review Committee. Information in this bank may also be used for audit, research, planning, evaluation and statistical purposes. Retention and Disposal Standards: Information in this bank may be retained from two years to twenty years after the last action, subject to the retention and disposal schedules approved by the National Archivist. When files have been designated as historical, they may be transferred to the custody and control of the National Archives of Canada. RDA Number: 82/013 TBS Registration: 002872 Bank Number: SIS PPU 045

Canadian Security Intelligence Service Records

Description: This bank consists of information on individuals who came to the attention of the former RCMP Security Service while carrying out its responsibilities pertaining to informing the government of national security concerns. This bank may also contain information on individuals who incidentally came to the attention of CSIS as a result of carrying out its mandate under section 12 and/or section 16 of the CSIS Act. This bank may contain information on individuals mentioned in reports related to probable unauthorized disclosure of, or unauthorized access to, classified information or assets. Class of Individuals: Defectors, human sources or individuals, the nature of whose actions or activities caught the attention of CSIS or of its predecessor, the former RCMP Security Service; individuals suspected of espionage or sabotage against Canada or the interests of Canada; individuals involved in foreign influenced activities within or relating to Canada that were clandestine or deceptive or involved a threat to any person; individuals involved in activities within Canada that were directed toward the use of serious acts of violence to achieve a political objective within Canada or a foreign state; or individuals whose activities that were directed toward the unlawful covert undermining, or the overthrow by violence, of the constitutionally established government system in Canada; individuals, other than Canadians or permanent residents, whose capabilities, intentions or activities regarding the defence of Canada or the conduct of international affairs are inimical to the interests of Canada. Purpose: Collected or obtained by CSIS or the former RCMP Security Service and retained by CSIS under section 12 concerning threats to the security of Canada or under sections 15 or 16 concerning the collection of information relating to the capabilities, intentions or activities of foreign states and certain persons. Consistent Uses: CSIS may only disclose information if it does so in accordance with the controls of subsection 19(2) of the CSIS Act. First, it may disclose information for the purposes of the performance of its duties and functions under the CSIS Act or the administration or enforcement of that Act, or as required by any other law. The Service may thus disclose personal information to the Government of Canada, for example, as part of its duty to report and give advice to the government regarding activities suspected of constituting threats to the security of Canada. Secondly, where the information in the Service's possession may be used in the investigation or prosecution of an alleged contravention of the law, or where it relates to the conduct of Canada's international affairs or to the defence of Canada, then the information may be disclosed to the appropriate police officials and to the Attorney General, the Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Trade, and the Minister of National Defence, respectively. Thirdly, information may be disclosed where, in the opinion of the Minister, disclosure to any Minister of the Crown or person in the Public Service of Canada is essential to the public interest, and that interest clearly outweighs any invasion of privacy that could result from the disclosure. Pursuant to sections 13 and 14 of the CSIS Act, CSIS may also disclose information in the preparation of a domestic or foreign security assessment, or in providing advice under the Citizenship Act or the Immigration Act. Information in this bank may also be used to assist provincial governments, foreign and domestic agencies, on request, through agreements established under section 17 of the CSIS Act. (See Classes of Personal Information at the end of this Chapter) Personal information may also be disclosed to the Inspector General and to the Security Intelligence Review Committee. This bank may be used as a source of information or for linking with other information sources for the purposes of fulfilling CSIS's legislated mandate. This information may also be used for audit, research, planning, evaluation and statistical purposes.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Information in this bank is under continuous review and files are disposed of in accordance with the retention and disposal schedules approved by the National Archivist. When files have been designated as historical, they may be transferred to the custody and control of the National Archives of Canada. RDA Number: 82/013 TBS Registration: 000837 Bank Number: SIS PPU 015

Complaints Against CSIS or Its Employees

Description: This bank contains complaints communicated to CSIS, the Security Intelligence Review Committee (SIRC) or the Office of the Solicitor General of Canada against CSIS or its employees, and any record generated to resolve such complaints that is under CSIS control. In addition to the requirements indicated on the Personal Information Request form, individuals must provide the location where the complaint was reported and the nature of the complaint to retrieve the information of interest for processing.

Class of Individuals: Individuals involved in complaints against CSIS or its employees. Purpose: To determine the validity of complaints and to record any corrective measures taken, including recommendations for disciplinary or misconduct proceedings. Consistent Uses: Used in disciplinary and misconduct processes under the CSIS Act. The SIRC or the Inspector General may also use information in this bank to conduct investigations of CSIS. Information in this bank may also be used for the management of CSIS, research, audit, planning, evaluation and statistical purposes.

Retention and Disposal Standards: A minimum of twelve years after the last documentation on the individual complaint file, then transferred to the National Archives of Canada. TBS Registration: 002762 Bank Number: SIS PPU 035

CSIS Candidates

Description: This personal information bank contains recruitment documents or applications for employment with CSIS and any related correspondence. This bank may also contain personnel or staffing interviews, polygraph tests, psychological tests, test results, analysts' reports and security assessment advice. Please note that disclosure of psychological and polygraph tests are achieved through your personal examination of the test(s) in the presence of a designated practitioner. Instructions on how to contact the designated practitioner will be issued during the access request process, unless you specify that you do not want access to one or either of the tests. Class of Individuals: Potential CSIS candidates. Purpose: To meet the administrative and/or operational needs of CSIS. Consistent Uses: Information may be transferred to an employee bank if the individual is offered and accepts employment. The candidate's skills may be assessed and, if deemed suitable, may be invited to serve in a capacity other than the position or level of initial interest. Some information in this bank may be used to verify attempts to infiltrate CSIS. This information may also be used for research, audit, planning, evaluation and statistical purposes.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Retained a minimum of two years. However, unsolicited applications are destroyed after six months. RDA Number: 78/001 TBS Registration: 000839 Bank Number: SIS PPU 025

Information in this bank may also be used as a source of information in respect to the CSIS 'Self Protection Activity' bank or the 'Security and Integrity of Government Property, Personnel and Assets' bank.

Retention and Disposal Standards: The records in this bank are retained for a period of six years, and then disposed of in accordance with the schedule approved by the National Archivist. RDA Number: 86/001 TBS Registration: 004036 Bank Number: SIS PPU 060

Security and Integrity of Government Property, Personnel and Assets

Description: This bank contains personal information on individuals in contact with CSIS whose actions have raised concern about the security and integrity of government property, personnel or assets. This bank may contain letters, notes, facsimile copies, contact reports and related correspondence, and access control data or examination results of telephone use that has been used in a decision-making process.

Class of Individuals: Individuals of concern regarding the security and integrity of government property, personnel or assets and CSIS employees who were the object of such actions. Purpose: This information was compiled as an aid to internal security investigations of alleged breaches of security or in relation to the safety and integrity of government property, personnel and assets. Consistent Uses: Information may be disclosed to the accredited police agency having local jurisdiction of an incident. Information in this bank may be matched with information from other CSIS personal information banks for the purpose of preserving the security of Canada or CSIS internal security. Retention and Disposal Standards: The records in this bank are retained for a period of five years, ten years for access control data, and then disposed of in accordance with the schedule approved by the National Archivist. TBS Registration: 003632 Bank Number: SIS PPU 055

Security Assessments/Advice

Description: This bank contains personal information on individuals who are or have been the subject of a request for a security assessment for pre-employment/employment with federal or provincial government departments and agencies and the private sector working under federal government contracts, when a security clearance is a required condition of employment. This includes information obtained during internal quality control investigations. Similar records are held in respect to security assessments required by a provincial government, a foreign state, or an international organization of states. This bank may also contain criminal records, credit bureau results, security analyses, security assessments and investigative reports, related correspondence and a notation of the level of security clearance granted. In addition, this bank may hold information on persons subject to security assessment or advice relative to the Citizenship Act or Immigration Act. Class of Individuals: Persons for whom CSIS was asked to provide a security assessment or advice for pre-employment/employment, including contract and company personnel working under federal or provincial government or agency contracts; CSIS and CF/DND employees; individuals requiring access to internationally protected persons, VIPs and special events; the Parliamentary Precinct and the restricted areas of airports; individuals who would seek admittance or to remain lawfully in Canada; and individuals seeking citizenship. By virtue of the screening process, personal information may be held on individuals who are not themselves the subject of the security assessment. Purpose: Collected under section 15 of the CSIS Act to provide security assessments pursuant to section 13 or advice pursuant to section 14 of the Act. Consistent Uses: Pursuant to sections 19(2), 13 and 14 of the CSIS Act, CSIS may disclose information or may match information in the preparation of a domestic or foreign security assessment or in providing advice pertinent to the Citizenship Act or Immigration Act or where the information relates to the conduct of the international affairs of Canada, to the Secretary of State for External Affairs, or where the information is relevant to the defence of Canada, to the Minister of National Defence. It may also be used for data matching, or for the purposes of conducting lawful investigations in matters which may on reasonable grounds, be suspected of constituting threats to the security of Canada and in other lawful investigations. In addition, information may be provided to the Inspector General and the Security Intelligence Review Committee, the Federal Court and the Supreme Court. Self Protection Activity

Description: This bank contains personal information on individuals in contact with CSIS with a view of providing services directly or through contract to CSIS. The information may include the individual's name, any aliases and other personal identifiers. Under subsection 16(2) of the Privacy Act, CSIS consistently responds to all applicants in a manner that neither confirms nor denies the existence of personal information in this bank, regardless of whether or not personal information about the applicant exists in this bank. Class of Individuals: Individuals in contact with the Service.

Purpose: The purposes for which the information in this bank was recorded is in support of CSIS's counter intelligence program. The information will allow CSIS to better protect itself from infiltration by hostile foreign services and others whose interests are inimical to the interests of Canada. Consistent Uses: Information in this bank may be used in support of CSIS's counter intelligence program. Information in this bank may also be used for audit purposes. Retention and Disposal Standards: Information in this bank will be retained for a minimum of ten years, and destroyed when considered to be of no further value. Related to: SIS DDS 010 TBS Registration: 003297 Bank Number: SIS PPU 050

Classes of Personal Information

In the course of carrying out the daily investigative activities and functions of the Canadian Security Intelligence Service, personal information may be accumulated such as in the security assessments and crisis management programs which are not described in the specific personal information banks. This information is not used for an administrative purpose affecting an individual, and can include names, addresses and other identifying data in a record. Such information is only retrievable if full specifics are provided concerning the subject matter. The retention period for this form of information is in accordance with the retention and disposal schedules approved by the National Archivist.

Unsolicited opinions or requests for information are received by the Service. This information is not used for an administrative purpose, other than to respond in some instances to the originator. This correspondence is stored in a file associated with the subject matter, and is disposed of in a manner authorized by the National Archivist.

Some interview clips on video cassettes purchased from the Public Service Commission are being used to help English and French speaking CSIS employees to prepare for oral interaction tests conducted as an administrative measure in support of the CSIS official languages program. The personal information in the cassettes is not being used for an administrative purpose respecting any of the individuals presented in the videos.

Under the National Archives Act, index cards, registers and automated ledgers and indices are required to be created on all files opened by the Service since its inception. They contain general information such as the file numbers, titles, file creation and disposition dates. These personal information holdings serve as an information management tool that is created and used to account for the opening and disposition of each file. The index cards and registers are retained for a period of time after the disposition of the information holdings itself. An individual wishing access to the general information about themselves that may be contained in the index cards and registers is required to provide the file number or sufficiently specific information as to render it reasonably retrievable.

Canadian Space Agency

Chapter 41

General Information

Background

The Act of Parliament establishing the Canadian Space Agency was proclaimed into force on December 14, 1990. The Canadian Space Agency was created from divisions of the former Ministry of State for Science and Technology (MOSST), the National Research Council of Canada (NRC), the Department of Communications (DOC) and Energy Mines and Resources (EMR).

Responsibilities

The Canadian Space Agency is committed to leading the development and application of space knowledge for the benefit of Canadians and humanity.

To achieve this, the Canadian Space Agency will promote an environment where all levels of the organization will:

- pursue excellence collectively;
- advocate a client-oriented attitude;
- support employee-oriented practices and open communications;
- commit to both empowerment and accountability;
- Pledge to cooperate and to work with partners to our mutual benefit.

Legislation

- The Canadian Space Agency Act

Organization

• Executive Office

◆ President's Office

The mandate of the President's Office is to ensure that the Agency is effective in meeting the Government's objectives for the Canadian Space Program, particularly in the use of space technology to meet Canadian needs and the development of an internationally competitive space industry; and that the Programs of the Agency are delivered efficiently.

◆ Executive Vice-President's Office

The mandate of the Executive Vice-President's Office is to support the President in meeting the Government's objectives for the Canadian Space Program, particularly in the use of space technology to meet Canadian needs and the development of an internationally competitive space industry; and that the Programs of the Agency are delivered efficiently.

Core Functions

◆ Canadian Astronaut Office

The mandate of CAO is to develop and maintain human space flight expertise to meet the needs of the Canadian Space Program; participate in Canadian Space Program activities that rely upon or benefit from knowledge, skills, and attitudes of trained astronauts; maintain and enhance Canadian expertise in space medicine in support of Canadians in the human exploration of space; increase public awareness of the Canadian Space Program and its benefits; and advocate a Canadian economy based upon innovation and advanced education.

◆ Space Operations

Provide an environmental test facility capable of meeting current and emerging needs of Canada's space community and the nation's space related objectives and operates the space and ground segments of the space-related assets of the CSA.

◆ Space Science

The mandate of this Branch is to advance the knowledge of space through science and to ensure that the space science and technology provide social and economic benefits to Canada.

◆ Space Systems

The Space Systems Branch provides project management, engineering management and engineering services at the system-level (including missions, hardware, software, human-in-the-loop, facilities and services) to deliver and commission space qualified systems for CSA. It manages medium and large engineering projects also, it provides expertise in project management, engineering management and engineering services at the system-level to other functions of the CSA for small engineering projects.

◆ Space Technologies

The Space Technologies Branch is the functional center for technical expertise within the Agency. It ensures the development of space technologies to enhance Canadian industrial competitiveness and to support Canadian space programs.

Executive Functions

◆ Audit, Evaluation and Review

Assist Senior Management to improve the performance of, and enhance accountability for, the Agency's mission and objectives.

◆ Corporate Management

Conduct financial planning and analysis, budget preparation, financial control, accounting & reporting, develop and manage financial policies, systems, procedures and controls, act as official Spokesperson with Treasury board, manage the Business Planning cycle, provide regular, integrated comprehensive status on Agency performance against Business Plans and provide Executive Secretariat services (PCO type).

◆ Communications

- Support the entire CSA's communications towards the objectives of the CSA, the Government of Canada and the responsible Minister through:
- Supporting the CSA's executive management in communications decision-making;
- Developing and implementing operational and strategic communications plans at the corporate and program levels;
- Coordinating with the Minister of Industry's office and Central Agencies;
- Developing and implementing policies and procedures; and
- Providing services to the major activity sectors of the CSA as close to the clients as possible.

◆ Strategic Development

The mandate of the Strategic Development Directorate is to plan future activities of the Canadian Space Agency by defining objectives, priorities, policies and strategies for the five service lines of the Canadian Space Program: Earth and Environment; Space Science; Human Presence in Space; Space Technology; Satellite Communications.

◆ External Relations

The External Relations Directorate manages the strategic relationships between the Canadian Space Agency and its domestic and international partners. Key mandates include the development and implementation of policies and strategies relating to cooperation partnerships with domestic stakeholders (Federal and Provincial Governments, industry and academia) and international agencies and industries, as well as support to the commercial initiatives of Canadian space companies on world markets. In connection with the latter, the Directorate provides strategic and timely information to industry and other stakeholders.

◆ Government Liaison

Responsible for relations with Government elements in the National Capital: Office of the Minister of Industry, Departments & Agencies in the Industry Portfolio, and Central agencies of the Government of Canada and other government departments. Government Liaison ensures that the CSA is a valuable contributing member of the Portfolio, ensures appropriate CSA involvement in Government policy development, and assists in gaining Government support for CSA initiatives. It also represents an administrative link to the Industry Minister's Office and central agencies, and provides support to CSA staff visiting the National Capital.

Corporate Functions

◆ Administration

Manage the Agency's facilities and telecommunications, ensure the physical security of the Agency's facilities and assets, manage the Agency's procurement and contract management activities, manage and maintain the Agency's corporate memory physical and electronic holdings database and manage the information technology infrastructure for the Agency.

◆ Human Resources

Guide and support the overall management of the Human Resources required to implement the mission of the CSA.

◆ Legal Services

Provide CSA with legal expertise on all aspects of its operations.

Canadian Tourism Commission

Chapter 42

General Information

Background

The Canadian Tourism Commission (CTC) became a Crown corporation on January 2001 with the coming into force of the Canadian Tourism Commission Act. It is a unique public/private sector partnership that provides an innovative approach to tourism: one that is industry-led, research-based and market-driven.

Responsibilities

According to the Section 5 of CTC Act, the objects of the Commission are to:

- Sustain a vibrant and profitable Canadian tourism industry;
- Market Canada as a desirable tourist destination;
- Support a cooperative relationship between the private sector and the governments of Canada, the provinces and the territories with respect to Canadian tourism; and
- Provide information about Canadian tourism to the private sector and to the governments of Canada, the provinces and the territories.

In pursuit of its objectives, and working with its public- and private-sector partners, the Commission undertakes:

- Joint advertising and promotional activities in markets across the globe;
- Macroeconomic, market and industry research; and
- Industry- and product-development activities to remove barriers to growth and foster development of tourism products that meet international demand.

The CTC continuously seeks to create new partnership opportunities for its marketing, research and industry development activities. The CTC has two web sites: the web site for the industry; and the consumer-oriented web site,

Legislation

- The Canadian Tourism Commission Act

Organization

Marketing and Sales (includes Product Development)

The CTC currently has five marketing programs, four of which focus on leisure travel originating in major geographical markets - Canada, United States, Asia-Pacific and Europe/Latin America, and one which focuses on business travel globally. An important element of these marketing programs is the CTC's internationally-based sales staff. To help maintain the international competitiveness of Canadian tourism, the CTC Product Development group works with the industry to improve the quality of Canada's tourism offerings, and increase the quantity of market-ready products available.

Information and Corporate Secretary

Information is the second CTC business line, complementing marketing and sales and contributing equally to industry success. The goal of Information Services is to improve tourism-industry performance by helping the industry identify opportunities, address issues affecting its growth, understand costs, and measure its health and performance. Information Services is responsible for the following programs:

◆ Research

The research group works in partnership with major research and statistical organizations in Canada and the world to develop and organize data in ways that are useful to the industry. The goal is to help the tourism sector develop an understanding of its own size, structure and industry trends as well as trends in major economic conditions that affect it.

◆ Reference Centre

The Reference Centre (RC), the repository of tourism resource information, offers the largest and most comprehensive collection of material on the Canadian tourism industry. The Centre provides reference services, interlibrary loans, tourism statistics, and bibliographic searches. RC's collection includes more than 5,000 books, over 400 journal titles; and a minor collection on the tourism industries in foreign countries.

◆ Industry Development

The Industry Development Group works with industry associations, government regulators, and financial and other institutions that service the tourism industry, to promote supportive policies and remove barriers to growth. The Industry Development Group meets these needs by prioritizing, researching and sharing information on a range of issues important to fostering a healthy business climate.

◆ Government Relations

The Government Relations Unit is responsible for raising government awareness of CTC programs and the Commission's role in promoting tourism in Canada; coordinating communications between the CTC and the Minister of Industry, and the federal, provincial and territorial governments; parliamentary liaison; and access to information and privacy.

◆ Technology Services

The Technology Services unit maintains a computing infrastructure that meets CTC requirements, and develops and applies Web-based technologies to improve business-to-business communications and extend industry marketing reach.

◆ Communications

The Communications unit is responsible for promoting the CTC as the primary source of knowledge and information on the tourism industry; strengthening the capacity of government partners and industry associations to provide their constituents with information about the industry and the CTC, and facilitating Canadian media familiarization tours to Canadian sites.

◆ Financial Services

Responsible for the design, development, implementation and review of the CTC's financial policies, systems and reporting. This Branch prepares all financial planning and reporting documents for the CTC and provides direction on matters related to financial and administrative management including policies, budgeting, banking, treasury, procurement, control and reporting policies.

◆ Human Resources

This branch is responsible for programs, policies, and services related to staffing, training and development, staff relations, organization, classification, human resources planning, official languages, employee assistance, and pay and benefits.

Description: Information is gathered through the CTC's two web sites: which is linked to the Canadian Tourism Exchange (CTX), the web site for the industry which allows for business-to-business communication, and the consumer-oriented web site: . CTX contains tourism businesses, member profiles, and business connection groups. The consumer web site contains locational travel and socio-demographic information of residents of various countries who have requested travel information from the Canadian Tourism Commission or its industry partners. First and foremost, the bank contains the name and address (and perhaps the e-mail address) of the enquirers. Other information including past travel history to Canada, future plans, and lifecycle information may be collected as part of this program. Countries involved in the program include: Canada, the United States, the United Kingdom, France, Germany and Japan. The database is continually being updated.

Class of Individuals: Residents of Canada's principle tourism markets and members of Canada's tourism industry. Purpose: The information is initially collected to permit the distribution of tourist information, following a request by an enquirer. Subsequent uses of the data base include marketing implications including additional information gathering, market segmentation and partnering. Consistent Uses: The creation and development of a data base is consistent with the marketing objectives of a national tourism organization.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Retained for three years and then destroyed. TBS Registration: 005133 Bank Number: CTC PPU 015

Classes of Personal Information

Mailing Lists

This class of personal information contains the names and addresses of individuals who are on a mailing list to receive the CTC's monthly publication, and other documentation on the CTC's activities. The lists are updated continuously and the information is kept until superseded.

Public Opinion Research

This is a class of records generated through public opinion research studies on a vast spectrum of topics related to the mandate and mission of the CTC. Retrievable records consist of data gathering instruments, such as, but not exclusively, questionnaires which may contain personal information that reveals the identification of the research subject. Data contained in this class of records are not used for administrative purposes. Individuals seeking access to these records must provide the title of the research project in which they participated, the location and the date of the research, and any other data that may help to identify and locate the personal information they are seeking.

Canadian Transportation Agency

Chapter 43

General Information

Background

The Agency is an independent, quasi-judicial tribunal that makes decisions on a wide range of economic matters involving federally-regulated modes of transportation (air, rail and marine), and has the powers, rights and privileges of a superior court to exercise its authority. Along with its roles as an economic regulator and an aeronautical authority, the Agency works to facilitate accessible transportation, and serves as a dispute resolution authority over certain transportation rate and service complaints.

The Canada Transportation Act is the Agency's enabling statute to implement the federal government's transportation policy. The Agency also shares responsibility for administering other Acts and their related regulations, including the Canada Marine Act, the Pilotage Act, the Coasting Trade Act and the Railway Safety Act.

Responsibilities

Among its varied responsibilities, the Agency has a mandate to: license air and rail carriers; approve proposed construction of railways; and protect the interests of Canadian marine vessel operators when authorizing foreign vessels to operate in Canadian waters.

It resolves complaints concerning rail rates, service and other matters within its jurisdiction and has the authority to remove undue obstacles to persons with disabilities who travel on the federally regulated air, rail and marine network. In addition, the Agency participates in international bilateral negotiations and administers bilateral agreements as the Canadian aeronautical authority.

On July 5, 2000 the Agency's was conveyed expanded responsibilities over air transportation and the position of Air Travel Complaints Commissioner was created.

Legislation

The Agency has primary responsibility for the following legislation:

- Canada Transportation Act, S.C. 1996, c. 10

The Agency shares responsibility to Parliament for the following legislation:

- Canada Marine Act, S.C. 1998, c. 10

- Canadian Environmental Assessment Act, S.C. 1992, c. 37
- Civil Air Navigation Services Commercialization Act, S.C. 1996, c. 20
- Coasting Trade Act, S.C. 1992, c. 31
- Energy Supplies Emergency Act, R.S.C. 1985, c. E-9
- Pilotage Act, R.S.C. 1985, c. P-14
- Railway Relocation and Crossing Act, R.S.C. 1985, c. R-4
- Railway Safety Act, R.S.C. 1985, c. 32 (4th Supp.)
- Shipping Conferences Exemption Act, 1987, R.S.C. 1985, c. 17 1987 (3rd Supp.)

Organization

The Agency is made up of up to seven Members, including the Chairman (who is also the Chief Executive Officer), and the Vice-Chairman, as well as up to three temporary Members. There are currently seven Members and two temporary Members, including the Air Travel Complaints Commissioner. A staff of about 270 employees assists the Members in their decision-making process or provides administrative support.

Since complaints drive many of the Agency's processes, it has developed ways of handling complaints quickly, effectively and fairly. A panel of at least two Members must hear all complaints and issue decisions.

The Agency is divided, administratively, into five branches: the Chairman's Office; the Air and Accessible Transportation Branch; the Rail and Marine Branch; the Legal Services and Secretariat Branch; and the Corporate Management Branch.

♦ Chairman's Office

The Chairman's Office includes the Internal Auditor and the Communications directorate. The Internal Auditor is responsible for providing management with objective assessments about the design and operation of management practices, control systems, and information, in keeping with modern comptrollership principles. The Communications directorate is a proactive partner with the branches in ensuring that Canadians interested in transportation understand their rights, their obligations and the Agency's role under the Canada Transportation Act. The Communications directorate publishes brochures and booklets; it sends out news releases, responds to information requests and operates a Web site; it participates at events and trade shows with Members and staff to meet Canadians face-to-face to answer their questions directly. Because the Agency has diverse audiences with varying needs, it provides its information in many formats, including paper, electronic, braille and audio cassette.

♦ Air and Accessible Transportation Branch

The Air and Accessible Transportation Branch processes licenses and charter permit applications from Canadian and foreign air carriers, and is involved in enforcing Agency licensing requirements. It helps negotiate and implement international air agreements, administers international air tariffs, and rules on appeals of NAV CANADA user charges. The Office of the Air Travel Complaints Commissioner, established in 2000, handles air travel complaints. The branch also helps to ensure that all modes of federally-regulated transportation are accessible to persons with disabilities, and deals with their complaints related to air, rail and marine transportation.

♦ Rail and Marine Branch

The Rail and Marine Branch deals with rate and service complaints in the rail and marine industries, as well as disputes between railway companies and third parties in railway infrastructure matters. The branch offers mediation services as an alternate dispute resolution mechanism to the hearing process. It processes applications for certificates of fitness for the proposed construction and operation of railways, and provides technical advice and recommendations to Members concerning railway interswitching rates. Railways' revenue caps for the movement of western grain, the development of railway costing standards and related regulations, and the audit of railway companies' accounting and statistics-generating systems (as required), are also the responsibility of the branch. It also protects the interests of Canadian vessel operators when dealing with applications to use foreign vessels in Canada, while making recommendations to the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency to allow the use of foreign vessels when suitable Canadian vessels are not available.

♦ Legal Services and Secretariat Branch

The Legal Services and Secretariat Branch participates actively in all matters brought before the Agency, by providing legal advice and counsel and by ensuring that the rules of fairness are followed in the process leading to a decision or an order. The Branch also plays a major role in developing and applying the Agency's procedures and regulations.

The Branch provides legal advice and counsel in enforcement cases and in cases of complaints that are brought to the attention of the Air Travel Complaints Commissioner. It also represents the Agency before the Courts, including the Federal Court of Appeal and the Supreme Court of Canada, when Agency decisions are submitted to the appeal process. Branch staff also assist with the conduct of Agency meetings and hearings. The Secretary has the duty, pursuant to the Canada Transportation Act, to maintain a record of any rule, order, decision and regulation of the Agency.

♦ Corporate Branch

The Corporate Management Branch supports the overall function of the Agency by providing corporate services related to human resources, strategic planning, finance, electronic information systems, records management and the library.

Canadian Wheat Board

Chapter 44

Note: This institution is not subject to the Access to Information Act.

General Information

Background

The Canadian Wheat Board (CWB) was established by the Canadian Wheat Board Act in 1935 to provide for the orderly marketing of wheat produced in the area designated by the Act. Barley and oats were added to the mandate in 1949. The marketing of oats was removed from the CWB in 1989.

Responsibilities

The CWB is obliged to purchase wheat and barley offered to it for sale by farmers in accordance with established delivery calls and to pay an initial payment for same in accordance with the Act. The CWB then markets this grain in interprovincial and international markets. The surplus proceeds received upon sale and available for distribution are divided equitably among the farmers delivering grain to the CWB after the initial payment is made to the farmers and the CWB's operating costs are deducted. The CWB is also responsible for administering a delivery system which is designed to maximize marketing opportunities, as well as allocate delivery opportunity among farmers wishing to deliver grain for sale in interprovincial and international markets. The CWB administers the Agricultural Marketing Programs Act pursuant to which advance payments are made to farmers undertaking to deliver wheat and barley as delivery opportunities are available. The CWB administers the Spring Credit Advance Program (SCAP) for wheat and barley pursuant to which advance payments are made to farmers to assist with seeding costs.

Legislation

- Canadian Wheat Board Act
- Canadian Wheat Board Act Regulations
- Canadian Wheat Board Election Regulations

Personal Information Banks

Grain Growers Advance Payment Records

Description: This bank is used to record the value of cash advances issued and refunds received from grain growers under the Agricultural Marketing Programs Act and the Spring Credit Advance Program. Class of Individuals: Grain growers who have taken cash advances under the Agricultural Marketing Programs Act. Purpose: The information gathered is used to monitor the grower's repayment of monies advanced.

Repayment is conditional on the grower's delivery and sale of grain as soon as he or she is able to do so. The information is summarized and controlled as required by the federal government. Consistent Uses: The information is shared with grain companies that act as agents of the CWB in making and collecting cash advances. It is also shared with the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency, provincial crop insurance organizations, lending institutions and secured parties (secured parties are any person or business organization with a lien on the grain pledged by the grain grower on the advance payment application) when requested. Information would be shared for the purposes of completing the advance payment application. The grain grower agrees to permit the CWB to share this information with these other parties to protect their security interest in the grain. Retention and Disposal Standards: Files are retained for three years following the retirement of the advance payment. TBS Registration: 004082 Bank Number: CWB PPU 010

Grain Growers Delivery Records

Description: This bank contains a record of each producer certificate issued to a grower by a grain company in payment for the grower's delivery of wheat and barley to the CWB account. Class of Individuals: Grain growers who deliver to the CWB. Purpose: The growers' delivery records are the basis for equitable distribution of profits realized from the sale of wheat and barley by the CWB. These records also include farmers who participate in the CWB fixed price or basis contracts and are receiving a payment separate from the CWB price pooling system. The information produces statistical statements by district(s), grain company and type of wheat and barley. Consistent Uses: The information is shared with the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency, Human Resources Development, Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada's farm safety net programs, provincial crop insurance organizations and grain companies that are agents of the CWB. Retention and Disposal Standards: Files are retained for seven years. TBS Registration: 004083 Bank Number: CWB PPU 015

Grain Growers Payment Records

Description: This bank contains a record of each payment made to wheat and barley growers which resulted from an increase in the price paid for wheat and barley or from the profits realized from the sale of wheat and barley by the CWB. It also contains payment records for farmers participating in the fixed or basis contracts who are receiving a payment separate from the CWB price pooling system. Class of Individuals: Wheat and barley growers who deliver to the CWB.

Purpose: The information is maintained to control the value of payments and monitor bank cashings, lost cheques, uncashed cheques, etc. Statements are produced to show the value of payments by district(s), kind of wheat and barley, dates of issuance and bank clearance and for other control purposes (verification of rates and tonnes; verification of accounting transactions, stale-dated cheques; cancelled/re-issued cheques). Consistent Uses: Information in this bank is shared with the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency, Human Resources Development, Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada's farm safety net programs and, in the case of non-resident farmers, with their representatives in Canada and the Bank of Montreal. Retention and Disposal Standards: Files are retained for seven years. TBS Registration: 004081 Bank Number: CWB PPU 005

Grain Growers Permit Records

Description: This bank is used to establish and maintain a record of each wheat and barley grower's entitlement to market wheat and barley. Under the authority of the Canadian Wheat Board Act, this bank may contain the Social Insurance Numbers of those farmers who choose to supply them. Class of Individuals: Wheat and barley growers who have obtained a CWB permit book. Purpose: The permit book application information is used to monitor and record each grower's delivery and sale of wheat and barley to CWB account and to verify entitlement for cash advances under the Agricultural Marketing Programs Act. The grower's name and address are used to distribute profits realized from the sale of wheat and barley. Summary statements for planning purposes are produced by district(s) and type of wheat and barley. Information in this bank is used to prepare voters' lists for Canadian Wheat Board elections.

Consistent Uses: Various components of the information are shared with Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada, the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency for inter-provincial and export licenses, provincial crop insurance organizations, various other provincial institutions, departments and related commodity groups, universities for consistent use and statistical research purposes and the grain companies that are agents of the CWB. Retention and Disposal Standards: Files are retained for seven years. TBS Registration: 004084 Bank Number: CWB PPU 020

Citizenship and Immigration Canada

Chapter 45

General Information

Background

The federal government has administered immigration matters since Confederation and citizenship matters since 1947. The Department of Citizenship and Immigration Canada (CIC) was created by an Act of Parliament, which received Royal Assent on June 23, 1994. This reorganization brought together the immigration and citizenship policy and operations and corporate functions of various departments. The department reports to Parliament through its minister, who is also responsible for the independent Immigration and Refugee Board of Canada (IRB). The IRB's functions are separate from those of the department. CIC's authority stems, notably, from the Department of Citizenship and Immigration Act, the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act, the Citizenship Act and the supporting regulations. These provide the Governor in Council, the minister and the deputy minister with the discretionary authority required for developing and implementing responsive and flexible policies and programs.

Responsibilities

The Department of Citizenship and Immigration Act establishes a specific federal mandate for the minister of Citizenship and Immigration Canada. This mandate includes all matters relating to the administration of the programs and policies of immigration and citizenship that are not assigned by law to other departments, branches or agencies of government.

The deputy minister sets departmental priorities in conjunction with the minister and develops strategies to meet these goals. Five senior executives report to the deputy minister: the assistant deputy ministers of Policy and Program Development; Operations; Centralized Services Delivery and Corporate Services; Strategic Directions and Communications; and the director general of Human Resources. The department operates through its national and five regional headquarters, through three centralized processing offices in Canada and through 148 local offices across Canada and abroad.

The assistant deputy minister, Policy and Program Development, is responsible for policy and program development in the areas of Enforcement, Integration (including citizenship), Business Solutions, Refugees and Selection, as well as the work on legislative and regulatory reform.

The Operations assistant deputy minister coordinates the work of CIC's five domestic regions, the International Region, Medical Services, Case Management, Intelligence and Strategic Operation Planning.

The assistant deputy minister, Centralized Services Delivery and Corporate Services, is responsible for Finance, Administration, the Departmental Delivery Network, Information Management and Technologies and the Modern Management Office (Special Project).

The assistant deputy minister, Strategic Directions and Communications coordinates all CIC's strategic activities, international and federal-provincial relations, research and evaluation, executive services, communications and the Metropolis project.

The director general, Human Resources, is responsible for planning and managing all of CIC's human resources.

Organization

Policy and Program Development

◆ Enforcement (SED)

The role of the Enforcement Branch at National Headquarters is to develop national policy, procedures, guidelines and strategies in order to ensure that violations of the provisions of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act and Regulations are properly actioned in accordance with the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act. The objectives of the Branch are to counter irregular migration movements to Canada and to preserve the integrity of Canada's immigration and refugee determination systems.

Enforcement Branch also provides field officers and other branches of National Headquarters with functional direction and coordination, as well as assistance in the design and development of training programs regarding national policies and procedures on enforcement activities. In addition, the Enforcement Branch liaises with service delivery partners for the purpose of developing and updating national memoranda of understanding (MOU) with other departments, provinces, or agencies, for the exchange of information. It also develops removal arrangements with other countries, and coordinates these activities by liaising with partners in enforcement and the airline industry. The Branch also directly manages carrier compliance by negotiating MOUs with individual transportation companies and by ensuring compliance. Enforcement at National Headquarters also administers the program of administration fees assessed against transportation companies for carrying improperly documented passengers to Canada.

The Enforcement Branch (SED) is composed of four core divisions, namely Ports and Border Management; Hearings and Inadmissibility; Detention; and Investigations and Removals. The Branch is also comprised of two additional units which lead the Enforcement Branch's efforts in planning, program development, and developing a long-term strategic vision for the Enforcement program. These include the Policy and Program Development Division and the Service Line Support Division. Enforcement Branch also includes a Legislative implementation unit which is a temporary group responsible for implementing the enforcement component of the new Immigration and Refugee Protection Act.

The Ports and Border Management Division (SEM) oversees, monitors and evaluates port of entry operations across Canada. It develops and implements national policies, strategic directions, operational priorities and service standards applicable in the examination of all persons seeking admission to Canada at land borders, airports and marine ports of entry.

The Hearings and Inadmissibility Division (SEA) develops and implements national policies, and strategies by providing instructions and procedures related to: the issuance of removal orders by immigration officers, eligibility determinations and re-determinations. The division also handles: detention review, multiple refugee claim determinations and criteria, decisions to refuse applications for immigration, inquiries before the Adjudication Division, and appeals to the Immigration and Appeal Division. Other responsibilities include: inadmissibility hearings and provisions, interventions (including vacation and cessation applications) in refugee claims by the Minister before the Convention Refugee Determination Division (CCRD), the issuing of danger opinions and bonds.

The Detention Division (SEH) develops policies and guidelines governing the detention of persons under the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act. It supports the regions in delivery of the detention program by providing guidance concerning the operation of Citizenship and Immigration Canada's detention centres and the treatment of persons detained.

The Investigations and Removals Division (SEO) develops and implements national policies, strategic directions, operational priorities, service standards, procedures, and operational instructions for the investigative and removal functions of the Immigration Enforcement program. In conjunction with the Policy and Program Development Division, the Investigations and Removals Division develops international removals strategies in partnership with the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade (DFAIT) and other key international partners.

The Policy and Program Development Division (SEP) is responsible for the development and the coordination of coherent international and domestic enforcement strategy. This is intended to support the Branch's objectives with respect to the development of enforcement policy such as removals and migrant smuggling. The division is also responsible for liaison with a variety of international partners and participating in fora such as the G8. The division also pursues a bilateral agenda with the United States including United States Immigration and Naturalization Service (USINS) as well as the US State department through avenues such as Border Vision. The articulation, coordination, development, promotion and ongoing management and assessment of US Border policy issues remains a high priority.

The Service Line Support Division (SED) supports the Enforcement Branch's management responsibility for Branch planning and priority setting. The division leads the Branch's participation in various corporate exercises related to establishing program and corporate objectives and plans, budget forecasting, planning and reporting and accounting for program results. The division provides internal services to managers in the areas of human resources (staffing, training, succession planning), access to information and privacy, organizational development, expenditure control, and other administrative matters.

◆ Integration (SID)

The Integration Branch is responsible for the development of policy and programs that define membership in Canadian society, enhance the role of Canadian citizenship, and support the settlement, adaptation and integration of newcomers. The Branch develops policies and programs that promote integration and Canadian citizenship; ensures that the federal government meets its responsibilities towards the immigrants it accepts for permanent residence; educates potential new Canadians about the rights and responsibilities of Canadian citizenship; promotes the value of Canadian citizenship to newcomers; and administers and interprets the Citizenship Act. The Integration Branch oversees the delivery of programs under its jurisdiction through a network of national partnerships, as required. The Integration Branch is composed of four divisions: Citizenship Division (SIC); Settlement Division (SIE); Integration Promotion Division (SIP); and Service Line Support Division (SIS).

The Citizenship Division (SIC) manages the overall administration of the Citizenship Act and Regulations. The main activities are developing and revising the regulations and policies for the administration of the Act, maintaining legislative compliance, providing functional guidance on citizenship matters, ensuring quality assurance, implementing new Citizenship Legislation and maintaining an historical body of knowledge on past and present nationality legislation.

The Settlement Division (SIE) provides functional guidance; develops policies, operational procedures and work instruments; designs program terms and conditions for the settlement programs and services provided to newcomers; manages national settlement realignment agreements with the provincial governments; manages the orientation abroad initiative; manages contribution program allocations and expenditures and is responsible for the implementation of the Official Languages Act for programs administered by the Integration Branch.

The Integration Promotion Division (SIP) is responsible for the development of activities and programs which promote citizenship and settlement programs and initiatives. This Division is also responsible for administering the Citation for Citizenship Program and the 'Canada: We All Belong!' campaign; as well as for the development, production and distribution of promotion material in support of its mandate.

The Service Line Support Division (SIS) provides the Branch with the capacity to plan, analyze and coordinate activities and to provide an efficient infrastructure to support the other divisions in the Branch, corporate initiatives and CIC priorities. It is also responsible for cross-cutting policy development.

◆ Refugees (SRD)

Refugees Branch is composed of the Asylum, Resettlement, and Refugee Program Support Divisions. They are responsible for the management of refugee policy, programs and targets; liaison with the Immigration and Refugee Board of Canada (IRB); representing the interests of CIC and the Government on refugee issues; and coordinating reporting and liaison activities.

◆ Selection (SSD)

The Selection Branch is responsible for the development of policy, program design and procedural guidance affecting the selection of people to Canada, both immigrants and non-immigrants. The goal is to develop policy with an operational perspective, provide procedural guidance to the field both nationally and internationally, and feed back field perspectives into the policy-making process.

The Social Policy and Programs Division (SSG) is responsible for the development of policy and programs for the social benefit of Canada including Family Class immigration, international adoption, landing in Canada programs, Live-in-Caregivers in Canada and related humanitarian issues. The Division is also responsible for the policy on Temporary Resident Permits and on immigration representatives (lawyers and consultants).

The Economic Policy and Program Division (SSE) is responsible for developing policy and designing programs for the economic benefit of Canada including the selection criteria for skilled workers, provincial nominees, and for all temporary resident programs including foreign students, temporary workers and visitors. The Division is also responsible for international agreements (e.g. NAFTA, GATS, etc.) concerning the temporary entry of business persons. SSE is further responsible for the policy regarding the obligations of permanent residents and for co-chairing the Federal-Provincial-Territorial Working Group on Access to Professions and Trades dedicated to sharing information and best practices regarding the assessment and recognition of foreign credentials.

The Business Immigration Division (SSM) is responsible for policy formulation, program development and procedural compliance for self-employed, investor and entrepreneurial programs.

The Service Line Support Division (SSS) is responsible for the coordination and management of branch administrative functions, for setting program performance standards, objectives, priorities and goals in the context of the planning and accountability process, and for evaluating and reporting on program performance. The division also leads the department's management of annual immigration levels and produces statistics and reports related to immigration levels.

◆ Legislative Review and Implementation (Special Project) (DMX)

The role of the Immigration Legislative Review and Implementation Branch is as follows:

- to support the passage of Bill C-11 (the proposed Immigration and Refugee Protection Act) through the legislative process;
- to coordinate work related to the drafting and approval of the Regulations related to Bill C-11;
- to coordinate the implementation of legislative and non-legislative reforms associated with the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act.

The Legislative Review and Implementation Branch will cease its operations as of September 30, 2002.

Operations

◆ Atlantic Region

The Atlantic Region of Citizenship and Immigration Canada is responsible for the delivery of Canada's immigration programs in the four Atlantic Provinces: Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island. This includes immigrant selection, non-immigrant processing, immigration medical services, interdiction, reporting and liaison.

The Atlantic Region is responsible for the delivery of all program activities to the Atlantic provinces, including: immigration, visitor and refugee programs, Citizenship, Settlement, Enforcement, Selection, Inland Control, and Ports of Entry. The Atlantic Region is also responsible for ensuring a consistent approach across the four provinces; as well as for coordination and liaison with other departments and agencies such as the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency (CCRA), the Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS), Health Canada and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP). The Atlantic Region ensures that the delivery of these programs is consistent with Canadian law and policy.

The Atlantic Region consists of 12 local offices and the Atlantic Regional Headquarters. Inland and Port of Entry Officers are responsible for facilitating the admission of bona fide visitors, temporary workers, students, immigrants and refugees while ensuring that those inadmissible to Canada are refused entry and those subject to enforcement action are dealt with promptly and efficiently. These officers are also responsible for investigations, removals and hearings in order to take action against violations of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act. In addition to providing immigrant and temporary admissions services, Inland offices also grant citizenship and work with the provinces, municipalities and community groups to help newcomers integrate and promote understanding of the rights and responsibilities of Canadian citizenship.

◆ Quebec Region

The role of Citizenship and Immigration Canada's Quebec Region is to apply federal programs and offer citizenship and immigration services for the Quebec Region in collaboration with Quebec's Department of Citizen Relations and Immigration (MRCI), which exercises a shared jurisdiction with the federal department in the area of immigration.

CIC Quebec Region's mandate is carried out by a regional office, fourteen local immigration offices and two citizenship offices.

For the Citizenship Program, the Quebec Region provides Canadian citizenship granting services to candidates who apply for citizenship, and also has a mandate to promote citizenship and the values associated with it.

For the Immigration Program, the region's network of airport, land and maritime ports of entry manages the admission of visitors, immigrants and refugee protection claimants to Canada. The network of inland offices offers services to clients located within Canada.

To ensure the integrity of the Citizenship and Immigration programs, staff at ports of entry and inland offices apply enforcement measures to individuals who violate the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act and Regulations, and conduct investigations where priority is given to the criminal clientele.

CIC staff also represent the Minister in inquiries, appeals and interventions before the Immigration and Refugee Board of Canada. The Pre-Removal Risk Assessment (PPRA) section reviews the cases of persons who have exhausted all legal remedies, for any risk to their safety, prior to removal from Canada. Detention services are provided by the Immigration Prevention Centre, which is located in Laval.

The call centre, which is located in Montréal, serves clients in Quebec and the Atlantic provinces, as well as francophone clients in other regions. Through the call centre clients can obtain general information about citizenship and immigration services and programs, order application kits or check the status of an application.

The Client Services Unit has been set up to offer services that complement those of the call centre. Staff in the Unit provide services relating to complaints, and respond to complex requests that cannot be handled by the call centre.

The Contemporary War Crimes Unit of Citizenship and Immigration Canada's Quebec Region is located in Montréal. The Unit has a mandate to coordinate all the measures required to attain the objectives of the Immigration Program concerning individuals who have committed war crimes or crimes against humanity, so that those individuals may be deported from Canada or have their visa application refused. The Unit is also responsible for providing liaison with the Department of Justice in cases of prosecution before the courts, and keeps an inventory of cases for all of Quebec.

The Quebec Region plays an active role in the Our Missing Children program. The aim of this program is to identify children who have been abducted or are runaways and who appear at our borders. In this area, great vigilance is exercised by immigration officers, who are regularly briefed on the profile of the runaways, kidnappers and smugglers who might be implicated in this traffic of children.

♦ Ontario Region

Ontario Region is responsible for the delivery of immigration and citizenship programs in CIC's largest and most diverse region. This region is comprised of Directorates and regional management areas which report to the Office of the Director General.

Strategic Planning and Executive Services (SPEXS) leads the Planning and Accountability Cycle for Ontario Region. SPEXS facilitates the development of Regional Priorities, publishes them, and develops templates for Regional Management Area Workplans.

The Ontario Administration of Settlement and Integration Services (OASIS) assists newcomers to become members of Canadian society through the funding of essential integration services in partnership with the community.

The Selection, Integration and Refugees (SIR) Directorate is responsible for partnerships, all aspects of processing in-Canada applications referred by Central Processing Centres, the Citizenship program, Inland refugee intake, coordination of Continuous Process Improvement, quality assurance and some enforcement activity.

Following the events of September 11, 2001, and in anticipation of processing changes required by the new Immigration and Refugee Protection Act (IRPA) proclaimed into law on June 28, 2002, CIC has changed refugee processing from mail-in to in-person interviews. To accommodate these changes in processing, Refugee Processing Units have been established at Pearson, Fort Erie, and Etobicoke.

A new office entitled the Permanent Resident Card Distribution Centre (PRCDC) for the Greater Toronto Area (GTA) is being created. This office will be responsible for conducting in-person issuance of the new permanent resident cards to eligible applicants who became permanent residents prior to June 28, 2002. The office will also handle quality control and other referrals for follow-up/investigation from the Case Processing Centre in Sydney. The new Permanent Resident Card is highly resistant to tampering and forgery and is a proof of status document for those with permanent resident status. The card is a key feature of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act (IRPA).

The Port of Entry Directorate is responsible for providing advice and guidance on Port of Entry issues to the Director General and field staff. The Directorate is also responsible for liaison with the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency (CCRA) – Customs Border Services at a regional level.

The Enforcement Directorate provides advice and guidance to all staff across the Region on Enforcement matters and provides direct delivery of immigration enforcement in the Greater Toronto Area at the Greater Toronto Enforcement Centre (GTEC).

Two new Units are currently being established at GTEC as a result of legislative changes brought about by the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act:

The first of these units, the Pre-Removal Risk Assessment (PRRA) Unit, will process applications made to the Minister for protection if the applicants are subject to an enforceable removal order or are named in a security certificate.

A Public Security Unit is also being established which will be integrated into the Regional War Crimes Unit. The combined unit will be known as the Regional Security and War Crimes Unit (RSWCU). The mission of the unit will be to ensure that no safe haven is provided to those for whom we find reasonable grounds to believe are/have been complicit in war crimes, crimes against humanity, and/or activities that will destabilize our and/or other countries.

Communications provides communications products and services for both internal and external clients and designs communications strategies and action plans to achieve Departmental and Regional objectives

Finance Administration and IT Services (FAIS) responds to the operational needs of CIC staff and programs through the provision of integrated corporate services in the areas of Finance, Administration, and IT Services. In addition, FAIS includes Access to Information and Privacy, which provides service to departmental staff and the public at large.

Human Resources provides Pay and Benefits, Staffing, Staff Relations, Classification, Training and services to the Region.

◆ Prairies and Northern Territories Region

The Prairies and Northern Territories Region is responsible for the delivery of Canada's Immigration visitor, citizenship, enforcement and settlement programs for the department through port of entry and inland offices in Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and Nunavut.

Prairies and Northern Territories Region consists of:

- Regional Headquarters located in Winnipeg;
- Five full service (inland) Citizenship and Immigration Centres located in Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Regina, and Winnipeg;
- Three international airport ports of entry at Winnipeg, Calgary, and Edmonton;
- Five land border ports of entry located at Coutts, Carway and Chief Mountain in Alberta, North Portal in Saskatchewan, and Emerson in Manitoba;
- Two airport offices receiving cross-border flights in Regina and Saskatoon; and
- Two 'Satellite' offices in Lethbridge and Yellowknife.

All offices are responsible for facilitating the admission of bona fide visitors, temporary workers, students, immigrants and refugees while ensuring those inadmissible to Canada are refused entry and those subject to enforcement action are dealt with promptly and efficiently.

The ports of entry are additionally responsible for 31 customs outposts staffed by customs officers and any port of entry function along the U.S.-Canada border in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

The inland offices also grant citizenship and work with the provinces, municipalities and community groups to help newcomers integrate and promote understanding of the rights and responsibilities of Canadian Citizens.

The Regional headquarters for the Prairies and Northern Territories Region is located in Winnipeg. Regional office personnel provide management and program advice and guidance to field offices; as well as liaise with National Headquarters, call centres, case processing centres, other government departments, provinces, municipalities and community groups.

◆ British Columbia and Yukon Region

The British Columbia and Yukon Territory Region coordinates the delivery of Citizenship and Immigration services to residents and visitors throughout British Columbia and the Yukon Territories. Core service activities include the immigration, enforcement, visitor, citizenship, and settlement programs of the Department through Ports of Entry and Inland offices. The region consists of 3 Airports, 5 Land Border Ports, 4 Marine Ports, 1 Passenger Rail Port, 3 Satellite Ports, 15 Customs Outposts, 2 Remote Permit Ports (where persons holding a permit can enter Canada), and 5 Inland offices. Officers at the ports of entry as well as inland are responsible for facilitating the admission of bona fide visitors, temporary workers, students, as well as immigrants, refugees and refugee claimants while ensuring that those inadmissible to Canada are refused entry and those subject to enforcement action are dealt with promptly and efficiently. These officers are responsible for investigations, hearings and appeals, detentions and removals in order to take action against violations of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act. In addition to providing immigrant and temporary admissions services Inland offices also grant citizenship and promote understanding of the rights and responsibilities of Canadian citizenship. In the Yukon Territory the department, in concert with service providing organizations, administers the full range of settlement services under the Immigrant Settlement Program. In British Columbia, however, because the responsibility for design and delivery of other settlement programs devolved to the Province of British Columbia under the terms of the Canada-British Columbia Agreement for Co-operation on Immigration, the department administers only the Resettlement Assistance Program for government-assisted refugees and an airport reception program for new immigrants arriving from abroad. BC/Yukon Region also houses the Western Canada Call Centre, which serves BC, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Yukon, Nunavut and Northwest Territories. The region is also home to the Marine Response Team which was developed to meet the challenge of large-scale marine smuggling operations off the West Coast of British Columbia. The Marine Response Team is responsible for the interdiction, containment and transportation of irregular marine arrivals off Canada's West Coast.

◆ International Region (RID)

The International Region is responsible for the delivery of Canada's immigration programs at Canadian missions abroad. This includes immigrant selection, non-immigrant processing, immigration medical services, interdiction, and reporting and liaison. The International Region plays a lead role in international migration, and in the coordination of the Department's international activities, particularly with respect to relations with Foreign Affairs and International Trade Canada (DFAIT), other countries, and multilateral organizations. The International Region comprises eight divisions – Asia and the Pacific (RIA), Africa and the Middle-East (RIF), Western Hemisphere (RIW), Europe (RIU), Resource Management (RIG), Personnel (RIR), Operational Coordination (RIM) and Management Services (RIS).

The International Region is responsible for the delivery of all program activities at Canadian diplomatic missions around the world. This includes all operational aspects of immigration programs such as delivery of annual immigration levels; management of immigration, visitor and refugee programs abroad; ensuring a consistent approach across geographic regions; and coordination and liaison with other departments and agencies such as Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS), Health Canada and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP). The International Region ensures that the delivery of the program is consistent with Canadian law and policy and with Canada's bilateral and multilateral foreign policy interests.

The four geographic branches are responsible for managing the delivery of immigration, visitor and refugee programs at missions within the following territories: Asia-Pacific, Europe, Western Hemisphere, and Africa and the Middle-East.

Resource Management (RIG) is responsible for the maintenance of an operational structure through the allocation of financial and human resources to ensure global immigration is consistent with levels established by Cabinet. This includes those resources in the DFAIT financial base that support the immigration program. Resource Management includes Resource Allocation and Administrative Services (RIGS) and Overseas Resources Management (RIGR).

Operational Coordination (RIM) is responsible for the development and dissemination of statistical information relevant to international operations, communications policies and activities with missions abroad, managing overseas mission reconfiguration, promotion and recruitment, and issues of global interest within the International Region.

In close co-operation with the departmental Human Resources, Finance and Administration Branches, the Personnel Division (RIR) is responsible for the management of human resources relating to the International Service. This division includes Assignments (RIRA), Personnel Services (RIRP) and Training (RIRT).

Management Services (RIS) is responsible for the provision of program support to the region for information management, visits and protocol, access to information, management of locally engaged staff and program integrity.

◆ Case Management (BCD)

The role of the Case Management Branch is to review and manage contentious, sensitive and high profile cases. The branch also manages case litigation. Often “our” cases require the Minister's personal attention and we prepare house cards as well as chronologies and MOFRA's (Minister's Office Field Request for Advice). At the same time, many of our cases may involve seeking the Minister's special exemption from certain provisions of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act, Citizenship Act and the corresponding Regulations.

The operations of this branch are complex, involving coordination and co-operation with other Citizenship and Immigration branches, field staff, other government departments and agencies and external organizations in Canada as well as overseas.

The branch is organized into three divisions. “Our” cases are temporarily “borrowed” from our inland and overseas immigration/citizenship offices, which explains why this branch has a more “operational” focus than most other departmental support branches.

- Director General's Office (BCD). This division supports the Director General regarding branch-wide issues such as: budget management, human resources and program measurement.
- Case Review (BCM). This division assesses all sensitive Immigration and Citizenship cases, other than those related to organized crime, security and modern war crimes. The division is divided into three sections:
 - one is responsible for Danger to the Public (criminality), risk upon return (Pre-removal Risk Assessment–PRRA), as well as Rehabilitation cases;
 - another handles all remaining high profile cases not dealt with by the Organized Crime, Security Review or Modern War Crimes areas; and
 - the third handles difficult and contentious citizenship cases. Unlike immigration analysts, Citizenship analysts have the sole delegated authority to perform functions on certain complex cases.

Case Review deals with all sections of the Citizenship Act and Immigration and Refugee Protection Act—with the exception of Sections 34, 35 and 37 of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act.

- Litigation Management (BCL). This division is not a component of the immigration or citizenship processes. The main role is to provide a link between Department of Justice lawyers and CIC policy and operational personnel. This division instructs Justice lawyers on case-specific immigration and citizenship matters before the courts, provides guidance to CIC staff on the litigation process in general and in specific cases, and ensures that the appropriate action is taken in response to court orders. This division also responds to inquiries from the Minister's office and the field. Sections of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act that BCL deals with most often are: Sections 63-71, which concern proceedings before the Immigration Appeal Division, and sections 72-75, which concern judicial review applications before the Federal Court of Canada.

◆ Intelligence Branch (RZD)

The role of the Intelligence Branch is to provide expertise on security, terrorism, organized crime, modern war crimes, intelligence, irregular migration, documents and anti-fraud.

The Branch is organized as follows:

- Service Line Support (RZL). This division supports the Director General regarding branch-wide issues such as: budget management, human resources, IT support, corporate initiatives, CIC priorities, program measurement and strategic planning. It manages all issues that have cross-branch implications, including policy development. Furthermore, it provides the Branch with the capacity to plan, analyze and coordinate activities and to provide an efficient infrastructure to support the other divisions in the Branch. It also supports the Director General regarding the Border Vision initiative – in particular information sharing.
- Strategic Intelligence (RZS). This division ensures the development of supportive information systems and data policy; promotes the development of statistical "Executive" reporting, scanning and analysis tools; and provides secretariat and substantive support for departmental intelligence partners.
 - Assessment (RZS/A). This section is responsible for the monitoring and assessment of irregular migration to Canada to support policy and operational decision-making.
 - Policy & Planning (RZS/P). This section provides support and advice on security and intelligence policy issues, and assists the intelligence branch in formulating its strategic plans.
- Tactical Intelligence (RZT). This division ensures coordination and consistent approaches within the tactical intelligence units in the branch; promotes streamlined processes and improved advice to the department's field offices; and the development of mechanisms to feed tactical intelligence into strategic trends analysis.
 - Organized Crime (RZT/O). The role of this section is to develop a broad understanding of the organization and operation of international organized crime, and of specific types of organized crime (such as: Asian, Russian, Caribbean organized crime, Italian Mafia groups, Outlaw Motorcycle gangs and Latin/South American Cartels), with the ultimate goal of ensuring that any inadmissible person is denied an entry visa or removed from Canada. They are the primary support and provide subject matter expertise to the Minister's office and immigration officers in Canada and abroad regarding such cases. The section is also involved in framing our response to money laundering. The section of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act (IRPA) that they deal with is: Section 37(1)(a) & (b).
- Security Review (RZT/Z). Cases in this section involve applicants considered to be a security risk because of their political activity (ex: terrorism, espionage). Security Review supports the security clearance process "owned" by the Canadian Security and Intelligence Service (CSIS), as well as providing expertise and advice to immigration officers in Canada and overseas to ensure proper screening of applicants whether they be refugee, visitor or immigrant applicants. The section of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act that they deal with is: Section 34(1)(a)(b)(c)(d)(e) and (f).
- War Crimes (RTZ/W). This section exists to support both overseas and in Canada activities as well as to monitor and inventory all Modern War Crimes cases. They are responsible for developing and providing the tools necessary to allow immigration and visa officers to identify and properly refuse war criminals, as well as ensure consistency of approach, via training and briefings, country profiling and screening aids. The section also supplies legal advice, research assistance and expertise regarding issues and cases that will result in effective decision making. The section of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act that they deal with is: Section 35(1)(a)(b) and (c), as well as article 1F(a) of the Geneva Convention for Refugees.
- Intelligence Coordination and Research (RZI). This division is an integral component of intelligence gathering and dissemination for the Modern War Crimes, Security, Organized Crime and other inadmissibility screening programs. It is also the lead Government coordinator for intelligence support to the International War Crimes Tribunals. It is responsible for the collation and analysis of intelligence, provision of subject matter expertise and exchange of information with Canadian intelligence agencies. The division produces guides and various subject studies as aids to screening. A section (RZI/R) is dedicated to the research of country conditions and other, in-depth studies and information of assistance to hearings and pre-removal risk assessment officers.
- Control Division (RZC). This division monitors, analyzes and reports on illegal migration practices and abuse of the immigration program.

- Immigration Control Officer (ICO) Network & Fraud Prevention (RZC/C&F). This section works in co-operation with the International Region to support the overseas immigration control and fraud prevention programs. The section acts as a central point of liaison between the ICO Network and other divisions within CIC headquarters, with other government departments (such as the RCMP) and also with international organizations and other governments. It also develops policies and provides functional guidance to ICOs concerning methods and practices of interdicting improperly documented travellers abroad and collecting intelligence on people smuggling activity, including coordinating activities, arranging material support, promulgating best practices and tactical advice, and assisting with information flow to and from the network. This section supports the overseas fraud prevention program in a similar way, coordinating activities, developing new policies and providing guidance on operations, with the aim of assisting officers abroad to detect and prevent fraud in immigration applications.
- Document Integrity & National Central Repository (RZC/D&R). This section monitors, analyses and reports on the abuse of travel and identification documents as it relates to immigration to Canada, develops and provides a variety of detection and training products, as well as provides technical advice regarding travel and identification documents to ICOs and regional intelligence, provides examination expertise on identification and travel documents, participates in and provides input to the development of CIC documentation and client identification policy and strategy. It acts as liaison between the ICO Network and other divisions within CIC headquarters, with other government departments (such as the RCMP) and also with international organizations and other governments on document issuance policy and document fraud detection. It manages the design of CIC's secure documentation in conjunction with the private printing and security sectors and maintains a registry of travel and identification documents for comparison, analysis, and product development.

♦ Strategic Operations Planning Unit (AOB)

The Strategic Operations Planning Unit provides support to the ADM, Operations Sector on strategic and operational issues, contributes to the Sector's planning and reporting capability, and acts as an advocate for the regions for the development of CIC policies.

♦ Medical Services Branch (HMD)

The Medical Services Branch was officially established on August 6, 2001. The Medical Services Branch supports Canadian immigration and health systems through the provision of immigration and public health advice, service and support. The Branch develops policies and designs programs that manage the specific health issues related to immigration and resettlement from abroad, and in partnership with other departments and central agencies, plans and delivers programs that support the health of Canadian overseas staff and dependants. Medical Services supports the implementation of these programs by CIC, Health Canada, Foreign Affairs and International Trade Canada (DFAIT) and Treasury Board of Canada Secretariat, assisted when required by a network of national and international partners. The Branch also strives to increase the better understanding of health issues and concerns faced by migrants, and represents the Department in multilateral and international migration health settings. Among other things, the Medical Services Branch is responsible for spearheading the development of operations and policy for the Medical Program at CIC, in addition to advising senior management and the Minister on medical matters.

The Interim Federal Health Program (HMF), which was known as the Non-Insured Health Benefit Program under Health Canada, was transferred to CIC on April 1, 1995. The program is designed to cover emergency and essential health care costs for refugee claimants, refugees and others under immigration control.

The Immigration Health Assessments Division (HMA) is responsible for centralized medical processing in North America, developing medical assessment guidelines, maintaining quality assurance standards, and providing statistical and qualitative medical information.

International Health Operations (HMI) is responsible for managing the medical screening of immigrants, refugees and certain classes of visitors who apply to enter Canada from abroad. In association with Health Canada (Occupational & Environmental Health Services) and the Foreign Affairs and International Trade Canada, the division also helps federal employees and dependants remain healthy while serving abroad.

The Immigration Health Policy and Standards Division (HMP) is responsible for supporting the legislation on medical inadmissibility.

Centralized Services Delivery and Corporate Services

♦ Finance (BFD)

The Finance Branch provides services, advice and information to departmental management concerning the financial management of the Department's policies and programs. The Branch is divided into four directorates: Financial Policy and Systems (BFP), Accounting Operations (BFO), Financial Planning, Analysis and Reporting (BFM), and Cost Management. The key functions carried out by the Branch include: providing financial policies and systems; providing accounting services; managing the loan portfolio; developing cost recovery/revenue generating plans; developing resource management plans for reallocating departmental funds or securing funding approval through central agencies to fund departmental programs; and providing financial analysis and reporting services.

◆ Administration and Security

The Administration Directorate provides services, advice and information to departmental management concerning the administrative management of the Department's policies and programs. The key functions carried out by the Directorate include: providing administrative policies and systems; providing facilities and real property asset management services; and supplying materiel, contracting and security services.

◆ Departmental Delivery Network (RND)

The Departmental Delivery Network (RND) provides integrated program management and delivery on a product line basis in Canada. It ensures that CIC's centralized points of service have access to management and program support.

The Departmental Delivery Network includes a small NHQ structure (including Support Services–RNA, Service Delivery–RNS, and Citizenship and Immigration Services–RNO), three central processing centres (Case Processing Centres (CPCs) are in Vegreville, Alberta–RNV, Mississauga, Ontario–RNM, and Sydney, Nova Scotia–RNC), two Ottawa-based central points of service (Immigration Warrant Response Centre–RNZ and Query Response Centre–RNQ) and four call centres (Vancouver, Toronto and two in Montréal).

The Support Services Division (RNA) is responsible for developing systems for information management, information technology, human resources practices, finance and administrative matters.

The Service Delivery Division (RNS) provides functional direction to CIC's call centre operation. It also develops the application kits used by clients to access the CPCs and missions outside Canada.

The Citizenship and Immigration Services Division (RNO) is the principal contact in National Headquarters for the three CPCs (Mississauga, Sydney and Vegreville). RNO provides the CPCs with advice, guidance, assistance and operational instructions on the Citizenship and Immigration programs.

CPC–Vegreville (RNV) opened for full processing on April 1, 1994 and is responsible for:

- Visitor Extensions;
- Study Permits;
- Work Permits;
- Temporary Resident Permit Extensions;
- Immigrant Applications for Landing in Canada; and
- Right of Landing Fee (ROLF) Loans.

The Mississauga Case Processing Centre (RNM) has been the national processing centre for all Family Class sponsorships since April 1994. As such, the primary responsibility for this centre is the processing of all Family Class sponsorship applications. In conjunction with this role, it also serves as the contact point for social services sponsorship default notification, acts as the national repository for Family Class sponsorship applications, and cancels terms and conditions of landing for clients landed under the fiancé(e) category.

CPC–Sydney (RNC) has operated since 1984 and provides direct service in all matters concerning Canadian Citizenship. Through the Citizenship Registration System (CRS), the staff administers the Citizenship Act while serving as a citizenship card production centre. CPC–PRC, located in Sydney, processes applications for permanent residents for Permanent Resident Cards.

The Immigration Warrant Response Centre (RNZ) is responsible for managing immigration warrants on the Canadian Police Information Centre (CPIC) database and for responding to requests for warrant confirmation from police agencies, Canada Immigration Centres and missions abroad. The centre also responds to police requests for immigration and citizenship status checks.

The Query Response Centre (RNQ) retains on microfilm records of entry to Canada for permanent residents, temporary residents, foreign students, visitors and temporary workers, as well as selected enforcement documents. The Centre is responsible for requests for verification of admission and supporting documents for immigration inquiries and court proceedings. It also includes verifying landing records of those who wish to become Canadian citizens and the processing of requests to amend or replace landing records.

The call centres serve as the initial point of contact for CIC clients in Canada. The call centre agents provide general and case specific information and help clients with next steps in their cases. The agents have no decision making authority.

◆ Information Management and Technologies (BID)

The Information Management and Technologies Branch is responsible for the design, development, implementation, maintenance and ongoing operational support of all of Citizenship and Immigration Canada's automated systems. It establishes and administers all policies and standards related to information management and information technology and is responsible for the effective introduction and development of information management and information technology solutions for the department. The branch also ensures the integrity, accuracy and effective delivery of departmental information holdings, including departmental records (both paper and microfilm) and library holdings.

The Information Management and Technologies Branch also provides management of Local and Wide Area Networks used by the department and full computer operations and production support for National and International Systems and end-user support for the National Headquarters component.

The Global Case Management System (GCMS) is a five-year program to replace Citizenship and Immigration Canada business systems with an integrated case management based set of applications and infrastructure components in support of all of the Department's client operations. The program will improve CIC's overall efficiency, and client service delivery, as well as facilitate communications and data sharing with our delivery partners. GCMS will also provide the technological foundation to support new business initiatives and capitalize on innovative technology.

♦ Modern Management Office (Special Project) (MMO)

CIC created its Modern Management Office (MMO) in August 2000 as an important step to implement the Modern Comptrollership Initiative of the Government of Canada.

Essential elements of modern comptrollership are strategic leadership, motivated people, shared values and ethics, integrated performance information, mature risk management, rigorous stewardship and improved accountability.

Progress has been made in several areas. In March 2001, CIC carried out a baseline assessment of its capacity to implement modern management practices in the department. In July, the report of CIC's Modern Management Practices Assessment was completed and an action plan is being developed. In addition, CIC is taking steps to implement other key elements of the modern comptrollership.

Strategic Directions and Communications

♦ Communications (BPD)

The role of the Communications Branch is to provide services which will meet the communications needs of the minister, the deputy minister, the department and its clients. The Branch informs the public, in both official languages, about departmental policies, programs and services, alerts key audiences to major new departmental initiatives, and provides advice and guidance to the minister and senior departmental officials on all communications aspects of programs, operations and activities. The Communications branch is divided into three directorates: Corporate Communications, Strategic Communications, and Public Relations and Media Relations. The key functions carried out by these directorates include publishing and distribution, internal communications, media relations, media monitoring and analysis, speechwriting for the minister and senior departmental officials, strategic communications advice and planning, public environment research, program related communications assistance, and departmental publications.

Communications is also responsible for the maintenance and upkeep of the departmental Internet Web Site, which gives access to a wide variety of departmental publications and provides answers to frequently asked questions.

♦ Strategic Policy, Planning and Research (BSD)

Strategic Policy, Planning and Research provides strategic policy, planning and research support to the Department, including the integration of priorities with the broader government agenda.

The Intergovernmental and Stakeholder Relations component (BSO) establishes frameworks and acts as the Department's focal point for federal-provincial relations; supports existing immigration agreements; establishes negotiating frameworks; manages federal-provincial negotiations for immigration agreements; manages negotiations of memorandums of understanding on the exchange of information with provinces; and supports other branches in federal-provincial consultation exercises.

Strategic Policy (BSD) provides strategic policy advice and briefings for the minister, deputy minister and the assistant deputy ministers on government-wide and Department-wide issues, and develops and coordinates long-term and ongoing corporate strategic policy.

Strategic Planning (BSP) provides organizational leadership for the departmental planning and accountability processes, including performance reviews, plans and priorities, reporting systems, and environmental analysis.

Strategic Research and Review (BSS) provides support to policy and program development; develops and manages the departmental research plan; is the departmental focal point for the development and contracting of research; leads the Department's evaluation activities; and develops and manages the Department's review plans.

Regulatory Process (BSP) provides advice and guidance on regulatory issues; manages and monitors the regulatory and legislative agenda; and develops the regulatory plan.

♦ Executive Services (BMD)

The Executive Services Branch consists of Briefings and Parliamentary Affairs (BMP), Ministerial Enquiries (BMQ) and Public Rights Administration (BMX).

The Briefings and Parliamentary Affairs Division is responsible for managing Ministerial and DM briefings, providing information to the Minister's office in preparation for Question Period, organizing and managing corporate committees, and supporting the movement of CIC items through the parliamentary process.

The Ministerial Enquiries Division provides enquiries and correspondence management services to the offices of the Minister and the Deputy Minister. Its mandate is to prepare replies to written enquiries/correspondence for the Minister; reply to telephone enquiries from Members of Parliament (MPs) and Senators; and provide advice/guidance to the Minister's office to address requests for ministerial intervention. The division is divided into three units—Ministerial Enquiries Tracking Unit; Correspondence Unit and a Telephone Enquiry Unit. There is also a small group of Senior Program Advisors who provide advice/guidance to the Minister's office to address requests for ministerial intervention.

The Public Rights Administration Division is responsible for the management of access to information, privacy and human rights activities.

♦ International Liaison

International Liaison develops the Department's international migration strategy and coordinates departmental participation in multilateral activities and fora by: managing and enhancing Canada's participation in international organizations active in migration; supporting Canada's foreign policy objectives by working with Foreign Affairs and International Trade Canada (DFAIT), Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA) and other government departments, as well as with researchers and non-governmental organizations, identifying and pursuing the links between international migration and other foreign policy issues, such as sustainable development, population programs, human rights, humanitarian assistance, trade, foreign investment, conflict resolution, and peacebuilding; managing Canada's participation in technical assistance projects in the area of migration; and providing secretariat support to the Department's Steering Committee on the International Agenda.

♦ Metropolis (APX)

CIC supports the Metropolis Project Team which coordinates the Metropolis Project and its strategic directions. The Metropolis Project is a co-operative international initiative to stimulate multidisciplinary policy research on the effects of international migration and diversity, especially on cities. The key objective of the Metropolis Project is to give governments solid information to help them develop policies that can accommodate and manage social change arising from immigration. The project is structured as a partnership with both domestic and international components.

Nationally, the Metropolis Project is supported by a consortium of federal departments and agencies (Citizenship and Immigration Canada, Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council, Health Canada, Canadian Heritage, Status of Women Canada, Human Resources Development Canada, Statistics Canada, Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation, Correctional Services Canada). The Metropolis Project Team coordinates federal activities through an interdepartmental committee structure. Four Metropolis Centres of Excellence, located in Montréal, Toronto, Edmonton and Vancouver, have been created, each a partnership of major universities. Collectively the Centres involve 15 universities and several hundred affiliated researchers, including graduate students. Federal, provincial and municipal governments, NGOs and private sector representatives participate actively on the management and advisory structures of each of the Centres. In addition to receiving core federal support, the Centres draw extensive support from the universities and receive additional project resources from federal departments, provinces, NGOs and the private sector.

The international Metropolis Project involves a partnership of policy makers and researchers from over 20 countries, including the United States, most of Western Europe, Israel, Argentina and the Asia-Pacific Region, and inter-governmental and non-governmental organizations, such as the European Commission, UNESCO, the International Centre for Migration Policy Development, the International Organization for Migration and the Migration Policy Group. The international project is heavily leveraged financially and is managed through an International Steering Committee with the CIC Metropolis Project Team providing strategic direction and coordination.

♦ Audit and Advisory Services

Audit and Advisory Services Branch conducts audit and consulting engagements to provide assurances to senior management on risk management strategy and practices, management control frameworks and practices, and information used for decision-making and reporting. The Branch also monitors that management action plans responding to internal audit observations are successfully implemented. In addition the Branch serves as the liaison office for the Office of the Auditor General and the Treasury Board Secretariat Centre of Excellence for Internal Audit.

Human Resources (BHD)

The Human Resources Branch provides a full range of human resources services such as staffing and classification, official languages, pay and benefits, training and development, labour-management relations, workplace ethics, conflict resolution, health and safety, organizational well-being (including recognition programs) and individual/organizational performance evaluation. This branch also provides departmental services in the area of planning and environmental analysis, resourcing strategies, policies and monitoring as well as supports the implementation and development of the departmental Human Resources Management system. The Human Resources branch also defines and supports departmental strategies on learning and change management and ensures learning and career management services as well as program related training.

Other

♦ Client Service Project (DMS)

A Client Service Initiative was launched in 1999 by CIC in response to the government's commitment to client-centred services. CIC was asked on June 30, 2000 to become a Lead Department for the Treasury Board Secretariat Service Improvement Initiative. The Initiative has focused on three fronts:

- Exploring business solutions for the future of the overseas network through a major pilot project;
- Enhancing client service through the establishment/improvement of service standards and client satisfaction feedback frameworks and mechanisms; and
- Supporting and implementing several short-term and longer-term initiatives related to improved access to services, quality assurance, and decreased processing times.

Looking towards enhanced transparency and efficiency of our overseas selection processes, a pilot has been underway since Fall 2000 to test the extent to which it would be more efficient to process immigrant applications from a central location in Canada rather than at Canadian missions abroad. The pilot is also being used as a testing ground for service standards, a quality assurance process, Family Class re-design and digitally imaged files.

♦ Ombudsman

The Ombudsman provides an informal process for dealing with employee concerns and problems. These include, but are not limited to, unfair practices or systems, the conduct of other employees and issues of ethical behaviour, such as conflict of interest or activities that seem to be contrary to public service values and the public interest.

The services of the Ombudsman are available to all employees of the Department of Citizenship and Immigration at all levels, including managers. Any matter of concern to the employee can be raised with the Ombudsman.

The Deputy Minister assigns the responsibilities and duties of Ombudsman as per his general authority under the Public Service Employment Act. The Ombudsman reports directly to the Deputy Minister.

The services of the Ombudsman are available to employees who wish to resolve problems informally as an alternative to more formal mechanisms, such as grievances, appeals and complaints. The Ombudsman is not intended to replace other existing policies or procedures, the roles of unions, the department's Staff Relations division, the established system of Designated Departmental Representatives, the Public Service Commission, the Public Service Staff Relations Board or the Canadian Human Rights Commission. The Ombudsman will ensure that employees are aware of these alternatives and the time limits within which they may access them, so that they may make an informed choice as to which process to follow.

Electronic Data Processing (EDP) Systems

Description: EDP systems are used to gather or update the information needed for the operational support of citizenship and immigration programs. Citizenship and immigration-related programs and services are delivered using integrated clerical, manual and EDP systems. The EDP component consists of the sub-systems listed below. All sub-systems are linked to each other, either by a full computer connection (interface), or by common data elements that allow comparisons of information across systems. Therefore, actions in one sub-system may affect the smooth running of others. Approximately 500 separate immigration forms, with a total volume of 1,000,000 documents, are processed through these sub-systems each year.

- Enforcement Information Index (EII): Please see CIC PPU 041 for details. A set of EII (CIC PPU 041) cases produced on CD was distributed to posts (embassies and consulates) abroad.
- Enforcement Data System (EDS): Please see CIC PPU 001 for details. A set of EDS (CIC PPU 001) cases produced on CD was distributed to posts (embassies and consulates) abroad.
- Field Operational Support System (FOSS): The FOSS database is a central repository of information on all persons who have been, may be or are wanted to be seen by Immigration staff. FOSS is the main operational support system for Immigration operations in Canada. The system is comprised of numerous components including query functions, status entry, document creation, refugee monitoring, case processing support, medical profiles, registry functions, client name and address, statistical functions, airport primary inspection line functions, access and security, appeals and litigation, quality assurance and records maintenance. All Immigration staff that work with the public and the staff that support these officers use FOSS. It is also used at all international airports by Customs inspectors and by a number of specialized groups, such as: Case Management, Query Response Centre, Social Insurance Registry, Immigration Health, Immigration Statistics, External Affairs Protocol Office and the U.S. Immigration Offices at Detroit and Buffalo. There are over 14 million client records and over 23 million document reference records.
- Computer-Assisted Immigration Processing System (CAIPS): CAIPS is the Department's automated system for immigration application processing outside Canada. Information is entered in the system from application forms and supporting documentation submitted by applicants for immigrant and visitor visas, returning residence permits and student and employment authorizations. This information is transferred electronically to FOSS to facilitate inland processing. In addition, CAIPS users have real-time access to FOSS via the CAIPS-FOSS Integration module.
- Case Processing Centre System (CPC): The CPC system supports the processing of all in-Canada applications for the following six lines of Business: in-Canada sponsorship of family class; extension of visitor visas; extension of employment authorizations; extension of student authorizations; applications for permanent residence; applications based on Humanitarian and Compassionate grounds; and for persons deemed refugees. The system is tied very closely to FOSS.

- Citizenship Registry System (CRS): CRS manages processes related to citizenship, namely grants of citizenship and proofs of citizenship. The main functions are: Collect Fees; Collect Data; Certificate Preparation; Clearance; Decision: Scheduling; Log In (results) and File Retention. All record scheduling and workflow data related to citizenship processes are kept in this database and there is an interface with FOSS.
- National Case Management System (NCMS): The NCM system replaces seven regional case tracking applications—Tracking Resource Allocation and Client Scheduling (TRACS), Système d'Affectation des Ressources et Calendrier des Enquêtes (SARCE), Investigations Tracking System (ITS), Investigation Case Management System (ICMS), Système Informatique pour le Suivi des Appels (SISA), and Appeals Tracking System (ATS). NCMS provides functionality that supports critical case tracking requirements from the regions and NHQ. It provides a facility aimed at satisfying management information needs. Key enforcement data is stored centrally to provide an integrated client case history for all domestic users. Its functions include case tracking, bring forward, scheduling, workload management, file registry, and forms and letters modules for all of CIC's major enforcement business lines (except port of entry examinations).

Topics: Information systems generally; standard statistical coding for completing forms; information-gathering systems (employment clearance, occupation, transportation tables, native language); data systems (immigrants processed abroad and in Canada, permanent residents, monthly program reports, special information retrieval procedures, foreign nationals visiting Canada). Program Record Number: CIC APB 005 (formerly CIC IMM 110)

Technical Support

♦ Enforcement (SED)

Enforcement Data System

Description: This bank contains information from the enforcement records of persons who have come under examination at a port of entry or investigation at an inland Canada Immigration Centre. This bank is a sub-system (batch system) of the Field Operational Support System (FOSS) held by the Information Management and Technologies Branch (BID). The bank includes a report from an immigration officer and a record of the inquiry, appeal and removal process. Records may include name, address, birth date, country of birth, enforcement action undertaken (i.e. a report, arrest, inquiry or removal under the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act), and the date and place of each event in the process. The deportation order is available on persons subject to the removal process from January 1, 1973. Some of the information may be duplicated in the Immigrant Case File—CIC PPU 042 and the Permanent Resident Data System—CIC PPU 053. Persons seeking access to this information should supply their name, date of birth, approximate date of entry to Canada and port of entry. Class of Individuals: Persons who have been subject to the enforcement provisions of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act of Canada.

Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to help determine the admissibility of persons to Canada or the right of persons to remain in Canada, and to produce statistical reports in support of the enforcement function. Consistent Uses: Information is also used by the Department of Human Resources Development Canada (HRDC) and by the Immigration Appeal Division of the Immigration and Refugee Board of Canada (IRB). Other uses may include sharing information with Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS), the Department of Justice, Solicitor General Canada and other divisions of the Immigration and Refugee Board (IRB). Information may be shared between the IRB's Immigration Appeal Division—IRB PPU 110 and Adjudication Division—IRB PPU 140. Information may be shared with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) and the Canadian Security and Intelligence Service (CSIS) for the purpose of conducting security reviews or investigations related to immigration legislation. Information is shared with Statistics Canada for statistical purposes and with Foreign Affairs and International Trade Canada for statistical and planning purposes. It may also be used for internal audit purposes. It may be provided to private sector research firms for planning, statistics, research and evaluations. The information is also shared with the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency to aid the officers at the Primary Inspection Line (PIL) in referring persons to Immigration for further examination. Retention and Disposal Standards: Paper records are normally retained ten years after the last administrative action.

Description: This bank may contain names and other information pertaining to individual members or representatives of organizations involved in the Host Program. Access to this bank may be gained by providing the name and address of the particular organization. Class of Individuals: Members of service provider organizations who provide assistance to newly arrived immigrants. Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to provide a list of the Host Program organizations. The information may be used in decisions regarding the effectiveness of the Program. Consistent Uses: The information may be used for internal audit purposes. It may be provided to private sector research firms for the purposes of planning, statistics, research and evaluation. Retention and Disposal Standards: Information on members or representatives of Host Program organizations is kept for six fiscal years after termination of the contribution agreement. Related to PR#: CIC ASB 006 TBS Registration: 001973 Bank Number: CIC PPU 005 (formerly EIC PPU 226)

Immigration-Contribution Accountability Measurement System

Description: This bank may contain the following information: full name, date of birth, country of origin, gender, location in Canada, month of arrival in Canada, mother tongue, immigrant category and CIC identification numbers. The bank may also contain aggregate or per client service data, such as type and hours of services received, relating to four CIC contribution programs. These programs include 1. Immigrant Settlement and Adaptation Program (ISAP)—funds are provided to deliver direct and essential services to newcomers to Canada and include such services as reception and orientation, translation and interpretation, referral to community resources, para-professional counselling, general information and employment-related services; 2. Host Program—funds are provided to recruit, train, match and monitor volunteers (individuals and groups) who help newcomers to adapt, settle and integrate into Canadian life; 3. Language Instruction for Newcomers to Canada (LINC)—funds basic instruction in one of Canada's official languages to meet adult newcomers' integration needs. 4. Resettlement Assistance Program (RAP)—provides income support for up to 12 months (24 months for special needs cases) after arrival in Canada or until the newcomer becomes self-sufficient, whichever comes first and immediate essential services such as port of entry reception, temporary accommodation, assistance with locating permanent accommodation, financial orientation, basic orientation and assessment and referral to broader-based services, to government-assisted refugees. Persons seeking access to this bank must supply their full name as appearing on their most recent immigration document, date of birth and an immigration ID number (IMM1000, FOSS/Permanent Resident Card, Minister's Permit, Temporary Resident Permit). Class of Individuals: All clients eligible for services under ISAP, LINC, Host or RAP, including all landed immigrants, individuals approved for landing in principle, individuals working under the Live-in Caregiver Program and government-assisted refugees. Purpose: Information in this bank will be used by CIC for the purposes of program monitoring and evaluation, activity monitoring, policy analysis and research. Consistent Uses: Data which Service Provider Organizations (that receive funding under ISAP, Host, LINC and RAP) have submitted to the bank themselves will be shared with them on an individual basis. Data from the bank may also be shared with private sector research firms and Statistics Canada. Retention and Disposal Standards: The retention period will be 21 years. Contact: Directors, Integration and Refugees Branches, CIC National Headquarters. Related to PR#: CIC ASB 006 and CIC ASB 009 TBS Registration: 5249 Bank Number: CIC PPU 062.

♦ Refugees (SRD)

Adjustment Assistance Program (AAP) (terminated April 30, 1998)

Description: This bank may include the following types of information: Name, date and place of birth, mother tongue, authorization number (visa, transportation or admissibility number), address, Social Insurance Number, occupation, marital status, financial situation, date and port of arrival, name of spouse and number of dependants, date and amount of cheque, payee and purpose. The Social Insurance Number is used because some benefits are taxable and T-5 forms are issued each year for taxation purposes. Access to this bank may be gained by providing place of birth, date of birth and place and date of admission to Canada. Class of Individuals: Government-assisted refugees who require financial assistance, which they receive under the AAP, until they have sufficient income to meet their needs or for one year, whichever comes first. Purpose: The bank serves as a record of adjustment assistance granted to government-assisted refugees in need. The information is used in the administration of financial assistance loans. Consistent Uses: Information in this bank may be used by Citizenship and Immigration Canada for purposes of research, planning, evaluation, statistics, internal audit and control, and may be provided to private sector research firms for this purpose and for Management Information System purposes. It may also be shared with Statistics Canada for census purposes. This information may be shared with provincial welfare agencies for the purpose of determining entitlement to provincial programs. It may also be disclosed to provincial authorities for assessment under the terms of an agreement (i.e. Canada-Quebec Accord) or arrangement in order to conduct a lawful investigation or administer or enforce any law. Retention and Disposal Standards: Information is kept for six fiscal years after the last administrative action. Related to PR#: CIC ASB 006 TBS Registration: 001975 Bank Number: CIC PPU 006 (formerly EIC PPU 235)

Refugee Claim in Canada Case File

Description: This bank may include the following types of information: name, date of birth, country of birth, sex, marital status, citizenship, date and place of arrival in Canada, address in Canada, telephone number as well as personal background information including but not limited to education and employment history, the length of residency in other country(ies), and reason(s) for coming to Canada. Similar information will be collected for each dependent family member. Persons seeking access to this bank must supply their name, date of birth and place of birth. Class of Individuals:

Individuals who arrive at any Canadian border or local Citizenship and Immigration Office in Canada who, in accordance with the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act, claim to be a Convention refugee and request to remain in Canada for an indefinite period of time. Purpose: To record information that will facilitate the assessment of the individual's admissibility to Canada and his/her eligibility to make a refugee claim. Also, to assist the individual's refugee claim to be determined by the Convention Refugee Determination Division of the Immigration and Refugee Board of Canada. This information will also be used to assess the individual's application for permanent residence in Canada. The information is used in the administration and enforcement of immigration legislation. Consistent

Uses: The information may be disclosed to the Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS), the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP), Immigration and Refugee Board (IRB), and Canada Customs and Revenue Agency (CCRA) for the purpose of conducting security reviews or investigations related to immigration legislation. Use of information also includes the sharing of information with Solicitor General Canada, CSIS, Foreign Affairs and International Trade Canada (DFAIT), the Department of Justice and the RCMP where these uses are pursuant to the law. Information may also be disclosed to various foreign governments, law enforcement bodies and detaining authorities with respect to the administration and enforcement of immigration legislation where such sharing of information may not put the individual and/or his/her family at risk. Information may be disclosed to medical practitioners for the purpose of providing medical services to newly arrived refugee claimants. Some information may also be disclosed to transportation companies within the terms of their responsibilities under immigration legislation. This information may also be disclosed to provincial authorities for assessment under the terms of an agreement (i.e. Canada-Quebec Accord) or arrangement. Other uses of information may include the sharing of information with the Insurance and Employment programs of Human Resources Development Canada, DFAIT, Health Canada, as well as with provincial or municipal government departments under the terms of an agreement responsible for assisting immigration settlement for the purpose of administering their programs (e.g. social welfare, education, and human resource planning) and for research purposes. Information may also be shared with Statistics Canada and DFAIT for statistical and planning purposes. It may also be shared with foreign governments such as U.S. immigration authorities under the terms of an agreement or arrangement in order to conduct a lawful investigation or administer or enforce any law. It may be provided to private sector research firms, under contract with Citizenship Immigration Canada, for the purposes of planning, statistics, research and evaluation. Information is obtained from DFAIT, Health Canada, IRB, CSIS, the RCMP and some provincial government departments to administer or enforce the immigration legislation and to administer and conduct the appeals process under the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act. Retention and Disposal Standards: Information is kept for ten years after the issuance of the permanent resident document (record of landing) or two years from its last administrative use, whichever is later. Related to PR#: CIC ASB 008 RD Number: 88/012 TBS Registration: 005188 Bank Number: CIC PPU 009

This file includes such items as the client's family name, first name, the date and the office where the client presented himself/herself, and the individual's status in Canada. Persons who wish to consult this information must provide their family name, first name and date of birth. Class of Individuals: Individuals who appear at a port of entry of Citizenship and Immigration Canada. Purpose: This file enables the local office to obtain statistics concerning the volumes of clients encountered, the nature of the requests, the issuing of documents, and the number of clients referred by Customs. Consistent Uses: The information contained in this file is used solely by staff at ports of entry in the Quebec Region, for statistical purposes. Retention and Disposal Standards: The data contained in this file is retained for a period of two years. Related to PR#: CIC ASB 001 TBS Registration: 005190 Bank Number: CIC PPU 016

Seized Documents (Web Passport)

Description: This MS Access file contains data collected since 1995 concerning documents that have been seized principally in the Quebec Region for verification. The file contains, in particular, the serial numbers of such documents as passports, visas, Records of Landing, etc. It also contains information on the holders of these documents, such as the family name, first name, date of birth, country of citizenship and country of birth. Individuals who wish to consult this information must provide their family name, first name and date of birth. Class of Individuals: Holders of documents seized for verification. Purpose: This database is used by officers and clerks of the Intelligence Unit of the Quebec Region, to ensure better follow-up of intercepted documents and thus avoid fraud. Consistent Uses: The information is used by staff of the Intelligence Unit. Retention and Disposal Standards: Indeterminate. Certain documents may be claimed by their holders. Related to PR#: CIC ASB 001 TBS Registration: 005191 Bank Number: CIC PPU 017

Immigration Detainees Management System (SGADI)

Description: This MS Access file, which was created in June 1999, contains information on individuals held in detention centres in Quebec for whom Immigration activities are in progress. The file makes it possible to manage detentions by producing reports on detainees (including children) being held in the Immigration Prevention Centre and in other detention facilities in Quebec. It also makes it possible to track the movements of detainees and to obtain information on costs associated with detention. The file contains the following information: family name, first name, date of birth, date of arrival, time of arrival, sex, country of birth, port of entry, number of dependants (spouse and children), type of detainee (criminal, refugee protection claimant or other), height, weight, colour of eyes, colour of hair, remarks (e.g., tattoo), medical file, reason for detention, Youth Protection Directorate (YPD) cases (for children), complaints made by the detainee, and the list of places visited by the detainees during the detention (bank, hospital, etc.). Individuals who wish to consult this information must provide their family name, first name, date of birth and preferably their FOSS identification number. Class of Individuals: Individuals who are detained and for whom Immigration activities are in progress. Purpose: The main function of this file is to provide follow-up on the activities of individuals being held in the Immigration Prevention Centre. Employees performing duties associated with detention management enter information gathered on detainees into a database. Consistent Uses: The information is used by staff of the Immigration Prevention Centre and by investigators to track detainees, and by employees of the regional office for statistical purposes. Retention and Disposal Standards: The data in this file is retained for a period of five years. Related to PR#: CIC ASB 001 TBS Registration: 005194 Bank Number: CIC PPU 020

Client Service Management System (CSMS)

Description: This MS Access file contains information (family name, first name and reason for request) on clients who have made a request to Client Services in the Quebec Region. Requests received are entered in the system in order to produce various reports for consultation and verification purposes, to improve the productivity of the staff concerned and to minimize errors. This system makes it possible to have immediate access to reliable information, and to make use of this accumulated data as needed. Individuals who wish to consult this information must provide their family name and first name. Class of Individuals: Individuals who have filed a request with the Quebec Region's Client Services. Purpose: The main function of the system is to provide follow-up to the requests received by Client Services in the Quebec Region. This system has been designed to preserve the anonymity of the clients who file a complaint. Consequently, the family name and first name fields are not mandatory. Consistent Uses: This information is used for internal (local) purposes only by staff of Client Services. Retention and Disposal Standards: The data in this file is retained for a period of two years. Related to PR#: CIC DMO 001 TBS Registration: 005195 Bank Number: CIC PPU 021

Immigration Mail and Courier Tracking System (IMPACT)

Description: The database contains information related to documents and things seized under the authority of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act. The seizure is commonly known as C44 Mail Seizures but in point of fact the majority of documents and things seized come from courier packages. Information on known senders, shippers and receivers of the packages, of handling and seizure information and of the contents of packages and their disposal is all recorded and tracked. Class of Individuals: Any person listed as a sender or receiver of a package that is detained by the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency (CCRA) under the Customs Act and referred for a decision regarding seizure or release under the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act. Purpose: To track information related to the process in terms of discerning patterns of activity and to respond to client requests for information on the results of processes. Consistent Uses: Information is shared with CCRA in terms of the results of their examination processes and with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) in terms of possible prosecution under the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act. Retention and Disposal Standards: Materials seized are disposed of as per the instruction in the Immigration and Refugee Protection

Regulations but are generally held for a period of five years. Related to PR#: CIC ASB 001 TBS Registration: 005197 Bank Number: CIC PPU 025

Travel and Identity Document System (TIDS)

Description: The databank contains the records of seizures of travel or identity documents made in the course of port of entry examinations or authorized investigations under the authority of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act by Immigration Officers in Ontario Region. These seizures are distinct from those documents or things seized under the C44 Mail Seizures program. Any documents considered by Canada Post as lost in post and forwarded to CIC for disposal or, if genuine, returned to Consulates on request, are recorded in this system for tracking purposes. The databank contains information related to the person whom the documents were seized from, the reasons for detention, the types of documents, serial numbers and nationalities involved and notes on the ultimate disposition of the documents. Class of Individuals: Persons who are not Canadian Citizens and who have been reported under Section 44(1) or arrested under Section 55(1) or (2) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act. Purpose: The purpose of the databank is to record events and key information related to these seizures as well as track handling and disposition of the documents. Consistent Uses: Could be shared with the RCMP for prosecution under Section 44(1) or arrested under Section 55(1) or (2) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act or under the Criminal Code related to the possession and use of a fraudulent travel or other identity document in an Immigration proceeding. Retention and Disposal Standards: Documents are held for five years or until the case that they relate to has been finally determined and completed, whichever comes later in time. Related to PR#: CIC ASB 001 TBS Registration: 005198 Bank Number: CIC PPU 027

Individuals who are known to have entered Canada illegally or are suspected of participating in irregular entry activities. Purpose: The information contained in this bank may be used in the administration and enforcement of immigration legislation. The bank serves as a repository for detailed and summary documentation on those persons wishing to visit or immigrate to Canada and persons involved in the facilitation thereof. Consistent Uses: Information may be disclosed to the Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS) and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) for the purpose of conducting security and law-enforcement reviews or investigations related to immigration legislation, or in the detection, suppression and prevention of offences against the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act and Regulations. Information regarding applicants that is obtained from CSIS, the Solicitor General, the RCMP or provincial government departments will be added to the individuals' files. Information is also shared with the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency for the purpose of ensuring and monitoring the lawful entry of persons seeking to enter Canada. Consistent uses may include sharing information with the Immigration and Refugee Board of Canada, the Department of Justice, or judicial bodies for the purpose of administering and conducting the appeals process under the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act. It also may include sharing information with departments of provincial governments, as well as the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, and the International Organization for Migration (IOM), where these organizations have a role in referring cases to the department or in assisting in the resettlement process. Information may also be shared with individual sponsors and sponsoring groups, as well as with designated medical personnel who conduct medical examinations for the purpose of identifying medical conditions of immigration applicants. Information may be disclosed to transportation companies within the terms of their responsibilities under immigration legislation. Consistent uses may also include sharing information with Foreign Affairs and International Trade Canada where issues relating to Canada's bilateral or multilateral relations are concerned. Information may be disclosed to foreign governments, to law-enforcement bodies, to detaining authorities, and to judicial and state authorities where memoranda of understandings exist circumscribing the terms of such disclosure. Consistent use may include verification of documentation with law-enforcement bodies or with judicial and state authorities of foreign governments, where verification of the documentation with the issuing authority is required in the administration and enforcement of immigration legislation. Information may be shared with foreign governments as well as with Canadian employer associations for the purpose of processing applications from seasonal agricultural workers. Information may be used internally for program management purposes, for the purposes of research, planning, evaluation and statistics, and for internal audit purposes. Retention and Disposal Standards: Applications for Permanent Residence (C&I form IMM8) for those persons who have received an Immigrant Visa and Record of Landing (C&I form IMM1000) since 1988 or a Confirmation of Permanent Residence form (C&I form IMM5292) since 2002 are retained for a period of 65 years. All other paper records are normally destroyed two years after the last administrative action. Information on persons known or suspected of engaging in activities contrary to the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act is destroyed five years after the last administrative action. Information on controversial cases, such as those involving organized crime, is destroyed ten years after the last administrative action. Related to PR#: CIC AOB 001 RD Number: 88/012 TBS Registration: 000344 Bank Number: CIC PPU 039 (formerly EAC PPU 015)

◆ Case Management (BCD)

Case Processing System (CPS)

Description: The Case Processing System (CPS) is both a tracking system and a processing system. All cases to be processed for landing after five years in Canada on a Minister's permit, all rehabilitation cases, all Minister's permit requests for criminally inadmissible immigrant applicants and visitors as well as all danger to the public cases are in this system. Reports are prepared for the Minister or his/her delegate in each case using CPS. In addition, memoranda are prepared for the Minister seeking his/her approval on some of these cases after submissions are prepared for review by the Director of the division. Class of Individuals: The clients are those who are medically inadmissible or criminally inadmissible. They are seeking relief from the inadmissibility or CIC is preparing a request for a danger opinion to prevent a person from (a) claiming refugee status, or (b) appealing a deportation order or a refusal of a Family Class application to the Immigration Appeal Division. Purpose: CPS is used as a tracking system for cases within the Danger to the Public – Rehabilitation Unit. It is used for writing Rehabilitation Assessments, Requests for Minister's Opinion/Reconsiderations, Applications for Minister's Permits, Danger opinions on removal cases and Directions for hearings on long term permanent residents convicted of serious crimes. It is also used for writing memos, letters and faxes to CIC local offices. As well, statistics can be gathered on volumes of cases and approval rates from this system. Consistent Uses: CPS is accessible only by employees of the Danger to the Public – Rehabilitation Unit. The information with respect to Danger to the Public cases is disclosed to the person concerned and to his/her counsel. Information that is not related to Danger to the Public is not disclosed to other government agencies or members of the public. Retention and Disposal Standards: The system has no retention and disposal standards as cases are kept in the system and not deleted. Related to PR#: CIC ACB 004 TBS Registration: 005205 Bank Number: CIC PPU 040

Immigrant Case File

Description: This file may contain some or all of the following types of information: Applications for permanent resident and refugee status, assessments by immigration officers, details concerning health, past criminality, financial status, education and professional experience, removal documentation and Minister's Permits, including computer based information (FOSS, CAIPS, e-mail). The file may contain information on an immigrant's earlier status in Canada (e.g. employment authorization information, etc.) It may include all or part of the same information regarding any other person named in the application. It may include information on the sponsor and information from the Foreign Students Records and Case File–CIC PPU 051. It may also include the name and address of bond depositor, sum deposited, terms and conditions imposed, name of person signing bond, name of persons bonded, terms and condition which they must meet, and acknowledgement of terms and conditions. Persons seeking access to this information bank must supply their date of birth, approximate date of entry into Canada and port of entry. Class of Individuals: Persons accepted or refused admission to Canada as permanent residents, Convention refugees, visitors, immigrants, permit holders; persons seeking approval of criminal rehabilitation; persons declared a danger to the public by the Minister under the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act; persons under enforcement action in Canada; persons who are the object of litigation before courts or administrative tribunals in matters relating to immigration. Purpose: This personal information relates to the immigrant's applications for permanent or temporary admission to Canada and subsequent decisions for which purpose the bank was established. Information is used in the administration and enforcement of immigration legislation, as required.

Consistent Uses: The information may be used or disclosed in the administration and enforcement of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act and the detection, suppression and prevention of immigration offenses. The information may be disclosed to the Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS) and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) for the purpose of conducting security reviews or investigations related to immigration legislation. Uses also include the sharing of information with Solicitor General Canada, CSIS, the Department of Justice and the RCMP where these uses are pursuant to the law. Information may also be disclosed to various foreign governments, law enforcement bodies and detaining authorities with respect to the administration and enforcement of immigration legislation. Personal information relating to warrants and arrests for examination, admissibility hearings, removal from Canada or a proceeding that could lead to the making of a removal order by an immigration officer, and removal orders (departure orders, deportation orders and exclusion orders) issued by immigration officers, and their execution, may be disclosed by media relations officers when it has been determined that the disclosure is necessary for the administration and enforcement of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act and the detection, suppression and prevention of immigration offences. Information may be disclosed to medical practitioners for the purpose of providing medical services to newly arrived immigrants being held in detention centres as well as to the Canadian Council of Engineers for the assessment of engineering qualifications. Certain information may be shared with Service Provider Organizations (SPOs) and private sponsors in Canada for the purposes of administering the Refugee Program. Some information may also be disclosed to transportation companies within the terms of their responsibilities under immigration legislation. It may also be disclosed to provincial authorities for assessment under the terms of an agreement (i. e. Canada-Quebec Accord) or arrangement. Other uses may include the sharing of information with the Insurance and Employment programs of Human Resources Development Canada, Canada Customs and Revenue Agency (CCRA), the Immigration and Refugee Board of Canada, Foreign Affairs and International Trade Canada, Health Canada, Veterans Affairs Canada as well as with provincial or municipal government departments under the terms of an agreement (i. e. , Malton Neighbourhood Services) responsible for assisting immigration settlement for the purpose of administering their programs (e. g. social welfare, education, and human resource planning) and for research purposes. Information may also be shared with Statistics Canada and Foreign Affairs and International Trade Canada for statistical and planning purposes. It may also be shared with foreign governments such as U. S. immigration authorities under the terms of an agreement or arrangement in order to conduct a lawful investigation or administer or enforce any law. It may also be shared with CIC Financial Services to assist in the recovery of financial assistance that was provided to the individual. It may be provided to private sector research firms for the purposes of planning, statistics, research and evaluation. Information obtained from Foreign Affairs and International Trade Canada, Health Canada, the Immigration and Refugee Board of Canada (that contained in IRB PPU 105–Immigration and Refugee Board Records, IRB PPU 110–Immigration Appeal Division Records, IRB PPU 115–Convention Refugee Division Records and IRB PPU 145–Research Directives, Claim Specific Information), CSIS, the RCMP and some provincial government departments may be compared for the purpose of administering or enforcing the immigration legislation and to administer and conduct the appeals process under the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act. Retention and Disposal Standards: Paper records are normally retained 2 years after the last administrative action. Information on persons known or suspected of engaging in activities contrary to the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act is retained 5 years after the last administrative action. Information on controversial cases is retained 10 years after the last administrative action. Upon expiry of the retention period, some of these records will be preserved by the National Archives of Canada for archival purposes. Related to PR#: CIC ACB 004 RDA Number: 88/012 TBS Registration: 001972 Bank Number: CIC PPU 042 (formerly EIC PPU 225)

Litigation Information Management System (LIMS)

Description: Litigation Information Management System (LIMS) contains information concerning citizenship and immigration related litigation. The information relates to finalized and/or pending litigation cases. LIMS contains personal information concerning the applicant/respondent such as the name, country of citizenship, FOSS ID number as well as a general description of the nature and status of the litigation. As Litigation Management's principal responsibility is to provide instruction on behalf of CIC to the Department of Justice with regard to the conduct of litigation, summaries of consultation with legal counsels and other CIC officials, strategies for defending decisions and subsequent instructions to Justice are entered into LIMS. Class of Individuals: As the vast majority of litigation cases are initiated by clients who are challenging refusals, the information contained in LIMS generally relates to persons whose application for permanent residence or citizenship has been refused, who have been denied admission to Canada, had their refugee claim rejected or have otherwise been ordered to leave Canada. Purpose: LIMS is a database used to facilitate managing and monitoring immigration and citizenship related litigation. It provides quick access to information on litigation cases that may have an impact on CIC policy or program delivery. Consistent Uses: LIMS is accessible only by employees of the Litigation Management unit. A stand alone version of the system is also in use by some Justice Liaison officers in the regions. The information contained in LIMS is generally protected by Solicitor-Client privilege or Litigation privilege. The information is not disclosed to other government agencies or members of the public.

Retention and Disposal Standards: This database was created in 1996. Five year retention period will be applied after last administrative action. Thus, if files are still being used for litigation, they are retained as long as they are active, plus five additional years. Related to PR#: CIC ACB 004 TBS Registration: 005206 Bank Number: CIC PPU 043

◆ Intelligence Branch

Support System for Intelligence (SSI)

Description: This bank contains information on improperly documented persons who either arrive in Canada contrary to the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act or attempt to gain access to Canada in contravention of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act, and persons known or suspected to have counselled or assisted, or attempted to counsel or assist, any such persons. Its purpose is to allow CIC to monitor the irregular movement of people to Canada by tracking irregular migrants at major Canadian airports, seaports, land borders, and inland offices and to monitor the movement of improperly documented travellers abroad. Records in the bank may contain some or all of the following information: reports from CIC offices overseas, ports of entry and CIC offices in Canada concerning persons who arrived or attempted to arrive in Canada without proper travel or identity documents; reports from CIC offices overseas, ports of entry, or CIC offices in Canada concerning persons who counselled or assisted any persons to enter Canada or seek to enter Canada improperly. Information may include personal biographical data, passport and identity document details, type of fraud, and details concerning persons who counselled or assisted the traveller to attempt to enter Canada improperly. Class of Individuals: Persons who arrived in Canada or attempted to travel to Canada contrary to the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act and persons who are known or suspected to have assisted or counselled such individuals. Purpose: The information contained in this bank may be used in the administration and enforcement of immigration legislation. It is used to track and analyze patterns of irregular migration to Canada. The bank serves as a repository for detailed and summary documentation on those persons who arrive in Canada improperly and persons involved in the facilitation thereof. Consistent Uses: The information may be disclosed to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) for the purpose of conducting investigations related to immigration legislation. Uses include the sharing of information with the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency (CCRA), the Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS), and the Immigration and Refugee Board of Canada (IRB) where these uses are pursuant to the law. Some information may be disclosed to various foreign governments, law enforcement bodies, and other authorities with respect to the administration and enforcement of immigration legislation. Some information may also be disclosed to transportation companies within the terms of their responsibilities under immigration legislation. Retention and Disposal Standards: Under negotiation with the National Archives of Canada. Related to PR#: CIC ASB 001 TBS Registration: 005187 Bank Number: CIC PPU 002

Enforcement Information Index System (EIS)

Description: This bank contains summary information gathered by Canadian or foreign law enforcement agencies or investigative bodies on persons whose entry and re-entry to Canada would be dangerous to Canadian security. Class of Individuals: Persons seeking admission to Canada, and some permanent residents of Canada. Purpose: This bank is used for identifying the above individuals and subjecting them to a more detailed immigration examination. Information is used to enforce the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act and may be used for internal audit purposes.

Consistent Uses: Information may be shared with the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency, Foreign Affairs and International Trade Canada, the Immigration and Refugee Board of Canada, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP), the Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS) and the Department of Finance to facilitate the examination and to conduct criminal and security investigations related to immigration legislation. It may be shared with foreign governments such as the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service (USINS) pursuant to an agreement or arrangement in order to conduct a lawful investigation or administer or enforce any law. It may be provided to private sector research firms for the purposes of planning, statistics, research and evaluation. Retention and Disposal Standards: Automated information is retained for 50 years. Band microfilmed information is retained for 15 years.

Selection Branch may hold letters and faxes from the general public, lawyers, consultants, MPs, private sector, other governmental departments and non-governmental organizations. This correspondence may include enquiries, requests for information, advice and opinion on CIC policies, programs, and the handling of cases by individuals employed in the immigration program, as pertains to cases where individuals have applied for permanent resident status or temporary resident status. Memos and other briefing documents may deal with the same individuals and topics. This correspondence does not constitute any part of routine administration of the immigration program.

◆ Communications (BPD)

Distribution mailing lists, both on paper and computer disks, which include individuals, as well as groups and media, who receive various departmental and branch publications, notably news releases and speeches, or who are targeted to receive promotional/educational or information materials (e.g. National Citizenship Week and other campaigns) or key documents or legislation (e.g. Annual Immigration Plan). This information is not retrievable by personal identifier.

◆ Human Resources

The Employee Departure Feedback Program gathers information from employees who leave the department on their reasons for leaving and their satisfaction with different aspects of their experience. The information gathered serves as an organizational health indicator and is used to inform efforts to recruit, retain and motivate employees and make the department an exemplary and effective workplace. Information is gathered through two questionnaires (one for the departing employee and one for their manager) and an interview of the employee by a third party consultant. The information collected is in the form of background/demographic information, multiple choice and yes/no questions, ratings of satisfaction levels on a scale of 1-5, as well as comment sections and the opportunity to elaborate in the interview. The latter two forms could contain unsolicited personal information about an identifiable individual, however, information collected is not retrievable by personal identifiers.

Commission for Public Complaints Against the RCMP

Chapter 46

General Information

Background

The Commission for Public Complaints Against the RCMP was established by Parliament in March 1986, as a result of recommendations arising from the 1976 Marin Commission of Inquiry Relating to Public Complaints, Internal Discipline and Grievance Procedure within the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and the 1981 McDonald Commission of Inquiry Concerning Certain Activities of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Part VII of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Act, which made the Commission operational, came into force on September 30, 1988.

Responsibilities

The Commission for Public Complaints Against the RCMP is an independent administrative tribunal empowered to conduct external and independent reviews of public complaints concerning the conduct of members of the RCMP in the course of their duties. The Chair of the Commission reviews the disposition of the complaint by the RCMP and may conduct investigations and institute public hearings of the Commission. The Chair may, as well, initiate a complaint personally if there are reasonable grounds for investigation. If the Chair considers it advisable in the public interest, the Chair may conduct an investigation of any complaint or institute a hearing regardless of whether the complaint has been investigated or otherwise dealt with by the RCMP. The findings and recommendations of the Chair are sent to the Commissioner of the RCMP and the Solicitor General of Canada. The Chair reports annually to Parliament through the Solicitor General of Canada.

Legislation

- Royal Canadian Mounted Police Act, Parts VI and VII

Organization

The Commission consists of a Chair, a Vice-Chair, a member for each contracting province and not more than three other members, to be appointed by order of the Governor in Council. The Chair is the Chief Executive Officer of the Commission and has supervision over and direction of the work of the Commission staff. The senior staff of the Commission consists of an Executive Director, a General Counsel, a Director of Operations, Senior Reviewer/Analysts, Reviewer/Analysts, Investigators, a Senior Advisor Policy, Planning and Research, Regional Directors and an Office Manager.

Communication Canada

Chapter 47

General Information

Background

The Canada Information Office (CIO), replaced by Communication Canada on September 1st 2001, was created on July 9, 1996. In April 1998, following the creation of the Ad Hoc Cabinet Committee on Government Communications (Committee), the CIO came under the responsibility of the Chair of the Committee, the Honourable Alfonso Gagliano, Minister of Public Works and Government Services. In April 2001, this Committee became the Cabinet Committee on Government Communications. As a result, the CIO was given an additional role which is to provide support and advice to the Committee in its efforts to make government communications more effective and efficient.

Communication Canada's mandate is to improve communications between the Government of Canada and Canadians. In doing so, we promote better corporate communications by the Government as a whole and support the Government's commitment to a strong and united Canada.

Communication Canada works with other government departments and agencies, as well as with the private sector and non-governmental organizations, on initiatives to inform Canadians about Canada and the services available to them from the Government of Canada.

At Communication Canada, we believe the better the Government of Canada communicates with citizens, the better Canadians will know their government, their country and each other.

Responsibilities

We collaborate with government departments, private-sector partners and other non-government organizations to deliver communication products and government-wide initiatives. We engage in two key areas of activity: communications and public opinion research.

Research and analysis helps Communication Canada and government departments respond better to your information needs. We conduct research to find out what's on the minds of Canadians, what information they want, and what form they want it in.

We share our findings to add to understanding of Canadians' communications preferences, their top concerns and priorities, and how they differ across the country and over time.

Armed with our research findings, Communication Canada works with government departments to plan communications that meet Canadians' needs.

Organization

Communication Canada is organized along four sectors: Planning, Research and Regional Coordination, Operations, Communications Services and Corporate Services.

Public Programs and Services Sector

This sector ensures the government of Canada communicates effectively and directly with Canadians. By delivering programs and services that focus on citizen's needs, and by maintaining an active presence in their communities, this sector provides a vital link between Canadians and their government. The Public Programs and Services Sector is composed of three branches: the Public Access Programs Branch, which helps the public obtain information on Government of Canada programs, services, initiatives and publications; the Community Relations Branch, which enables the Government of Canada to remain in touch with citizens through initiatives and events at the community level; and the Regional Operations Branch, which helps improve the flow of information between the Government of Canada and citizens by making Canadians more aware of programs and services available to them in communities throughout the country.

♦ Public Access Programs Branch

This branch helps the public obtain information on Government of Canada programs, services, initiatives and publications. To this end, the Branch collaborates with numerous federal departments and organizations. It also contributes, with other organizations, to the Service Canada initiative, which provides multi-channel access to information about Government of Canada programs and services. The Branch manages the following Government of Canada communications channels: 1 800-O-Canada, the Canada Site Portal (www.canada.gc.ca) and Publiservice.

◆ Community Relations Branch

This branch manages the Government of Canada Sponsorship Program; undertakes communications outreach activities focused on citizen's needs at the national, regional and local levels; as well as coordinates the Ministerial Tours initiative. It also manages the Government of Canada's Fairs and Exhibits Program, including the Canada Pavilion, which travels to major fairs and exhibitions across the country.

◆ Regional Operations Branch

Regional operations staff inform Canadians of Government of Canada programs and services available to them in communities across the country. In collaboration with other government departments in the regions, they lead the development of Government of Canada communication products and activities to increase impact and provide Canadians with information that is relevant to their concerns by providing input to the planning, design, and delivery of national communications products, services, and activities to ensure that regional issues are taken into account.

Strategy and Research Sector

This sector sets out Communication Canada's strategic framework, plans and goals, evaluates the activities of the organization, and provides strategic and policy advice. It co-ordinates public opinion research for the Government as a whole, undertakes research that supports corporate communication for the Government of Canada, and determines the organization's research objectives, needs and priorities. This sector also comprises parliamentary affairs, cabinet liaison and ministerial correspondence,

◆ Strategy, Planning and Evaluation Branch

Communication Canada's Strategy, Planning and Evaluation Branch sets out the organization's strategic framework, plans and goals; evaluates and measures departmental activities, and prepares performance reports. The Branch provides opinions and advice on strategic directions for issues facing the organization and major government-wide communications files. It also liaises with the Minister's Office and provides the necessary support; contributes to renewing the communications community by supporting the Community Communications Office; and, coordinates the preparation of answers to correspondence addressed to the Minister or Executive Director.

◆ Research Branch

This branch is the Government of Canada's centre in public opinion research. The branch plays a dual role in carrying out Communication Canada's mandate to improve communications between the Government of Canada and Canadians.

Firstly, the Research Branch plays a leadership role in determining Communication Canada's research objectives, needs and priorities. This involves the conduct of specialized communications research on an ongoing basis. The Branch designs its own research to measure Canadians' views on public policy priorities, and to track environmental and social trends that affect government communications including impact and effectiveness of communications. Expert analysis of the collected data is performed in-house. All results and products developed by the Branch are shared with other departments and agencies.

Secondly, the Branch provides advisory services, and coordinates public opinion research undertaken by all Government of Canada departments. This includes providing departments with expert advice on the conduct of public opinion research generally, and specifically with respect to their individual projects. The branch also promotes the sharing of research plans between departments, facilitates the partnering of departments with similar research objectives or projects, and promotes the sharing of research results inside and outside of the Government of Canada.

Communications Programs and Services Sector

This sector develops and delivers citizen and government-focussed corporate communications aimed at increasing awareness of Government of Canada programs and services and how to access them. The sector is comprised of two branches: the Communications Branch, which focuses primarily on public affairs, marketing and advertising; and the Communications Services Branch which offers products and services to other departments and agencies that provide a corporate perspective on issues related to Government of Canada priorities.

◆ Communications Services Branch

This branch is a component of the Communications Programs and Services Sector and is responsible for the following key areas: coordination of advertising projects and services; media monitoring and analysis of federal-provincial-territorial and local issues within the context of Government priorities, calendars; publishing and publications including the Canada Gazette and Depository Services. The branch is comprised of: Information Services, Advertising and Communications Coordination, Canada Gazette, Depository Services and Canadian Government Publication.

◆ Communications Branch

This branch produces advertising and marketing products such as services guides and print and television advertising on Government of Canada programs and services. The branch also provides public and media relations and corporate communications support and services; manages the corporate Internet and intranet sites, as well as CommNET (the intranet site for Government of Canada communicators) and news.gc.ca (a section on the Canada Site that gives Canadians and the media access to news releases issued by the Government of Canada departments, agencies and organizations); and provides operational services to the Privy Council Office (PCO).

◆ Corporate Services Branch

This branch is composed of Human Resources, Financial Services and Procurement, the departmental Legal Services Unit and Access to Information, and Information Technology and Administration.

Human Resources is responsible to develop a consistent level of competence and versatility throughout Communication Canada while improving the quality and efficiency of practices and policies within the management of human resources. More specifically, it is responsible for: strategic support for major change initiatives; executive services and program; policies and services related to human resources planning, staffing, training and development; staff relations, classification; official languages; employee assistance; pay and benefits; and employment equity.

Financial Services and Procurement provides leadership, direction and expert advice in the delivery of financial and procurement services to support the achievement of the organization's strategic and operational goals. More specifically, Financial Services and Procurement provides services in the following areas: Financial Operations; Planning, Reporting and Analysis; Financial Systems; Financial Projects; and , Procurement.

The departmental Legal Services Unit is responsible for providing Communication Canada's various branches and program areas with legal advice and opinions. The legal advice is primarily required in the corporate/commercial and the administrative/public law related activities of Communication Canada. The branch is also responsible for overseeing the Access to Information Process.

Information Management and Technology manages all activities related to the organization's network and infrastructure systems as well as the information and telecommunications systems. These activities include: purchasing, installation, maintenance, upgrading and security monitoring.

Furthermore, Information Management and Technology provides support and maintains all institutional Web sites and corporate applications and creates multi-media presentations. Nationwide, Information

Management and Technology manages a user help desk supporting the ten regional offices.

Administration provides operational planning services and corporate support in all areas of facilities management: real property, security, occupational health and safety, environmental stewardship, acquisition of goods and services and accommodation services, including management of all space resources for Communication Canada.

Copyright Board Canada

Chapter 48

General Information

Background

The Copyright Board was created by a series of amendments to the Copyright Act which were proclaimed on February 1, 1989. It replaced the Copyright Appeal Board which had been responsible since 1935 for approving annual tariffs respecting the public performance of music. Bill C-32 (Act modifying the Copyright Act) which received Royal Assent on April 25, 1997, modifies the mandate of the Board by adding the responsibilities, among others, for the adoption of tariffs for the public performance and communication to the public by telecommunication of sound recordings of musical works, for the benefit of the performers of these works and of the makers of the sound recordings ("the neighbouring rights") and for the adoption of tariffs for private copying of recorded musical works, for the benefit of the rights owners in the works, the recorded performances and the sound recordings ("the home-taping regime").

Responsibilities

The Copyright Board is an independent administrative agency which has been conferred department status for purposes of the Financial Administration Act. Its mandate stems from the Copyright Act.

The Copyright Board plays a major role in the collective administration of copyright, particularly where the public performance and the communication to the public, by telecommunication, of musical works, as well as the retransmission of distant radio and television signals are concerned. The Board plays a surveillance role in three ways with respect to collective societies which administer very large repertoires of work created by a multitude of originators both in Canada and in other countries: as an economic regulatory body, by approving tariff proposals by the various copyright collective societies; as an arbitrator in private disputes; and as an arbitrator of the public interest.

The Board's principal mandate is to set royalties which are fair and reasonable for both copyright owners and the users of copyright-protected works, as well as issuing non-exclusive licences authorizing the fully legal use of works when the copyright owner cannot be located.

The Board reports annually to Parliament through the Minister of Industry.

Legislation

- Copyright Act, R.S.C. (1985), c. C-42
- Local Signal and Distant Signal Regulations
- Retransmission Royalties Criteria Regulations
- Programming Undertaking Regulations
- Definition of Small Retransmission Systems Regulations
- Definition of "Small Cable Transmission System" Regulations
- Regulations establishing the Period of Royalty Entitlements of Non-members of Collecting Bodies
- Regulations defining "Wireless Transmission System"
- Regulations defining "Advertising Revenues"
- Exceptions for Educational Institutions, Libraries, Archives and Museums Regulations
- Regulations prescribing Networks
- Educational Program, Work and Other Subject-matter Record-keeping Regulations

Organization

The Board consists of a chairman, a vice-chairman and a maximum of three other members, all appointed by the Governor in Council. The Chairman, who must be a judge of a superior, county or district court, directs the work of the Board and apportions its work among the members of the Board. The Vice-Chairman, who is the Chief Executive Officer of the Board, supervises and directs the work of the Board's staff. The Board has a staff of nine employees, two of whom report to the Chief Executive Officer: the Secretary General and the General Counsel.

Correctional Service of Canada

Chapter 49

General Information

Background

In 1977, the Correctional Service of Canada (CSC) was formed through the amalgamation of the Canadian Penitentiary Service and the National Parole Service.

Responsibilities

Mission: The Correctional Service of Canada, as part of the criminal justice system and respecting the rule of law, contributes to the protection of society by actively encouraging and assisting offenders to become law-abiding citizens, while exercising reasonable, safe, secure and humane control.

The Correctional Service of Canada provides programs for offenders from admission until the expiration of their sentence. In order to carry out its responsibilities, the Correctional Service creates files to hold information on offenders, prisons, organizations and occurrences that affect or may affect it in the carrying out of its mandate. Information must be collected from and shared with numerous sources, such as other components of the criminal justice system, as is explained in the section "General Information on Data Matching/Data Sharing", at the end of this chapter.

Legislation

- Corrections and Conditional Release Act, SC 1992, c. C-20
- Criminal Code RSC, 1985, c. C-46
- Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1976
- Criminal Records Act RSC, 1985, c. C-47
- Prisons and Reformatories Act RSC, 1985, c. P-20
- Transfer of Offenders Act, 1977-78, c. T-15
- Young Offenders Act RSC, 1985, c. R-1

Organization

Communications and Consultation

The Communications and Consultation Sector is responsible for raising Canadians' awareness about correctional issues through public education, and encouraging citizen engagement. The Sector provides communications planning and advice; handles relations with the media; and offers a variety of multimedia services to its clients, including exhibits, publications, film and video. It is also responsible for promoting citizen engagement through mechanisms such as the Citizens' Advisory Committees.

Community Engagement

The Community Engagement Sector works with Canadian citizens to build safe communities through interaction, participation and the promotion of restorative justice approach.

CSC engages and supports various partners and groups of Canadians such as Citizen Advisory Committees (CAC), the Federation of Canadian Municipalities (FCM), victims, volunteers, families of offenders, youth organizations, Lifeline workers, support groups and other non governmental agencies, to encourage safe reintegration and creative ways of resolving conflicts.

Corporate Services

The Corporate Services Sector is responsible for information management and technology, technological and operational support, technical services, facility planning, design and construction program, real property services, finance and material management. More specifically, this Sector provides all goods and services (food, clothing and housing), technology, engineering, finance, administration, procurement, information management, maintenance and capital program management services to support correctional facilities and activities.

Correctional Operations and Programs

The Correctional Operations and Programs Sector is responsible for the integrity of community and institutional operations and correctional programs across the Correctional Service of Canada, and for improving the delivery of safe corrections. More specifically, this Sector is responsible for: aboriginal issues; chaplaincy; health services; offender reintegration and correctional programs (e.g. sex offender, education, substance abuse, living skills and personal development programs); operational support; security and CORCAN.

CORCAN provides employment and training opportunities to offenders incarcerated in federal penitentiaries and, for brief periods of time, after they are released into the community, to facilitate offenders' reintegration into society and re-entry into the labour market.

Executive Secretariat

The Executive Secretariat is responsible for the daily liaison with the Office of the Solicitor General and for the coordination and preparation of executive correspondence to the Commissioner, the Minister's Office, other Members of Parliament and Legislative Assemblies.

Human Resource Management

The Human Resource Management Sector is responsible for the identification, resolution and implementation of human resource activities and for providing interpretations of related policies, directives and guidelines. Overall this Sector is responsible for labour relations; learning and career development; employee assistance programs; occupational safety and health; executive services, corporate classification, recruitment and staffing; official languages and employment equity; personnel services for National Headquarters; human resource systems and strategic human resource planning.

Legal Services

This Sector is responsible for providing a variety of in-house legal services to the Commissioner and staff of the Correctional Service of Canada in connection with matters relating to the operations of the Service and provides interpretations of related acts, regulations, policies, directives and guidelines.

Office of the Commissioner

The Commissioner, as the Senior Executive Officer of the Correctional Service of Canada, is accountable to the Solicitor General of Canada in managing and guiding the policies and programs of the Service.

Office of the Deputy Commissioner for Women

The Women Offender Sector is responsible for the effective policy and program development, implementation and ongoing program delivery for women offenders sentenced to two years or more.

Office of the Senior Deputy Commissioner

The Senior Deputy Commissioner supports the Commissioner in the management and direction of the Correctional Service of Canada to achieve the Service's program objectives.

Performance Assurance

The Performance Assurance Sector is responsible for audits, evaluations, investigations and the management of the accreditation process. It is also responsible for providing performance measurement tools and advice for the regions and sectors of the Correctional Service of Canada. As well, the sector is responsible for the Office of Values and Ethics which manages activities associated with the Internal Disclosure of Wrongdoing in the workplace.

Policy, Planning and Coordination

The Policy, Planning and Coordination Sector is responsible for strategic and operational planning and reporting, research, policy development, knowledge management, intergovernmental affairs and rights, redress and resolution. Specific responsibilities of this Sector include the legislative agenda (e.g. Correctional and Conditional Release Act and Regulations), federal/provincial projects, international relations, and issues relating to human rights and to the Access to Information and Privacy Acts.

Regions

Five regional offices, located in the Atlantic, Québec, Ontario, Prairie and Pacific Regions, are responsible for administering the operations of correctional institutions and the supervision of offenders. These offices are responsible for implementing national policies and programs; developing regional policies, plans and programs for performance measurement, human resource and financial management, federal/provincial relations, liaison with the Commissioner's Office, public consultation, and provision of information to the media, elected officials, interest groups and the public.

Each Region is comprised of correctional facilities classified as maximum, medium and minimum security; women's facilities, district offices, parole offices and community correctional centres. These facilities are responsible for the delivery of programs, secure housing and safe reintegration of offenders by implementing both national and regional policies and programs and for participating in the formulation of corporate policy and plans, and ensuring their appropriate implementation.

Case Management - Community Bank

Description: Since 1991, as a result of the shift of case preparation from the community to the institutions, the CSC gradually introduced a major change to its case management records system. The existing three-bank case management records system, CSC PPU 035 Case Management - Institution "A", CSC PPU 040 Case Management - Institution "B", CSC PPU 030 Case Management - Community was phased out; as a result of the conversion the CSC has one, single ACTIVE case management bank called "CSC PPU 042 Case Management Bank". (a) ALL the records filed before the conversion on the CSC PPU 030 Case Management Community Bank remain active and are transferred to the new "CSC PPU 042 Case Management Bank", (b) the name CSC PPU 030 Case Management - Community Bank disappears; (c) ALL case management records, be they generated from then on in the institution or in the community, are filed on the one, single case management bank CSC PPU 042 Case Management Bank. Therefore, all the CSC PPU 030 Case Management - Community records that were held on the former CSC PPU 030 Case Management - Community Bank are now all on the CSC PPU 042 Case Management Bank. In order to access a CSC PPU 030 Case Management Community Bank the requestor merely has to request the CSC PPU 042 Case Management Bank and he will thus get all his former CSC PPU 030 Case Management - Community records. Status of CSC PPU 030 Case Management Community Bank for offenders who were under CSC jurisdiction BEFORE the conversion of the case management records system and who DID NOT return under CSC jurisdiction: The CSC PPU 030 Case Management Community Bank remains inactive. This bank remains accessible under the Privacy Act. Status of CSC PPU 030 Case Management Community Bank for offenders who were under CSC jurisdiction BEFORE the conversion but who came back under CSC jurisdiction AFTER the conversion of the case management records system: The CSC PPU 030 Case Management Community Bank is: (a) retrieved from Archives, (b) the name CSC PPU 030 Case Management Community is deleted, (c) the content of this former CSC PPU 030 Case Management - Community Bank is reactivated and the file is renamed CSC PPU 042 Case Management Bank. From then on, the CSC continues filing ALL case management records on the offender on this one, single, CSC PPU 042 Case Management Bank, be they generated in the community or in the institution." This bank contains records and data on an offender's release programs as well as background information on his/her incarceration. It may contain information provided under expressed or implied confidentiality related to the offender's conduct, such as routine police reports, community investigations and information of a general investigative nature. This bank also encompasses any operational information in this area that may be required by the CSC to carry out its mandate under the relevant statutes. Class of Individuals: Individuals who are or have been incarcerated in a federal institution; or individuals who belong (ed) to a provincial jurisdiction but whose case preparation and supervision are (were) effected by the Correctional Service of Canada (Example: provincial offenders serving time in Nova Scotia). Purpose: To provide documentation to assist in the decision-making process for parole. Consistent Uses: This bank is used in the preparation of penitentiary placement and release. Information may be shared with victims or potential victims of offenders, private after-care agencies, government institutions at all levels including foreign governments for the administration of matters such as transfers, employment, education, corrections, health care and social services; for the purposes of applying the Immigration Act; and for monitoring and/or investigating recipients of social benefits such as educational, social welfare and unemployment insurance benefits allocated by municipal, provincial or federal departments; the information may also be shared with accredited domestic and foreign law-enforcement and investigative agencies in the administration or enforcement of the law and in the detection, prevention or suppression of crime generally. Data matching occurs with law enforcement agencies and provincial authorities. Details on data matching are found under the heading of "Additional Information".

Case Management Bank

Description: Since 1991, as a result of the shift of case preparation from the community to the institutions, the CSC gradually introduced a major change to its case management records system. The existing three-bank case management records system, CSC PPU 035 Case Management - Institution "A", CSC PPU 040 Case Management - Institution "B", CSC PPU 030 Case Management - Community was phased out; as a result of the conversion the CSC has one, single ACTIVE case management bank called "CSC PPU 042 Case Management Bank". (a) ALL the records filed before the conversion on the CSC PPU 030 Case Management Community Bank remain active and are transferred to the new "CSC PPU 042 Case Management Bank", (b) the name CSC PPU 030 Case Management - Community Bank disappears; (c) ALL case management records, be they generated from then on in the institution or in the community, are filed on the one, single case management bank CSC PPU 042 Case Management Bank. Therefore, all the CSC PPU 030 Case Management - Community records that were held on the former CSC PPU 030 Case Management - Community Bank are now all on the CSC PPU 042 Case Management Bank. In order to access a CSC PPU 030 Case Management Community Bank the requestor merely has to request the CSC PPU 042 Case Management Bank and he will thus get all his former CSC PPU 030 Case Management - Community records. Status of CSC PPU 030 Case Management Community Bank for offenders who were under CSC jurisdiction BEFORE the conversion of the case management records system and who DID NOT return under CSC jurisdiction: The CSC PPU 030 Case Management Community Bank remains inactive. This bank remains accessible under the Privacy Act. Status of CSC PPU 030 Case Management Community Bank for offenders who were under CSC jurisdiction BEFORE the conversion but who came back under CSC jurisdiction AFTER the conversion of the case management records system: The CSC PPU 030 Case Management Community Bank is: (a) retrieved from Archives, (b) the name CSC PPU 030 Case Management Community is deleted, (c) the content of this former CSC PPU 030 Case Management - Community Bank is reactivated and the file is renamed CSC PPU 042 Case Management Bank. From then on, the CSC continues filing ALL case management records on the offender on this one, single, CSC PPU 042 Case Management Bank, be they generated in the community or in the institution". This bank contains records, data and sensitive information on all offenders under the responsibility of the Correctional Service of Canada, such as release programs, applications submitted by an offender as well as notifications given to an offender on case management and financial matters. It may contain information provided under expressed or implied confidentiality related to the offender's conduct, such as routine police reports, community investigations and information of a general investigative nature. This bank also holds any operational information in this area that may be required by the CSC to carry out its mandate under the relevant statutes. Class of Individuals: Individuals who are or have been incarcerated in a federal institution.

This group is a class of records on national and international groups, organizations and criminals. This class of records is used to provide background information on threats to institutional security and to provide reports on all security investigations to aid in preventing recurrences. Individuals seeking access to these records must provide the location and approximate date of the threat or investigation. These records are retained for ten years. Historical records are transferred to the National Archives of Canada. Data matching occurs with NPB, law enforcement agencies and provincial authorities.

Ministerial Inquiries

This group is a class of records on inquiries received from the public, outside organizations and other government departments on parliamentary matters and material agendas and decisions of Cabinet. This class of records is used to prepare ministerial correspondence resulting from these inquiries.

Individuals seeking access to these records must provide the subject matter, and approximate date the inquiry was initiated. Records are retained for five years. Historical records are transferred to the National Archives of Canada.

Research/Public Opinion Research

This is a class of records generated by research subjects, offenders or staff who participate in research, including public opinion research, on a vast spectrum of topics, conducted in the Correctional Service of Canada. Retrievable records consist of data gathering instruments such as, but not exclusively, questionnaires containing personal information that reveals the identification of the research subject. Data contained in this class of records are not used for administrative purposes. Individuals seeking access to these records must provide the title of the research project in which they participated, the location and date of the research, and any other data that may help to identify and locate the personal information they are seeking. No data matching occurs.

Security Inquiries

This group is a class of records on serious security incidents. For each incident, the report includes the inquiry terms of reference, facts gathered and recommendations. This class of records also encompasses police reports and intelligence assessments and is used to provide documentation to prevent recurrences of security incidents. Individuals seeking access to these records must provide the type of incident, the location and approximate date of the incident. These records are retained for twenty-five years. Historical records are transferred to the National Archives of Canada. Data matching occurs with NPB, law enforcement agencies and provincial authorities.

Special Investigations

This group is a class of records on special investigations performed by the Performance Assurance Sector on a wide variety of operational matters. The reports of the investigations include the terms of reference, facts gathered and recommendations. This class of records is used to resolve incidents involving offenders or employees and to correct, where required, methods of operation and internal procedures. Individuals seeking access to these records must provide the investigation, the location and approximate date it was initiated. Records are retained for twenty-five years. Historical records are transferred to the National Archives of Canada.

General Information on Data Matching / Data Sharing

Data Matching - Data Sharing

Within the mandate of the Correctional Service of Canada (CSC) is the requirement to share data with other areas of the Criminal Justice Community, to ensure that offenders are appropriately managed in a safe, secure and humane environment, and to ensure the safety of the offender, other inmates, staff and the community at large. Also, in order to accomplish its mandate the Service needs the information provided by other agencies and therefore matching/sharing is conducted.

Data Matching/Data Sharing with Law Enforcement Agencies (municipal, provincial, international, federal police forces or another law enforcement body)

Following an offender's sentence to a federal institution, the CSC requests the criminal record (history information) from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP). This information is used to assess the impact of the offender's criminal behaviour and to alert staff who will deal with the offender. CSC also requests a police report from the arresting and/or investigating law enforcement body in order to have a full understanding of the events surrounding the offence.

Following a sentence to a federal institution in the case of foreign nationals, the CSC must also request from the Inland Service (Immigration) that they provide it with information that is relevant to the administration of the offender's sentence and to the case management process.

When an offender is released to the community, there is a requirement to notify the RCMP and/or the local police force, and, when necessary, the Inland Service (Immigration), of the offender's address and the terms and conditions of the release. If an offender violates conditions of release, or is considered to be a risk, CSC will issue a warrant for the apprehension of the offender. The warrant is transmitted to the local police and the data is entered into the Canadian Police Information Centre (CPIC) system. The police is requested to locate and apprehend the offender.

Data Matching/Data Sharing with the National Parole Board

CSC data is shared with the National Parole Board (NPB). With the current renewal of the OMS by both CSC and NPB, seamless data/information sharing continues to occur and be a priority for both organizations.

While it is CSC's responsibility to manage the offenders for the duration of their sentence, it is the NPB's responsibility to assess the offenders' progress during incarceration, their risk to society, and their potential for successful reintegration into the community as law-abiding citizens. CSC information is shared with NPB pertaining to all aspects related to an offender prior to and during incarceration. Once NPB has assessed the information, and through a hearing process, makes their decision, CSC is notified. If the NPB makes a decision to conditionally release an offender, it is CSC staff who are responsible for the supervision and control of the offender in the community and keeping NPB informed of the offender's progress.

Data Matching/Data Sharing with Provincial Authorities

An offender, who is sentenced to a period of incarceration of two years or more, will serve this sentence under the jurisdiction of CSC. Offenders sentenced to less than two years will serve their sentence under a provincial jurisdiction. However, CSC is doing the case preparation and supervision for some provinces that do not have a parole board.

Often an offender will have a history of provincial incarceration, further, prior to sentencing the offender could be held in a provincial institution or a remand centre. Information collected during any period of incarceration is deemed significant and sometimes crucial to the successful management of that offender. It is for these reasons that information is routinely shared between CSC and provincial authorities, which include also the boards of education and hospitals.

Information is also requested from the sentencing judge and could also be requested from the crown attorney, from provincial parole and probation services. CSC uses this information in the management of the offender and decision-making process.

Method of Data Matching/Data Sharing

In the preceding descriptions of CSC data matching/sharing, every effort is taken to ensure that the data matched/shared concerns the same individual. In order to validate that the different agencies are dealing with the same individual, a number of personal identifiers are matched. These include: name, sex, date of birth, finger print series number (FPS) and in some cases physical features.

CSC may conduct or assist others in conducting ad hoc data matching/sharing for the purpose of the enforcement of any law (i.e. Criminal Code).

Department of Finance Canada

Chapter 51

General Information

Background

The Department of Finance is established under the Financial Administration Act. The relevant portions are sections 14 and 15:

- 14. "There is hereby established a department of the Government of Canada called the Department of Finance over which the Minister of Finance appointed by commission under the Great Seal shall preside.
- 15. The Minister holds office during pleasure and has the management and direction of the Department, the management of the Consolidated Revenue Fund and the supervision, control and direction of all matters relating to the financial affairs of Canada not by law assigned to the Treasury Board or to any other minister."

Responsibilities

The Department is responsible for advice to the federal government on the economic and financial affairs of Canada. It oversees all government initiatives affecting the economy and monitors external factors that may have a bearing on domestic economic performance. The Department's most visible output is the federal budget. The Minister of Finance's budget speech reviews the government's accounts and presents fiscal projections for the coming years, including expenditures, revenues, tax changes and debt levels. In addition, the Minister is responsible for the management of the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

In addition to this broad assignment of responsibility, and his key role as a central policy advisor, the Minister is responsible to Parliament for the following statutes:

The Minister of Finance also plays an important role in the field of international financial matters. He has direct responsibilities under the Bretton Woods and Related Agreements Act, which legislation constitutes Canada's participation in the International Monetary Fund (IMF), the World Bank, the International Development Association, the International Finance Corporation, and the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency. The Minister of Finance also gives direction to his representatives at the Organization for the Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) and the World Trade Organization.

Organization

♦ Access to Information and Privacy Division

This division is responsible for administering the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act for the Department. It processes requests submitted under the legislation, handles complaints lodged with the Information and Privacy Commissioners and responds to informal enquiries. The Division also provides advice and guidance to departmental officials on matters which concern the legislation.

♦ Canada Investment and Savings

Canada Investment and Savings is a federal Special Operating Agency within the Department of Finance responsible for the delivery of the government's retail debt program. The Agency was created in the 1995 federal budget to provide individual Canadians with better access to existing Government of Canada Securities, such as Canada Savings Bonds, Treasury Bills and Marketable Bonds and to develop new investment products to help them meet their savings and investment needs. The Agency is organized into four main functional areas directed by the President and Chief Executive Officer.

♦ Marketing Services

Conceptualizes the government's overall marketing and communication strategy for the retail debt program (e.g. New Canada Savings Bonds) develops and implements marketing plans and advertising campaigns for existing and new products, and monitors performance. CI&S encourages all Canadians, including children and their parents, to be acquainted with good savings habits, and publicises promotions that encourage this.

♦ Product Management

Manages existing portfolio of products and develops and introduces new retail debt products.

♦ Sales and Distribution

Manages the sales distribution network for retail debt products through financial institutions, employers and directly with the government; explores alternative methods of distribution which would provide easy access for Canadians.

♦ Corporate Services

Provides and arranges for all internal support functions including finance and accounting, administrative services, contracting and human resources.

Consultations and Communications Branch

This branch is responsible for developing and implementing communications and consultations strategies and initiatives that assist the Minister and other branches in formulating and implementing policy initiatives, including the annual federal budget. It organizes ministerial and departmental consultations, works with Canadian and international media, manages a range of information and public affairs activities, and provides related services. It is composed of two divisions.

♦ Communications Policy and Strategy Division

This division develops communications plans and strategies, and provides communications advice on the handling of departmental issues and the implementation of policies and programs. It also drafts speeches, press releases, various briefing papers, publications and multi-media presentations, including material in support of the federal budget. The division also develops and controls organization, content and multimedia applications for the Department's Internet site. As well, the division undertakes communications research and analysis and monitors the media on a daily basis for issues of interest to the Minister, the Secretary of State and the department.

◆ Public Affairs and Operations Division

This division implements and supports external communications and public relations activities. It carries out an extensive media relations program, including the handling of all media inquiries; preparing departmental and ministerial announcements and statements, and arranging for briefings and press conferences, including those for the release of the federal budget. The division handles all logistical arrangements for domestic meetings and other events hosted by the Minister and Department such as Federal-Provincial meetings. It provides expertise and services in the areas of conference and meeting organization, management and logistics, visit by foreign dignitaries and officials, and other protocol services. The division manages the editing and production for all departmental publications as well as all correspondence written to the Minister and Secretary of State. It also develops and maintains contacts with the business community, labour organizations, and social, voluntary and other interest groups, and assists the Minister, the Secretary of State and the department in consulting with the public and stakeholders on a range of economic and fiscal issues.

◆ Corporate Services Branch

The Branch jointly assists the Deputy Minister of Finance and the Secretary and Comptroller General of the Treasury Board Secretariat in the internal administration of their departments, and provides financial, human resources, informatics and administrative support and Internal Audit and Evaluation Services to the branches of the two departments. The Corporate Services Branch is also responsible for a number of other activities including task force organization and co-ordination of the Canada Savings Bonds and United Way campaigns. The Branch is composed of six divisions: Administrative Services Division; Finances, Corporate Systems and Management Practices Directorate; Human Resources Division; Informatics Services Division; Security Services Division and Internal Audit and Evaluation Division.

◆ Economic and Fiscal Policy Branch

This branch analyzes and appraises all factors affecting Canada's economic and financial situation and recommends measures to meet the requirements of appropriate fiscal policies. It also analyzes and forecasts the financial requirements of the government of Canada.

◆ Economic Analysis and Forecasting Division

This division has primary responsibility for monitoring and analyzing current Canadian economic conditions and the economic outlook and for the preparation of quarterly economic forecasts for the Canadian and U.S. economies. It also prepares assessments of the impact of policy measures and other events on the Canadian economy. In addition, the division produces the quarterly publication entitled "Economy in brief".

◆ Economic Studies and Policy Analysis Division

The division has primary responsibility for anticipating major policy issues the government of Canada is likely to face, develops tools to analyze these issues, prepares analysis and research of the highest calibre and, based on all this, recommends policy advice in both macroeconomic and structural areas. The technical work undertaken in the division is made public in the form of a working paper series.

◆ Fiscal Policy Division

This division has primary responsibility for advising on fiscal policy and analyzing the financial requirements of the Government of Canada and for monitoring and analyzing the developing fiscal positions of other levels of surplus government. It also has primary responsibility for analysis and advice on the government's fiscal framework and co-ordinating the department's advice to the Minister on overall spending priorities. The division plays a key role in the budgetary process, and is responsible for the preparation of the Fiscal Monitor, and the Annual Financial Report, as well as several budgetary papers. In addition, the division reviews the form and content of the Public Accounts and other statements for which the Minister has responsibility under the Financial Administration Act.

◆ Economic Development and Corporate Finance Branch

This branch is responsible for providing policy advice and analytical support to the Minister of Finance on a wide range of economic, fiscal and financial issues related to the microeconomic policies of the government.

◆ Corporate Finance & Privatization Division

This division advises: on the economic and fiscal implications of policies and programs in the areas of transportation and infrastructure systems and services; as well as defence, provides corporate financial analysis and advice on proposals for government support to major development projects and in relation to corporate restructuring plans; plays a central role in the privatization of federal Crown Corporations, other corporate holdings and government services that no longer require government ownership or direct delivery to fulfill a public policy role; and provides a focal point for cross-cutting issues of interest to the Minister of Finance in the management and operations of federal Crown Corporations.

◆ Economic Development Policy Division

This division advises on the economic and fiscal implications of policies and programs to promote economic development in Canada in the specific areas of industrial and sectoral development, industrial innovation and science and technology policy, small business development, regional development, telecommunications policy and business framework legislation, agriculture and fisheries, and environment, energy and natural resources.

Federal-Provincial Relations and Social Policy Branch

This branch is responsible for providing policy advice on federal-provincial fiscal arrangements and social policy programs.

◆ Federal-Provincial Relations Division

This division is responsible for the federal government's major transfers to provinces and territories. It also provides advice on all matters pertaining to the federal-provincial fiscal arrangements, including the Canada Health and Social Transfer(CHST), Equalization, Statutory Subsidies, the Revenue Guarantee, the Quebec Abatement (Alternative Payments for Standing Programs and the Youth Allowances Recovery), Stabilization, and Territorial Formula Financing.

◆ Social Policy Division

Advises on the development of the federal government's social policies as well as on the fiscal, economic and social implications of specific proposals in the major functional areas of labour markets, income security, aboriginal policy, justice, health and culture programs.

Financial Sector Policy Branch

This branch provides policy analysis and advice with respect to the financial sector.

◆ Financial Institutions Division

Provides analysis and advice on structural, consumer and competition issues, as well as advice on transactions requiring ministerial approval, including potential mergers. The Division is also responsible for the drafting of consequential regulations stemming from the financial sector reform legislation (Bill C-8) that was brought into force on October 24, 2001. In addition, the Division conducts analysis of and research on trends within the sector, including financial institutions' corporate strategies and performance, electronic banking and commerce, the impact of globalization and emerging technologies (Internet), and other issues related to the financial services sector.

◆ Financial Markets Division

Provides policy analysis and recommendations with respect to the management of the federal government's borrowing program, the public debt and debt issues in both domestic and foreign markets, borrowing policy relating to Crown corporations, loan and loan guarantees, analysis and policy advice on matters respecting the exchange rate, international reserves and investments policies including the Canada Pension Plan, and trends and developments in Canada's financial markets.

◆ Financial Sector Division

Develops and analyses policies applicable to Canada's financial sector. Among its responsibilities, the Division leads work on issues related to development of financial sector regulatory and stability issues. This includes developing policies on such matters as the payments system and e-finance, money laundering and terrorist financing, and co-ordinating and reviewing financial stability and regulatory issues in Canada. The Division is also responsible for intergovernmental issues, including securities regulation, international relations and trade negotiations.

International Trade and Finance Branch

This branch has the responsibility for international trade, investment and economic and financial co-operation; the international monetary system, international development assistance and export financing.

◆ International Finance and Economic Analysis and Policy Secretariat Divisions

Responsible for all aspects of international monetary, financial and development issues, as well as export finance. Manages Canada's relations with major international financial institutions, such as the IMF, the World Bank, and the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, and within major international fora, such as the G-7, G-20, APEC and WHFM. Provides analysis and policy advice on international economic conditions and policy.

◆ International Trade Policy Division

Plays a central role in the development, management and implementation of Canadian trade and investment policy. Evaluates the implications of domestic economic policies on Canada's international obligations and relations with other countries. It is responsible for all aspects of tariff and other import policy (anti-dumping, subsidies/countervail and safeguards) and the related domestic legislation. Participates in international trade and investment negotiations.

Tax Policy Branch

This branch undertakes analysis of and makes recommendations on tax policy issues and prepares appropriate legislation for passage through Parliament.

◆ Business Income Tax Division

Undertakes economic and quantitative analysis and provides advice, recommendations on all aspects of corporate and business taxation, including both corporate income and capital taxes.

◆ Intergovernmental Tax Policy, Research and Evaluation Division

Policy and administrative responsibility for the federal-provincial income tax collection agreements and reciprocal taxation agreements as well as analysis of issues in the area of federal-provincial tax relations. Reviews Indian taxation, develops federal policy on First Nation taxation, including the exercise of taxation powers by First Nation governments. Analyses and evaluates tax policies, often in collaboration with other divisions. Prepares economic research reports on issues affecting tax policy.

◆ Personal Income Tax Division

Undertakes economic and quantitative analysis of personal income tax policy issues and develops new policies in this area.

◆ Sales Tax Division

This division addresses federal consumption taxes, developing the policies, legislation and regulations associated with sales tax – the goods and services tax (GST) and the harmonized sales tax (HST) in three provinces – and federal excise taxes on tobacco, alcohol, and motive fuels. This work involves researching and analyzing changes to these taxes and developing detailed policy proposals.

◆ Tax Legislation Division

Provides policy advice from a legal and structural perspective on income tax related issues applicable to persons, corporate entities and tax-exempt entities and drafts amendments to the income tax law required to implement budget proposals and other tax policy statements. Negotiates income tax agreements, and modifications to existing agreements, with other countries.

Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade

Chapter 52

General Information

Background

The Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade had its origin in an Act of Parliament in 1909 to deal with Canada's relations with other governments within the British Empire and with foreign states. In 1981, the foreign operations of the immigration service were brought into the Department. In January 1982, there was a fundamental reorganization to include the foreign trade policy and international trade component of the Industry, Trade and Commerce Department. In 1992 the Immigration component of the foreign service was transferred to Employment and Immigration Canada and certain other non-core functions, such as the World Exhibition program and international sport program, were transferred to other departments. In 1993 the Investment Development Division of Investment Canada was merged with the Department.

The Department of External Affairs Act of 1985 set forth the mandate of the Department and provided for a Secretary of State for External Affairs (SSEA) and a Minister for International Trade. The name of the Department was subsequently changed to External Affairs and International Trade Canada. In the fall of 1993 the Department assumed its present title, the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade (DFAIT), and the SSEA's title was changed to Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Responsibilities

The Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade has the primary responsibility for the promotion and protection of Canada's interests abroad and the conduct of Canada's relations with other countries. Its legal mandate, as set out in the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade Act, RSC 1985, c. E-22, is to:

- conduct all diplomatic and consular relations on behalf of Canada;
- conduct all official communication between the Government of Canada and the government of any other country and between the Government of Canada and any international organization;
- conduct and manage international negotiations as they relate to Canada;
- coordinate Canada's economic relations;
- foster the expansion of Canada's international trade;
- coordinate the direction given by the Government of Canada to the heads of Canada's diplomatic and consular missions and to manage these missions;

- administer the foreign service of Canada;
- foster the development of international law and its application in Canada's external relations.
- The Department has four basic roles, which flow from the legal mandate. They are:
- the development and coordination of the Government's international policy;
- advocacy of Canadian interests and values overseas;
- the provision of services to Canadians (trade and investment promotion, securing and improving market access, consular assistance, passports);
- support for other government departments and agencies abroad (including provincial governments).

Organization

The Department has two Ministers (the Minister of Foreign Affairs and the Minister for International Trade) and three Secretaries of State (for Asia Pacific; for Latin America, Africa and la Francophonie; and for Central and Eastern Europe, and the Middle East). The responsibilities of the two Ministers extend beyond this Department: the Minister of Foreign Affairs is also responsible for the International Development Research Centre, the International Joint Commission and the International Centre for Human Rights and Democratic Development. The Minister for International Trade is responsible for the Export Development Corporation, the Canadian Commercial Corporation, the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) Secretariat, and the Northern Pipeline Agency Canada.

Canadian Foreign Service Institute (CFSI)

The Institute plans and delivers training and development programs to Departmental employees. The programs are designed to improve the effectiveness of employees in the delivery of the Department's programs in Canada and internationally and to facilitate career development. They include training in official and foreign languages, intercultural effectiveness and a broad range of skills and practices related to DFAIT's business lines. Organizational development services are also provided to assist the Department in managing change.

Communications Bureau (BCD)

The Communications Bureau consists of the Media Relations Division, the Foreign Policy Communications Division, the Trade Communications Division, the Communications Programs and E-Communications Division, the Communications Services Division and the Director-General's Office. The Bureau is responsible for increasing awareness and understanding of Canada's foreign and international trade priorities and the role of the Department. It supplies quality communications advice to ministers and officials on issues, events and initiatives; ensuring Canadian and foreign media, as well as other groups and individuals, receive timely and accurate information. It also organizes speaking tours and other communications programs, provides the Department with public opinion research and analysis, co-ordinates advertising and promotes public understanding of the historical background of Canadian foreign relations.

Consular Affairs Bureau (JPD)

The Consular Affairs Bureau has the sole responsibility for the provision of assistance to and protection of Canadians in other countries. In carrying out that mandate, it operates through staff at Canadian missions abroad as well as through five headquarters divisions consisting of: Case Management, Emergency Services, Program Services, Informatics Services, and Communications and Training. All divisions are under the direction of a Director General. The Bureau sets overall policy for the delivery of consular services, manages cases in cooperation with missions, establishes service standards, manages the cost recovery program, delivers passport and citizenship services overseas, manages the 24-hour, 7-days-a-week departmental/consular operations centre and ensures the application of the Vienna Convention on Consular Relations and related multilateral and bilateral agreements to its consular activities.

Economic Policy Bureau (EED)

The Bureau is responsible for the development and coordination of Canada's positions on international economic and development assistance issues, including G8 Economic Summits, the OECD and APEC. It is also responsible for research and analysis for policy options on Canada's international trade and economic agenda. It consists of three divisions: International Economic Relations and Summit Division; Economic Relations with Developing Countries Division; and Trade and Economic Analysis Division.

Executive Services (DCD)

The objective of this Bureau is to provide dedicated one-stop support to our two Ministers and three Secretaries of States. It is composed of three divisions: DCL (Cabinet and Parliamentary Liaison); DCP (Access to Information and Privacy issues); DCC (Ministerial Correspondence). It also acts as a focal point on regulatory matters and policies and, as Secretariat to the Departmental Executive Committee.

Export and Import Controls Bureau (EPD)

The authority to control the export and import of goods and technology through the Export and Imports Permits Act (EIPA) is the basis of the Bureau's foreign and domestic policy mandate. The Act sets out criteria to govern the inclusion of particular goods on an Export Control List and an Import Control List, and provides for the inclusion of particular countries on an Area Control List applicable to exports. Control over the flow of goods contained on these lists and to/from these destinations is effected through the issuance or denial of export and import permits. The Act delegates to the Minister of Foreign Affairs the discretion to grant or deny requests for permits, and thus confers on the Minister broad powers to control the flow of goods. The principal role of the Export and Import Controls Bureau is to manage Canada's export and import control regime. This it does through policy development; issue management; processing and issuance of permits; and multilateral and bilateral negotiations.

Geographic Bureaux

For the conduct of external relations, the world has been divided among eight geographic bureaux, each under a director general. These are: Africa (GGD); Central, East and South Europe (RBD); European Union, North and West Europe (RWD); Latin America and Caribbean (LGD); Middle East, North Africa and Gulf States (GMD); North Asia and Pacific (PND); South and Southeast Asia (PSD); and North America (NAD). Each bureau is separated into divisions according to smaller geographic areas, and within the divisions, a country desk approach is normally used. The responsibilities and activities of the geographic bureaux have much in common and are best described together.

Each bureau is responsible for the management and coordination of the full range of relations with its region. Included are the operations of the Canadian posts abroad in its area, their guidance and instruction, the on-going dialogue with them, and the provision and allocation of resources to them. Under the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade Act, a head of mission is defined as responsible for the management and direction of the mission and the supervision of the official activities of the various Canadian departments and agencies in the country in question.

The geographic bureaux provide policy advice to Ministers, based on country and regional analysis, and generally are responsible for the handling of bilateral political and economic issues and trade policy with various parts of the world. Each bureau normally manages directly certain core DFAIT programs or "business lines"; for example, "international security and cooperation" or "international business development". In addition, the bureau — with its component divisions — coordinates the delivery within its area of other departmental business lines, including DFAIT's public affairs, consular and administrative programs, as well as the programs of other federal departments and agencies with major operations overseas. As the main point of contact for the Canadian business community, geographic divisions handle export promotion and country-specific market access issues. Most of them support tourist promotion activities in conjunction with the Canadian Tourism Commission, fairs and trade missions, investment development and science and technology cooperation. They also serve as a point of contact for non-governmental organizations with interests abroad and for foreign diplomatic missions based in Ottawa.

Global and Human Issues Bureau (AGD)

This Bureau is responsible for policy development and coordination of activity in issues which are transnational in nature and contribute to sustainable human development and human security. The Human Rights, Humanitarian Affairs and Women's Equality Division ensures effective monitoring of human rights, women's equality issues world-wide and the effective integration of these considerations into all relevant aspects of bilateral and multilateral relations. It also coordinates the foreign policy aspects of humanitarian affairs and migration and refugee issues. The Aboriginal and Circumpolar Affairs Division manages aboriginal issues in Canada's multilateral and bilateral relations and is responsible for the implementation of the northern Dimension of our Foreign Policy. The Bureau is responsible for the development of the Government's Human Security Policy and Programme covering five key thematic areas: Protection of Civilians, Peace Support Operations, Conflict Prevention, Governance and Accountability and Public Safety. Aspects of social development, including children's issues, are the responsibility of this Bureau as is the implementation of the Youth International Internship Program.

Human Resources Policy and Operations Bureau (HRD)

HRD is responsible for the departmental HR strategy, and the secretariat for HR strategy implementation. The Bureau is concerned with department-wide policies on classification, staffing, Official Languages, Employment Equity and certain other terms and conditions of employment. It is also responsible for departmental classification operations and the implementation of the Universal Classification Standard (for rotational and non-rotational positions). All non-rotational recruitment, comprehensive consulting services on HR management, human resources policies, classification, staff relations, staffing and training for non-rotational employees, pensions and insurance plans for Locally-Engaged Staff fall under the jurisdiction of Human Resources Policy and Operations Bureau.

Information Management and Technology Bureau (SXD)

The Bureau provides corporate information management and information technology services to the Department and to other government departments with operations abroad. Through MITNET, the Department's telecommunications service, it provides secure and unclassified voice, facsimile, and data transmission. Through SIGNET, its local and wide-area computer network, it supports e-mail and access to departmental data and applications for 8,800 Canadian and locally-engaged staff around the world, thereby supporting the production, retrieval and delivery of timely information to staff and outside clientele. The Bureau is responsible for the Department's electronic and conventional registries. In addition, the Bureau also is responsible for the DFAIT Government-On-Line Project Office, putting key departmental services for Canadians on-line. The Bureau provides the infrastructure supporting the various departmental web sites; these sites are already attracting 1 million visits a month, providing increased on-line public access to departmental information. As Chief Information Officer, the Bureau's Director-General also coordinates planning, standards and policies for all information management and technology operations across the Department.

International Cultural Relations Bureau (ACD)

This Bureau promotes Canada abroad and helps achieve foreign policy and trade objectives by assisting Canadian scholars and artists to undertake international activities. It assists Canadian cultural and education industries by promoting and facilitating the exports of cultural goods and services and education services in cooperation with the cultural industries and education sectors. It is responsible for promoting Canadian Studies abroad; monitoring and coordinating Canadian representation at international education conferences; supporting international youth and cultural personalities exchange; and promoting abroad Canadian education and training goods and services. It provides funding for international tours by Canadian performing artists, writers and film directors, supports exhibitions abroad of Canadian visual art at leading museums and galleries and important international Biennales. It also provides support to Canadian missions abroad in delivering cultural services. Information on Bureau programs and activities may be found on the Web site at: www.dfaitymaeci.gc.ca.

International Environmental Affairs Bureau (AED) This Bureau's mission is to defend and advance Canada's international interest in the environment, conservation, non-nuclear energy and sustainable development. It focuses on issues with multilateral and regional dimensions and those arising in multilateral and regional fora. The Bureau has international responsibility for issues relating to climate change, sustainable forest management, trade and the environment, hazardous and toxic substances, desertification, human settlements, biological diversity, biosafety, genetic resources for food and agriculture, air and marine pollution, whaling, and non-Canada-USA freshwater. To achieve progress in this area of responsibility the Bureau works with the major international environmental and sustainable development organizations. It also recommends and oversees funding where appropriate. Domestically, the Bureau works toward agreement and productive partnerships with other government departments, agencies and non-governmental environmental, non-nuclear energy, developmental and business organizations. It prepares and monitors implementation of the Department's Sustainable Development Strategy and provides advice and assistance in the areas of environmental assessment and the greening of departmental operations both in Canada and at the 157 missions abroad. Information on Bureau programs and activities may be found on the Web site at: www.dfa-it-maeci.gc.ca/sustain/

International Organizations Bureau (IMD)

This Bureau coordinates Canada's participation in the United Nations and most of the specialized agencies and institutions that form part of the UN system. It is also responsible for coordinating Canada's multilateral relations with the Commonwealth and Canada's role and activities in la Francophonie.

International Security Bureau (IDD)

The International Security Bureau is the focal point of the Department's efforts concerning the Government's foreign policy objective of protecting Canadian security, within a stable global framework. The Bureau encompasses policy and operational responsibilities for non-proliferation, arms control and disarmament; regional security and peacekeeping; nuclear safety; North American and Euro-Atlantic security and defence relations.

Legal Affairs Bureau (JCD)

The main functions of the Legal Affairs Bureau are to promote the development of international law and dispute settlement mechanisms as instruments for peaceful change and the effective conduct of Canada's international relations. The areas of priority are: international peace and security, state sovereignty and extraterritoriality, human rights law, international criminal law, environmental law, law of the sea, and services to the public.

Office of Protocol (XDX)

The Chief of Protocol is the principal point of contact between the Government of Canada and foreign representatives accredited to Canada. The Office of Protocol is responsible for the accreditation and appointment of foreign diplomatic and consular representatives to Canada and of Canadian heads of diplomatic and consular missions to other countries. The Office manages all questions of privileges and immunities in respect to both foreign representatives in Canada and Canadian representatives abroad, as set out in the Foreign Missions and International Organizations Act, the State Immunity Act and the Vienna Conventions on Diplomatic and Consular Relations. The Office plans, organizes and manages state and official visits to Canada and participates in the logistical planning and conduct of travel abroad by the Governor General, the Prime Minister, the Minister of Foreign Affairs and the Minister for International Trade. The Office also organizes, arranges, and manages official hospitality functions for the Prime Minister, ministers and senior officials of this and other departments at Foreign Affairs Headquarters, at 7 Rideau Gate, the official Government guest house, and elsewhere in Canada and abroad.

Office of the Inspector General and Internal Audit and Evaluation (SIX)

The office of the Inspector General serves senior management of the Department by conducting a range of independent reviews, including Audits and Evaluations, at headquarters and Missions. Its purpose is to encourage accountability and improvements in Departmental management of processes and operations. The OIG's principal information holdings are reports of reviews performed.

Passport Office (JWD)

The Passport Office, a Special Operating Agency of the Department of Foreign Affairs & International Trade, finances its operations entirely from the fees generated by passport services. Its administrative headquarters are located in Hull. The agency operates issuing offices (mail and personal service) in Hull and personal service counters at 29 regional offices across Canada. It also develops, promulgates, and monitors entitlement and issuance policies and procedures for application within Canada as well as at missions abroad.

Personnel Management Bureau (HPD)

The Bureau is concerned with the management of the Department's human resources through the recruitment, assignment, and promotion processes as these principally affect rotational personnel. It is also responsible for the negotiation and administration of the Foreign Service Directives, spousal issues, and all questions concerning the relocation of personnel in and out of Ottawa.

Physical Resources Bureau (SRD)

The Bureau is a Special Operating Agency which is responsible for the Department's Long Term Capital Program, including property renovations, construction, purchases and disposals as well as Chancery and Official Residence lease renewals and moves. The Bureau develops and interprets property and materiel policy, coordinates property program planning, and provides a broad range of maintenance, interior design, purchasing, and shipping services for missions. The Bureau also provides administrative services in the areas of materiel management, accommodation, mail and distribution services.

Policy Planning (CPD)

The Planning Secretariat provides general and specialized policy support to the Department. It is responsible for ensuring consistency and coherence across the whole range of Canadian foreign policy through the analysis, evaluation and development of policy, and by carrying out a number of specific policy tasks. The Secretariat feeds into the priority setting process of the Department by organizing Policy Board meetings held at the ADM level. Through its coordination of cross-cutting policy exercises, the Policy Planning groups ensures that Canadian foreign policy reflects global realities and governmental objectives. The Secretariat also coordinates the briefing material for the transition of Ministers and Deputy Ministers. The Secretariat elaborates departmental crisis management strategies for major events with policy impact such as the events of September 11th, as well as undertaking the review of priorities and resources in such instances. In addition, the Secretariat organizes several outreach functions such as the annual Ministerial retreat, briefing students and hosting various other roundtables and conferences. Within the Secretariat there are three units. The Policy Planning Division has special responsibility for the coordination of political input for the G8 Foreign Ministers' meetings. The Policy Coordination Division focuses in particular on trade and economic policy and its links to Canadian foreign policy, and also assesses and advises on how best to align the Department's international priorities and activities to Canada's economic and social agenda at home. The third unit, the Canadian Centre for Foreign Policy Development manages a program to engage Canadians on foreign policy issues and policy development, contributing financially to public project proposals, commissioning policy options papers, organizing events and roundtables and publishing project reports, papers and teaching aids. It also organizes an annual National Forum on Canada's international relations.

Corporate Finance, Planning and Systems Bureau (SMD)

The bureau is comprised of three divisions. The Planning, Program Analysis and Budgeting Division (SMP) provides analysis and advice to the Executive Committee on program planning and resource allocation matters; negotiates with central agencies the size of the Department's budget; coordinates the preparation of the Department's submissions to Treasury Board and its Estimates; prepares DFAIT's annual reports on Plans and Priorities and its Departmental Performance Report to Parliament; and oversees the Department's provision of common services in support of other departments' operations at missions abroad.

The Financial and Contracting Services Division (SMF) is responsible for domestic and foreign operations for the Department and other government departments engaged in foreign operations; and for the operation of a centre of expertise dedicated to the management of service contracts for the department. The Corporate Management Systems, Policy and Compensation Division (SMS) is responsible for the strategic direction, development, maintenance, training and support of systems utilized in the management of departmental resources including financial, human, and material management (including the Integrated Management System, PeopleSoft; HRMS, Salary Management System, and Business Intelligence); the administration of compensation and benefits for departmental employees; coordination of the Modern Management initiative; coordination of departmental salary management and forecasting; activity based costing; as well as the formulation and coordination of

Security and Intelligence Bureau (ISD)

The Bureau is responsible for providing timely and critical intelligence on world events, assuring the protection of Canadian personnel and their families, the safeguard of government premises and assets and the promotion and protection of Canadian national interests. The Bureau is also responsible, as the National Security Authority, for overseeing the security of all NATO classified matter conveyed to Canada and for Communication Security (COMSEC). The Foreign Intelligence Division provides, inter alia, information support for Department operations and ensures the coordination of intelligence activities with other Canadian agencies and foreign governments. The security divisions are responsible for all aspects of physical and technical security and personal safety at headquarters and abroad. This includes the security of buildings, information and information technology, security measures at headquarters and abroad, personnel security, clearances and investigations and security education.

Senior Coordinator for Federal-Provincial-Territorial Relations (CFD) The Bureau is responsible for coordinating the Department's relationships with Canada's provincial/territorial governments on international issues. The Bureau negotiates agreements with the provinces concerning their formal relationship to the Department and coordinates support to the provinces prior to visits abroad by provincial/territorial government leaders. It also advises on issues touching on provincial/territorial government relations with international governmental organizations, and with visiting foreign leaders. Represents the Department in consultations and negotiations with the other government departments and provincial/territorial authorities, as required, on questions which may impact on federal-provincial-territorial relations. The Bureau is responsible for the international dimensions of Canadian federalism, and in this context, is the principal point of contact for the Forum of Federations. It also advises on the expenditure of specific grants and contributions funds which impact on attachment to Canada, and perceptions abroad of Canada as a strong united country. Through its work on international issues, the Bureau also supports the Government's strategic objectives, including national unity.

Trade Law Bureau (JLT)

The Trade Law Bureau handles information on legal aspects of Canada's international trade agreements and related matters including the GATT, WTO, Canada-US FTA, NAFTA and Canada-Chile FTA. Also international dispute settlements under Chapters 11, 14, 19 and 20 of the NAFTA and Chapters 18 and 19 of the FTA, the GATT and WTO. Legal issues related to trade in goods and services (e.g. transportation, communications, energy, professional services), agriculture, environment, trade sanctions, boycotts, private commercial arbitration, investment and international organizations.

Trade Policy I: General Trade Policy Bureau (EAD) - Trade Policy II: Services, Investment and Intellectual Property Bureau (EBD)

The two Bureaux work closely together and collectively are responsible for all aspects of Canadian trade policy, including the management of trade disputes.

Trade Policy Bureau I is responsible for maintaining a broad oversight of issues related to trade in goods. The Director General of Trade Policy Bureau I also serves as Canada's Coordinator for the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA), responsible for managing Canada's participation in the NAFTA and its institutions. In addition, the Director General is responsible for the negotiation and/or oversight of regional and bilateral trade agreements, including the Free Trade Agreement of the Americas (FAA), the Canada-Singapore and Canada-Central America Agreements, as well as for the ongoing management of bilateral trade agreements with Chile, Israel and Costa Rica.

Trade Policy Bureau II is responsible for maintaining a broad oversight of issues related to trade in services, as well as for the so-called new issues in international trade - culture, intellectual property, new technologies, electronic commerce, telecommunications, investment, competition, government procurement and corporate social responsibility. The Director General serves as Chief Negotiator for free trade negotiations with the European Free Trade Association (EFTA). The Director General of Trade Policy Bureau II also maintains an overview of Canada's participation in the World Trade Organization (WTO) and the trade-related work of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD).

The Trade Policy Bureau I comprises the following four divisions: Regional Trade Policy; Trade Remedies; Technical Barriers and Regulations; and Tariffs and Market Access. The Trade Policy Bureau II also comprises five divisions; Investment Trade Policy; Information and Technology Trade Policy; Services Trade Policy; Multilateral Trade Policy and Trade Policy Consultations and Liaison. This last division supports the work of industry Sector Advisory Committees on International Trade (SAGITs), coordinates a permanent forum for consultations with the provinces and assists other divisions in the planning and conduct of public consultation processes.

♦ Headquarters organization

The Department is headquartered in Ottawa but operates throughout Canada via local and regional passport offices and through its network of trade commissioners in regional offices. Below the deputy minister level, the Department is organized by function, by geography and for corporate services at the assistant deputy minister level and is supported by the Legal Adviser and Planning Secretariat. There are special ambassadors, based in Ottawa, for specific subjects such as Fisheries Conservation, the Environment, Air Negotiations and Circumpolar Affairs. The present headquarters structure came into effect in September 1996.

The functional Assistant Deputy Ministers (International Business and Communications, Trade, Economic and Environmental Policy, Global and Security Policy) are accountable for developing coherent, effective global policies and initiatives to achieve worldwide the objectives of the government's foreign policy. The geographic Assistant Deputy Ministers (Asia Pacific; Americas; Europe, Africa and the Middle East) are accountable for the implementation of objectives within their respective regions and ensuring that policies and initiatives are consistent with the development and maintenance of effective and coherent relationships between Canada and each country.

The Department is divided into a number of bureaux, as listed below alphabetically, each headed by a director-general. The bureaux in turn are separated into divisions, each under a director. There are also some divisions and work units that do not form part of bureaux. The acronyms by which each major unit is known is shown after the name.

♦ Missions abroad

Outside Canada, the Department operates through a network of 129 missions and 33 offices in 107 countries. Overseas representation also exists through a number of honorary consuls. Details of missions abroad can be found in the publication Canadian Representatives Abroad, issued annually.

Bilateral missions are accredited to specific countries. They include larger missions that provide a full range of services within the business line framework and smaller missions that specialize in specific services, including those of other government departments such as CIDA and Citizenship and Immigration.

Multilateral missions serve Canadian interests in specific international organizations such as the World Trade Organization (WTO), the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), the United Nations (U.N.) and the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), the European Union (E.U.), and the Organization of American States (OAS). Missions also provide support to other government departments, including financial management, accommodation and property management, materiel management, communications, information management, personnel management of locally engaged staff, transportation and security.

Classes of Personal Information

In the course of conducting the programs and activities of the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade, categories of personal information may be accumulated which are not contained in the specific information banks described in this entry. This information exists in a fragmented form throughout the subject files of the Department, which are described in the program records. This information is stored as part of the general subject files, where records are not normally retrieved by name of individual or other personal identifier. This form of information is retrievable only if specifics are provided concerning the subject matter, related departmental activity, the date on which the information was received by the Department and to whom it was addressed. The personal information contained in these subject files is retained for the same period of time as the related subject information and is disposed of according to the appropriate subject record schedules. The classes of personal information listed below describe particular program records which, because of their nature, are more likely to contain personal information.

International Security Bureau

Personal information may be held by the bureau concerning individuals who have been involved in defence activities with NATO, NORAD, or other international defence or arms control organizations, or in conferences or visits. Personal information might include personal biographies, tours of defence colleges, military travel and training, and nominations of Canadians for positions in international defence organizations concerned with defence or arms control. Persons seeking access should specify the subject of the enquiry, country and/or city, contacts, incident, conference/organization, visits, dates and circumstances which may have led to the establishment of a record.

Legal Affairs Bureau and Trade Law Bureau

The Legal Affairs Bureau handles a number of important functions including multilateral legal issues, peace and security law, humanitarian law, economic law, trade agreements, treaties, international law, dispute settlement, individual legal cases, and implementation of environmental legislation and Access to Information and Privacy legislation. Personal information held by the Bureau may include enquiries from Canadian residents seeking advice about international and foreign legal systems or concerning authentication of documents, and claims by Canadian citizens for possible support by the Canadian government. Other personal information would relate to specific issues handled by the Bureau. Persons seeking access must specify the subject of the enquiry, as well as country and/or city, legal firm, contacts, incidents, dates and circumstances which may have led to the development of a record.

Office of Protocol

The Office of Protocol is responsible for the administration of protocol-related programs of the Department and for the development of policies and procedures which direct the administration of protocol programs. Department of Justice Canada

Chapter 53

General Information

Background

The Department of Justice was created by the Department of Justice Act, passed at the first session of Parliament of the Dominion of Canada, and assented to on May 22, 1868. This Act outlined the responsibilities of the Minister of Justice and the Attorney General of Canada and, with a few exceptions, these responsibilities have remained substantially unchanged.

Responsibilities

The work of the Department consists of litigation, provision of legal advice and opinions to the federal government of Canada on a very wide range of matters, and the drafting of legislation, contracts and other legal documents. The Department is also concerned with the legal aspects of developing government policy, and prepares recommendations or reviews recommendations, for reform of the law. To carry out these responsibilities, the Department uses federal Statutes and Regulations. In addition, contributions are made to provide financial assistance to organizations conducting studies and legal research and to other law-related programs. A limited number of grants is made in connection with legal education, and cost-sharing agreements are entered into with provincial and territorial governments in connection with young offenders, compensation of victims of violent crimes, legal aid in criminal cases for adults and young offenders, native court worker programs, and access to legal information. The Department also undertakes research in support of policy initiatives and other departmental responsibilities. The role of the Federal Department of Justice does not include the provision of legal services or advice to members of the public.

Organization

Aboriginal Affairs Portfolio

The Aboriginal Affairs Portfolio carries out a wide range of responsibilities in relation to Aboriginal matters. It has functional responsibility with regard to the conduct of Aboriginal litigation, including that associated with Indian Residential Schools. The Portfolio advises the government on broad issues that are not the responsibility of any one program department (such as Metis and non-status Indians); it develops positions on legal policy issues such as management of the Crown's fiduciary obligations; it provides legal advice to the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development and to the Office of Indian Residential Schools Resolution of Canada; and it leads and manages the Government's Aboriginal Justice Initiative.

Business and Regulatory Law Portfolio

The Business and Regulatory Law Portfolio comprises the office of the Assistant Deputy Minister and thirty Legal Services Units providing on-site legal services to government clients whose mandates have in common a strong regulatory, public safety, or business law component. These units include: Agriculture and Agri-Food, Atlantic Canada Opportunities Agency, Canada Economic Development for Quebec Regions, Canadian Environmental Assessment Agency, Canadian Firearms Centre, Canadian Food Inspection Agency, Canadian Heritage, Canadian International Development Agency, Canadian Nuclear Safety Commission, Canadian Security Intelligence Service, Canadian Space Agency, Communication Canada, Communications Security Establishment, Correctional Service Canada, Environment Canada, Fisheries and Oceans, Foreign Affairs (JUS), Health Canada, Human Resources Development, Industry Canada, National Defence, National Parole Board, National Research Council, Natural Resources, Parks Canada Agency, Public Works and Government Services, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Solicitor General of Canada, Transport Canada and Veterans Affairs.

The Portfolio also includes three specialized units: the Intellectual Property Secretariat, the Maritime Law Secretariat, and the Property Law Section.

Canadian Firearms Centre

The Canadian Firearms Centre is responsible for the overall administration of the firearms licensing and registration program. The Centre provides administrative direction and funding to the program, and designs and maintains the Canadian Firearm Licensing and Registration System, a fully integrated automated information system that provides administrative and enforcement support to all partners involved in licensing, registration and the issuance of authorizations related to restricted firearms. The Centre develops training courses and material and designs all application forms concerning firearms. In addition, the Centre conducts research and develops policy related to firearms. It develops firearms legislation and accompanying regulations and negotiates agreements with the provinces and territories as well as international agreements. The Centre maintains an Web site [<http://www.cfc-ccaf.gc.ca>], as well as a toll free line [telephone: 1-800-731-4000].

Central Agencies Portfolio

The Central Agencies Portfolio is composed of the Office of the Assistant Deputy Minister and six Legal Services Units. These units provide on-site legal services to central agencies in their respective areas of activity. They manage critical horizontal legal, policy and operational issues related to the central agency functions of government. The Portfolio provides legal advice related to: financial institutions, public service employment law, labour law, tax law, Crown law, financial law, money laundering, terrorism, machinery of government and the federal budget. The legal services units include: Finance Canada, Financial Consumer Agency of Canada, Financial Transactions and Reports Analyst Centre of Canada, Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions, Public Service Commission, and Treasury Board.

Citizenship and Immigration Portfolio

The Citizenship and Immigration Portfolio includes the Office of the Assistant Deputy Attorney General, the Legal Services Unit of the Department of Citizenship and Immigration, the Crimes against Humanity and War Crimes Section, and the Immigration Litigation Sections of the regional offices. The Portfolio provides legal services and advice in matters relating to the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act, the Citizenship Act and their associated regulations and other relevant legislation. It also provides legal services and advice on operational matters and on policy, program and legislative development. In addition, it coordinates the delivery of litigation services by the regional offices and the Civil Litigation Section, and helps ensure that uniform legal positions are taken across the country in matters pertaining to the Portfolio's mandate. The Crimes against Humanity and War Crimes Section is mandated to receive allegations and to investigate, assess and litigate cases against individuals suspected of involvement in war crimes, crimes against humanity and other reprehensible acts committed during time of conflict, regardless of when or where the crimes occurred.

Civil Litigation Branch

The role of the Civil Litigation Branch is essentially fourfold: (1) to coordinate the conduct of litigation and, where necessary, to coordinate legal, policy and client perspectives and ensure the resolution of disagreements; (2) to ensure consistency in the positions taken in litigation and that the quality of representation meets the highest professional standards; (3) to assist in the refining of legal issues and positions as they arise, whether in the regions or in Ottawa, so that they are properly framed for consideration by the Litigation Committee, the Deputy Minister or the Attorney General; and (4) to provide guidance and direction in major, high profile litigation.

The Civil Litigation Section, along with its counterparts in the Regional Offices, is responsible for the conduct of all litigation by or against the federal government in the common law provinces and territories, except tax and criminal litigation. The practice applies to any matter that may be litigious or which requires legal advice and covers many areas of law, including administrative, constitutional, debtor-creditor, employment, immigration, and native law, to name a few. Civil litigation services are provided to virtually every federal department and agency. Counsel appear before all levels of provincial and federal courts and before many federal administrative tribunals and international panels.

Communications Branch

The Communications Branch sets communications objectives for the Department through needs analyses and reviews of both the government's agenda and the Department's agenda. It develops and implements strategic communications plans for the Department's legislative initiatives, major court cases, and programs and policies. It advises the Minister and the Department on communications issues, and provides coordination and functional advice for satellite communications offices such as those with the Family, Children and Youth Section, the National Crime Prevention Centre, the Youth Justice Policy Section, and the Victims of Crime program. It assists sectors in planning and implementing their communications projects, and provides expert services and advice in such areas as promotion and publishing. The Branch is responsible for providing the Minister's Office with communications services, for liaison with the news media, for external communications such as news releases, speeches, exhibits and departmental advertising campaigns, and for liaison with other federal and provincial departments. The Branch also manages the departmental Web site [www.Canada.justice.gc.ca], as well as a public inquiry center [telephone: (613) 957-4222; fax: (613) 954-0811].

Corporate Services

The Corporate Services Sector plays a functional leadership and operational role in relation to financial management and accountability, information management and technology, human resources management, access to information, internal audit and corporate and operational planning. Corporate Services activities focus on many government-wide priority initiatives including, for example, Government On Line; Results for Canadians; Workplace of Choice; Employment Equity; Modern Comptrollership and Financial Information System.

Deputy Minister's Group

The Deputy Minister Group provides essential support services to the Deputy Minister, ensuring appropriate communication and liaison on a range of issues between the Deputy Minister and the Minister's Office, the Department and other government departments and agencies.

The Deputy Minister shares his responsibilities with three Associate Deputy Ministers, who together make up the Deputy Minister Team (DM Team). The DM Team has responsibility for the overall performance and management of the Department, handling issues that require attention at the Deputy Minister level. In addition to their collective responsibility for the overall management of the Department, each of the Associate Deputy Ministers provides advice and leadership in certain key areas, including Constitutional Affairs, Dispute Resolution Services, Legal Risk Management, the National Program for the Integration of both Official Languages in the Administration of Justice (POLAJ), the Office of Corporate Counsel, the Office of the Francophonie, Justice in Official Languages and Bijuralism, and the Official Languages Law Group.

Federal Prosecution Service

The Federal Prosecution Service (FPS) is a national entity within the Department of Justice. It encompasses all staff counsel and prosecution agents engaged in the delivery of prosecution and criminal law advisory services at the federal level across Canada. Headed by the Assistant Deputy Attorney General (Criminal Law), the FPS consists of a central component (FPS-Headquarters), a regional component (prosecutors working in the Department's twelve regional offices and sub-offices and the legal agents working under their supervision), and the prosecutors with the Competition and Consumer Law Division within the Departmental Legal Services Unit at Industry Canada.

Headquarters is comprised of the Criminal Law Section, which includes the Federal Prosecution Service /

Ottawa-Gatineau and the International Assistance Group; the e-prosecutions Secretariat; the Executive Services Office; the Renewal Secretariat; and the Strategic Prosecution Policy Section, which includes the Agent Affairs Unit and the National Security Group.

Integration

The mandate of the Integration initiative is to coordinate the implementation of the Department's Strategic Plan 2001-2005 and to facilitate teamwork in all Sectors and Regions with a view to achieving corporate objectives. It encourages partnerships and strategic linkages among the Sectors and Regions and with our external partners. The initiative provides the focus for teamwork, better information sharing and communication about best practices, innovation and continuous learning throughout the Department. In addition, the initiative promotes the integration of diversity, gender equality and conflict management into the life and work of the Department.

International Cooperation Group

The International Cooperation Group is mandated with the development and implementation of cooperation programs in support of foreign countries' efforts to reform their system of justice. Our Department currently has such programs in Bangladesh, Ukraine, the Czech Republic, the Slovak Republic and South Africa, as well as in some countries of francophone Africa.

Legislative Services Branch

The Legislative Services Branch is responsible for the drafting of all government bills and motions to amend; the drafting and examination of regulations; the official publishing of Acts of Parliament following Royal Assent and related reference tables; and the updating and consolidation of federal statutes and regulations. The Chief Legislative Counsel acts for the Minister of Justice in reviewing government bills and regulations for compliance with the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms and the Canadian Bill of Rights. The Branch also ensures the recognition of the bilingual nature of the Canadian legal system in bills and regulations.

Policy Sector

The Policy Sector plans, develops and implements government justice policies dealing with both substantive and procedural criminal law; family, international, and administrative law; information and privacy law; human rights law; judicial affairs; crime prevention; sentencing; and conviction review. In addition, the Sector provides policy, planning and coordination capability within the Department. This includes the management of the Department's substantive policy agenda and the management of key relationships with the Department's policy partners in the federal government, the provinces and territories, and non-governmental organizations. The Sector is responsible for research and development, public legal education and information, and the coordination of the Department's consultation process. The Sector contributes to the development and maintenance of a fair and accessible justice system through the design, development and implementation of cost-shared programs and grants and contributions. The Sector also provides a program evaluation capacity for the Department.

The principal components of the Policy Sector are: the Criminal Law Policy and Community Justice Branch, which includes the Criminal Conviction Review Group, the Criminal Law Policy Section, the Policy Centre for Victim Issues, the Sentencing Reform Team, and the Youth Justice Policy Group; the Family, Children and Youth Section; the National Crime Prevention Centre; the Policy Integration and Coordination Section, which includes the Evaluation Division, the Intergovernmental and External Relations Division, the Priorities and Planning Division, the Strategic Planning Division, and the Research and Statistics Division; the Programs Branch; and the Public Law Policy Section, which includes the General Public Law Team, the Judicial Affairs, Courts and Tribunal Policy Unit, and the Private International Law Team.

Public Law Portfolio

The Public Law Portfolio is composed of the Office of the Senior General Counsel and five public law sections. The Constitutional and Administrative Law Section provides legal advice and litigation support to the Government of Canada on all matters of constitutional law, administrative law and Crown law, including the interpretation of statutes and regulations. The Human Rights Law Section provides legal advisory services and litigation support to the Government of Canada on matters relating to the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, the Canadian Human Rights Act and the Canadian Bill of Rights; it also provides services in the area of international human rights law. The Information Law and Privacy Section's primary role is to provide legal interpretation and advice and litigation support to the Government of Canada relating to the Access to Information and Privacy Acts. The International Law and Activities Section provides leadership and coordination in international law matters and ensures the consistency of the Department's legal advice on international law. The Trade Law Division (JLT) provides legal advice and services to the Government of Canada on the international and domestic implications of Canada's trade and investment obligations.

Regional Offices

Six regional offices report directly to the Deputy Minister: the Atlantic Regional Office, located in Halifax; the Quebec Regional Office, located in Montreal; the Ontario Regional Office, located in Toronto; the Prairie Region, with regional offices in Winnipeg, Saskatoon and Edmonton and a sub-office in Calgary; the British Columbia Regional Office, located in Vancouver; and the Northern Region, with regional offices in Yellowknife, Inuvik, Iqaluit and Whitehorse. The Regional Offices represent the client departments in civil and criminal matters, and provide a wide variety of legal services.

Tax Law Services

The Tax Law Services Portfolio includes the Office of the Assistant Deputy Attorney General, the Legal Services Unit of the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency and Tax Litigation Sections in the Regional Offices. The Portfolio provides legal advice, litigation services and drafting services to the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency in respect of all fiscal matters including income tax, excise tax and GST, employment insurance, customs and border services and international trade.

Information Holdings

Databases

Asset Management (AMAX) - The database records all assets in headquarters. Purpose: To record and report on the owner and location of assets in headquarters.

Canadian Registry of Divorce Proceedings (CRDP) - This database contains information obtained from the Registration of Divorce Proceedings Forms received from the various divorce registries. It contains personal information on individuals requesting a Clearance Certificate to obtain a divorce. Information includes all relevant personal information including name, date of birth, marriage status, etc. Purpose: The information in this bank is maintained for the purpose of informing the District Registrar of the various court offices of the existence or otherwise of pending divorce applications. In addition, statistical information is provided to Statistics Canada for the purpose of compiling marriage and divorce statistics for publication.

Caseview - The database contains detailed information on cases (file number and name, events, dates, participants in cases, etc), contact information for participants (addresses, telephone numbers, etc), time spent by lawyers and legal staff on cases, documents created by lawyers using case data, etc. Purpose: Caseview is an integrated case management, timekeeping, and document generation/retrieval system, which provides an interface to case-specific data in the Department's national records management system (RIMS). The information is used for case tracking purposes, automated document creation, case inventory management, and reporting purposes (national statistics for senior management, responding to client queries, etc).

EForms - The database contains electronic forms used by the Department of Justice instead of hard copy originals. Information entered into a form is normally stored on the user private directory. Purpose: The database saves having originals preprinted. Information that is recorded is of a higher quality since data is keyed in rather than hand written.

Family Orders and Agreements Enforcement Assistance (FOAEA) - The data bank contains identifying information on individuals who are subject to a tracing, interception or license denial application under the Family Orders and Agreements Enforcement Assistance Act. Personal information includes name, sex, date of birth, address, etc. The database also contains the status of their family financial support obligation, information on payments that the individuals may receive from the federal government, and whether they have a passport, aviation or navigational licenses.

Purpose: The information in this bank is used to carry out the Government of Canada's responsibilities under the Family Orders and Agreements Enforcement Assistance Act.

FRIC - The data bank contains information on individuals who were condemned to pay a fine to the Federal Prosecution Service. It contains the amount of the fine, fees and other charges that were imposed by the court and the amounts paid by the delinquents.

Purpose: The information is used by the Quebec Regional Office for fine collection tracking.

GASPARD - This database contains judicial decisions from the Federal Court and the Supreme Court of Canada, factums, opinions, and reference documents.

Purpose: The main goal is to enable litigators and legal advisers to consult different documents (case law, facts, opinions, procedures, doctrine and others) quickly and efficiently when preparing pleadings or other legal documents.

Grants and Contributions Fund - The data bank contains information on projects submitted for financial assistance or funded under the terms and conditions of the Department's Grants and Contributions Fund. It contains project specific information including name and address of funding applicant, project description, time frames, financial data, etc. Purpose: The information is used to evaluate the merits of the proposals and to monitor the progress of funded projects.

Integrated Finance and Materiel System (IFMS) - This database records all financial and materiel management data for financial accounting, accounts receivable and payable, funds management, transfer payments, budgeting, procurement and crown agents. Purpose: To record and report on all financial and material transactions and provide an interface with the Receiver General.

Justice Electronic Forms (JEF) - JEF is an electronic billing and case management system used by Crown Agents. The database contains information on cases, time and expenses (billed to the Department of Justice for services rendered and recoverable expenses).

Purpose: The information is used to help Crown Agents manage their cases and produce Case Assignment Reports and Statements of Accounts, which are used to bill to the Department of Justice for services rendered and recoverable expenses.

Litigation Support - Litigation support databases contain document collections relevant to specific litigation cases and document collections relevant to anticipated litigation. The databases contain information about the documents (date, author, type, subject), images, text and annotations. Purpose: Support to in-house litigation teams in the tracking, analysis and preparation of documents for case research and discovery.

LOPORS - The database contains legal opinions and other material of precedential value. Purpose: The database is used as a research tool by departmental lawyers and paralegals in the preparation of court cases and legal briefs, saving time on legal research, avoiding duplication of efforts and ensuring consistency of legal views on important issues.

NewsDesk - This database contains electronic clippings from several newspapers. Purpose: Provides access to up-to-date information regarding relevant news.

Paper Correspondence Tracking - This data bank contains ministerial and executive services correspondence. Purpose: To track ministerial and executive correspondence.

PeopleSoft - This human resources management system contains information about the positions at the Department of Justice and about the personnel filling these positions. The system records current, future and past information. Purpose: To maintain human resources information.

RALLI - The database contains information on resources (time, people, money) against projects (processes, activities, etc) for a small pilot group in the Policy Sector. Purpose: RALLI is a resource allocation and information system developed for the Policy Sector.

The information is used to track policy projects and initiatives, support the (re-) allocation of resources to policy issues based on priorities, and manage and report on policy development processes.

RIMS - The database contains information on official Department of Justice records including the file number, file subject, date of creation, number and types of folders, charge out and locations of folders, and archival information. Purpose: This database is the repository for official departmental records.

Salary Management System (SMS) - This salary forecasting system allows management to forecast salary expenditure based on detailed information of employee records. Purpose: To forecast salary expenditures.

Time Keeping System (TKS) - The database contains billable and non-billable time against projects, cases and files for lawyers, paralegals and legal staff deployed across several legal service units. Purpose: The information is used for reporting purposes and cost recovery for services rendered to client departments.

Travel Expert System (TES) - This database contains travel requests and claims. (The system is not widely used). Purpose: To assist in the preparation and processing of travel requests and claims.

Program Records

The Department of Justice files are maintained based on the subject content of the record or case name and/or details of the case using a central file classification system. Each Regional Office, Legal Services Unit and Headquarters Section classifies records according to the subject matter or case name. Generally the records can be categorized into four main groups: Administrative, Legal Operational, Legal Policy and Program Development. As a rule information is retrieved by name, subject, statute or term. Requesters need only describe the record they wish to access. If the request pertains to a specific case, the location indicating where the case took place is also required.

the applicant) of the following: firearms registration refusals, revocations or prohibition orders, criminal offences, emotional and behavioural problems, incidents involving violent behaviour, marital status, citizenship, and financial difficulties. The bank may also contain the name, address and telephone number of the spouse/common-law partner, guarantors, references, and those in a prescribed relationship to a business. It may contain additional personal information by way of an indication of a police occurrence report or a mention that interviews and investigative reports were prepared in the course of issuing a licence or registration certificate under the Firearms Act. Details of interviews and reports are held by the provinces/territories. Finally, records are kept on transactions conducted through the 1-800 Call Centre.

To access information under the Privacy Act, individuals must provide, in addition to the requirements indicated on the Personal Information Request Form, their full name and date of birth. If required, they should also submit their firearms licence number (or firearms acquisition certificate number under the previous legislation), firearms registration certificate number, or other identifiers sufficient to permit accurate retrieval of information. To expedite the processing of their request, individuals wishing to access only specific information should identify the material desired. Responsibility for responding to requests is shared between various jurisdictions. To obtain information related to training, applications and communications with the Canadian Firearms Centre, requests should be submitted to the ATIP Office of Justice Canada. Requests related to the registration of firearms, the Firearms Interest Police (FIP) and Canadian Police Information Centre (CPIC) should be submitted to the ATIP Office of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Requests for information related to police occurrence reports, interviews and investigative reports prepared in the course of issuing a licence or registration certificate under the Firearms Act must be submitted to various levels of government, depending on the provinces and territories. For the opt-in provinces (Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario), requests must be made to the appropriate provincial Freedom of Information offices. For Prince Edward Island and the opt-out provinces (Newfoundland, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia, Northwest Territories, Nunavut and Yukon), requests must be made to Justice Canada. It should be noted, however, that information collected by municipal or provincial police forces is not under the control of Justice Canada. Information in the bank may be maintained in hard copy, on microfilm or other long-term storage medium, and in automated form in the Canadian Firearms Registration System (CFRS) and the Canadian Police Information Centre (CPIC). Classes of Individuals: Individuals who have applied for licences, registrations and other privileges under the firearms legislation and have been granted licences, refused or had privileges revoked; or have been prohibited from possessing firearms, ammunition or other explosive substance. Purpose: The administration and enforcement of firearms control legislation and regulations in Canada and at Canadian borders.

Consistent Uses: Certain information in this bank may be used by domestic and foreign accredited law enforcement agencies in the enforcement and administration of the law and in the detection, prevention or suppression of crime. Retention and Disposal Standards: Information in this bank is retained for a minimum of ten years. Some information may be retained permanently pursuant to paragraph 83(1)(a) of the Firearms Act and subsection 4(2) of the Firearms Records Regulations or subsection 114(1) of the Criminal Code of Canada. Where the record has been designated as having archival or historical value, the record shall be transferred to the control of the National Archives of Canada; and where the record has not been so designated, it shall be destroyed. TBS Registration: 004480 Bank Number: JUS PPU 199

Central Registry of Divorce Proceedings

Description: This bank contains information obtained from the Registration of Divorce Proceeding Forms received from the various divorce registries in respect of the petitioner and the respondent, and includes all relevant personal information. Class of Individuals: Persons who filed for divorce in a Canadian court either in their individual capacity or through the lawyers who represent them. Purpose: The information in this bank is maintained for the purpose of informing the District Registrar of the various court offices of the existence or otherwise of pending divorce applications, thus settling jurisdictional issues pursuant to section 3 of the Divorce Act, 1985. In addition, statistical information is provided to Statistics Canada for the purpose of compiling marriage and divorce statistics for publication.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Textual records are retained for five years after divorce registration and machine-readable records are maintained actively for the life of the Divorce Registry program or for the length of time the Divorce Registry is administered by the Department of Justice. TBS Registration: 002274 Bank Number: JUS PPU 005

Civil Proceedings and Legal Services

Description: This bank contains information relating to civil legal proceedings and legal services provided to all federal departments and most government agencies and institutions. The information is used to provide legal advice and representation in a practice which ranges across many areas of law, including administrative, constitutional, debtor-creditor, employment, family, immigration, native and tax law, to name a few. The bank contains information relevant to the legal advice and representation provided, such as solicitor-client correspondence and related records. In legal proceedings of a civil nature in which the Crown in right of Canada, a Crown agency or a Crown servant is a party, including proceedings before administrative boards and tribunals, it includes documents such as written pleadings, briefs, appeal books, transcripts and statements of evidence, writs, opinions and related correspondence. The greater part of the information contained in the bank is obtained from other federal institutions, as authorized by sub-section 8(2)(d) of the Privacy act. Considering the sources of personal information compiled, the social insurance number (SIN) is in some cases part of the information transmitted by institutions authorized to collect it, such as in some cases involving the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency. Class of Individuals: Canadians, persons present in Canada, and persons who have been involved in civil litigation involving the federal government. Purpose: The material in this bank is retained to enable the Department to carry out its duties as legal advisor to the federal government. Retention and Disposal Standards: Civil litigation files are retained for 21 years after cessation of the legal action; records pertaining to other legal matters are retained for 30 years; and material of precedent value is retained for 35 years after a legal opinion is rendered and the file is closed. Files will be microfilmed and the copy kept permanently at the Department of Justice. RDA Number: 88/002 TBS Registration: 002704 Bank Number: JUS PPU 010

Family Orders and Agreements Enforcement Assistance

Description: This bank contains information on individuals who are in default of family support orders or agreements. It contains identifying information, as well as applications submitted by provincial authorities for tracing such persons, for the garnishment of federal payments owed to them, and for the denial or suspension of federally issued licences including passports. It also contains records of federal payments to such individuals that were diverted in compliance with a garnishee summons. The application form includes a request for the social insurance number (SIN) of the person being traced or garnished or whose licence is to be denied or suspended. Since the form is part of the regulations, this is a use authorized by statute and regulations. The Act and regulations also provide for the search of designated federal data banks for matching and compiling data. The designated banks are from the Department of Human Resources Development [Canada Pension Plan Record of Earnings; Canada Pension Plan Retirement and Survivors' Benefits (individuals); International Social Security-Domestic and Foreign Benefits-Computer Master Benefit Data; Record of Employment (Third Copy); Benefit and Overpayment Master File; Social Insurance Number Registration (HRDC/PPU/140, 146, 175, 385, 180 and 390)]; and from the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency [Taxation Taxpayer Master File; Information Returns (INFODEC) Data Bank (RC/PPU-040 and 150)].

Class of Individuals: Individuals who are in default of family support orders or agreements, or who are in violation of custody or access rights. Purpose: The information in this bank is maintained to carry out the Government of Canada's responsibilities under the Family Orders and Agreements Enforcement Assistance Act. The information is used to obtain addresses for use by authorized organizations, to comply with legal garnishee summonses served on the Crown and to deny or suspend federal licences. Retention and Disposal Standards: Information is retained at the Family Orders and Agreements Enforcement Assistance Unit Office for a period of 30 calendar years. Related to PR#: JUS PPR 030 TBS Registration: 001870 Bank Number: JUS PPU 125

Garnishment Registry

Description: This bank contains information on civil servants and contractors who are subject to garnishment of wages and other remuneration under the Garnishment, Attachment and Pension Diversion Act. It contains identifying information, financial information on the nature and amount of debts owed, the employment status of the civil servant or contractor, court orders, garnishment summonses and administrative documentation. Class of Individuals: Civil servants and contractors who are subject to garnishment of wages and other remuneration's under the Garnishment, Attachment and Pension Diversion Act. Purpose: To fulfill the Department of Justice's responsibility to administer the Garnishment, Attachment and Pension Diversion Act. Retention and Disposal Standards: The records are retained for 21 years. TBS Registration: 003914 Bank Number: JUS PPU 150

Grants and Contributions Fund

Description: This data bank contains information on projects submitted for financial assistance or funded under the terms and conditions of the Department of Justice Grants and Contributions Fund. The Department of Justice administers a discretionary fund designed to promote and implement selected reforms in the justice system. Funds are available to individuals, Canadian or international non-profit organizations, provincial or territorial governments, regional or municipal governments, universities, bands and tribal councils for the development of short-term, non-recurrent initiatives. The bank contains project specific information including name and address of funding applicant, project description, time frames, financial data, etc. Class of Individuals: Individuals and members of private and government organizations who have submitted requests for financial assistance. Purpose: The information is used to evaluate the merits of the proposals and to monitor the progress of funded projects. Retention and Disposal Standards: The records are retained for ten years after the project has been superseded, rejected or completed. TBS Registration: 003918 Bank Number: JUS PPU 165

Information Disclosed Pursuant to Paragraph 8(2)(m) of the Privacy Act

Description: This bank contains copies of personal information disclosed pursuant to paragraph 8(2)(m) of the Privacy Act, as well as internal memoranda and correspondence with the Privacy Commissioner. Class of Individuals: Individuals whose personal information have been disclosed because the public interest in disclosure clearly outweighed any invasion of privacy that could have resulted from the disclosure, or because the disclosure clearly benefited the individual to whom the information relates. Purpose: The bank is used to record disclosures of personal information under paragraph 8(2)(m) of the Privacy Act and to report on the number of these requests. Retention and Disposal Standards: Material is retained for two years after the last action on file. TBS Registration: 003910 Bank Number: JUS PPU 145

Information Disclosed to Investigative Bodies Pursuant to Paragraph 8(2)(e) of the Privacy Act

Description: This bank contains copies of requests for disclosure of personal information submitted under paragraph 8(2)(e) of the Privacy Act by investigative bodies listed in Schedule II of the Privacy Regulations. This bank also contains the replies to such requests and particulars related to their processing. Class of Individuals: Individuals about whom requests for personal information have been received from federal investigative bodies pursuant to paragraph 8(2)(e) of the Privacy Act. Purpose: The bank is used to record disclosures of personal information to federal law enforcement bodies under paragraph 8(2)(e) of the Privacy Act and to report on the number of these requests. Retention and Disposal Standards: Material is retained for two years after the last action on file. TBS Registration: 003909 Bank Number: JUS PPU 140

Information on Federally Appointed Judges

Description: This bank contains information on federally appointed judges, including lists of current federally appointed judges, of current and future vacancies, of women judges, of judicial appointments, elevations and transfers, and press releases issued to announce appointments and elevations of judges. Some records include material compiled from public sources concerning potential candidates for appointment to the Supreme Court of Canada. Class of Individuals: Federally appointed judges and potential candidates for appointment. Purpose: The information is compiled to provide statistical information for court profiles; to assess the adequacy of judicial resources and predict vacancies; to monitor the representation of women in the federal judiciary; and to provide advice to the Minister. Retention and Disposal Standards: The records are updated several times a year. TBS Registration: 003916 Bank Number: JUS PPU 160

Lawyers Appointed Agents of the Minister of Justice

Description: This bank contains information on lawyers appointed as agents of the Minister of Justice to assist client departments. The bank contains information on these lawyers. Class of Individuals: Lawyers appointed as agents for the Minister of Justice. Purpose: Records in this bank are used for internal accounting and to monitor status of cases. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained for 10 years. RDA Number: 88/002 TBS Registration: 001655 Bank Number: JUS PPU 025

Prosecution and Related Criminal Matters

Description: The information contained in this bank is used to provide legal advice and representation in criminal prosecutions and other criminal matters. The bank contains information on prosecutions for infractions of federal statutes within the jurisdiction of the Attorney General of Canada, extradition, rendition and mutual legal assistance cases. It includes briefs and written pleadings at both trial and appeal stages, subpoenas and other writs, transcripts of evidence and related memoranda of law, summaries, statements, affidavits, memoranda, legal opinions, reports and correspondence. The information is compiled from a number of sources both Canadian and foreign. Class of Individuals: Canadians, persons present in Canada, and persons who have been the subject of prosecution, extradition, rendition, mutual assistance, or mercy of the Crown proceedings. Purpose: The material in this bank is used to enforce or administer federal statutes (such as the Controlled Drugs and Substances Act, the Customs Act, the Excise Act) and for the implementation of Canada's obligations under the Extradition Act and the Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters Act. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained for 30 years, unless there is material of precedent value, in which case the file is kept for 35 years after a legal opinion is rendered and the file is closed. Files will be microfilmed and the copy kept permanently in the Department of Justice. RDA Number: 88/002 TBS Registration: 002705 Bank Number: JUS PPU 015

Prosecution of Young Offenders

Description: This bank contains information on prosecutions under the Criminal Code only in the Yukon and Northwest Territories, and for infractions of other federal statutes throughout Canada. It includes briefs and pleadings at both trial and appeal stages, subpoenas and other writs, transcripts of evidence and related memoranda of law, summaries, statements, memoranda and correspondence. The information is compiled from a number of sources, both Canadian and foreign. Class of Individuals: Canadians and persons present in Canada who have been the subject of prosecution for an offence alleged to have been committed by a person between the ages of 12 and 18 at the time of the offence and dealt with in Youth Court.

Purpose: The material in this bank is used for the purpose of enforcing federal statutes. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained for varying periods depending on the circumstances. See subsection 45(1), paragraphs (a) to (f) of the Young Offenders Act, RSC 1985, Chapter Y 1 for the criteria and limits. TBS Registration: 003004 Bank Number: JUS PPU 130

Security Investigations

Description: This bank contains investigative reports and correspondence with respect to security incidents, allegations and threats against employees of the Department of Justice. Class of Individuals: Current or former employees and members of the public. Purpose: The information is compiled to carry out necessary investigations and may be shared with other federal Departmental Security Officers and/or police departments. Consistent Uses: The information is used to inform the Deputy Minister of security incidents, allegations and threats against employees. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained for five years. TBS Registration: 003915 Bank Number: JUS PPU 155

Classes of Personal Information

Mailing List

This class of personal information contains the names and addresses of individuals who are on mailing lists to receive publications and other publicly available materials relating to departmental activities. The lists are used by all sectors of the Department and are updated on a continuing basis. The correspondence and request cards from individuals used for amending addresses and to add or delete individual names on mailing lists are retained until the mailing lists have been amended.

Management Effectiveness Survey (Upward Feedback)

This class of information contains employees' attitudes regarding management effectiveness with regards to work supervision, communications, training and development. The results of questionnaires serve as a catalyst to improve management practices within work units. Information from the questionnaires without respondent identifier is retrievable by location (client department) except for units having five employees or less, in which case the information is available by groups of three units without respondent identifier.

Subject Files and Routine Correspondence

Some departmental programs and activities result in the accumulation of personal information which is not contained in the personal information banks described above. This personal information is stored within subject files described as part of the Department's Information Holdings where records are not normally retrieved by the name of the individual or other personal identifier. This form of personal information consists of enquiries concerning particular justice matters, as well as requests for publications and reports. The information is normally retrievable only if specifics are provided concerning the subject matter. Retention of this form of personal information is controlled by the records schedules of the subject files in which the information is stored.

Environment Canada

Chapter 54

General Information

Background

The Department of the Environment was established by the Government Reorganization Act, 1970-71-72, ch. 42 on June 10, 1971. The Department, also known as Environment Canada, has as its primary duties renewable resources management and the protection of Canada's air, water and land resources. The departmental organization has three principal services: Environmental Protection which concentrates on response strategies and behavioural changes to prevent pollution of air, land and water ecosystems; Environmental Conservation which focuses on sustainable development of environmental resources; and Atmospheric Environment which focuses on integrated monitoring, atmospheric sciences, and services to Canadians.

The information holdings of the department are largely integrated and are often the product of more than one region or service. For example, Environmental Protection Service will benefit from science done in Environmental Conservation Service and Atmospheric Environment Service.

Responsibilities

The primary objective of the Department of the Environment is to preserve and enhance the quality of the environment for the benefit of present and future generations of Canadians. Departmental programs are designed to promote the establishment or adoption of objectives and standards relating either to environmental quality or pollution control, to ensure the wise management and use of renewable resources and to provide Canadians with environmental information in the public interest. As well, the department ensures that new federal projects, programs and activities are assessed early in the planning process for potentially adverse effects on the environment.

Organization

Human Resources and Service Innovation

The mandate of the Human Resources and Service Innovation is to lead the department in modernizing its human resources functions, to leverage the knowledge of its people more effectively, and to promote and develop innovative and transformative services internally and externally. This mandate is characterized by an integrated approach towards people, knowledge, outreach and service.

◆ Administrative Services and Environmental Management

Material and Contract Management; Real Property , Security, Records and Mail, Environmental Management System; Environmental Operations for Governments; Federal House in Order.

◆ Corporate Management and Review

Operational Planning and Program Integration, Corporate Accounting and Review, Audit and Evaluation.

◆ Corporate Secretariat

Ministerial Correspondence; Parliamentary Relations, Scheduling and Briefing; Access to Information and Privacy.

◆ Financial Services

Financial Planning and Resource Analysis; Financial Policy, Systems and Accounting; Service Financial Advisors.

◆ Human Resources

Classification and Staff Relations (Classification; Policies, Procedures and Guidelines); Human Resources Management and Development (Human Resource Planning, Staffing and Work Force Adjustment, Continuous Learning, Official Languages);

Human Resources Operations (NCR) (Service to all NCR Clients, Management of the Executive Group).

◆ Knowledge Integration

Canadian Information System on the Environment (CISE) Secretariat, Knowledge Coordination Office, National Indicators and Assessment Office, Ecological Monitoring and Assessment Office.

◆ Information Management and Information Technology

Information Management Practices, IT Business Strategies, Business Systems Support, IT Operations, and Library.

◆ Service Transformation

E-Government Secretariat (Government On-Line Project); Outreach and Partnership Programs.

Environmental Conservation Service

The goal of the Environmental Conservation Service (ECS) is to ensure that future generations of Canadians inherit a natural environment as rich as the one we enjoy today. Working with many partners - individual Canadians, other federal departments, environmental and community groups, Aboriginal peoples, industry, other levels of government, and international organizations. ECS focusses on three main things: wildlife conservation; science for decision-making; and ecosystem conservation. ECS consists of three directorates: Canadian Wildlife Service, Ecosystems and Environmental Resources Directorate and Ecosystems Science Directorate.

◆ Canadian Wildlife Service

The Canadian Wildlife Service manages domestic and international wildlife and biodiversity matters that are the responsibility of the federal government, such as management of migratory birds, endangered species, and conserving nationally significant habitat.

◆ Ecosystems and Environmental Resources Directorate

The Ecosystems and Environmental Resources Directorate provides strategic planning, information tools to support ecosystem and nature conservation, and provides leadership on nature conservation priorities including the Arctic and freshwater.

◆ Ecosystems Science Directorate

The Ecosystem Science Directorate promotes environmentally responsible decision-making by providing knowledge of ecosystem functions and processes, evaluating ecosystem health, developing guidelines, standards and indicators of environmental quality and communicating this information to Canadians. ESD also provides secretariat services to the departmental Science and Technology Management Committees.

Environmental Protection Service

The focus of the EPS mandate is on the assessment and management of risk associated with domestic and international sources of pollution. The range of activity is broad: assessment of substances and practices that pose a risk to the environment, development and implementation of environmental protection measures including pollution prevention, regulations, permits and technology advancement; and ensuring compliance with federal pollution and wildlife laws. These activities lead to improvements in environmental quality which helps to support the health of Canadians and their economic security. A large part of the EPS mandate involves carrying out environmental protection obligations under the Canadian Environmental Protection Act and the pollution prevention provisions of the Fisheries Act. EPS consists of five directorates: Air Pollution Prevention Directorate, Environmental Technology Advancement Directorate, National Programs Directorate, Strategic Priorities Directorate and Toxics Pollution Prevention Directorate.

♦ Air Pollution Prevention Directorate

The Air Pollution Prevention Directorate manages and coordinates pollution prevention activities for global air issues (climate change and ozone depletion), transboundary air issues (smog, acid rain, particulates, and hazardous air pollutants), pollution data (NPRI, greenhouse gases and conventional pollutants), transportation systems and related industries, and oil, gas and energy industries.

♦ Environmental Technology Advancement Directorate

The Environmental Technology Advancement Directorate helps protect the environment through Canadian science, technology and know-how.

♦ National Programs Directorate

The National Programs Directorate provides policy direction and coordination on Environment Canada's responsibilities for: environmental assessment; enforcement of pollution and wildlife regulations; promoting federal government compliance with environmental regulations; and emergency operations, prevention and preparedness.

♦ Strategic Priorities Directorate

The Strategic Priorities Directorate provides policy advice on matters of strategic interest to EPS including those related to interjurisdictional issues, and direction to the longer term planning and program integrity of EPS and the Clean Environment Business line.

♦ Toxics Pollution Prevention Directorate

The Toxics Pollution Prevention Directorate determines the issues and risks associated with toxics, takes action on persistent bioaccumulative toxics, and on other toxics and substances of concern.

Policy & Communications

Policy and Communications helps define, promote and support Ministerial and departmental priorities, policy directions and helps ensure that the department presents these priorities in a consistent, coherent and coordinated manner within the federal government as well as nationally and internationally. It does this through a combination of communications and consultations, by coordinating and guiding environmental policy within the department and across government, and by representing departmental interests at national and international levels. Policy and Communications also coordinates specific programs which support and encourage environmentally friendly actions, and which promote the department's and the private sector's environmental expertise in the global market. Policy and Communications consists of the six directorates: Climate Change Bureau, Communications Services Directorate, Economic and Regulatory Affairs Directorate, International Relations Directorate, Policy Research Directorate and Strategic Directions and Policy Coordination Directorate.

♦ Climate Change Bureau

The Climate Change Bureau (CCB) supports the federal Environment Minister in his role as policy lead on the climate change file. The Bureau leads and coordinates Canada's participation in international negotiations in co-operation with the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade (DFAIT) and others. As the Department's focal point on climate change, CCB leads and coordinates the development of climate change policy for Canada in co-operation with Natural Resources Canada (NRCan) and others. The Bureau serves as the Public Education and Outreach (PEO) program secretariat for the Climate Change Action Fund on behalf of the Government of Canada.

♦ Communications and Public Outreach Programs and Services Directorate

The Communications and Public Outreach Programs and Services Directorate plays a critical role in ensuring that Environment Canada connects with Canadians. It provides strategic communications advice and operational support to the Minister and senior management, and helps Canadians take an active role in the conservation and protection of our environment at the community level, through public outreach programs. Key communications responsibilities include strategic advice, media relations, electronic media monitoring, public opinion research, Ministerial speeches, events planning and the development of communications products and activities. In addition, the Directorate provides information to Canadians through the departmental Web site, called the Green Lane (www.ec.gc.ca), as well as the Public Inquiry Centre (1-800-668-6767). It also facilitates citizen engagement through public outreach programs such as EcoAction, Environment Week and the Youth Round Table on the Environment.

◆ Economic and Regulatory Affairs Directorate (ERA)

The Economic and Regulatory Affairs Directorate provides policy, economic analysis and regulatory advice and support for environmental issues, strategic policy development and implementation. ERA fosters policy innovation in the area of economy-environment integration (trade, budget, economic instruments); contributes to policy priorities (e.g., climate change, international agenda); promotes sound regulatory development (regulatory impact assessments, regulatory reform); develops and applies economic analytical tools in support of policy development (e.g., cost and benefit models, valuation).

The International Relations Directorate provides strategic coordination and policy advice to ensure coherence between domestic and international policy and programs and also among international activities of the department. It also supports Environment Canada's, and in some cases the government's, involvement with United Nations organizations (United Nations Environment Program, Commission on Sustainable Development); the environment and sustainable development work of the OECD, APEC, etc.; the North American Commission on Environmental Cooperation (CEC); the International Institute for Sustainable Development (IISD); and G-8. The Directorate also manages key bilateral relations with countries such as U.S., China, Russia, Mexico, Chile and the European Union.

◆ Policy Research Directorate

The Policy Research Directorate supports Environment Canada's investment in environmental knowledge management by guiding the development of an overall framework and by creating knowledge products that help integrate and explain Canadian policies with respect to the environment (e.g., priority-setting tools such as trend and survey analyses and indicators).

◆ Strategic Directions and Policy Coordination Directorate

The Strategic Directions and Policy Coordination

Directorate assists the Minister and the department in defining policy objectives and priorities and identifies opportunities to advance these interests within the federal government. It plays a strong role in federal, provincial and Aboriginal relations and in consultations with key stakeholders and organizations. It works to ensure coherence and consistency in departmental and federal policy, particularly in areas related to sustainable development.

Meteorological Service of Canada

The Meteorological Service of Canada (MSC) delivers, with the regions, the Atmospheric Environment Program (AEP). AEP's main activities include services related to monitoring and forecasting air quality, weather, climate and ice conditions, and to monitoring of water quantity and quality. AEP also carries out research in atmospheric sciences to improve our understanding of the atmosphere and to help Canadians understand how they affect the environment.

While the regions are responsible for observation and most service production and delivery, MSC is responsible for AEP's overall direction and standards, for specialized services like ice services, for support services – for example, super-computing, forecast guidance, and climatological and hydrological data archiving – and for most atmospheric research. MSC is also responsible for international affairs, including relations with the World Meteorological Organization, program plans, and performance measurement. It contributes, through its science and activities such as science assessment, to the development of the department's policies dealing with the atmospheric environment.

The Meteorological Service of Canada consists of five directorates that strive toward providing Canadians – as citizens, clients or decision-makers – with enough information to enable them to make wise decisions about their health, their safety and the environment.

◆ Atmospheric and Climate Science

Working closely with Canadian universities and international scientific organizations, this directorate researches the mechanisms that control atmospheric and climate processes. This information is used to forecast atmospheric changes and help Canadians adapt to them, and to prevent or mitigate atmospheric catastrophes.

The Air Quality Research Branch does research on important atmospheric constituents such as ozone and greenhouse gases, and on atmospheric pollutants, such as acid rain, smog and toxics, and particulate matter, including their transport, deposition and transformation.

The Climate Research Branch does research on three main areas: producing numerical models to see how climate variations or the production of greenhouse gases will affect our climate in the future; monitoring and analyzing climates, principally in Canada and the Arctic; and examining climate processes, such as land-surface atmospheric exchanges, which are crucial in our ability to understand and simulate its evolution.

The Meteorological Research Branch does research to help the weather and environmental services program improve the accuracy and timeliness of its analyses and forecasts. It focuses on data assimilation and remote sensing, numerical weather prediction and physical atmospheric processes. It does so in close collaboration with the Canadian Meteorological Centre.

The Adaptation and Impacts Research Group looks at the socio-economic impacts of climate change and atmospheric pollution and develops adaptation strategies for Canadians.

The Science Assessment and Integration Branch produces full science assessments and other science-based documents pertaining to the atmospheric sciences relevant to selected air issues such as stratospheric ozone depletion, acid rain, ground-level ozone and particulate matter, and climate change. As well, the Branch uses the implications of the science assessments to mediate the development of appropriate policies, guidelines and objectives with a wide range of stakeholders, including provincial, federal and national policy-makers, industry representatives and environmental organizations.

◆ Atmospheric Environment Prediction Directorate

This Directorate provides leadership for all prediction activities of the Atmospheric Environment Program and is responsible for numerical weather prediction, national informatics and telecommunications. It includes four branches: National Prediction Programs and three others that form the Canadian Meteorological Centre (CMC) — Informatics, Operations and Development. The National Prediction Programs Branch leads and coordinates prediction programs among regional and central components. It also develops common approaches and promotes collaboration in the areas of production and dissemination systems and programs.

The Canadian Meteorological Centre provides forecast guidance to national and regional prediction centres. The Centre is responsible for the national telecommunications and data management systems and for the national meteorological and environmental predictions. CMC also co-ordinates national and international support to environmental emergencies. The Centre gathers, archives, analyses and disseminates data related to climate, stratospheric ozone, ultraviolet radiation and air quality. The CMC plays a primary role in technology transfer to regions. Some of the clients for this specialized information include Transport Canada (Nav Canada), National Defense, other government departments and agencies, several airlines, the media and many private companies. It is made up of three branches:

The Informatics Branch provides centralized computing and telecommunications services to meet the Atmospheric Environment Programs' objectives, support other departmental operations, and assist other approved users. It operates and maintains the supercomputer facility in Dorval and various telecommunications networks.

The Operations Branch is responsible for the operation of the weather, climate and air quality programs at the Canadian Meteorological Centre, and for the national and international Environmental Emergency Response service.

The Development Branch ensures that research findings are transferred into the operations of the Canadian Environmental Forecasting Systems, develops systems and products for the Canadian Environmental Forecasting Systems, and advises senior managers on forecasting techniques and related infrastructure.

◆ Atmospheric Monitoring and Water Survey

This directorate provides national leadership to ensure that monitoring systems and related information services are provided to all Canadians. The directorate's goal is to ensure that nationally coherent, cohesive and cost-effective monitoring systems and related information services meet national and international standards and fulfill present and future user requirements.

The directorate is comprised of four branches and three divisions reporting to the Director General.

The National Weather and Climate Networks Branch provides functional leadership and coordination for the national weather and climate networks, strategic engineering and test and evaluation support.

The National Radar Project is responsible for the project management, coordination and implementation of the National Doppler Radar Plan (NRP). By the summer of 1999, seven Doppler Radars were in operation. By the year 2003, 30 Doppler Radars are planned to be in operation.

The Water Survey Branch provides functional leadership and coordination for water survey networks and hydrology programs.

The National Archives and Data Management Branch is responsible for the national archives, the provision of national climate services and related data management activities. This branch provides functional leadership, advice and coordination to ensure effective data management, life cycle management support systems and data access.

The Data Standards and Quality Management Division establishes performance standards and operating procedures, and manages related documentation. In addition, the division is responsible for monitoring network performance in real-time and for central coordination of problem response actions.

The National Weather and Climate Operations Division contributes to the sustainable operation of Canada's atmospheric monitoring networks by providing engineering and technical support and procurement services.

◆ Policy and Corporate Affairs

This directorate provides an ongoing assessment of the health of the Weather and Environmental Prediction program. This broad focus is reflected in the directorate's activities. International Affairs and relations with the planning and policy functions of Environment Canada are at its core. It also handles strategic capital planning and the overall stewardship of national standards and performance assessment reporting.

Through the planning process, this directorate helps to implement the changes resulting from the Alternative Service Delivery initiative and is also responsible for the Weather and Environmental Prediction Table and overall strategic planning with the regions.

The Business Planning and Development Branch provides planning support for the Weather and Environmental Predictions (WEP) program, including measuring program results to ensure they meet performance targets. The group also provides a program evaluation service for all national and regional components of WEP, and is the corporate secretariat for the Atmospheric Environment Service and WEP.

The Policy and International Affairs Branch ensures the WEP program is represented at international fora such as the World Meteorological Organization (WMO) and acts as a liaison for policy initiatives inside and outside Environment Canada that relate to WEP. The branch also handles ministerial correspondence and provides support for the ADM's corporate role.

The Strategic Capital Planning Branch oversees the administration and management of major capital investments related to WEP.

Special Projects' Senior Climatologist David Phillips studies climate in Canada and promotes awareness and understanding of weather and climate in our country. Mr. Phillips is well-known as a media spokesperson on weather and climate and for his WMO climate activities. He is the author of the popular Canadian Weather Trivia Calendar and The Climates of Canada as well as other books on meteorology.

The Climate Change Action Fund (CCAF) was established by the federal government to help Canada meet its commitments under the Kyoto Protocol to reduce greenhouse gas emissions. The CCAF is intended to support early actions to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and to increase understanding of the impact, the cost and the benefits of the Protocol's implementation and the various implementation options open to Canada. One component of the Fund addresses Science, Impacts and Adaptation and is co-managed by EC (MSC) and Natural Resources Canada. Climate processes research, climate modeling and monitoring, impact studies and adaptation research are all supported.

◆ Services, Clients and Partners

This directorate focuses on the needs of clients and partners and acts as a conduit for communications between clients, partners and the Atmospheric Environment Program (AEP). It also provides direct services to major clients through the Canadian Ice Service and the Interagency Service Branch.

The Meteorological Services Branch focuses on the relationship with public good clients and ensures their perspective is represented in policies.

The Interagency Services Branch manages the relationship with National Defence and NAV CANADA, and coordinates national delivery of services to them.

The Canadian Ice Service Branch delivers services to the Canadian Coast Guard concerning the movement of ice processes. It does so in close collaboration with the Canadian Meteorological Centre.

The Specialized Clients and Partners Branch maintains contact with all cost-recovery clients and helps to develop and implement a cost recovery framework.

The Revenue Management Branch advises on major contract renewals and sets up a cost accounting system.

The Performance Monitoring and Standards Branch systematically monitors performance to ensure MSC is meeting its targets for quality service.

Environmental Conservation Service

◆ Canadian Wildlife Service

Aboriginal People

Description: Information and correspondence on native harvest surveys comprehensive land claims and self-government issues. Topics: Hunting and fishing rights, treaties, acts and regulations, Council of Yukon Indians, Inuit, Naskapi, Western Arctic Inuit - COPE, Nunavut, Gwich'in and Sahtu Dene/Metis, Labrador Inuit, Innu Nation of Labrador, Makivik Offshore, Nisga'a Treaty (B.C.). Access: Files are arranged by name of individual. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 115

Biodiversity

Description: Information on biodiversity conservation and the sustainable use of biological resources. Topics: Wide range of biodiversity related issues including Agenda 21, agriculture, biotechnology, business and economy, ecosystems, education, extinction, fisheries, forestry, wildlife and endangered species, genetic resources, parks and protected areas, population and consumption, and sustainable development. Also, includes national and international biodiversity strategies. Access: Files are arranged by subject and listed by author or subject. Available at the Biodiversity Convention Office (BCO). Program Record Number: ENV ECS 125

Canadian Biodiversity Strategy

Description: Supporting documentation for Canadian Biodiversity Strategy and the Convention on Biological Diversity. Topics: Reports on ten expert focus groups convened to provide input into the CBS; a compilation of recommendations relevant to biodiversity already being undertaken by governments; an inventory of current government policies, programs and legislation relevant to biodiversity; and preparatory documentation for the drafting of the convention on Biological Diversity. Access: Available at the Biodiversity Convention Office. Storage Medium: Inventory information is available on computer database. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 130

Federal Policy on Wetland Conservation

Description: Information on the roles and responsibilities of federal agencies, commitments of federal government and strategies to promote wetland conservation nationally and internationally; the development and assessment of federal projects affecting wetlands; analysis and advice to provincial and territorial jurisdictions with regard to wetland policy development; implementation of national and international wetland programs with partner agencies; interaction with North American Waterfowl Management Plan; provision of advice to the public, Parliament and Minister on the Policy and other initiatives affecting wetland conservation; development of selection criteria for Ramsar sites; publications and public and scientific events on wetland and habitat conservation. Topics: Biodiversity conservation, Ministerial enquiries; Ramsar Convention on Wetlands of International Importance; policy advice to federal agencies. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 500

Habitat Conservation

Description: Information on habitat strategies, plans and data banks; research on habitat impacts from exotic species and land use changes; resource strategies and methodologies to monitor habitat changes/impacts; provision of land management services and advice to federal departments and agencies responsible for administering federal lands located in the provinces or specially dedicated lands located in the territories. National co-ordination of Ramsar Convention and delivery of Federal Policy on Wetland Conservation. Topics: Habitat planning and management; resource management data; federal land data; public awareness; policy research and coordination; Canada Committee on Ecological Areas. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 165

Migratory Bird Surveys

Description: Information on the biometry of migratory birds. Topics: Migratory game birds hunting permits; waterfowl harvest; breeding bird surveys; data processing. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 105

National Wildlife Areas and Migratory Bird Sanctuaries

Description: Public information and correspondence at all levels, concerning policies and regulations that govern land use activities on these designated nationally significant wildlife habitat areas. Activities also include development of selection criteria for both terrestrial and marine areas, consultation and development of management plans, progress reporting and scientific research and data collection. Topics: Agreements; policy; regulations; rentals; leases. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 135

North American Waterfowl Management Plan (NAWMP)

Description: Information on the development, coordination and planning of the North American Waterfowl Management Plan (NAWMP). Topics: Joint ventures; implementation agreements (multilateral, internal); NAWMP committees; long-term and annual work plans; funding arrangements; communications and general correspondence. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 170

Ornithology

Description: Information on all aspects of migratory birds and their conservation. Topics: Migratory Birds Convention Act and Regulations; waterfowl hunting; North American Waterfowl Management Plan; bird banding programs; reports, studies and surveys; sanctuaries; migratory bird sanctuaries regulations; damage to crops by birds; Canadian Landbird Conservation Strategy; songbirds, seabirds, shorebirds; permits; research on species; use of birds; waterfowl kill statistics; waterfowl populations; breeding ground survey; breeding bird survey; brood production survey; waterfowl status reports. Correspondence with provinces, United States Fish and Wildlife Service; Mexico; and states on migratory birds and their conservation. Access: Files are arranged by name and geographic locations. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 120

Toxicology Network

Description: Activities supporting the Toxicology Network, a network of scientists in Canadian universities conducting toxicology research in response to Canadians' concerns about toxic substances and risks posed to human health and the environment. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 100

Transboundary Wildlife

Description: Public information and correspondence on the proposal to explore for and develop potential oil and gas reserves in the sensitive coastal plain of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge in northeast Alaska. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 575

Wildlife Management

Description: Information on the federal participation and responsibilities in the management of wildlife. Topics: Endangered species conservation; endangered species legislative development; Committee on the Status of Wildlife in Canada; Recovery of Nationally Endangered Wildlife; Endangered Species Recovery Funds; transboundary wildlife; Porcupine Caribou Management Agreement; Convention on the International Trade in Endangered Species (CITES); Wild Animal and Plant Protection and Regulation of International and Interprovincial Trade Act (WAPPRIITA); Canada Wildlife Act; Conservation of Arctic Flora and Fauna; Humane Trapping; Federal-Provincial Agreements; Correspondence on wildlife conservation issues. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 150

Wildlife Toxicology

Description: Information and advice on the impacts of pesticides and pest control practices, environmental contaminants and other toxic substances on birds, other vertebrates wildlife (but not fish) and their habitats and foods (biodiversity). Topics: Predicting and evaluating wildlife effects of toxic substances for support of environmental conservation and protection policy and regulation development. Research to establish cause-effect relationships for toxic substances and wildlife, to identify toxic substances in the environment and their sources, to develop and apply assessment methodology including modelling and tests methods, and to select indicators of environmental quality and health of wildlife. Wildlife disease issues and federal contact point with the Canadian Cooperative Wildlife Health Centre. Biomonitoring of contaminant trends and effects in wildlife in Arctic, Great Lakes-St. Lawrence, Marine and other Canadian ecosystems. Laboratory services for measurement of selected contaminant residues, biomarkers and bioassays and quality assurance management. National Specimen Bank of more than 30,000 frozen specimens (mainly birds) dating from around 1970 and specimen preservation technology. National database of toxic chemicals residues in wildlife (primarily birds). Contaminants in waterfowl and wildfoods for human consumption. Access: By subject. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 145

◆ Ecosystems and Environmental Resources Directorate

Canada-United States and Interjurisdictional Waters

Description: Information on activities carried out under specific Canada-United States agreements or arrangements such as investigative, control, or surveillance board activities for the International Joint Commission (IJC) or in other bilateral Canada-United States situations; studies and implementation programs under formal federal-provincial arrangements under the Canada Water Act; and Canada-United States activities on shared river basins. Data collection and research carried out as a part of any of these formal arrangements are included as well as specific federal-provincial agreements required to carry out Canada's obligations in boundary waters (Canada-Ontario Agreement on the Great Lakes Ecosystem) and interprovincial arrangements (Prairie Provinces Water Board; Mackenzie River Basin Board; Ottawa River Regulation Planning Board). Information is also available on water use for selected years and geographic areas. Topics: IJC investigations relating to boundary water removals; progress on Federal Water Policy and freshwater issues; St. Lawrence-Great Lakes programs and studies; Red River Basin studies and agreements including issues in midwest U.S. (Devils Lake / Garrison Diversion Unit / Northwest Area Water Supply Project) impacting on the basin in Canada; apportionment in Prairie waters, and the regulation of flows and levels in the Lake of the Woods and Ottawa River basin; and other international and interprovincial waters. Access: Files are arranged by subject and project in electronic form; most reports and agreements are available in paper and / or electronic form. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 175

Ecological Applications Research

Description: Information on production of nationally consistent spatial data on the ecological characteristics and resource potentials of land, dissemination of scientific knowledge, methods and techniques used for surveying and classifying land, including wetlands, by ecological characteristics, for assessing resource potentials, impacts and hazards and for increasing knowledge of land and land/water process linkages of concern in environmental management; assessment of potential climate change of the vegetative and land base of Canada and consequent implications for resource management. Topics: General correspondence; public awareness; inter-regional projects; wetlands and acid rain sensitivity; climate change; Canada Committee on Ecological Areas.

Program Record Number: ENV ECS 160

Ecosystem Initiatives

Description: Ecosystem initiatives are partnership programs that have been put in place over the past ten years to address environmental, economic and social challenges in targeted geographic areas across Canada. They focus on issues involving air and water quality, resource use, human health and nature in an integrated manner responding to the unique problems of particular ecosystems and the unique needs of communities. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 210

Flood Damage Reduction

Description: The federal/provincial/territorial Flood Damage Reduction Program (FDRP) has finished. Most of the flood-prone municipalities have been mapped. National Water Issues Branch provides: policy and scientific and technical advice on flood mitigation related to federal jurisdiction in water management; a coordination mechanism with other federal departments, territorial and provincial governments on flood damage reduction policies; information to the public on policies, programs and locations where floodplain mapping is available; and, assistance for defining the requirements for environmental assessments of flood control measures. The Branch also maintains a website with flood related information, achievements of the FDRP, designated municipalities, how to obtain maps, contacts and links to provincial and other related sites. Topics: Floods, flood damage reduction, flood plain mapping, designations. Access: Files are arranged by subject, geographic location and annual reports; a FDRP website is available: www.ec.gc.ca/water/en/manage/flood/e_cont.htm. Program Record Number: ENVECS180

Sustainable Development

Description: Development and implementation of departmental sustainable development strategy; analysis of links between environment resources and economic development in policy and programs development; analysis of success stories of sustainable development as models for further development; leadership in advancing federal horizontal SD initiatives. Responsibilities include provision of scientific and technical advice to other departments, governments and organizations, domestically and internationally, with respect to sustainable development; support to inter-departmental SD committees, including the DM's SD Coordinating Committee, the ADM-level SD Task Force and the Interdepartmental Network on Sustainable Development Strategies; strategic advice to the Minister and DM on matters related to SD. Topics: Sustainable development; wetlands policy; environment/ economy integration; success stories of sustainable development; Canada's reports to the United Nations Commission on Sustainable Development; inter-departmental coordination; sustainable development strategies.

Program Record Number: ENV ECS 155

Water Pollution Programs

Description: Information on federal/provincial programs; pollution control in coastal areas; International Joint Commission programs; data management; Arctic water programs coordination; program evaluation; interservice and interagency program coordination; program planning and development. Topics: Program coordination and evaluation; coastal zone; data management and analysis. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 270

♦ Ecosystems Science Directorate

Atmospheric Transported Contaminants

Description: Research to investigate ecosystem-scale aquatic effects resulting from regional stressors such as the long-range transport of acidifying and persistent organic pollutants; information assessing aquatic ecosystem contaminants and their distribution, determining and modeling the factors controlling ecosystem responses (including pollutant fate and cycling), detecting and predicting trends, evaluating (with others) the environmental health of aquatic ecosystems, and providing technical advice to environmental managers. Topics: Great Lakes, Acid Rain Hazardous Air Pollutants and Arctic programs of Environment Canada and Northern Contaminants Program of Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development (DIAND). Program Record Number: ENV ECS 680

Ecosystem Health Objectives and Indicators

Description: Information on integration of social, environmental and economic factors in developing objectives and indicators to enhance, protect and sustain the health of Canadian ecosystems. Topics: Ecosystem approach; a framework for developing ecosystem health goals, objectives and indicators: tools for Ecosystem-Based Management. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 495

Effects of Toxic Substances

Description: Information on techniques to screen and assess priority substances and effluents for their potential to cause effects on aquatic biota, chemicals responsible for physiological and reproductive impacts, information to measure and predict exposure to a wide variety of contaminants in support of various national and regional ecosystem programs, e.g., CEPA, TSMP, EEM and Great Lakes 2000; assessments of priority substances and their impacts on the survival, growth and reproduction of biota. Future emphasis will shift toward the development of techniques to screen chemicals, effluents and environmental samples for physiological and reproductive impairment in aquatic biota, including fish and higher organisms. The development of methods to isolate and identify chemicals responsible for biological impacts in the environment will lead to the remediation of contaminated products, effluents and sites. More accurate prediction of exposure and effects of contaminants will greatly enhance our ability to assess their environmental hazard. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 675

Environmental Effects Monitoring

Description: Information on potential adverse effects in aquatic environments from point source discharges. The information/scientific data generated is used to assess the adequacy of regulations and other pollution control approaches (e.g. for the Canadian pulp and paper industry), to aid in the development and assessment of environmental protection policies (e.g. for metal mining industry) and to provide benchmarks for Canadian industry in demonstrating their environmental stewardship. Topics: Environmental effects of industrial discharges (pulp and paper, mining, etc.); National EEM Database; Science-based decision-making; Expert working groups; Technical guidance document development; National coordination. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 640

Environmental Quality Guidelines

Description: Information on national science-based guidelines/standards for soil quality, water quality, sediment quality and tissue quality to protect and sustain terrestrial and aquatic ecosystems and their beneficial uses; scientific assessments of toxic substances; national protocols. Topics: Environmental effects of toxic substances; National environmental quality guidelines and protocol publications including Canadian Water Quality Guidelines for the protection of raw drinking water quality, recreational water quality, aquatic life, livestock water, and irrigation water; Sediment Quality Guidelines for the protection of aquatic life and wildlife; Tissue Quality Guidelines for the protection of aquatic life and wildlife; and soil quality guidelines for agricultural, residential/parkland, commercial and industrial land uses; guidance for setting site-specific environmental quality objectives;

ecological risk assessment guidance. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 490

Groundwater Assessment and Remediation

Description: Research to assess and to develop techniques to remediate contaminated groundwater resources in Canada; information on the process of contaminant transport and transformation in a variety of groundwater environments; information on new techniques for isolating or remediating existing groundwater contamination; research on the role played by groundwater in regional water budgets and wetlands to support regional activities within Environment Canada such as the Great Lakes 2000 program, the Atlantic Coastal Action Program and the Canadian Environmental Protection Act (CEPA); research in the areas of groundwater/wetlands interactions and the contaminant hydrogeology of fractured media. New research will emphasize remediation of both nonaqueous and aqueous phase contamination in complex groundwater environments and the characterization of groundwater resources in relation to climate change. Emphasis will be placed on the development of user-friendly software packages for hydrogeological applications. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 685

Hydrological and Ecological Impacts of Atmospheric Change on Aquatic Ecosystems

Description: Research to develop a predictive understanding of how climate change influences the hydrologic and chemical cycles at regional and local scales, and, subsequently, how it affects the structure and function of aquatic ecosystems, particularly in northern environments; and to develop improved indicators, models and integrated assessment techniques for more accurate prediction of climate change impacts on the hydrology and ecology of aquatic ecosystems. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 660

Impact of Increased UV-B Radiation on Aquatic Ecosystems

Description: Information to assess and predict the impacts of atmospheric ozone depletion (enhanced ground level ultraviolet radiation fluxes) on aquatic ecosystems; the impacts of UV-B on algal photosynthesis, bacterial growth, dissolved organic matter and forest stream ecosystems. Particular emphasis is directed at wetlands and prairie lakes. Research into UV-B effects on the impact on wetlands; information on the national Atmospheric Change - Ozone Depletion/UV-B initiative; research to determine the relationships among the biogeochemical changes occurring within aquatic ecosystems, particularly wetlands; UV-B-related research with other government and university scientists. Increased focus will be directed towards wetlands, carbon cycle dynamics, and the quantification of direct-dose response of aquatic organisms to manipulated radiation fields. Program

Record Number: ENV ECS 665

Indicators, Monitoring and Assessment

Description: Information on environmental indicators and for indicators of sustainable development, on standardizing the indicator data management procedures, and on streamlining and institutionalizing the indicator reporting process; coordinates the Ecological Monitoring and Assessment Network (EMAN) and provides protocols for ecological monitoring; maintains the national ecological framework and promote enhancements and applications; provides and maintains the electronic SOE infobase infrastructure; and provides guidance and expert advice on the SOE content of assessments. Storage Medium: Reports, maps, diskettes, electronic data base, Internet.

Program Record Number: ENV ECS 700

Lake Assessment and Remediation

Description: Research to assess and remediate highly degraded aquatic ecosystems including large lakes, such as the Great Lakes, to smaller water bodies, including riverine lakes and reservoirs, to wetlands. The main focus is on the Areas of Concern (AOCs) in the Great Lakes and the development and implementation of Remedial Action Plans (RAPs) and on the development of Lakewide Management Plans (LAMPs) for the most degraded Great Lakes (Erie and Ontario), under the Great Lakes Action Plan. Research to provide knowledge and advice to the Great Lakes 2000 program on Lakewide Management Plans, and Remedial Action Plans. Increasing effort will be directed to efforts such as the PSL-2 (CEPA) national study on nutrients in the environment. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 690

Land Use Impacts: Forestry, Agriculture, Mining, Energy and Waste Management

Description: Research on land-use stressors such as forestry, agriculture, mining, energy development, waste management and urbanization, addressing the complex interactions between hydrological processes and ecological responses. Information to identify the impacts of such stresses on the health and sustainability of Canada's ecosystems and to foster sustainable development of Canadian resources through development of science-based best practices. The work supports Environment Canada mandates: e.g., the Canadian Environmental Protection Act (CEPA), Priority Substance List (PSL) regulations, and the Biodiversity Convention. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 655

Science Policy

Description: Information on Environment Canada's contribution to federal science policy; science policy expertise and support. Topics: ADM Committee for the Management of S&T, ADM Committee on Northern

S&T, ADM Committee on the Four Natural Resource Departments MOU on S&T for Sustainable Development, and the ADM Steering Committee on the Management of Federal S&T Human Resources. The other chief focus of the Division's work is Environment Canada's S&T Management System, S&T Executive Committee, the S&T Management Committee, and the Deputy Minister's R&D Advisory Board, the Science Forum, the panel on Energy Research and Development. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 645

Sediment Assessment and Remediation

Description: Research to assess sediment quality and toxicity, leading to remediation of contaminated sediments. Multidisciplinary studies are carried out on the effects of sediment associated nutrients, organic chemicals and metals in aquatic ecosystems. New techniques are developed and tested to treat in-situ contaminated sediments, involving bench and pilot scale operations. Knowledge generated from the research is used to support programs such as Great Lakes Action Plan, Fraser River Management Plan, CEPA and Environment Canada regional activities. Research relevant to the assessment of contaminated sediment quality and remediation. Development of techniques for safe disposal of metal rich wastes. Studies of mercury methylation under different environmental conditions. Negotiations for full-scale treatment of contaminated sites for oil, PAHs or odour will continue while other treatments, such as metal fixation and sediment stabilization, are being studied.

Program Record Number: ENV ECS 695

Sources and Fate of Toxic Substances

Description: Research on fundamental mechanisms governing the persistence and fate of toxic chemicals in aquatic environments to assess the hazards posed by toxic chemicals released to the aquatic environment; scientific information to support decision making for the Toxic Substances Management Policy (TSMP), the Canadian Environmental Protection Act (CEPA), the Pest Control Products Act (PCPA), the regional ecosystems programs, and ecosystem indicators; research on the occurrence, pathways and fate of present and future priority toxic substances in aquatic ecosystems; information on biological effects, especially the determination of chronic exposure to toxic chemicals (e.g., genotoxicity, reproductive toxicity, immunotoxicity, neurotoxicity, thyroid toxicity, etc.); priority substance assessment programs; advice to Environment Canada management; methods of destruction of toxic chemicals by physical, chemical, photochemical and biological means. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 670

Technology Development - Wastewater

Description: Information on development and demonstration of waste water pollution control technology; technology development assistance programs; technical training; technology transfer; program planning and evaluation. Topics: Program planning and evaluation; technology assistance program; waste water technology. Access: Files are arranged by company. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 265

Urbanization

Description: Information on large-scale aquatic ecosystems impacted by stresses from non-point sources of pollution from agriculture, industry and urban developments; the development of water management plans for large regional ecosystems, such as those studied under the Fraser River Action Plan (FRAP) and the Great Lakes 2000 Plan; research on non-point source contaminant pathways and controls in large ecosystems, sustainable sectors and technology transfer to the Canadian environmental industry. Research. Topics: transport of pesticides and nutrients in soil, vegetation and water; fine sediment trapping by vegetated channels and flood plains; flows over porous boundaries; initiation of sediment transport in steep channels; floc and contaminant-binding mechanisms; roles of flocculation mechanisms and biofilms in sediment/contaminant transport; advanced Best Management Practices for controlling stormwater impacts on receiving waters; and development of designer flocs for environmental industry applications. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 650

Water Resources Modeling and Analysis

Description: Development, maintenance, updating and application of water management computer models. Models include one-dimensional hydrodynamic river simulation with optional water quality routine, a generalized model using a network flow optimization algorithm and a heuristic database for both planning and water use and users conflict resolution, applying operational modeling of flow regulation and multiple-use, multi-reservoir/channel network, a water resources planning model which integrates water supply and demand considerations into a basin water balance and overall management framework, and a transient (dynamic) simulation model in which major ice phenomena and processes are considered (currently under development). Responsibilities also include provision of models, technical assistance and advice for water quantity, water quality, water demands, flow regulation and optimization to federal, provincial, private consultants and other agencies/organizations, as well as providing specialized expertise to Canadian aid agencies and other international organizations. Topics: river hydraulics, one dimensional hydrodynamic modeling of river (and estuaries) flows, water quantity and quality, methodologies for simulating ice and groundwater impacts on water quality, water use forecasting on river basin basis, basin water balance, optimization of flow regulation and multiple-use, multi-reservoir/channel networks, flow regulation and water use planning, basin-wide operational flow regulation, water conservation. Storage Media: CD's, disks, computer files, printed and electronic manuals and reports. Program Record Number: ENV ECS 205

♦ Environmental Protection Service Air Pollution Prevention Directorate

Acid Rain

Description: Implementation of the Canada Wide Acid Rain Strategy for Post-2000; development of federal/provincial agreements to implement the Strategy; and development of and support to international agreements. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 235

Hazardous Air Pollutants

Description: Negotiation of international agreements on persistent organic pollutants and heavy metals, development of federal/provincial/territorial strategies and plans for implementing Canada's commitments under international agreements, reporting on progress in meeting international commitments. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 280

National Pollutant Release Inventory (NPRI)

Description: For 1999, collecting, analyzing and reporting on-site releases, offsite transfers in waste, and off-site transfers for recovery, re-use and recycling, and energy recovery of 245 pollutants from more than 2100 individual facilities on an annual basis; and estimating releases for other sectors such as fuel distribution and mobile sources. Topics: National Pollutant Release Inventory Database; National Pollution Release Inventory Summary Report. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 565

Oil, Gas and Energy

Description: Development, promotion and implementation of programs, standards and regulations for the control of releases from the oil, gas and energy sectors and from the use of the products produced by the sectors. Examples of standards of guidelines developed include emission standards for boilers, stationary combustion turbine, storage tanks and gasoline distribution systems. Recent regulations include regulations on benzene and on sulphur in gasoline. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 420

Stratospheric Ozone

Description: Implementation of Canada's commitments under international programs, negotiation of international agreements, and achievement of domestic phase-out targets; EC's contribution to the Montreal Protocol and the Multilateral Fund. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 570

Transportation Systems

Description: Dealing with the assessment of the environmental impact of transportation systems in Canada and internationally and developing policies, programs and regulations aimed at mitigating the impact. Working with other government departments, vehicle and fuels industries, provincial and municipal governments and the environmental community. Addressing a broad array of issues such as tougher vehicle emissions standards, alternative fuels, inspection and maintenance programs, urban transit and public education. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 510

Urban Smog

Description: Development and implementation of action plans and negotiation of federal/provincial and international agreements; completion of the 1990 Phase 1 NOx/VOC Management Plan and implementation of Phase 2 Federal Smog Plan initiatives; emission guidelines, and fuel standards related to creation of smog precursors. Publication of the Government of Canada's Interim Plan 2001 on Particulate Matter and Ozone Implementation of the Canada-Wide Standards for PM and Ground-Level Ozone. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 260

♦ Environmental Technology Advancement Directorate

Building Technologies and Environmental Systems

Description: All activities which contribute directly to the daily operation, recapitalization or modernization of service owned special purpose facilities. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 630

Environmental Monitoring

Description: All activities which support the quantification and geographical location of releases of pollutants into all media in the environment including programs such as the National Air Pollution Surveillance (NAPS) Network, Greenhouse Gases from Municipal Landfills, Light and Heavy Duty Engine Emission Testing, and Construction Equipment Retrofit and Emissions Testing. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 525

Environmental Research, Technology and Support

Description: All activities which support the development of methods, regulations, guidelines and standards to measure, prevent, control and manage toxics in air, water and soil including stationary and mobile source emissions, contaminated sites, oil and chemical spills, hazardous wastes, and wastewater. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 620

Environmental Science and Technology Centres of Expertise

Description: All activities at the Environmental Technology Centre and Wastewater Technology Centre which support the service and department in specialized technical and research and development such as technologies for the measurement of air pollutants in ambient air and from mobile and stationary sources; the analysis of organic and inorganic components in diverse sample matrices; the assessment, management and remediation of leaking hazardous waste and other contaminated sites; the prevention and response to pollution emergencies such as oil and chemical spills; and the assessment, evaluation and optimization of wastewater treatment plants. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 625

Program on Energy Research and Development

Description: Research activities: efficient energy use, in the areas of combustion efficiency, heat management and cross-sectoral energy efficiency technologies applicable to a broad range of industries, processes and energy sources; energy and climate change: understanding the role of greenhouse gases (GHG) in climate change, especially CO₂ in the sea, air and biota in, and surrounding, Canada; and, technologies for GHG capture and disposal; hydrocarbons and the environment: research addresses remediation and prevention technologies in atmospheric, marine and terrestrial environments; sustainable/renewable energy sources including bioenergy, small and large hydro, solar energy, wind and hydrogen from renewable resources; and sustainable transportation, including reducing energy demand, improving efficiency, and preparing for long-term sustainable transportation through advanced power systems and an eventual hydrogen-electricity energy economy. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 635

Technology Transfer and Capacity Building

Description: All activities which support the transfer of technology and build of capacity in the community, government and industry domestically and globally including programs such as Good Laboratory Practices, Multilateral Fund of the Montreal Protocol, Green Corps, Environmental Technology Verification, Climate Change Technology, Environmental Technology Trade Missions, Memoranda of Understanding on Environmental Cooperation, International Environmental Youth Corps, Technology Partnerships Canada, Environmental Technology Loan Program, Consultant Trust Fund for the Global Environmental Facility, and Publications. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 615

♦ National Programs Directorate

Emergencies Operations

Description: Operate a 24 hour, 7 day a week national environmental emergencies hotline for Environment Canada. Coordinate the provision of support and technical advice on the environmental aspects of emergencies. Provide statistical information on spills obtained from historical spill report data. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 590

Emergencies Preparedness

Description: Activities such as inter-agency arrangements and contingency plans which contribute directly to increasing the capacity of responders and advisors to prepare for and mitigate the effects of environmental emergencies. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 595

Emergencies Prevention

Description: Activities to prevent and reduce the frequency, severity and consequences of sudden or unplanned releases of hazardous substances (risk management). These activities are generic and not associated with a specific incident. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 285

Environmental Assessment

Description: Development of policy and legally sound guidance; provision of expert advice to other government departments, clients and partners; verification and reporting on EC's compliance with CEAA; and implementation of EC's CEAA responsibilities and Cabinet Directive on policies and programs. Topics: Information on provisions of legislation, policies, procedures and methodologies pertaining to EC's Environmental Assessment Program. Information on compliance with the 1990 (Revised 1999) Federal Cabinet Directive on Environmental Assessment of Policies and Programs. Topics include: Environmental Assessment studies of major development projects in Canada; regulations; guidelines; electronic data inventory; policies; links to international conventions. Also, Environment Assessment Infobase (EA Info); National Environmental Assessments System (NEAS); EC Referral Tracking System (RTS). Program Record Number: ENV EPS 600

EP Enforcement (Regulatory Guidelines)

Description: Activities which contribute directly to the enforcement of environmental protection and wildlife legislation, including the development of enforcement policy guidelines and protocols, training programs and information management systems, as well as their implementation. Topics: Information on enforcement of departmental legislation and regulations, CEPA, pollution prevention provisions of the Fisheries Act, Migratory Birds Convention Act, 1994; Canada Wildlife Act, Wild Animal and Plant Protection and Regulation of International and Interprovincial Trade Act; the National Environmental Management Information System and Intelligence System (NEMISIS); Successful Historical Prosecutions since 1988; On-going Prosecutions; Compliance and Enforcement Report, National Inspection Plan and Compliance Promotion Plan. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 110

◆ Strategic Priorities Directorate

CEPA Review Office

Description: Supporting the Canadian Environmental Protection Act review conducted by the Parliamentary Standing Committee on Environment and Sustainable Development Program. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 555

◆ Toxics Pollution Prevention Directorate

Hazardous Wastes

Description: Transboundary issues (Basel, OECD Council Acts, Can/US Bilateral Agreement); Environmentally Sound Management and liability regimes; hazardous waste computerized tracking system; hazardous waste imports and exports permitting; development and implementation of regulations (e.g. hazardous waste and PCB). Topics: Canadian Notice and Manifest Tracking System (CNMTS). Program Record Number: ENV EPS 230

Land Based Sources of Pollution

Description: Implementation of international marine obligations and commitments; participation in coastal zone management; pollution prevention activities related to: sewage, POPs, radionuclides, heavy metals, oil, nutrients, contaminated sediments, litter, habitat destruction under the National Program of Action for Protection of the Marine Environment from Land-Based Activities. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 250

New Substances Notification, Assessment and Control

Description: Administering the New Substances Notification Regulations, processes, and data systems; providing advice to industry; in conjunction with Health Canada, determining whether new chemical, polymer or biotechnology substances may pose a risk to the environment, or to human health; controlling substances where there is a suspicion of toxicity; harmonizing programs, assessment procedures and approaches to control other countries. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 300

Non-Hazardous Waste Management

Description: Development of policies and programs relating to product policy; life-cycle management; extended producer responsibility; and waste treatment/disposal. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 610

Ocean Disposal

Description: Development of policies, guidelines and protocols; support of international commitments under the London Convention 72 and 1996 Protocol; review and issuing of ocean disposal permits under CEPA; and disposal of dredge spoils. Topics: National Ocean Disposal Database Network (NODNET). Program Record Number: ENV EPS 215

Pollution Prevention

Description: Pollution prevention planning under CEPA; Canadian Pollution Prevention Information Clearinghouse; participation in international fora (OECD/UNEP); and the development of training materials on pollution prevention. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 605

Risk Management

Description: Development of control options; and development of guidelines/codes of practice/standards/economic instruments/regulations to prevent releases into the environment. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 245

Scientific Assessment of Substances

Description: Priority Substances Assessments; categorization of the Domestic Substances List; screening level and other assessments; high production chemical assessments; Toxic Substances Management Policy; national and international harmonization of assessments. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 290

Water Quality Protection (Shellfish)

Description: Monitoring shellfish growing waters for bacterial contamination and classification of areas based on water quality survey and pollution source identification. Program Record Number: ENV EPS 255

Meteorological Service of Canada

MSC HQ - Projects

Description: Information on satellite activity reports; data collection platforms; SDL Staffing; SDL GOES; Meso-met Network; Wind Energy Field Studies investigations. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 370

Communications - Computing Services

Description: Information on communications and communications-programming. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 470

Marine Meteorology

Description: Information on TOVS. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 355

Meso-Meteorology

Description: Information on the Meso-met Network. Topics: Operation; data. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 360

Oil and Gas Exploration and Development

Description: Information on oil spill trajectories, freezing spray, ice and sea state models. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 415

◆ Atmospheric and Climate Science

MSC Headquarters - Projects Research

Description: Information on computerized and man-machine mix system; module component development and design; research data set development; also implementation and joint projects with forecast operations. Topics: Systems design for automated weather forecasting procedures; creation of research data sets for weather forecasting research. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 400

Meteorological Research

Description: Major areas of activity include numerical modelling of the atmosphere for the purpose of developing new weather forecast techniques and improving existing ones (from short to extended range); data assimilation and satellite meteorology with a focus on the development of techniques for both quantitative application of operational satellite data to weather forecasting and making use of new satellite data; and atmospheric processes research studies of the interactions of airborne pollutants with clouds and precipitation, and the utilization of Doppler radar to recognize severe weather and its precursors. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 460

Research - Air Quality

Description: Information on air quality, pollutant transport, dispersion, chemical transformations, and deposition, monitoring and the development of measurement techniques, modelling, and field and laboratory experimental studies. Topics: Acid rain, toxic chemicals, photochemical smog, stratospheric ozone, and greenhouse gases. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 315

Research - Climate

Description: Information on climate, circulation modelling (numerical modelling of the general circulation of the atmosphere, ocean, land surface, and cryosphere) with special interest on modelling ocean circulation, the middle atmosphere, and regional-scale systems; climate processes research conducted into the study of the energy and water cycle, surface processes, precipitation-runoff relationships, and climate-cryosphere interactions; and climate variability and change, and extreme and anomalous events. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 455

Research - Environmental Adaptation

Description: Information on research to improve understanding of socio-economic and ecosystem impacts of atmospheric change and to generate knowledge that will help to improve decision-making and facilitate adaptive response; integrated climate impact assessment at regional (Mackenzie Basin, Great Lakes) and national (Canada Country Study) scales is an important focus. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 325

Research Management and Policy

Description: Information on meteorological, environmental adaptation and other related environmental and technological research and development; research and related support activities of a general management nature - decisions and large-scale agreements; special problems of the Arctic; training for research and grants for research outside the federal government which support the objectives and policies for climate and atmospheric research in Canada; mechanisms for better transfer of technology to and from government research laboratories; contracting-out of federal research and development; relationship with the Canadian Space Program. Topics: Agreements; treaties; studies; committees; plans and programs; fellowships; training and development; grants; unsolicited proposals; contracting; technology transfer. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 310

♦ Atmospheric Environment Prediction Directorate

Communications - Facsimile

Description: Information on Satellite Data Laboratory Operations. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 330

Data Acquisition

Description: Information on land surface networks; upper air and aerological networks; Voluntary Observing Ship Program; remote sensing; environmental network.

Topics: Station classification; site information; meteorological and aerological instruments; codes; data standards; data reduction; quality assurance; equipment supply; development and testing; lists of ships participating; satellite ground stations; APT, weather radar; signal processing; data transmissions; maintenance; plans and policies. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 440

Data Acquisition Networks

Description: Information on atmospheric environment operations, overall policy, operational performance, procedures and standards. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 480

Forecast Procedures

Description: Information on meteorological models, procedures and techniques in support of forecast production. Topics: Maps, charts and forms; satellite operations; plans and programs. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 430

Hemispheric Observations

Description: Observed data, hemispheric surface synoptic reports. Storage Medium: Coded forms. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 450

Meteorology Aviation

Description: Information on the Rockcliffe STOL Project. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 350

Telecommunications

Description: Operational, alpha-numeric and facsimile information distributed by dedicated or dial-up communication lines. Topics: Facsimile contracts; installations; procedures; traffic; teletype contracts - installations, procedures, traffic; computer aspects. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 425

Weather Forecast

Description: Digital information about global observational data sets (1992-present), digital gridpoint information about global analyses (1983-present) and forecasts (selected fields for last 5 years), and about regional analyses and forecasts (selected fields for last 5 years), of heights, temperature and moisture on mandatory pressure levels (currently 16 levels from 1000-10 hPa) as well as several surface based fields. The information is kept online in real time and then a subset is stored on digital tape. There are digital archives of weather maps and bulletins issued as well as historical records of verification statistics. There are microfilms of weather maps (1957-March, 1994) of hemispheric analyses of the surface, 850, 700, and 500 hPa levels. Storage Medium: Microfilm, digital tapes. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 445

♦ Atmospheric Monitoring and Water Survey

Canadian National Climate Archive

Description: The National Climatological Archive (NCA) contains data sufficient to define the general climate of Canada. Data are retained in three forms - paper, microform and digital. This archive contains the majority of the long-term atmospheric data collected in Canada. The Digital portion of the archive contains data from about 6000 stations from all provinces and territories of Canada. About half are currently active stations. Data covers the period from 1840 to present. Topics: Climatological data; data elements include temperature and precipitation, plus a number of other meteorological parameters such as winds, humidity, solar radiation, snow depth and soil temperature. Elements include monthly means daily climate parameters, and hourly elements. The archive also contains upper air information, ozone measurements, and air quality data. Access: On-line interactive access to National Climate database; also computer print-outs, copies of original paper documents, microfiche, digital diskette and CD-ROM through DOE regional climate services offices and DOE MSC Headquarters - Climate Information Branch. Storage Medium: Computer database, microfiche, paper documents. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 550

Instruments

Description: Information on Aeromet Facility Instrumentation. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 345

Instruments and Instrument Systems

Description: Information on instruments; general, humidity, evaporation, precipitation, marine, physical phenomena, pressure, radiation, atmospheric sounding wind. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 485

Radar

Description: Information on the MOT Radar and Satellite System. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 375

Satellites

Description: Information on satellite programs.

Topics: Cost recovery; staffing the SKL; ICS Submission; MSC Satellite Programs; SDL Operations; NOSS; SURSAT. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 380

Water Quality Management Data

Description: Information and interpretive reports on the quality of surface and ground waters based on analysis of samples; information on field surveys and analytical methods, and on quality control; water quality guidelines for protection of uses, and water quality objectives for specific surface waters. It does not include water quality objective work done under specific international or federal-provincial basin studies, nor research related to water quality management. Topics: Water pollution, water quality surveys, analytical methods, quality of surface waters, rain water and snow water quality, water quality guidelines, water quality monitoring programs. Access: Files are arranged by subject, geographic location and title in the national and regional ENVIRODAT databases. Storage Medium: On-line in the national and regional ENVIRODAT database. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 185

Water Quantity Management Data

Description: Information on data collection, hydrometric and water levels, and sediment, as well as the management and operation of data systems and interpretive reports. These data include data collection under specific international or federal-provincial water management or planning studies and data collection carried out as an integral part of other studies. Topics: Gauging stations, international gauging stations, gauging stations inventory, hydrometric investigations, hydrologic interpretive and analytical reports, sediment links to water quality, sediment surveys, remote sensing, watershed research, tidal gauge records, tidal surveys. Access: Files are arranged by subject, geographic location, river and site location with interactive online access to the national databases HYDAT AND HYDEX.

Storage Medium: Computer print-outs, microfiche, CD-ROM, online database. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 200

♦ Services, Clients and Partners

Contracts - Satellites

Description: Information on contracts for satellite systems; also contracts for satellite research and development - TOVS, RAINSAT, ICE STATUS. Access: Files are arranged by subject and company. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 335

Ice

Description: Information on regional ice models. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 410

Ice Information, Consultation and Advice

Description: Information on ice forecasting and services, ice research, climatology and Observing Program (reconnaissance). Program Record Number: ENV MSC 465

Ice Observing Programs - Reconnaissance

Description: Information on verification of satellite data. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 340

Meteorology Training

Description: Information on professional training, development, technical training in meteorology. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 475

Weather Service

Description: Information on RAINSAT. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 385

Weather Service - Air Transportation

Description: Information on MOT Radar and Satellite System. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 390

Weather Services

Description: Information on policies, standards, procedures and guidance concerning the provision of weather services. Topics: General weather services; public weather services; air, marine and road transportation; agriculture; forestry; climatology; preflight weather information service; radio and television broadcasting; scientific support units; weather service outlets. Program Record Number: ENV MSC 435

Ontario Region

National Nuclear Program

Description: Ensuring a comprehensive national nuclear approach; directing the examination of environmental impacts of specific nuclear activities, policies and technologies; and reviewing plans, proposals, applications and reports on nuclear industry to ensure consistency with policies of EC. This particular program is run from the Ontario Region as part of their work on environmental contaminants and sediments. Program Record Number: ENV ONT 295

Human Resources and Service Integration

Knowledge Integration

Description: Manages, integrates and disseminates scientific and environmental information and knowledge. Promotes the use of standards and protocols for the management of information and development of infrastructure. Makes information and knowledge accessible, visual and comprehensible. Collaborates with decision-makers to develop and deliver electronic tools to Canadians to enhance their knowledge and understanding of environmental issues. Establishes partnership, ensures sharing of expertise and avoid duplication through liaison with other departments. Program Record Number: ENV HRSI 405

Program Evaluation

Description: Evaluation frameworks, assessments and studies of departmental components, and related data. Topics: Departmental components that have been subject to one or more of these evaluation activities. Access: Reports are classified by evaluation component. Storage Medium: Hardcopy. (In many cases, only single copies exist.) Program Record Number: ENV HRSI 520

Policy & Communications

♦ Communications Directorate

Communications

Description: Information on communications in general and on strategic communications advice, products and support services on key policy (including international affairs and federal-provincial relations) and corporate issues (including corporate planning and internal communications). Program Record Number: ENV PAC 530

Consultations

Description: Information on the public consultation policies, practices and activities of the department. Access: Environmental Consultations Calendar and other reports. Program Record Number: ENV PAC 545

♦ Economic and Regulatory Affairs Directorate (ERA)

Economic Issues Branch (EIB)

Description: Information on economic aspects of departmental policies and programs as well as on integration of environmental considerations into economic decision-making (e.g. making trade and environment policies mutually compatible); associated information on reports, events, announcements; and related information on expert groups within organizations such as the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD). Topics: Sustainable development; economic instruments; trade and environment; environment and competitiveness; economics of climate change; OECD reports available for public distribution. Program Record Number: ENV PAC 190

Environmental Economics Branch (EEB)

Description: Conducts environmental economic research, and policy analysis to support Canadian government policy. This branch has developed expertise and has documentation in the area of economic instruments for environmental policy. EEB has reports and data on the 1981, 1987 and 1991 surveys on the importance of wildlife to Canadians and on the 1996 survey on the importance of nature to Canadians. The branch has reports and data on municipal and industrial water demand surveys for 1999 and previous surveys conducted every two to three years since 1983. EEB has empirical information and documents related to the economic value and green national accounting of water as natural capital. Documentation and data is available for the Environmental Valuation Reference Inventory (EVEI) which is a storehouse of valuation studies, and the Air Quality Valuation Model (AQVM), which estimates benefits of air pollution policies. Topics: Economic instruments, natural capital, socio-economic indicators of sustainability, Environmental Valuation Reference Inventory, importance of wildlife to Canadians, importance of nature to Canadians, water uses and pricing, benefits transfer. Program Record Number: ENV PAC 585

Regulatory and Economic Analysis Branch (REAB)

Description: Provides strategic economic analysis, advice and support for various environmental issues, including policy development, the implementation and promotion of environment-economy integration, implementation of the environmental management tool box (e.g., economic instruments), development of modelling tools (e.g., AERCo$t), and the use of cost and benefit valuation. REAB has developed expertise in the areas of cost-benefit analysis, competitiveness analysis, risk management strategies, Regulatory Impact Analysis Statements (RIAS), and impact assessments. REAB also has the responsibility of providing advice on regulatory policy and process issues. The major focus of the work performed by the Branch is in support of the toxic substances and air issues programs led by the Environmental Protection Service (EPS). Program Record Number: ENV PAC 195

◆ International Relations Directorate

International Affairs Branch

Description: Information on broad policies and strategies relating to DOE's international relations, key international organizations, meetings and agreements dealing with the environment. Topics: International and Bilateral Agreements, and International Multilateral Institutions. Access: Files arranged by subject.

Program Record Number: ENV PAC 540

◆ Strategic Directions and Policy

Coordination Directorate

Aboriginal Affairs Branch

Description: Information on relationships between Environment Canada and Aboriginal people in the delivery of our legislation, policies and programs; and environmental management aspects of government-wide Aboriginal policies. Topics: Canada's Aboriginal Action Plan-Gathering Strength, comprehensive land claims and self-government agreements, political accords with national Aboriginal organizations (e.g. Assembly of First Nations, Congress of Aboriginal Peoples). Program Record Number: ENV PAC 140

Federal-Provincial Relations Branch

Description: Information on the broad policy aspects of the relationship between the federal and provincial/territorial governments on environmental issues. Topics: Harmonization; the Canadian Council of Ministers of the Environment; Canada-Wide Standards; Wildlife Ministers Council of Canada. Access: Files arranged by subject. Program Record Number: ENV PAC 505

Strategic Policy/Sustainable Development Branches

Description: Information on departmental directions and policies. Topics: Sustainable development; strategic directions, action plans and activities carried out by the department; amendments to the Auditor General Act creating a Commissioner of the Environment and Sustainable Development and requiring departmental sustainable development strategies; relations with clients and stakeholders.

Access: Files are arranged by subject. Program Record Number: ENV PAC 515

Personal Information Banks

Access Request Data Bank

Description: Contains the access request forms sent by persons requesting access to their files, the replies to such requests, and information relating to their processing. Class of Individuals: Individuals making Access to Information Act and Privacy Act requests.

Purpose: To process access requests only, and to determine the number of access requests received annually. Retention and Disposal Standards: Two years. RDA Number: 78/001 TBS Registration: 001401 Bank Number: ENV PPU 075

Applications for Research Grants Science Subventions

Description: Each entry in the bank contains information of the following type: educational, financial support for research, new scientific concepts, personal statement of productivity, third party evaluation of the entry. All assessments and grants are processed at Atmospheric Environment Service headquarters from Canadian university faculty members. Class of Individuals: Faculty members of Canadian universities in the environmental sciences or faculties related thereto. Purpose: To provide information used in the annual selection of research proposals to be funded by this institute. Consistent Uses: To assess research proposals in order to award research funds. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records kept less than five years, usually two years. RDA Number: 78/001

Related to PR#: ENV MSC 310 TBS Registration: 001394 Bank Number: ENV PPU 010

Applications for Studentship in Meteorology or Atmospheric Science

Description: To provide personal and academic information used in the annual selection for the provision of studentships at Canadian universities.

Class of Individuals: Canadian citizens and permanent residents who have graduated with 3.5 courses in physics and 4.5 courses in mathematics with a 66% average. Purpose: To assess potential recipients of studentships. Consistent Uses: To assess applications for MSC Studentships. Retention and Disposal Standards: Two years. If the applicant becomes an employee, the application is placed on his/her personnel file. RDA Number: 78/001 Related to PR#: ENV MSC 310 TBS Registration: 001397 Bank Number: ENV PPU 025

Applications for Visiting Fellowship Awards

Description: Contains information of the following types: demographics, employment, educational, personal references, third party evaluations. All assessments are processed at Atmospheric Environment Service headquarters. Awards are granted to visiting fellows for their work at headquarters. Class of Individuals: Generally restricted to environmental scientists who have recently completed their doctoral degrees. Purpose: To provide personal and academic information used in the annual selection of visiting fellows to this institute. Consistent Uses: To assess potential candidates for visiting fellowship awards. The file is shared with NSERC. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are kept for less than five years, usually for three years. RDA Number: 78/001 Related to PR#: ENV MSC 310 TBS Registration: 001395 Bank Number: ENV PPU 015

Employment Applications

Description: This bank can contain employment applications, personal information and curricula vitae from people wishing to work for the Department. All the applicants are registered in the bank. It is established on a regional basis, by service. The bank is used to hold information sent by the candidates. Class of Individuals: Anyone applying for employment with the Department. Purpose: The information contained in this bank is used for staffing purposes. Consistent Uses: Limited to present and future staffing purposes. Retention and Disposal Standards: Maximum five years, normally destroyed after two years. RDA Number: 78/001 TBS Registration: 001402 Bank Number: ENV PPU 080

Information Disclosures to Investigative Bodies

Description: This bank contains copies of privacy requests and replies as well as requests for disclosure to federal investigative bodies, forwarded by investigative bodies as listed in Schedule II of the Privacy Act under paragraph 8(2)(e) of the same Act. This bank also contains the replies to such requests and gives information related to their processing. It is used to verify the conditions of disclosure to federal law enforcement bodies which are stated in paragraph 8(2)(e) of the Privacy Act, and to report to the Privacy Commissioner on the number of access requests received annually. This bank is comprised solely of requests concerning persons for the purpose of law enforcement, and the replies to such requests. Class of Individuals: Individuals about whom requests for personal information have been received pursuant to paragraph 8(2)(e) of the Privacy Act from federal investigative bodies for the purpose of enforcing a law of Canada or a province, or carrying out a lawful investigation. Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to permit the Privacy Commissioner to review disclosures made under paragraph 8(2)(e) of the Privacy Act to federal investigative bodies for the purpose of enforcing a law of Canada or a province or for carrying out a lawful investigation. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained for five years and are then destroyed. TBS Registration: 002326 Bank Number: ENV PPU 072

Post-graduate Fellowships

Description: Post-graduate fellowships are intended to provide financial assistance to Canadian citizens and permanent residents who are enrolled in an MSc or PhD program in Meteorology and Atmospheric Services. Class of Individuals: Canadian citizens and permanent residents who have completed undergraduate degrees. Purpose: To provide information in the annual selection of candidates for post-graduate fellowship awards. Consistent Uses: Primary use is to assess fellowship applications. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records kept less than five years, usually two years. RDA Number: 78/001 Related to PR#: ENV MSC 310 TBS Registration: 001396 Bank Number: ENV PPU 020

University Research Support Fund

Description: Contains evaluations of proposals submitted by researchers at Canadian universities for funding consideration through the Canadian Wildlife Service. This bank contains an outline of projects, names of professors and personal data. Class of Individuals: Researchers at Canadian universities. Purpose: To evaluate and select proposals submitted by Canadian university researchers. Retention and Disposal Standards: The unfunded project files are kept for two years. Approved project files are retained for six years after completion of project. RDA Number: 78/001 TBS Registration: 001399 Bank Number: ENV PPU 035

Water Resources Research Support Program (WRRSP)

Description: Contains project details including research plan, state-of-the-art reviews, budgetary requirements, progress reports, project reviews and assessments as well as personal data such as name and curriculum vitae. All files relate to scientists at Canadian universities. This bank is established and maintained at headquarters and is restricted to management personnel and research scientists within the directorate, but is occasionally extended to the service level, other services of the Department and to other departments. Class of Individuals: Scientists at Canadian universities. Purpose: To evaluate proposals submitted by researchers at Canadian universities for funding consideration. Retention and Disposal Standards: Unfunded project files are retained for two years, then discarded; funded project files are retained for six years after completion of project. The program was discontinued in 1986. Bibliographic data on funded reports are stored in Environment Canada's WATDOC. RDA Number: 78/001 Related to PR#: ENV ECS 205 TBS Registration: 001398 Bank Number: ENV PPU 030

Wildlife Permit Information

Description: This bank contains information gathered from permits required by Act of Convention for the purposes of protecting, managing, and regulating the use of certain species of birds or animals and their habitat. Specific information includes the Migratory Birds Permit information, which is gathered under the legal requirements of the Migratory Birds Convention Act such as avicultural permits, taxidermists permits, scientific permits, migratory bird damage permits, airport permits, eiderdown permits, Cap Tourmente hunting permits, Migratory Birds Convention Act permits; banding and collecting permits, migratory game birds hunting permits and special permits. Information gathered by permits for the import, export or transit of endangered species is also contained in this database. Class of Individuals: Information such as names, addresses, telephone numbers, occupations, and type of permit requested are kept on individuals applying for Migratory Birds Permits in the five Canadian regions (Pacific and Yukon, Western and Northern Ontario, Quebec, and Atlantic Regions); information on banding permits and Migratory Game Bird Hunting Permits is kept at Headquarters. Purpose: To compile information under the Migratory Birds Convention Act if any enquiries are made for legal or other purposes. Retention and Disposal Standards: Retention of 15 years; active for five years and dormant for ten years, then transferred to the National Archives of Canada for selective retention. RDA Number: 84/024 Related to PR#: ENV EPS 110 TBS Registration: 001393 Bank Number: ENV PPU 005

Classes of Personal Information

General Correspondence and Enquiries

Personal information is also stored within subject files where records are not normally retrieved by the name of the individual or other personal identifier. This form of personal information consists of requests for publications, reports etc. and enquiries for information of a general nature. It is normally retrievable only if specifics are provided concerning the subject matter. Retention of this form of personal information is controlled by the records schedules of the subject files in which the information is stored.

Ministerial Correspondence

This class of information contains correspondence addressed to the Minister and/or the Deputy Minister and received by the Departmental Correspondence Unit from external organizations and individuals in the form of requests for information, complaints, opinions and other submissions related to a broad range of policy issues pertaining to Environment Canada's activities, wherein some unsolicited personal information has been provided by the correspondent. This form of information would be retrievable only if specifics of name, date of communication and subject were provided; it is not arranged or retrievable by personal identifiers. The retention period of these classes of personal information are controlled by the records schedules of the subject files in which the information is stored.

General Information

Background

Export Development Canada ("EDC") was named Export Development Corporation prior to December 21, 2001. EDC was established on October 1, 1969, by the Export Development Act and is an agent of Her Majesty in right of Canada. EDC is a Crown corporation whose shares may be owned only by Canada and is accountable for its affairs to Parliament through the Minister for International Trade. Both Export Development Canada and its predecessor, the Export Credits Insurance Corporation which commenced operations in 1944, were created to facilitate and develop trade between Canada and other countries.

The Corporation achieves this through a wide range of flexible and innovative financial solutions to exporters across Canada and their customers around the world. Its risk management services – including insurance, financing and guarantees – have become an integral part of the export strategies of many large and small Canadian companies.

Farm Credit Canada

Chapter 56

General Information

Background

Established in 1959 under the Farm Credit Act, Farm Credit Canada (formerly Farm Credit Corporation) (FCC) is a federal Crown corporation reporting to Parliament through the Minister of Agriculture and Agri-Food.

Amendments passed in 1993 changed the act to the Farm Credit Corporation Act.

On June 14, 2001 Royal Assent was given to amendments to the Farm Credit Corporation Act. The Farm Credit Canada Act broadened FCC's mandate to provide more financial and business management options for Canadian producers and farm-related businesses. At the same time the word Canada was added to the corporation's name.

Responsibilities

The purpose of FCC is to enhance rural Canada by providing specialized and personalized business and financial services and products to farming operations, including family farms, and to those businesses in rural Canada, including small and medium-sized business, that are related to farming. The primary focus of the activities of FCC shall be on farming operations, including family farms.

Legislation

Federal Bridge Corporation Limited

Chapter 57

General Information

Background

The Federal Bridge Corporation Limited (FBCL) was established in 1998 under the Canada Business Corporations Act, and is designated a proprietary corporation (Schedule III, Part 1) within the meaning and purpose of the Financial Administration Act.

Responsibilities

The Corporation was incorporated with the mandate to replace The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority as the corporate body with the responsibility for superintending the Authority's non-navigational assets. The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority was dissolved on December 1, 1998 pursuant to provisions of the Canada Marine Act. The management of the Authority's navigational assets was transferred to a not-for-profit corporation while the Authority's non-navigational assets were transferred to FBCL.

FBCL also ensures the acquisition of lands for the construction, maintenance and operation, alone or in conjunction with an appropriate authority in the United States, of bridges connecting Canada with the United States; and the acquisition of lands for, and construction or acquisition, maintenance and operation of such bridges and works or other property as the Governor in Council may deem necessary. FBCL reports to Parliament through the Minister of Transport.

The Seaway International Bridge Corporation, Ltd.: An FBCL subsidiary with a head office, located in Cornwall, Ontario, operates and manages an international toll bridge system between Cornwall, Ontario and Roosevelt, New York, on behalf of the owners – The Federal Bridge Corporation Limited of Canada and the Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation of the United States.

The St. Mary's River Bridge Company, owner of the portion of the Sault Ste. Marie International Bridge situated in the Province of Ontario, and an FBCL subsidiary, entered into an agreement for the maintenance and operation of the Bridge with the Michigan Department of Transportation. This international bridge links Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario and Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan.

The Jacques Cartier and Champlain Bridges Incorporated, an FBCL subsidiary, was established to provide the public with a safe and efficient transit across the Jacques Cartier, the Champlain and the Honoré – Mercier Bridges, along the Bonaventure Autoroute, the Champlain Bridge Jetty (cyclists) and through the Melocheville Tunnel, structures situated in the Greater Montreal region.

The main business involvement of FBCL at the Thousand Islands Bridge is the operation of the Canadian portion of the Thousand Islands Bridge System at Ivy Lea, Ontario which is administered for FBCL on a contract basis, by the Thousand Islands Bridge Authority of the United States.

Financial Consumer Agency of Canada

Chapter 58

Background

The Financial Consumer Agency of Canada (FCAC) was established under the Financial Consumer Agency of Canada Act, on October 24, 2001 as an agency responsible for strengthening the oversight of consumer protection measures in the federally regulated financial sector and for expanding consumer education activities. The federally regulated Canadian financial services sector includes all banks and all federally incorporated or registered insurance, trust and loan companies and co-operative credit associations.

Responsibilities

The FCAC is responsible for:

- supervising financial institutions to determine whether they are in compliance with the consumer provisions applicable to them;
- promoting the adoption by financial institutions of policies and procedures to implement consumer provisions applicable to them;
- monitoring the implementation of financial institutions' publicly available voluntary codes of conduct that are designed to protect the interests of their customers, and to monitor any public commitments made by financial institutions to protect the interests of their customers;
- promoting consumer awareness about the obligations of financial institutions under consumer provisions applicable to them; and
- fostering an understanding of financial services and issues relating to financial services, in co-operation with any department, agency or agency corporation of the Government of Canada or of a province, financial institutions and consumer and other organizations.

Legislation

- Bank Act
- Co-operative Credit Associations Act
- Financial Consumer Agency of Canada Act
- Insurance Companies Act
- Trust and Loan Companies Act

Organization

Executive Services

The Agency is headed by the Commissioner who has the rank and powers of a deputy head of a department. He is responsible for exercising the powers, duties and functions assigned to him under the Act and is assisted by a Deputy Commissioner.

♦ Legal Services

This Branch is responsible for providing or obtaining legal advice and services pertaining the interpretation of statutes, regulations, and other legal instruments. It is also responsible for providing advice on policy development and preparing legal documents.

♦ Administrative Services

This Branch is responsible for providing the administrative services required by the Agency including, human resources and financial services (contracted out to OSFI), access to information and privacy, materiel management, facilities management, records management, informatics (contracted out to PWGSC - GTIS), security, occupational health and safety, and mail and messenger services.

♦ Compliance and Industry Relations

This Branch oversees compliance by Federally Regulated Financial Institutions (FRFI's) with the consumer provisions of the legislation applicable to them and monitors adherence with FRFI's Codes of Conduct and Public Commitments that protect the interests of consumers.

♦ Consumer Education and Public Affairs

This Branch is responsible for promoting consumer awareness about obligations of financial institutions under the consumer provisions applicable to them and for fostering, in cooperation with other stakeholders (federal/provincial/territorial government departments or agencies, financial institutions, consumer and other organizations) an understanding of financial services and issues relating to financial services. The Branch is also responsible for responding to the financial consumer general service complaints and enquiries service, managing the correspondence unit and for the Web site design and management.

Financial Transactions and Reports Analysis Centre of Canada

Chapter 59

General Information

Background

The Financial Transactions and Reports Analysis Centre of Canada (FINTRAC) was established by the Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) Act (PCMLA), Chapter 17, Statutes of Canada 2000. The PCMLA was proclaimed on July 5, 2000. The PCMLA was amended by the Anti-Terrorism Act, Chapter 41, Statutes of Canada 2001, proclaimed on December 24, 2001. The amendments allowed for the extension of the mandate of FINTRAC to cover matters involving the detection and deterrence of the financing of terrorist activity and matters relating to the security of Canada. The amendments also changed the name of the Act to the Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Act (PCMLTFA).

The key objectives of the Act are:

- To implement specific measures to detect and deter money laundering and to facilitate the investigation and prosecution of money laundering and terrorist financing offences;
- To respond to the threat posed by organized crime by providing law enforcement officials with the information they need to deprive criminals of the proceeds of their criminal activities while ensuring the appropriate safeguards are in place to protect personal privacy;
- To assist in fulfilling Canada's international commitments in the fight against transnational organized crime terrorist activity.

Responsibilities

FINTRAC's legislative mandate is to:

- collect, analyse, assess and, where appropriate, disclose information relevant to the investigation and prosecution of money laundering and terrorist financing offences;
- act at arm's length from law enforcement agencies and other entities (i.e. police, Canadian Customs and Revenue Agency (CCRA), Canadian Security Intelligence Service (CSIS) and Citizenship and Immigration Canada (CIC)) to which it is authorised to disclose information;
- ensure that personal information under its control is protected from unauthorised disclosure;
- enhance public awareness and understanding of matters related to money laundering and terrorist financing; and

- ensure compliance with the record keeping and reporting obligations.

In operationalizing the legislative mandate, FINTRAC has adopted the following principles. FINTRAC will:

- Strive to become a centre of expertise in the analysis of financial and other data to identify suspicious transactions associated with money laundering and terrorist financing activities, and to enhance awareness and understanding of matters related to money laundering and terrorist financing;
- Safeguard the personal privacy of individuals and protect their records from unauthorized disclosure;
- Operate at arms length from law enforcement agencies;
- Develop relationships with domestic and international entities to obtain and exchange data, information, and knowledge.

Legislation

- Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Act, Chapter 17, Statutes of Canada 2000, Chapters 12, 27, 32 and 41, Statutes of Canada 2001.

Organization

FINTRAC is headed by a Director appointed by Governor in Council to be the Chief Executive Officer of FINTRAC, with the rank and powers of a Deputy Head of a department. FINTRAC is comprised of six functional areas – Money Laundering Analysis, Terrorist Financing Analysis; Information Technology; Policy, Planning and Public Affairs, Liaison and Compliance; and Corporate Management – each headed by a Deputy Director. The following provides an overview of the responsibilities and activities of each of the four areas.

◆ Money Laundering Analysis

Money Laundering Analysis is responsible for the analysis of the data reported to FINTRAC by reporting entities pursuant to the Act and Regulations. This work includes analysis to determine whether transactions provide reasonable grounds to suspect that the transaction is related to the commission of money laundering offences, assess general trends and patterns of activity, and prepare recommendations for disclosures to law enforcement and other appropriate agencies.

◆ Terrorist Financing Analysis

Terrorist Financing Analysis is responsible for the analysis of the data reported to FINTRAC by reporting entities and intelligence agencies pursuant to the Act and Regulations. This work includes analysis to determine whether transactions provide reasonable grounds to suspect that the transactions are related to the commission of terrorist financing offences, assess general trends and patterns of activity, and prepare recommendations for disclosures to law enforcement and other appropriate agencies.

◆ Information Technology

The Information Technology area is charged with developing and applying information management and information technology methodologies that will support and advance FINTRAC's objectives. This area will design and implement procedures and controls to ensure and protect the safety and security of all information, while also ensuring the secure transmission of data between reporting entities and FINTRAC. It is also responsible for designing, maintaining and implementing database management systems and building and managing custom applications to meet internal and external end user requirements.

◆ Policy, Planning and Public Affairs

The Policy area is tasked with identifying strategic policy issues to be addressed in legislation, regulations, guidelines and internal operating procedures such as disclosure policy and procedures. This area will develop a framework for establishing and maintaining international networks and multi-lateral relationships.

The Planning area is responsible for the development of a comprehensive strategic plan for FINTRAC. In addition, it is responsible for leading FINTRAC's contribution to the Evaluation Framework for the National Initiative to Combat Money Laundering.

Through Public Affairs, FINTRAC uses a strategic communications approach to inform and educate its stakeholders and the general public on FINTRAC's activities in combating money laundering in Canada and abroad. FINTRAC has a web site to disseminate information to reporting entities and other stakeholder groups, and create outreach products and training tools to assist in liaison and compliance activities.

◆ Liaison and Compliance

Liaison activities focus on fostering and managing positive relationships with reporting entities and law enforcement agencies. This section also works to establish Memoranda of Understanding (MOUs) with national, foreign and international organizations that maintain databases in order to facilitate the collection of information to assist FINTRAC in its analysis.

The Compliance Section has the responsibility of ensuring that reporting entities meet the requirements of the PCMLA. The Compliance Sector works closely with reporting entities to support their efforts to implement a compliance regime to assist them in meeting their obligations under the Act and Regulations. As stated earlier, failure to report prescribed or suspicious financial transactions can result in significant fines or jail terms.

◆ Corporate Management

The Corporate Management area encompasses Human Resources, Finance and Administration, Security and the Corporate Secretariat. Human Resources will ensure that appropriate HR systems, policies and procedures are in place to promote FINTRAC as an employer of choice, to respect employee rights, and to foster organizational wellness.

The Financial operations of this area will advise FINTRAC's Executive on all financial and administrative aspects of strategic and operational planning and priorities.

Security is responsible for designing, managing and monitoring policies and procedures to protect FINTRAC's premises, information systems and provide secure access to employees and other authorised persons.

The Corporate Secretariat manages the Access to Information and Privacy Acts (ATIP) portfolio, and FINTRAC's library. In addition, the Corporate Secretariat is responsible for coordinating and delivering all required reporting to Parliament.

Fisheries and Oceans Canada

Chapter 60

General Information

Background

The Constitution Act, 1867 gives Parliament jurisdiction over "Sea Coast and Inland Fisheries." The Fisheries Act, 1868 was enacted in accordance with this responsibility. The Department of Fisheries and Oceans Act, 1978 – 79 established the Department and provides jurisdiction over sea coast and inland fisheries, fishing and recreational harbours, hydrography and marine sciences and the coordination of policies and programs of the Government of Canada respecting oceans. The Canadian Coast Guard, formerly a part of Transport Canada, merged with DFO on April 1, 1995. The Constitution Act, 1982, the Canada Shipping Act, the Arctic Waters Pollution Prevention Act, the Navigable Waters Protection Act, the Department of Transport Act and the National Transportation Act are the principal Acts governing marine transportation activities. Legislative authorities concerning the integration of Coast Guard were finalized last year. The Fisheries Act is the primary piece of legislation for managing fisheries and the Oceans Act lays out the foundation for the department's oceans agenda.

Responsibilities

While other government departments contribute to the management of Canada's water-based activities, the primary focus of Fisheries and Oceans is on water and the resources it contains. It has responsibility for all matters respecting oceans not by law assigned to any other department. The scope of this responsibility and the extent to which it is exercised by the federal government have been determined by judicial interpretation, agreements with provinces and the evolution of public policy.

Specific responsibilities include:

- Provision of policies and programs for the provision of water transportation system and services interests contributing to safe, efficient and economical conduct of marine activities, protection of the marine environment in Canadian waters and, where appropriate, undertaking development, operation and maintenance of specific elements of the marine transportation system.
- Scientific research respecting stock assessment and resource conservation requirements, aquaculture regulation and development, primary production, physical oceanography and limnology (studies in freshwater), hydrographic surveying and charting, environmental issues and the behaviour and effects of marine contaminations, and administration of various Federal acts, regulations and policies designed to conserve and protect the aquatic habitat.

Organization

There are seven major activities under the departmental mandate which are administered by Assistant Deputy Ministers (ADMs) who are responsible for broad policy formulation, strategic and operational planning, resourcing, scientific and technical services and functional guidance to the Regional Directors General who provide for Program delivery.

Deputy Minister

In accordance with Section 3 of the Department of Fisheries and Oceans Act, the Deputy Minister of Fisheries and Oceans is the deputy head of the Department. The Office of the Deputy Minister develops, coordinates and implements the Departmental Program consistent with the powers, duties and functions outlined in Section 4 of the Act and provides administrative support to Crown Corporations for which the Minister has responsibility. Program objectives are carried out by one Associate Deputy Minister (Associate DM) and seven Assistant Deputy Ministers (ADMs) located at headquarters in Ottawa, Ontario and six Regional Directors General (RDGs) located across the country. In addition to the Associate DM, ADMs and RDGs, the Director General, Communications and General Counsel also report directly to the Deputy Minister.

- Communications – develops communications strategies and supports the initiatives of all sectors as well as scientific publications.
- General Counsel – Department of Justice legal services attached to DFO provide legal counsel on all matters touching the operation and administration of the Department.

Associate Deputy Minister

The Associate Deputy Minister is responsible for managing all aspects of the Department in co-operation with the Deputy Minister. The Office of the Associate DM includes a special focus on:

- Human resource management issues, such as La Relève;
- Essential change activities within the Department, including enhancement of the management model for DFO and working with employee consultative/ advisory committees (the National and Regional Advisory Committees) in support of their renewal efforts;
- Issues related to the merger of the fleets and shore installations of the former DFO and Coast Guard;
- Development of the Oceans Management Strategy;
- Fisheries restructuring on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts;

Aquaculture.

The Associate DM has direct responsibility for the Review Directorate, which assesses the appropriateness and strength of the management framework and makes suggestions for improvements; evaluates policies and programs and makes recommendations for their confirmation, modification or discontinuation. The Review Directorate is also the focal point for Auditor General Audits.

♦ Corporate Services

The ADM, Corporate Services provides executive direction, coordination and corporate administrative in support of Program objectives and is responsible for:

- Finance and Administration – provides advice and services in areas of resource management, financial planning, accounting and reporting, policy and systems, contracting and procurement, asset management (not including Small Craft Harbours) and administration and security.
- Information Management and Technology Services – provide advice and services in the areas of application development, information and data management (including libraries), computer processing and telecommunications.
- Newfoundland Bait Program (NBP) – unique to Newfoundland, this program exists to provide a bait purchase and sale function from as many as 25 locations across the Province. Legal authority for this program exists within the Terms of Union between Newfoundland and Canada. At present, facility ownership rests with Fisheries and Oceans Canada while day-to-day service delivery is provided by a private sector contractor.

- Real Property Management Directorate (RPM) – delivers a real property services program in accordance with a comprehensive real property management framework.
- Environmental Coordination Office – implementation of an environmental management framework designed to manage and improve departmental environmental performance in compliance with federal statutes and regulations.
- Small Craft Harbours – administration and maintenance of a national system of harbours to provide fishers with safe and accessible facilities ranging from isolated mooring buoys to large, full service facilities. Small Craft Harbours (SCH) is also responsible for the Harbour Authority (HA) Program, which encourages and supports the formation of non-profit corporations (i. e. , harbour authorities) to assume the day-to-day management and operation of fishing harbours. SCH is responsible for the Recreational Harbour Divestiture Program, which oversees the transfer of recreational harbours to local communities or other interests. Small Craft Harbours is responsible for the rationalization of its fishing harbours, keeping only those active harbours that meet present and future industry needs.
- Strategic Management – leads and facilitates change management initiatives and provides advisory support services internally to the department for the identification, analysis and resolution of strategic issues related to department-wide administration, management and governance matters. Strategic Management also coordinates Employment Equity and Official Languages reporting, performance measurement and business planning for the sector. The Office of Modern Comptrollership leads, coordinates and facilitates DFO's response to broader government-wide initiatives.

◆ Human Resources

The ADM, Human Resources is responsible for providing human resource management, advice and services for human resource planning, classification and organization, staffing and workforce adjustment, executive resourcing, staff relations, compensation, training and development, employment equity, official languages, occupational health and safety, incentive/merit awards, employee assistance program, career counselling, and personnel management information systems. The Sector is also responsible for:

- Coast Guard College – prepares Officer Cadets for a career in the Coast Guard, provides training in search and rescue, Marine Communications and Traffic Services, marine engineering, navigation, shipboard management and provides residential facility for conferences and meetings in the Maritimes.

◆ Fisheries Management

The ADM, Fisheries Management is responsible for:

- Aboriginal Policy and Governance – develops Native fisheries policies, administers the Aboriginal Fisheries Strategy and the long-term response to the Marshall Decision, negotiates fishing provisions of land claims settlements in British Columbia, the Northwest Territories, Newfoundland and Quebec offshore and implements land claims and negotiates Aboriginal self government throughout the country.
- Coordination of the annual seal hunt.
- Atlantic Fisheries and Pacific Region Licensing Appeal Boards – hear appeals from fishermen dissatisfied with departmental licensing decisions and consider general problems on licensing policy.
- Conservation and Protection – ensures compliance with legislation, policies and programs in support of conservation and sustainable fisheries resources through educational and enforcement programs in both tidal and non-tidal waters except in Ontario, Quebec and the Prairie Provinces. Fishery management plans, policies, programs and regulations ensure sustainability of stocks and fair distribution of harvestable surpluses.
- Fisheries Policy Development – The Atlantic Fisheries Policy Review (AFPR) has been established to develop a consistent and cohesive policy framework for the management of Canada's East Coast fish stocks. The work of the AFPR is being done in two phases: Phase I will deliver a long-term policy framework and Phase II will establish priorities and begin to operationalize elements from the policy framework developed in Phase I. Work also has been undertaken to establish a national fisheries policy framework and an Independent Panel on Access Criteria (IPAC) has been established to develop recommendations on access criteria in new or expanding commercial fisheries on the Atlantic Coast.
- International Affairs – the role is to direct the conduct of international relations to advance Canada's fisheries conservation interests and works to assert Canadian interests with respect to internationally managed fish stocks. This includes the negotiation and administration of international treaties and agreements affecting conservation, allocations, the conduct of bilateral and multilateral fisheries relations with other countries, the settlement of issues related to maritime boundary disputes as well as the formulation and presentation of international fisheries conservation and allocation advice to the Minister.
- Licensing – provides a means for regulating participation in and access to the fishery to ensure that the harvest remains within conservation limits and promotes economic viability.
- Responsible Fishing Programs – contribute to resource conservation of fish stocks through the development and industry use of selective fishing practice and industry's endorsement and implementation of the Code of Conduct for Responsible Fishing.

- The Freshwater Fish Marketing Corporation – advice and analysis of issues relating to the operations and mandate of this Crown Corporation are provided to the Minister on an ongoing basis. The Department coordinates on an annual basis the development and approval by Treasury Board and the Department of Finance of the corporate plan and operating and capital budgets of this Corporation.

♦ Marine Services / Canadian Coast Guard

The ADM, Marine Services and Commissioner, Canadian Coast Guard, develops and operates the national marine transportation system and is responsible for:

- Icebreaking and Arctic Operations – provides, operates and maintains icebreaking ships, facilities and services, manages a program of ice management, supports other government departments and agencies in safe and efficient movement of marine traffic in ice-infested waters, supports other government marine related activities, including sovereignty in the Canadian Arctic and operates a program to minimize the effect of flooding caused by ice jams on the upper St. Lawrence River.
- Marine Navigation Services – provides, operates and maintains a system of short and long range aids to navigation, oversees private aids to navigation systems, provides public safety information services and provides waterways management and protection.
- Marine Communications and Traffic Services – provides communications and traffic services for the marine community and for the benefit of the public at large. Ensures safety of life at sea in response to international agreements through the provision of a Distress and Safety radio service, protects the marine environment and enhances the efficient movement of shipping through the provision of traffic management systems in offshore, coastal, riverine and port waters, provides support for business, other government departments and the national interest by the provision of a marine information management system, and provides a public correspondence system to facilitate ship shore radio communications for the private sector and fleet operations.
- Integrated Technical Support – The National Technical Authority for the CCG. Responsible for the design and for the effective and efficient through-life material support of all CCG physical assets. These assets include CCG ships, helicopters, land and vessel based communication, navigation and surveillance systems service both internal-DFO and external clients. Ensures engineering and logistics support integrity, provides quality technical solutions and advice, life cycle material management, procurement of ships, systems and equipment. Responsible for the business management of CCG's technical support program.

- Rescue and Environmental Response – provides marine search and rescue capability within the Canadian area of responsibility as defined under International Maritime Organization agreements and in Canadian waters of the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence system, promotes safety to the marine public in order to minimize loss of life and injury as well as the loss of property, provides emergency planning and environmental response to clean up pollution from shipping incidents, on a cost recovery basis and carries out a monitoring and oversight role as part of the joint Industry/Government partnership on spill response.
- Fleet – provides the national policy, planning requirements, professional staff support and safety management functions of national fleet management for Canadian Coast Guard ships and aircraft used to support the marine activities of the Department, other government departments and the safety and sovereignty requirements of the citizens of Canada.

♦ Oceans

The ADM, Oceans ensures the development of an integrated departmental approach to the discharge of our oceans and freshwater responsibilities, and is responsible for:

- Habitat Management Directorate – design, development, implementation and coordination of policies, plans and programs related to the protection and conservation of aquatic habitats; investigation and monitoring of biological and physical conditions which affect the quality of the aquatic environments; environmental assessments of projects impacting the aquatic environment; compiling information in support of sustained economic utilization of Canada's renewable aquatic resources; and monitoring the management of the quality of the aquatic habitat.
- Oceans Directorate – the development and implementation of a national oceans management strategy and developing policies and programs for marine protected areas, integrated coastal zonal management, marine environmental quality and other related oceans initiatives. The management of the Minister's Advisory Council on Oceans (MACO) nomination process and subsequent Council secretariat functions. Also, the Canadian Environmental Assessment Act Public Registry and strategic relations activities related to oceans.

♦ Policy

The ADM, Policy is responsible for:

- Economic and Policy Analysis – provides social and economic analysis, statistical services and policy advice on a wide range of domestic economic and international fisheries and oceans issues, including commercial fishing licence fees and other user charges, fisheries policy renewal, oceans industries, and international trade. Promote Canadian interests through participation in major international economic organizations. Manage, facilitate and coordinate policy and program development on key horizontal issues within DFO and across government. Establish and participate in policy research networks. Facilitate the development and coordination of international policy positions. Coordinate DFO's participation in Team Canada Inc. trade missions and in the National Voluntary Sector Initiative.

- Office Of Sustainable Aquaculture – provides departmental focus and strategic direction on the aquaculture file. Lead on the implementation of the Aquaculture Policy Framework and supporting operational policies for DFO, with a view to ensuring broad regional and sectoral integration/co-ordination. Clarify and harmonise DFO's laws and regulations respecting aquaculture development. Provide leadership with regard to improving/amending federal regulations relating to aquaculture development. Implement the Program for Sustainable Aquaculture and the identification and development of other targeted industry development programs such as the National Aquatic Animal Health Program. Provide leadership, through the Canadian Council of Fisheries and Aquaculture Ministers Aquaculture Task Group and other federal-provincial mechanisms, in establishing a harmonised federal-provincial policy and regulatory approach to aquaculture development. Establish mechanisms to reach aquaculture stakeholders, listening and acting on their concerns, and contributing to an informed public dialogue by providing factual information about aquaculture challenges and opportunities. Participate in key international aquaculture policy and research for a with a view to sharing Canadian expertise and values and maintaining Canada's leadership in sustainable development.
- Governance – provides a single focus of expertise to support the development of new governance models in areas already identified for change; advise the department on horizontal governance initiatives that affect DFO programs and mandate.
- Policy, Coordination and Liaison – leadership in developing legislative and regulatory instruments to support the fishery of the future, and other departmental and government-wide priorities for renewal and enhanced performance; policy and regulatory analysis in support of legislative initiatives led by other sectors, including amendments to the Coastal Fisheries Protection Act, Navigable Waters Protection Act and the Canada Shipping Act; policy leadership on the development and implementation of mechanisms for intergovernmental cooperation including the Canadian Council of Fisheries and Aquaculture Ministers, and the Atlantic Council of Fisheries and Aquaculture Ministers; policy leadership and support to promote the full and productive implementation of the Canada-B.C. Agreement on the management of pacific salmon; policy development in the area of freshwater and professionalization of fish harvesters.

- Strategic Priorities and Planning - lead a coordinated approach to developing strategic priorities and cross-cutting policy issues; develop mechanisms and processes to promote inter-sectoral cooperation in the development of policy initiatives (e.g. Shadow/Policy Committees); coordinate the department's strategic planning process; promote an integrated approach to departmental planning and reporting; provide tools and resources in support of strategic planning (e.g. annual environmental scans, quarterly scanning reports); coordinate and provide support to Departmental Management Committee Retreats.
- Access to Information and Privacy – provides Departmental focal point for responding to requests under the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act.

◆ Science

The ADM, Science ensures the highest standard of scientific information for use in developing policies, regulations and legislation regarding oceans and aquatic life and is responsible for:

- Fisheries and Oceans Science – provides timely and reliable scientific information, understanding and advice for the conservation and sustainable use of fish and other living aquatic resources, for the sustainable development of Mariculture and fish health protection, and on oceans coastal waters and marine and freshwater ecosystems in support of environment and fish habitat management, integrated resource management, offshore development, climate prediction, marine services, coastal engineering, defence and shipping.
- Hydrography – enhances the safety and efficiency of navigation for vessels operating in Canadian waters by undertaking field surveys to measure water depth, bottom morphology, bottom type and composition, tides, water levels, near surface currents, sound velocity and turbidity. Accurate charts and navigational publications of Canadian and adjacent international waters are compiled and published for both the recreational boater and the commercial mariner.

◆ Regional Offices

Regional Directors General are responsible for Program Delivery in meeting the mandate of the Department under the functional guidance of the Deputy Minister, the SADM and the ADM's. Each Region is described hereunder:

- Central and Arctic Region – encompassing Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, the Northwest Territories and Nunavut, it contains about 67% of Canada's freshwater and seven of the 14 largest lakes in the world, emphasizing cleanup and preservation initiatives in the Great Lakes. It accounts for about 60% of Canada's recreational fishing which exceeds the commercial fishery catch. Some 50% of the commercial catch is marketed through the Freshwater Fish Marketing Corporation. In marine transportation it directly supports shipping with nearly 200 icebreaking responses, over 1,300 search and rescue responses and it maintains nearly 5,900 navais. It provides primary marine pollution response North of 60 as well as the Eastern Arctic Sealift which resupplies coastal communities in the Arctic. Search and rescue services in the Great Lakes are provided to the highest concentration of pleasure craft in the country and the Region supports commercial marine traffic to the North American heartland.
- Gulf Region – encompassing the northern and eastern portion of New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, and a portion of Nova Scotia adjacent to the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The Region is responsible for the management of many groundfish and pelagic species such as cod, herring, tuna, halibut and flounder. Commercially imported invertebrates' species found throughout the Region include lobster, snow crab, and molluscs such as oysters, mussels, clams, and scallops. In addition, several of the southern Gulf tributaries act as important spawning rivers for anadromous species including Atlantic salmon, trout, and alewife. The DFO Regional Office is located in Moncton, N.B., with three area offices which are located in Tracadie-Sheila, N.B., Charlottetown, P.E.I., and Antigonish, N.S. With 12,498 commercial fishers and over 4,600 vessels involved in the southern Gulf of St. Lawrence fishery, the approximate landings of fish products for 1999 were 146,369 metric tons worth 316.7 million dollars.
- Québec Region – encompassing the Province of Quebec, it covers more than 6,000 kilometres of coastline. Fisheries sector includes over 4,000 fishermen, nearly 1,600 vessels, nearly 100 processing plants and over 200 small craft harbours. A marine science research centre, the Maurice-Lamontagne Institute, Mont-Joli, provides fisheries, oceanographic and hydrographic research. DFO manages the entire marine fishery in the region except for anadromous and catadromous species which are managed by the Province. In marine transportation it directly supports shipping with nearly 500 icebreaking and vessel escort responses, over 1,200 search and rescue responses and it maintains more than 2,550 navais. It ensures year-round access to the Port of Montreal and other ports on the St. Lawrence. Due to its icebreaking program, it safeguards susceptible water-side communities which may experience the effects of floods.
- Maritimes Region – encompassing the three Maritime provinces and adjacent waters to the 200-mile limit of the economic zone, the coastline covers approximately 8,600 km. The region has a very active diverse commercial fishery on the Bay of Fundy, Gulf of Maine and the Scotian Shelf. This commercial fishery includes approximately 13,425 full and part-time fishers on over 4,586 vessels, some 300 harbours, and a commercial fishery that landed some 374,000 tonnes of product for a preliminary landed value of $711,000,000.00 dollars in 2001. In addition, the aquaculture industry had a landed value of approximately 206 million dollars in 2001. Coast Guard programs are delivered through three major land bases; some 4,960 fixed and floating navigational aids; a regional fleet consisting of 11 major and 21 small vessels; 9 lifeboat stations; 7 helicopters with 4 helicopter hangars; 3 Marine Communication and Traffic Centres; a regional operations centre; a joint rescue and coordination centre; a 6 inshore rescue boats; Canso Canal; 5 Emergency response equipment depots; and a coast guard auxiliary.
- Newfoundland Region – comprising the province of Newfoundland and Labrador along with adjoining marine waters, the coastline covers nearly 29,000 km. With more than 95% of the province's communities being scattered along the coast, the economic and social complexion of this region is dominated by the fishery. Traditionally, cod was the dominant species in the commercial fishery. However, since the decline of the groundfish resources in the early '90s the fishery has become largely dependant on shellfish, particularly crab and shrimp. A small but growing high-tech ocean science and technology industry is evident. With the passage of the Oceans Act, DFO has a role to play in all ocean activities. In marine transportation the Coast Guard's 13 ships and 3 helicopters support shipping with nearly 125 icebreaking responses, over 600 search and rescue responses and the maintenance of nearly 1,600 navais.
- Pacific Region – comprising British Columbia and the Yukon, it is entrusted with managing and protecting Pacific marine fish stocks, covering 105 river systems in British Columbia, as well as three northern transboundary rivers, the Stikine, Taku and Yukon. This region supports commercial, recreational and aboriginal fisheries and significant Canadian oceans science and technology industries. In marine transportation it directly supports shipping with over 2,200 air and marine search and rescue responses and it maintains more than 1,950 navais.

Information Holdings

Program Records

Office of the Associate Deputy Minister

Corporate Review

Description: Review. Topics: Information on studies conducted on management challenges, results and other dimensions of performance of internal programs, policies, operations, systems and practises. Storage Medium: Computer and paper files. Program Record Number: DFO CRP 210

Evaluation

Description: Program evaluation. Topics: Evaluation on the relevance, success and cost-effectiveness of internal departmental programs and activities. Storage Medium: Computer and paper files. Program Record Number: DFO CRP 220

Internal Audit

Description: Internal Audit. Topics: Information on the efficiency, economy and effectiveness of internal management policies, practises and controls: improvements required. Storage Medium: Computer and paper files. Program Record Number: DFO CRP 215

♦ Corporate Services

National Project Management Office for Year 2000 – This program has ended, but records remain.

Description: Information on all aspects of the DFO Year 2000 project including (but not limited to) project planning, business continuity planning, standards and guidelines, regional information, project funding, Year 2000 product compliance letters, and related topics. Topics: Year 2000 and its complexities as it affected both Department Wide Mission Critical and Government Wide Mission Critical functions within the Department. The files created during this project are classified using the departmental records management policy. Program Record Number: DFO CRP 500

Real Property

Description: Legal documents. Topics: Agreements, easements, land title documents, acquisition and disposal of real property, and environmental information. Program Record Number: DFO CRP 520

Small Craft Harbours

Description: Information on the administration and management of fishing and recreational harbours. Schedule I of the Fishing and Recreational Harbours Regulations lists all harbours administered by DFO, with amendments published as required in the Canada Gazette. Topics: Facilities, harbour authorities.

Program Record Number: DFO CRP 540

♦ Fisheries Management

Aboriginal Policy and Governance

Description: Information on aboriginal fishing policies, programs and issues. Topics: Aboriginal fishing issues and programs; land claims. Program Record Number: DFO MAN 320

Enforcement

Description: Conservation and protection of fisheries, surveillance and enforcement records. Topics: Offshore, inshore and inland surveillance and enforcement activities. Program Record Number: DFO MAN 305

Fisheries Policy Development

Description: Policy preparations in support of fisheries renewal, reports, discussion document and brochure developed by AFPP, summary of policies affecting management of fisheries on Canada's Atlantic coast. Topics: Fisheries management policy on Canada's Atlantic coast, National fisheries management policy framework, Independent Panel on Access Criteria (IPAC). Program Record Number: DFO MAN 335

Fisheries Licence Appeal Board

Description: Information on fisheries licences (Atlantic and Pacific). Topics: Appeals from fishermen dissatisfied with departmental licensing decisions; licensing policy; recommendations to the Minister. Program Record Number: DFO MAN 310

Fisheries Management

Description: Management of the fisheries, including habitat resource rehabilitation. Topics: Resource management; allocation and regulations development; licensing; native affairs – food fisheries; land claims and agreements; employment; band by-laws. Program Record Number: DFO MAN 315

Responsible Fishing Programs

Description: Reports, guidelines, protocols, mandates, administration, support initiatives throughout the fishing industry. Topics: Code of Conduct for Responsible Fishing Operations, Program for Energy Research and Development. These Programs cover areas such as Responsible Fishing, gear development, implementation of the Canadian Code of Conduct, and partnering with industry. Access: Records arranged according to document management criteria set out by the Department. Storage Medium: Some on EDP database; others hard copy. Program Record Number: DFO MAN 330

Structural Adjustment Programs

Description: Information on advice and analysis of issues relating to the operations and mandate of the Freshwater Fish Marketing Corporation (FFMC). Topics: Corporate Plans, and Operating and Capital Budgets of the FFMC Corporations. Program Record Number: DFO MAN 325

♦ Marine Services / Canadian Coast Guard

Aids to Navigation – Marine

Description: Information on the establishment, operation and maintenance of visual, audio and electronic aids to navigation. Topics: Buoys; lights; beacons; fog signals; radio communication systems; notices to shipping; notices to mariners; site acquisitions; buildings; structures; service contracts, dredging fees. Access: By subject and geographic site. Storage Medium: EDP systems and microfilm. Program Record Number: DFO CCG 105

Canadian Coast Guard Accredited Boating Safety Courses Directory

Description: This bank contains the name of each course and training organization, address, telephone number, fax, e-mail and Web addresses for head offices of each training organization as well as format offered (correspondence, in class, Web). Class of Individuals: The Accredited Boating Safety Course Directory is distributed to boaters and the Canadian public. It is available in hard copy and through the Canadian Coast Guard's Web Site. Purpose: The bank may be referenced by the general public through the Coast Guard Web Site to obtain the names of accredited boating courses and is updated by the Canadian Coast Guard Boating Safety Office only. Program Record Number: DFO CCG 210

Ice Operations

Description: Information on icebreaking, ice reporting, ice escorting and the International Ice Patrol. Topics: Icebreaking; ice reporting; reconnaissance; ice escorting; International Ice Patrol; methods and equipment. Program Record Number: DFO CCG 130

Marine Communications and Traffic Services

Description: Information on the establishment, operation and maintenance of Marine Communications and Traffic Services infrastructure. Topics: Marine Radio Communications and Vessel Traffic Services Systems, notices to shipping and notices to mariners, buildings, structures, remote sites, services contracts. Program Record Number: DFO CCG 205

Navigable Waters – Obstructions

Description: Information on obstructions in navigable waters. Topics: Obstructions in navigable waters; wrecks and derelicts. Access: Files arranged by subject, individual, company, geographic location, waterway, type of obstruction or names of derelicts or wrecked vessels. Storage Medium: Microfilm, computerised data bank, lists and files. Program Record Number: DFO CCG 135

Navigable Waters – Protection

Description: Information on policies, regulations, applications and approvals for industrial and other construction plans affecting navigable waters. Access: Files arranged by subject, individuals or companies, waterway, geographic location, type of building or work. Storage Medium: Microfilm, files, computerised data bank. Program Record Number: DFO CCG 140

Pollution

Description: Information on rules, regulations and policies for the prevention of pollution in inland waters and at sea. Includes emergency plans and operations concerning the clean-up of oil or other pollutants. Topics: Rules; regulations; policies; plans; operations; reports; methods and equipment. Program Record Number: DFO CCG 150

Recreational Boating and Seamanship

Description: Information on recreational boating and seamanship. Topics: Navigation, seamanship, collision regulations, speed of vessels, anchorages, schools, apparatus and equipment. Program Record Number: DFO CCG 145

Search and Rescue – Coast Guard

Description: This class covers information relating to search and rescue operations, and lifesaving stations. Topics: Lifesaving stations; search and rescue; equipment and supplies. Access: Files arranged by subject, and geographically. Program Record Number: DFO CCG 155

Ships and Aircraft – Canadian Government

Description: Information on the management, operations, functions and services performed by the Canadian Coast Guard fleet of ships and aircraft; vessel and aircraft support to CCG Marine Programs such as Navigation Systems (Aids to Navigation and Icebreaking), Safety, Environmental Response Systems (Search and Rescue, Marine Communications and Traffic Services, Environmental Response/Protection); support to Oceans sector, Fisheries Management and Science sectors, including Hydrographic Services. This includes information on management strategies, planning, policies, scheduling, costs, crewing practices, performance measures and safety (ISM Code) procedures. Topics: Strategic Planning, Business Planning, Performance Management, Crewing, Charters, Fleet List, Fleet Program Delivery Plans, Services, Service Accords/MOU's, Fuel, Operational Requirements, Capital Planning, and Helicopter Management. Access: Files arranged by subject and name of Coast Guard vessel. Program Record Number: DFO CCG 165

Small Vessel Safety

Description: Information on regulations, standards and procedures, including small vessel licensing, inspection, vessel plates, and operator competency and personal flotation devices. Topics: Construction Standards for Small Vessels; capacity and conformity plates; Safe Boating Guide; Accredited course providers and various safety pamphlets and materials. Access: Files arranged by subject. Program Record Number: DFO CCG 170

Telecommunications and Electronics – Marine

Description: Information on the life cycle management including establishment, design, procurement of equipment, operation and maintenance of stations and systems that provide communications and electronic navigation aids to the Canadian Coast Guard and marine transportation. Topics: Life cycle management establishment; construction; operation; maintenance; services; buildings; site acquisitions; concessions and leases; apparatus; supplies; equipment; utilities; security and frequencies. Access: Files arranged by subject, geographical location and name of Coast Guard ship. Storage Medium: EDP systems and microfilm. Program Record Number: DFO CCG 200

Waterways

Description: Information on water on St. Lawrence waterways. Topics: Water levels St. Lawrence waterways; and St. Lawrence ship channel. Program Record Number: DFO CCG 106

◆ Oceans

Habitat Management

Description: Information on habitat management, protection, restoration and development; review of referred development activities in or near water; development of oceans and oceans resource conservation and protection initiatives; federal environmental assessment; scientific research on fish habitat, changes to or destruction of fish habitat and chemical contamination of fish habitat resulting from human activity. Topics: Habitat protection, operations, planning, restoration and development; resource rehabilitation and enhancement; carrying capacity of fish habitat; physical alteration of fish habitat; toxic chemicals; contaminants; Marine Protected Areas, Marine Environmental Quality, and Integrated Coastal Zone Management. Program Record Number: DFO SCI 605

Canadian Environmental Assessment Act Public Registry

Description: The Public Registry contains all records produced, collected and submitted with respect to any environmental assessment project undertaken by the Department. Topics: Reports relating to assessments; comments filed by the public in relation to the assessment; any records prepared by the responsible authority for the purposes of Section 38; any records produced as the result of the implementation of any follow-up program; any terms of reference for a mediation or a panel review; and any documents requiring mitigation measures to be implemented.

Program Record Number: DFO SCI 625

Oceans Program Activity Tracking (OPAT)

Description: A dynamic Web application that provides geographic information and facts on activities taking place under the Oceans Programs of Fisheries and Oceans Canada. OPAT is designed to increase national and international awareness of the Oceans Programs of Fisheries and Oceans Canada and to facilitate the involvement of coastal communities; social, cultural, environmental and economic organizations; aboriginal groups, governments; and others in effective oceans management. Topics: Information on integrated Management, Marine Protected Areas and Marine Environmental Quality program activities taking place across the country. Program Record Number: DFO SCI 630

◆ Policy

Atlantic Groundfish Strategy (TAGS)

Description: Information is used by HRD to assess eligibility of applicants for income support benefits and by DFO to assess eligibility for licence or early retirement benefits under TAGS. Information on the Commercial Fishing Licence Database includes such fields as name, address, FIN and VIN. Program Record Number: DFO POL 505

Canadian Fisheries Adjustment and Restructuring (CFAR)

Description: Information used by DFO to assess eligibility for the Pacific Salmon Licence Retirement Program and for the Atlantic Groundfish Licence Retirement Program. In addition, information used to assist HRDC to determine eligibility for early retirement benefits for fishers. Information on the Commercial Licence Database includes fields such as name, address, FIN and VIN, vessel length, gear type and landings. Program Record Number: DFO POL 520

Economic and Policy Analysis

Description: Information on policies, programs and activities in the areas of socio-economic analysis and policy development. Topics: Socio-economic analysis and policy; fisheries statistics; fisheries international trade databases; banks of information relating to the Surveys of Atlantic Fishermen, 1984, 1988; the Surveys of Recreational Fishing in Canada, 1975, 1980, 1985, 1990, 1995; Survey of Oceans Industries, 1996.

Program Record Number: DFO POL 510

Federal-Provincial Relations

Description: Information on federal-provincial-territorial agreements and cooperative programs adopted by the Department. Topics: Interdepartmental cooperations in fisheries and aquaculture; frameworks for federal-provincial consultation and liaison; federal-provincial-territorial economic and constitutional issues. Program Record Number: DFO POL 515

Legislation and Regulation

Description: Information on legislative and Regulatory instruments being developed by the department.

Topics: Fisheries, Coast Guard, Oceans and Science Regulatory and legislative documents including Regulatory Impact analysis documents and Regulations and Order in Council. Program Record Number: DFO POL 525

♦ Science

Fisheries, Environment and Biodiversity Science

Description: Records relate to the acquisition of the knowledge-base and provision of scientific advice in the management and development of fisheries and other renewable and non-renewable marine and freshwater resources. Topics: Resource assessment; marine ecology; freshwater ecology; conservation and protection of fish, fish habitat and aquatic ecosystems; biodiversity; and species at risk. Program Record Number: DFO SCI 610

Hydrographic Service

Description: Bathymetric data; navigational charts – surveys, chart production; geophysical-hydrographic surveys; tides, currents and water levels; sailing directions; ocean mapping; navigation. Topics: Navigation charts – surveys, production; tides, currents, and water levels; sailing directions; ocean mapping; navigation. Storage Medium: Full size graphics, micrographics and EDP format. Program Record Number: DFO SCI 615

♦ Regional Offices

Arctic and Inland Fisheries

Description: Information on policy and program coordination and delivery in the Arctic and Inland Fisheries sector of the Department. Topics: Marine mammal stock assessment and surveys; inland fisheries management; fish habitat disruption; conservation of fishery and marine mammal resources in the Northwest Territories and Nunavut. Program Record Number: DFO RDG 055

Fisheries Resource Allocation

Description: Management, conservation, protection, enhancement and allocation of all species of the fisheries resource throughout Canada. Topics: Resource management, allocation, licences, registration of fishers and vessels, quota monitoring, stock enhancement, observer programs, test fisheries, consultation and negotiation, Aboriginal Fisheries Strategy, Salmonid Enhancement Program, regulation amendments, habitat rehabilitation, MOUs and agreements, Advisory Boards and Committees. Access: Records stored by Region, numerically and by subject. Storage Medium: Records in paper, microfiche, and EDP format. Program Record Number: DFO RDG 060

Sector Management (Seals and Marine Mammals)

Description: Information on the Atlantic coast seal hunt and marine mammal conservation issues and activities.

Topics: Seal catch statistics and seal licensing policy, development projects under the Assistance to the Sealing Industry Program; bycatch of marine mammals, recreational observation of marine mammals, strandings, live capture and export of marine mammals; and laws and regulations pertaining to marine mammals. Program Record Number: DFO RDG 065

Harbour Managers

Description: Information on Harbour Managers, who may also be designated as Enforcement Officers, appointed by the Minister in accordance with the Fishing and Recreational Harbours Act, namely: name, address, identification number, badge number, date of appointment (and cancellation) and remuneration.

Class of Individuals: Harbour Managers. Purpose: Active and historic information from this bank is required for administration purposes. Consistent Uses: The information is used for audit purposes and occasionally for Court action, resulting from clients disobeying directions or not paying for berthing or other services.

Retention and Disposal Standards: The retention and disposal information in this bank is to be determined with departmental records management and the National Archives of Canada. TBS

Registration: 003624 Bank Number: DFO PPU 070

Manuscript Reviews

Description: A list of qualified referees (specialists in a variety of disciplines along with records of the receipt, review and appraisal of manuscripts selected for publication or rejected. Class of Individuals: A list of qualified referees (specialists in a variety of disciplines).

Purpose: To record receipt, review and appraisal of manuscripts selected for publication or rejection, and to maintain a list of qualified referees. Retention and

Disposal Standards: Six years after publication (or non-publication), transfer to Historical Records Section of National Archives of Canada for selective retention.

RDA Number: 86/001 TBS Registration: 003613

Bank Number: DFO PPU 020

Real Property Records

Description: This bank contains leases, licences and agreements issued in accordance with the Fishing and Recreational Harbours Act and Regulations, for the occupancy and use of harbour property. Names, addresses, telephone numbers, description of property, length of term, rental and other considerations are included. Also contained in this bank are legal title documents covering federal ownership of property.

Class of Individuals: The information contained in this bank relates to governments, Harbour Authorities, commercial entities and private individuals. Purpose:

The information in the bank is used for administrative purposes, to ensure controlled use of harbour property, accounting records and audit purposes. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained in accordance with departmental records management and the National Archives of Canada. TBS

Registration: 003630 Bank Number: DFO PPU 065

♦ Fisheries Management

Commercial Fishing Licence Databases

Description: The bank contains an alphabetical listing of Atlantic and Pacific licensed commercial fishermen along with fishing vessel profiles. Key data elements are name, address, homeport, fishing category (full-time or part-time), fees paid, vessel name, vessel specifications, species licence entitlements, individual quotas, actual catch figures and DFO identification number, as well as a listing of all purchasers of fishing net labels and replacement labels. Class of Individuals: Commercial fishermen. Purpose: To develop fishing plans, to assess fish stocks, to assist DFO in the issuance of fishing net labels and replacement labels, to provide for vessel safety inspections and provide a database of information in cases of emergency. Consistent Uses: This bank may be used as a source of information for other banks such as Surveys (DFO PPU 075). For the purposes of enforcement and conducting investigations in accordance with Canadian fisheries legislation, data DFO Violations (DFO PPU 060) is linked with this bank.

Data from this bank is also shared with various provincial departments under section 8(2)(f) of the Privacy Act, for the purposes of administering a law or conducting a legal investigation and may also be shared with approved local fishing organizations in specific provinces in order to assist DFO in the issuance of fishing net labels and replacement labels. The data in this bank is also shared with the Department of National Defence for its National Search and Rescue (SAR) Management System (DND PPU 550). Vessel specific personal information may be shared with other agencies in SAR situations. Retention and Disposal

Standards: The records in this databank are of historical significance and will be retained indefinitely.

TBS Registration: 003621 Bank Number: DFO PPU 010

DFO Violations

Description: The bank contains enforcement data on individuals/companies, including detailed information on offences committed under Canadian fisheries legislation.

Class of Individuals: Individuals, with or without a fisherman's licence, and companies. Purpose: Activities surrounding enforcement and conduct of investigations in accordance with Canadian fisheries legislation.

Consistent Uses: To compile various statistics to determine compliance and surveillance levels, to have an historical database to help identify problem areas for planning purposes. Data is also linked with Catch and Effort (DFO PPU 055) and Commercial Fishery Licence Databases (DFO PPU 010). Retention and Disposal

Standards: The length of retention is to be established with Departmental Records Manager and National Archives of Canada. TBS Registration: 003620 Bank

Number: DFO PPU 060

Fisheries Improvement Loan Program

Description: The bank contains individual loan files on borrowers with defaulted outstanding loans that have been guaranteed under the Program. Class of Individuals: Information relates to fishermen with loans guaranteed under the Fisheries Improvement Loans Program. Purpose: The purpose of the bank is to administer the Fisheries Improvement Loans Program and to safeguard the interest of the Crown by collecting outstanding debts. Retention and Disposal Standards: Undetermined. TBS Registration: 003617 Bank Number: DFO PPU 035

Fishing Licence Appeal Boards

Description: Information on Canadian fishers appealing Departmental decisions respecting the issue, reissue and transfer of fishing licences along with decisions respecting fishers' categorisation and registration of vessels (Atlantic and Pacific). Class of Individuals: Canadian Fishermen. Purpose: Process appeals sought by fishers through the appropriate licence appeal board. Retention and Disposal Standards: Undetermined. TBS Registration: 003618 Bank Number: DFO PPU 090

♦ Marine Services / Canadian Coast Guard

Boating Safety Infoline Database

Description: This bank contains the name and address of clients using the Coast Guard toll free boating information service. Class of Individuals: The Safe Boating Info clients are calling from all areas of the country and are part of the general public and the recreational boating community such as boaters, manufacturers, boating safety course provider.

Purpose: Clients request information on interpreting regulations and order safe boating materials. Client name, address and telephone and fax numbers are recorded to facilitate the return of calls and the distribution of boating safety materials and information.

Consistent Uses: The information is used by Canadian Coast Guard Boating Safety Office only and records support statistical reports for the boating safety program. Retention and Disposal Standards: Records are retained for 5 years in accordance with departmental records management and the National Archives of Canada. TBS Registration: 005016 Bank Number: DFO PPU 044

Pleasure Craft Licences

Description: This bank contains the name and address of the license holder, length, depth and weight of recreational vessels up to 20 tons gross tonnage, dating back to 1985. As of February 25, 2000, only vessels up to 15 tons gross tonnage need be licenced.

Class of Individuals: Actual and previous owners of recreational vessels up to 20 tons gross tonnage.

Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to issue licences to and provide identification of owners of recreational vessels under the requirements of the Small Vessel Regulations. Licenses are issued by the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency. The information may be used for the purpose of Search and Rescue.

Consistent Uses: This bank is also used by federal, provincial and municipal agencies for enforcing various statutes and regulations and for conducting lawful investigations; by police authorities for enforcing safety regulations and identifying stolen and missing property; by parties who submit a copy of a subpoena, warrant or court order; and by U.S. authorized enforcement agencies conducting investigations. Information held in the bank may be disclosed to provincial tax authorities in accordance with federal-provincial agreements.

◆ Policy

Statistics Program

Description: The Department collects commercial fishing "Catch and Effort Data" from commercial fish buyers and vessel skippers and the Dockside Monitoring Program (DMP). The information identifies, but is not limited to, individual vessel and commercial buyers, species weight and quality, information on amount paid (except for DMP data), areas of catch and fishing effort where applicable, on a trip by trip basis (from log books). The statistics system is decentralized, operating from regional offices. National statistics are developed in Ottawa using regional contributions.

Class of Individuals: Commercial fish buyers, vessel owners/skippers, DMP Companies. Purpose: Stock assessment and quota monitoring purposes, international fisheries agreements, economic and statistical analysis, policy development and analysis.

Consistent Uses: In support of enforcement and the conduct of investigations in accordance with Canadian fisheries legislation, data is linked with the Commercial Fishing Licence Databases (DFO PPU 010) and DFO Violations (DFO PPU 060). Used for annual reporting on Canadian fisheries data to NAFO, OECD and FAO. Also used for economic analyses and program evaluations of various segments of the fisheries and for fisheries management purposes as authorised by the Fisheries Act and other related acts of Parliament. Some personal information maintained in the bank is shared with the Nova Scotia Department of Fisheries with the written consent for disclosure from the individual to whom the information relates. In all the above areas, data are produced in reports containing no personal information. However, personal information is maintained in the bank. Retention and Disposal Standards: Information in this bank will be held indefinitely due to the historical value of the information. TBS Registration: 003622 Bank Number: DFO PPU 055

Surveys

Description: From time to time, surveys are carried out by the Department to obtain information. These surveys include: Commercial Fishing Registration and Licensing Data; Domestic Quota System; Permis-pêcheur-bateau; Commercial Fishing Licence Data; Tidal Water Sport Fishing Licence Data; Licensing; Foreign Licensing and Surveillance System Flash; Aquaculture Licence; Complaint Control System; Import Rejection; Plant Capacity Survey; Vessel Performance Studies; Angler Diary; National Survey of Recreational Fisheries; Coûts et revenus des entreprises de Pêche; Costs and Earning Survey of Commercial Fishermen; Survey of Pacific Costs and Earnings; Fisherman's Income Survey; Atlantic Canada Sport Catch Data. Other similar surveys may occur as the need arises. Information may be gathered through the Catch and Effort Data (DFO PPU 055) and Commercial Fishing Licence Database (DFO PPU 010) banks. Much of this data is published in a statistical format, with all personal identifiers removed. For example, Newfoundland region publishes annually its "Costs and Earnings" Survey. Class of Individuals: Information in this bank relates to clients of departmental fisheries programs and sports fishermen. Purpose: The information is compiled to provide the Department with the statistical or economic information it requires to manage its programs effectively. Retention and Disposal Standards: Information in this bank will be held indefinitely due to the historical value of the information. TBS Registration: 003626 Bank Number: DFO PPU 075

Requests Made Under the Access to Information and Privacy Acts

Description: This bank contains request forms sent by individuals to the Department under the Access to Information Act and Privacy Act along with replies, all records related to processing, exemptions claimed, intervention of third parties, complaints received and reports and recommendations of the Information or Privacy Commissioners. Class of Individuals: All applicants, under the Access to Information or Privacy Acts, for information controlled by the Department of Fisheries and Oceans. Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to store information about requests made under the Access to Information Act or Privacy Act.

Consistent Uses: Compiling statistics relating to the administration of the Acts. Retention and Disposal Standards: Two years after last administrative action. (Note: This retention period has not yet been definitively established by National Archives of Canada.) RD Number: 86/001 TBS Registration: 001740 Bank Number: DFO PPU 080

Personal Information Disclosed to Federal Investigative Bodies

Description: In accordance with subsection 8(4) of the Privacy Act and pursuant to paragraph 8(2)(e), this bank is comprised of copies of requests received from authorized federal investigative bodies along with all records relating to the processing of those requests.

Class of Individuals: Individuals about whom requests for personal information have been received pursuant to paragraph 8(2)(e) of the Privacy Act from federal investigative bodies for the purpose of enforcing a law of Canada or a province or carrying out a lawful investigation. Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to permit the Privacy Commissioner to review disclosures made under paragraph 8(2)(e) of the Privacy Act.

Consistent Uses: Compiling statistics relating to requests from federal investigative bodies. Retention and Disposal Standards: Two years after last administrative action. RDA Number: 86/001 TBS Registration: 001741 Bank Number: DFO PPU 085

♦ Science

Fish Health Officials

Description: The bank contains applications for recognition as Fish Health Officials under the Fish Health Protection Regulations and lists of recognised Fish Health Officials, with specimen signatures. Class of Individuals: Applicants include federal and provincial government employees as well as persons in the private sector in Canada, and from other countries. The bank relates to professionals with specific education and experience in fish disease diagnostics. Purpose: By comparison with specimen signatures, to verify authenticity of Fish Health Certificates that are required before import permits can be issued for importation or transfer into Canada or between provinces of cultured Salmonid fish. Consistent Uses: Basis for decision to accept or reject applicants requesting recognition as Fish Health Officials along with a record of qualified individuals. Retention and Disposal Standards: Personal files of Fish Health Officials (FHO's) and master copies of lists of FHO's will be held in a central registry in the Fisheries and Oceans Science Directorate. FHO files will be destroyed five years after cancellation as an FHO. TBS

Registration: 003615 Bank Number: DFO PPU 040

Requests for Oceanographic Data

Description: This bank contains data concerning requests for services and information. Class of Individuals: Information relates to government departments, universities, consultants, general public, construction firms, publishing houses and regional offices. Purpose: The bank is used as a measure of services to the public, to evaluate the type of service required by users, and to trace requests when necessary.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Request forms destroyed after two years; summary statistics undetermined. TBS Registration: 003627 Bank Number: DFO PPU 045

♦ Oceans

Minister's Advisory Council on Oceans (MACO)

Description: A list of individuals submitted for nomination consideration to the Minister's Advisory Council on Oceans (MACO). Information includes: personal and organizational contact information, past work experiences, awards and recognition, memberships, key achievements related to oceans, areas of expertise related to oceans, references, etc. Class of Individuals: All those with an interest in oceans, including fish harvesters, academia, Aboriginal and Inuit, coastal community members and individuals working within the tourism, oil and gas, marine minerals, and environmental protection and management organizations.

Purpose: Information required to assess individuals for their suitability for the Minister's Advisory Council on Oceans (MACO). Retention and Disposal Standards: One Year after the first term of the Council (September 2003 is the end of the first term). Bank Number: DFO PPU 130

Fraser River Port Authority

Chapter 61

General Information

Background

The Fraser River Port Authority was proclaimed May 1, 1999 pursuant to the Canada Marine Act, 1998. The Port Authority is a continuation of the Fraser River Harbour Commission which was established under the Harbour Commissions Act, 1965. Prior to 1965, the agency was known as the New Westminster Harbour Commissioners as created by federal legislation in May 1913.

The Fraser River is a major river transportation route in the Province of British Columbia with good harbour facilities available from Steveston (9 km from the mouth) to New Westminster (35 km from the mouth).

Responsibilities

The Fraser River Port Authority, also referred to as Fraser Port, is responsible for administering the lower portion of the main arm of the Fraser River from Kanaka Creek (near Haney, BC) downstream to the mouth of Fraser River. In addition, Fraser Port's jurisdiction includes a small portion of the North Arm of the Fraser River, a portion of the Pitt River from Pitt Lake to the Pitt River's confluence with the Fraser River, and from the mouth of the Fraser River, south to Brunswick Point in Canoe Pass.

Fraser Port, as the lead agency, works in conjunction with the nine municipalities that border the Fraser River, and numerous local, Provincial and Federal agencies, to coordinate harbour operations and developments, as well as to maintain sustainability of the Fraser River and harbour facilities within the jurisdiction of the Port Authority.

Legislation

- Canada Marine Act, S.C.1997-98, c.10

Organization

The President and Chief Executive Officer of the Fraser River Port Authority is the Head of the Institution for the purposes of the Access to Information Act and the Privacy Act and exercises all the powers and responsibilities pertaining to this function under the Acts in question.

♦ Business Development

Responsibilities of the department are to develop new business opportunities, market strategies and implementation plans; to review and maintain awareness of contracts, agreements, negotiations in progress, and geographic market segments; to maintain awareness of missions, objectives and key priorities of Fraser Port; to review and assess the overall strengths and weaknesses of the organization; to identify key issues and external events which are of significance to Fraser Port; and to develop awareness of opportunities for market development and expansion for all divisions.

♦ Finance and Administration

Responsibilities of the department are to develop corporate policies, standards and programmes related to organizational structure and processes; to review and develop information and data processing requirements and systems; to review and develop human resources, resource planning, career planning and succession policies; to review and develop purchasing policies, procedures and controls; and to review, plan, and develop financial standards, policies, procedures and controls.

♦ Operations

Responsibilities of the department are to review and maintain awareness of environmental and land maintenance issues; to review and develop awareness of vessel programs; to develop channel strategy policies; and to administer environmental matters relating to leasing, permitting, and licensing of tenants and activities along the Crown portions of the Fraser River.

♦ Property Development

Responsibilities of the department are to review and maintain awareness of land development opportunities; to administer capital projects; to review and address property issues; to resolve administrative processing inconsistencies; and to administer the leasing, permitting, and licensing of tenants and activities along the Crown portions of the Fraser River.

♦ Public Affairs

Responsibilities of the department are to coordinate preparation and distribution of the Annual report; to answer external requests for information at the Corporate level; to coordinate printing and distribution of Corporate Information brochures; and to coordinate advertising and publicizing the Fraser River Port Authority.

Classes of Personal Information

In the course of conducting the programs and activities of Fraser Port, categories of personal information may be accumulated which are not contained in the specific personal information banks described above. Such personal information includes expressions of public support, offers of services, and complaints. This information is stored as part of the general subject files where records are not normally retrieved by name of the individual or other personal identifiers.

Personal information is normally retrievable only if specifics are provided concerning the subject matter, the related program activity, and the approximate date on which the information would have been received by Fraser Port. The retention periods for these classes of personal information are controlled by the Records Retention Schedules for the general subject files in which they are stored.

Freshwater Fish Marketing Corporation

Chapter 62

General Information

Background

The Freshwater Fish Marketing Corporation (FFMC) was established in 1969 under the authority of the Freshwater Fish Marketing Act. The Act gives the FFMC the exclusive right to interprovincial and export trade in designated products of the freshwater fisheries supplied from the three Prairie Provinces, the Northwest Territories, and part of northern Ontario. The FFMC is a federal crown corporation listed under Schedule III, Part I of the Financial Administration Act.

Responsibilities

The objectives of the Corporation are: to market fish in an orderly manner; to increase returns to fishermen; and to promote markets and export trade in fish.

The Act requires the FFMC to purchase all legally caught fish offered for sale by licensed fishermen, subject to price and terms and conditions of purchase (including quality provisions). It must conduct its operations on a self-sustaining financial basis without appropriations by Parliament.

Legislation

- Freshwater Fish Marketing Act (1969)

Organization

The FFMC is managed by an eleven member board of directors composed of a Chairman, a President, one director for each participating province/Territories and four other directors. The Chairman and the President are appointed by the Governor-in-Council. The remaining directors are appointed by the Minister of Fisheries and Oceans with the approval of the Governor-in-Council. Directors from a participating province are appointed on the recommendation of the Lieutenant Governor in Council of the participating province. The board of directors is supported and advised by an Advisory Committee composed of fifteen members appointed by the Governor-in-Council.

Great Lakes Pilotage Authority Canada

Chapter 63

General Information

Background

As a result of recommendations made by a Royal Commission on Pilotage in Canada, the Pilotage Act was assented to by Her Majesty and the Governor-in-Council and proclaimed in force February 1, 1972.

The Pilotage Act created four pilotage regions with specific authorities, thereby replacing a large number of local pilotage districts. The four Pilotage Authorities - Atlantic, Laurentian, Great Lakes and Pacific - are Crown corporations, responsible to Parliament through the Minister of Transport.

The Great Lakes Pilotage Authority, Ltd. was established in February 1972 pursuant to the Pilotage Act, incorporated as a limited company in May 1972, and was continued under the Canada Business Corporations Act. Until October 1st, 1998, it operated under the name of Great Lakes Pilotage Authority, Ltd. Pursuant to the Marine Act, which received Royal Assent on June 11 1998, the name of the Authority was changed to Great Lakes Pilotage Authority and the Authority is deemed to have been established under subsection 3(1) of the Pilotage Act. The Authority is a Crown corporation listed in Schedule III, Part I of the Financial Administration Act. On October 1st, 1998, the Authority ceased to be a subsidiary of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority and has initiated a process to surrender its charter under the Canada Business Corporations Act.

Responsibilities

The role and objectives of the Authority are to establish, operate, maintain and administer, in the interest of safety, an efficient and economical pilotage service within its geographical boundaries; all waters in the Province of Quebec south of the northern entrance to St. Lambert Lock and all Canadian waters in and around the provinces of Ontario and Manitoba. Pilotage in the international waters within the boundaries is shared with United States of America Pilot Corporations, which are under the direction of the United States Coast Guard, as agreed under a memorandum of arrangements between Canada and the United States. The Authority prescribes tariffs of pilotage charges that are to be fair, reasonable and consistent with providing revenues sufficient to permit the Authority to operate on a self-sustaining financial basis.

Legislation

- Authority By-Laws
- Canada Shipping Act, RSC, 1985, c. S-9
- General Pilotage Regulations
- Great Lakes Pilotage Regulations
- Memorandum of Arrangements between the Minister of Transport, Canada and the Secretary of Transportation, U.S.A.
- Pilotage Act, RSC, 1985, c. P-14

Organization

The Great Lakes Pilotage Authority consists of a part-time Chairman and six members appointed by the Governor in Council with a full time Chief Executive Officer appointed by the Board of Directors. The Authority's head office is located in Cornwall, Ontario. The Eastern District operations office is located at headquarters and the Western District operations office in St. Catharines, Ontario. All management, administrative, personnel, financial contracts and purchasing services are provided by the Cornwall office. The Authority is a Crown corporation, responsible to Parliament through the Minister of Transport.

♦ Administration Branch

This Branch provides administrative and financial services as required to operate within accepted corporate business procedures.

♦ Operations Branch

This Branch provides pilotage service by assignment, and dispatches qualified pilots to ships navigating within the boundaries of the Great Lakes Pilotage Authority.

Hamilton Port Authority

Chapter 67

The Hamilton Port Authority was established pursuant to the Canada Marine Act which received Royal Assent on the 11th day of June 1998. As a consequential amendment, the port authority was added to Schedule I of the Access to Information Act and the Schedule of the Privacy Act.

Hazardous Materials Information Review Commission

Chapter 68

General Information

Background

The Hazardous Materials Information Review Commission (HMIRC) was established by the Hazardous Materials Information Review Act, assented to on June 30, 1987 and proclaimed on October 1, 1987. The Commission is part of the Workplace Hazardous Materials Information System (WHMIS) which requires that information about the hazards of materials produced or sold in Canada or used in Canadian workplaces be provided by suppliers to employers and, in turn, by employers to employees.

Responsibilities

As a vital and independent agency, accountable to Parliament through the Minister of Health, the mission of the Commission is to:

- ensure a balance between industry's right to protect confidential business information and the right of employers and workers to know about the hazardous materials they deal with in the workplace;
- provide a trade secret mechanism within WHMIS;
- resolve complaints and disputes impartially, fairly and promptly through statutory or alternate means.

To achieve its mission, the Commission carries out the following mandate under the authority of the Hazardous Materials Information Review Act and the provincial and territorial occupational health and safety acts:

- to formally register claims for trade secret exemptions, and issue registry numbers;
- to issue decisions on the validity of claims for exemption using prescribed regulatory criteria;
- to make decisions on the compliance of material safety data sheets (MSDSs) and labels within the WHMIS requirements as set out in the Hazardous Products Act and Controlled Products Regulations and various provincial and territorial occupational health and safety acts; and
- to convene independent, tripartite boards to hear appeals from claimants or affected parties on decisions and orders issued by the Commission.

Legislation

- Hazardous Materials Information Review Act [R.S.C. 1985, c. 24 (3rd Supp.), Part III]
- Hazardous Materials Information Review Regulations (SOR/88-456, August 25, 1988; amendment:

SOR/88-510, September 29, 1988; SOR/89-288, June 1, 1989; SOR/91-419, June 20, 1991; SOR/93-234, May 11, 1993)

- Hazardous Materials Information Review Act Appeal Board Procedures Regulations (SOR/91-86, January 7, 1991)

Organization

The Commission is governed by a Council of Governors, consisting of members representing workers, suppliers, and employers, and the federal, provincial and territorial governments. Each governor is appointed by the Governor in Council to hold office for up to a three-year term. The Council is headed by a Chairperson chosen by the governors for a term of one year.

The Council is responsible for making various recommendations to the Minister of Health, including changes to the regulations respecting the Commission's fee structure, to procedures for reviewing claims for exemption and to appeal procedures.

The President and CEO is appointed by the Governor in Council, and has the authority and responsibility to supervise and direct the organization's work on a day-to-day basis. The President is accountable to the Council of Governors and the Minister of Health. The President's Office acts as Secretariat to the Council of Governors.

The Commission is organized into two branches: Operations and Corporate Services and Adjudication.

♦ Operations

The Vice-President, Operations, has the authority and responsibility to supervise and direct the work within the Client Services and MSDS Compliance business lines.

Client Services

The aim of Client Services is to assist suppliers or employers in protecting their products' confidential business information while allowing them to meet their disclosure obligations under the WHMIS.

Client Services involves the formal registration of claims for exemption, the issuance of registry numbers, and the security of claim-related information. Service to clients begins when the Commission is contacted by a company wanting to make a claim and needing to know what the process involves.

Client Services assists companies in protecting confidential business information while at the same time meeting their WHMIS obligations. Information is provided that can help companies present complete and accurate MSDSs with their claims. Our Web site helps share this information with industry and labour. Once the application is accepted as complete, we issue the company a registry number for the claim in no more than seven days.

Screening officers have the statutory responsibility to decide whether claims are valid, and for determining whether MSDSs or labels submitted with the claims comply with the WHMIS legislation.

The decision on claim validity is reached by reviewing supporting information from the claimant against the criteria prescribed in the Hazardous Materials Information Review Regulations.

MSDS Compliance

The aim of MSDS Compliance is to regulate, in the public interest, the maximum health and safety benefits in the workplace.

Screening officers review claim related MSDSs and, in some cases, labels pursuant to the Hazardous Products Act, the Canada Labour Code, and provincial and territorial occupational health and safety legislation, and decide whether they are within the WHMIS regulatory requirements. Such decisions take into account health and safety advice prepared by scientific evaluators in the MSDS Compliance Division.

When work begins on a file, the first step is to build a collection of scientific information relevant to each of the product's ingredients. The evaluator will be alert for new information or information of which the company might not have been aware, trying to ensure that the MSDS reflects the current state of knowledge about the hazards that may be associated with a product.

Evaluators assess this information and prepare an advice document for the screening officers on the health and safety hazards posed by the product which have not been adequately disclosed on the MSDS. The screening officers offer claimants, and any affected party who has made representation to the screening officer following publication of the Notice of Filing in the Canada Gazette, an opportunity to review and comment on the health and safety information and advice provided by the evaluators. In the case of the latter, sharing an advice document with an affected party must respect the legislative provisions which protect the confidentiality of information received from a claimant.

At the conclusion of the claim and MSDS review process, a formal Statement of Decision is forwarded to the claimant. Should a claim be ruled invalid, an order is issued to the claimant to disclose the confidential business information which was the subject of the claim. Where the MSDS or label does not meet the WHMIS requirements, the screening officer orders that changes be made to bring about compliance. All orders specify the period during which various changes must be made if the product is to continue to be sold in Canada.

A notice is published in the Canada Gazette to make public the decisions and orders issued by the screening officer, and to initiate the time during which the claimant and affected parties may appeal the decisions or orders. If no appeal is filed, the claimant must provide a copy of the amended MSDS to the screening officer, who reviews it to ensure compliance with the order.

♦ Corporate Services and Adjudication

The Vice-President, Corporate Services and Adjudication, who is also the Chief Appeals Officer, has the authority and responsibility to supervise and direct the work within the Dispute Resolution business line and Corporate Services.

Dispute Resolution

The aim of Dispute Resolution is to provide all parties with a range of options for discussion on issues arising from decisions and orders of the Commission in order to prevent disputes from arising and where they do arise, to address them as early and effectively as possible.

The Commission is in the process of designing and developing, through tripartite consultation, a Dispute Resolution system which will supplement and work in conjunction with the current appeals process.

The appeals process includes the convening of independent tripartite boards to hear appeals from claimants or affected parties. An appeal may relate to the compliance of an MSDS, the rejection of a claim or to request disclosure in confidence, for reasons of health and safety in a workplace, of information in respect of which a claim for exemption is made. For each appeal filed, a Notice of Appeal is published in the Canada Gazette to provide affected parties with an opportunity to make representations to the appeal board.

An appeal board is comprised of a Chairperson appointed by the Chief Appeals Officer, and two members appointed by the Chairperson: one representing suppliers and/or employers, and the other, workers. Board members are selected from lists of potential nominees established in accordance with the Hazardous Materials Information Review Act.

The final outcome of the appeals process is a decision by the appeal board to dismiss the appeal and confirm the decisions or orders of the screening officer; or to allow the appeal and either vary or rescind the decisions or orders being appealed. A Notice of Decision, including the purport and reasons, is published in the Canada Gazette.

Corporate Services

The Corporate Services Division has been mandated with a very important role: ensuring the success of the three core business lines. Corporate Services provides a full range of services to the Commission including finance, records and facilities management, security, management services, information technology, administration, human resources, communications and strategic planning.

Health Canada

Chapter 69

General Information

Background

Health Canada is the federal department responsible for helping the people of Canada maintain and improve their health. For more information about the Department's structure, see About Health Canada on the web at www.hc-sc.gc.ca/english/about.htm#org.

Responsibilities

In partnership with provincial and territorial governments, Health Canada provides national leadership to develop health policy, enforce health regulations, promote disease prevention and enhance healthy living for all Canadians. Health Canada ensures that health services are available and accessible to First Nations and Inuit communities. It also works closely with other federal departments, agencies and health stakeholders to reduce health and safety risks to Canadians. Through its administration of the Canada Health Act, Health Canada is committed to maintaining this country's world-renowned health insurance system which is universally available to permanent residents, comprehensive in the services it covers, accessible without income barriers, portable within the country and publicly funded. Each province and territory administers its own health care plan with respect for these five basic principles of the Canada Health Act. Many factors, including family history, social or financial status, physical environment and personal lifestyle choices, influence individual health. By making Canadians more aware of dangers to their health, protecting them from avoidable risks and encouraging them to take a more active role in their health, Health Canada fosters a healthier population and contributes to a more productive country.

Organization

Associate Deputy Minister's Office

♦ Audit and Accountability Bureau

The primary role of the Audit and Accountability Bureau is to conduct independent reviews of the Department's operations, activities, systems and functions to ensure that they support the delivery of departmental programs in an economic, efficient and effective manner. The coverage, objectives and scope of internal audits is overseen by a departmental Audit and Evaluation Committee, which also approves all audit reports and monitors the implementation of appropriate corrective action in response to audit recommendations. The Bureau also has a proactive role regarding values and ethics. The Bureau is also leading the Department's responsibility with respect to values and ethics. A Centre for Workplace Ethics has been created within AAB and was mandated to develop a strategy and to conduct a departmental-wide dialogue on values and ethics with employees throughout the Department as the first phase of this strategy. In closing, the Bureau is also responsible for implementing the new Policy on the Internal Disclosure of Information regarding Wrongdoing in the Workplace.

Deputy Minister's Office

♦ Access to Information and Privacy Division

The Access to Information and Privacy Division is responsible for coordinating, reviewing and evaluating access to information and privacy requests for the Department.

♦ Executive Correspondence Directorate

The Executive Correspondence Directorate is responsible for tracking, reporting, record-keeping, editing, proofreading, writing and word processing activities, as well as coordination, analysis and advice related to the management of Ministerial, Deputy Ministerial and Associate Deputy Ministerial correspondence, on behalf of the Department. It manages write-in campaigns and tracks action requests from the Minister's, Deputy Minister's and Associate Deputy Minister's offices. The Directorate also delivers comprehensive training to Health Canada staff on correspondence activities and on the overall process. The Directorate acts as the OPI for the Management of Executive Correspondence tracking system.

Chief Scientist

The Office of the Chief Scientist (OCS) promotes awareness of Health Canada's science and research, it champions excellence and innovation in science and research both within and outside of Health Canada to ensure the Department has the capacity to perform, harness and translate sound science and research for evidence-based decision making. Working with Health Canada's science and policy communities, the OCS supports the Department's roles within Canada's health research and information system.

Corporate Services Branch

CSB provides financial planning and administration, human resources services, assets management, occupational health and safety, and security operations.

♦ Assets Management Directorate

The Assets Management Directorate (AMD) supports the effective management of physical assets and the occupational health, safety, and security of the employees of Health Canada. The range of services in support of Departmental programs, includes: materiel acquisition and utilization; custodial property management, maintenance and disposal; facilities planning; building and tenant services; occupational health and safety, and security; and environmental management. The Directorate develops and maintains policies, systems, and procedures governing the management of these services within Health Canada.

♦ Departmental Planning and Financial Administration Directorate

The focus of this Directorate is the management of departmental resources. Its role is to implement, interpret and administer the regulations, policies and processes associated with resource planning and utilization and financial administration (comptrollership) across the Department. Directorate activities include the provision of direct services such as financial planning, accounting, functional and advisory assistance to managers, and financial systems support and training to all branches.

♦ Human Resources Services Directorate

The Human Resources Services Directorate supports the effective management of human resources within Health Canada by providing a wide range of services to managers in the identification, recruitment, development and retention of employees. These include the provision of advisory and support services in the areas of organizational design, workforce planning and diversity, staffing, flexible working arrangements, healthy workplaces, employee compensation, continuous learning, the recognition of achievements and labour relations.

◆ Planning and Special Projects Directorate and Office of Modern Comptrollership

The Planning and Special Projects Directorate supports the Assistant Deputy Minister (ADM), Corporate Services Branch (CSB) and departmental senior management in the conduct and administration of a wide range of department-wide and government-wide projects through their life cycle. The Directorate undertakes special projects which support the improved delivery of Health Canada's programs, the enhanced management of its resources and the provision of quality services. On behalf of the Branch and Department the Directorate leads new initiatives being developed or introduced by central agencies to improve management efficiency and effectiveness (e.g., modern comptrollership, Year 2000, sustainable development, environmental management system, integrated risk management framework). The Directorate also serves as the Department's Office of Modern Comptrollership (modern management practices). The Office provides a single window contact point in the Department with Treasury Board and other Departments on modern management practices. The Directorate undertakes planning activities for the Corporate Services Branch and provides leadership in the management of cross-branch projects such as internal communications, workplace health and continuous learning. The Directorate provides advice, expertise and assistance with respect to the development and maintenance of several departmental and branch databases.

First Nations and Inuit Health Branch

First Nations and Inuit Health Branch works with First Nations and Inuit people to improve and maintain the health of Aboriginal peoples. It provides health services to status Indians living on reserve, communities in the territories, and to Inuit people through community-based nursing stations, health centres, and other health facilities in isolated and remote areas. The goals of the branch are to improve the health of First Nations and Inuit, support their access to quality health services and to facilitate greater control over health programs. Its regional offices are located in every province, except in the Atlantic provinces, which are represented by the Atlantic Region.

The delivery and management of Health Canada's community-based wellness programs in the territories are carried out by the Northern Secretariat. The Northern Secretariat also participates in the negotiation and implementation of self-government agreements and the strengthening of partnerships among First Nations, Inuit, territorial governments and other stakeholders.

◆ Business Planning and Management Directorate

The Business Planning and Management Directorate (BPMD) helps the First Nations and Inuit Health Branch develop and improve strategies, priorities, programs, policies and funding arrangements required to deliver health services to First Nations and Inuit. BPMD also develops accountability frameworks to support the delivery of health services to over 630 First Nations and Inuit communities in Canada.

◆ Chief Executive Advisor, First Nations and Inuit Relations

The Office of the Chief Executive Advisor for First Nations and Inuit Relations helps strengthen the First Nations and Inuit Health Branch's policy and planning efforts by: coordinating the negotiations related to new delivery models; maintaining relations and undertaking consultations with Aboriginal groups at the national and regional levels; coordinating Branch initiatives in partnership with organizations such as the Assembly of First Nations and Inuit Tapiriit Kanatami.

◆ Community Programs Directorate

The Community Programs Directorate works in partnership with First Nations and Inuit to deliver a wide range of programs in key community health sectors. Key programs focus on children and youth, mental health and addictions, and chronic disease prevention.

◆ Non-Insured Health Benefits Program

The Non-Insured Health Benefits Program provides medically necessary health-related goods and services, not covered by other federal, provincial, territorial or third-party health insurance plans, to about 706,000 eligible registered Indians and recognized Inuit and Innu. These benefits complement provincial/territorial insured health care programs and include drugs, medical transportation, dental care, vision care, medical supplies and equipment and payment of provincial health care premiums (British Columbia and Alberta), co-insurance payment deductibles and mental health counselling.

◆ Office of Community Medicine

The Office of Community Medicine focuses on developing professional competence and leadership in the delivery of community-based health services by: establishing clinical standards in community medicine; recruiting, managing and retaining physicians; networking with First Nations and Inuit health authorities, provincial and territorial governments, and other stakeholders; providing expert advice.

◆ Office of Nursing Services

The Office of Nursing Services is responsible for nursing recruitment and retention; nursing practice, standards and competency; education and staff development; nursing management; expert advice; liaison and networking.

◆ Primary Health Care and Public Health Directorate

The Primary Health Care and Public Health Directorate is responsible for the delivery of primary health care services, prevention and health promotion programs, in partnership with First Nations and Inuit health authorities. Activities support knowledge and capacity building among First Nations and Inuit. Key services delivered by the Primary Health Care and Public Health Directorate include home and community care, health infrastructure (such as telehealth services and electronic health records management), health human resources (including bursary and scholarship programs), infectious disease control, environmental health programming, and research and expert advice on dental and pharmacy issues.

◆ Strategic Policy, Planning and Analysis Directorate

The Strategic Policy, Planning and Analysis Directorate supports the First Nations and Inuit Health Branch by providing strategic and tactical advice, priority setting and policy coordination; providing information and analysis to carry out research, evaluate programs and manage information resources; and through the development of policies in response to emerging and long-term issues. Expertise in the Directorate is shared with First Nations and Inuit, federal, provincial and territorial government departments, and other stakeholders.

Health Policy and Communications Branch

The Health Policy and Communications Branch (HPC) provides advice and support to the Minister, the departmental executive and to program branches in the areas of policy development, intergovernmental and international affairs, strategic planning and review, communications and consultation, and the administration of the Canada Health Act.

◆ Communications, Marketing and Consultation Directorate

The Communications and Consultation Directorate provides communications and consultations advice and support to the department and the Minister, implements and evaluates communications strategies, prepares communications plans for Memoranda to Cabinet, and advises senior managers on high profile public issues as they emerge. It provides advice and support for Health Canada's consultations and citizen engagement strategies for major policy and program issues and initiatives.

◆ Health Care Directorate

The Health Care Directorate is responsible for providing overall policy advice and support to the Minister on Health System Renewal, which is one of the Business Lines of Health Canada. This responsibility includes providing broad advice on the financing, future directions and sustainability of the publicly funded health system, as well as specific policy advice on current health care priorities, including: primary care; health human resources; home and community care; pharmaceuticals; quality care; and accountability.

◆ Intergovernmental Affairs Directorate

The Intergovernmental Affairs Directorate is responsible for three areas: Canada Health Act interpretation, monitoring, and enforcement; Federal/Provincial/Territorial Relations.

◆ International Affairs Directorate

The International Affairs Directorate initiates, coordinates and monitors departmental policies, strategies and activities in the international field. It provides advice on the department's strategic approach to international affairs; ensures the department's international activities are internally coherent and consistent with government-wide policies; and recommends departmental representation at international meetings.

◆ Management Services Directorate

This directorate develops and provides management services in support of priority setting, planning, coordination and operations across the branch. It provides leadership in the management of cross-branch projects, problem solving and management of change.

◆ Nursing Policy

This function was created in June 1998 to strengthen the focus on nursing policy issues within Health Canada. It is responsible for advising Health Canada on the nursing perspective on various policy issues and programs, representing that perspective in various fora, contributing to health policy formulation and program development, and working closely with the nursing community in developing advice to the Minister and the Department.

◆ Policy, Planning and Priorities Directorate

The Policy, Planning and Priorities Directorate provides strategic policy and planning advice to the Minister and Senior Management. In the development and coordination of policy, the directorate is guided by government priorities, the horizontal nature of policy issues, and the ongoing need for policy cohesion. Key partnerships include the other branches of the department, the central agencies, other federal departments, other levels of government, and also the non-governmental sector.

◆ Women's Health Bureau

The main responsibilities of the Women's Health Bureau are to promote, monitor and report on the implementation of Health Canada's Women's Health Strategy and to administer the Centres of Excellence for Women's Health Program. Its primary functions are: ensuring that women's health concerns receive appropriate attention and emphasis within the department; promoting an understanding of gender as a critical variable in health; promoting the implementation of a systematic gender-based analysis process throughout the Department; analysing and assessing the impact of programs, policies and practices in the health system, broadly defined, on women and women's health; maintaining an ongoing relationship with major health and women's organizations and promoting women's active involvement in their own health and well-being.

Health Products and Food Branch

Health Products and Food Branch has two main goals: promote good nutrition and informed use of drugs, food and natural health products; maximize the safety and efficacy of drugs, food, natural health products, medical devices, biologics and related biotechnology products in the Canadian marketplace and health system. Major programs are: therapeutic products (medical devices and drugs); food, including all Health Canada nutrition activities; natural health products; biologics and genetics (blood and blood products, viral and bacterial vaccines, genetic therapies and diagnostics, tissues, organs, xenotransplants, radiopharmaceuticals, and reproductive technologies); Office of Consumer and Public Involvement (OCAP); Office of Biotechnology and Science; Health Products, Food Litigation Secretariat and Marketed Health Products

◆ Biologics and Genetics Directorate

The Biologics and Genetics Directorate will be formed over the next year, as announced in the document entitled "Realigning Health Canada To Better Serve Canadians." This new directorate is envisaged as being the national authority that evaluates and monitors the safety, effectiveness, and quality of biological products (including blood and blood products, viral and bacterial vaccines, genetic therapies and diagnostics, tissues, organs, xenotransplants, radiopharmaceuticals, and reproductive technologies).

◆ Food Directorate

The Food Directorate helps the people of Canada maintain and improve their health through science-based policies and advice on the safety and nutritional quality of food. We use the Health Canada integrated approach to managing risks and benefits to health by: promoting healthy behaviors, protecting Canadians against risk factors over which they have little control, and providing information and tools so that Canadians can make informed decisions about their health. In the areas of food additives, chemical and microbiological contaminants, nutrients, novel foods, including genetically modified foods, and food components and processes, the Directorate develops policies, standards and guidelines, conducts research and evaluates submissions. These responsibilities are carried out under the authority of the Food and Drugs Act and Regulations and the Department of Health Act. In addition, under the Canadian Food Inspection Agency Act, the Directorate assesses the effectiveness of the activities of the Canadian Food Inspection Agency related to food safety. Information on food safety and nutrition is available at the following Health Canada web sites: the Food Directorate site: www.hc-sc.gc.ca/food-aliment/ and the Food and Nutrition site: www.hc-sc.gc.ca/english/food.htm.

◆ Veterinary Drugs Directorate

The Veterinary Drugs Directorate (VDD) ensures safety of foods such as milk, meat, eggs, fish and honey from animals treated with veterinary drugs. It also ensures that veterinary drugs sold in Canada are safe and effective for animals. The Directorate is comprised of six divisions:

- Human Safety Division evaluates data on new drugs to assess any potential hazards to human health resulting from the use of veterinary pharmaceuticals in animals used for food.
- Manufacturing and Chemical Evaluation Division examines manufacturing, quality control and packaging processes to ensure that all new veterinary drugs sold in Canada meet strict quality and manufacturing standards and maintain potency for their stated shelf life.
- Clinical Evaluation Division undertakes pre-market evaluation of veterinary drugs to determine that they are safe for use with the intended species of animals, effective for claims made and that labels are clear and concise, provide adequate directions for use, including caution and warning statements.

- Submission and Knowledge Management Division issues Notices of Compliance once the submission has been reviewed and cleared for sale in Canada. It is also responsible for the design and development of technology processes to streamline and facilitate the business of the VDD.
- Policy Division works to develop and align the VDD policies and procedures that are in compliance with departmental, other federal departmental and international policies, acts and regulations.
- Partnership and Outreach Division works to develop and strengthen partnerships with stakeholders and other interested groups to ensure that the goals and objectives of the VDD are understood, and that work done in collaboration with our partners balances the needs of consumers and industry to ensure the safety of food produced from animals as well as the health of animals.

◆ Health Products and Food Litigation Secretariat

The Health Products and Food Litigation Secretariat was established in 2000 to respond to litigation initiated against Health Canada concerning Medical Devices. In partnership with the Department of Justice, the Health Products and Food Litigation Secretariat is responsible for the strategic management of litigation related to the activities of the Branch.

The Secretariat provides service to Health Canada and Justice in managing current litigation and legal risks. The functions of the Secretariat include: management of court cases; collection and analysis of documentary and witness evidence for the purpose of litigation; litigation policy development and analysis; assessment and management of strategic and legal risks.

◆ Natural Health Products

On March 26, 1999, Health Minister Allan Rock announced that he had accepted all 53 recommendations made in the Standing Committee report on natural health products. In accordance with the Standing Committee's report, the Minister also announced the creation of a new Office of Natural Health Products, now called the Natural Health Products Directorate (NHPD). NHPD's mission is to ensure that all Canadians have ready access to natural health products that are safe, effective, and of high quality, while respecting freedom of choice and philosophical and cultural diversity.

Following a Transition Team report and extensive national consultations, NHPD pre-published its Regulations in Canada Gazette, Part I (CGI) on December 21, 2001. The main components of the Regulations are definitions, product licensing, adverse reaction reporting, site licensing, good manufacturing practices, clinical trials, and labelling and packaging. NHPD is currently responding to communications received during the CGI comment period and will proceed to CG II shortly.

◆ Office of Consumer and Public Involvement

The Office of Consumer and Public Involvement promotes meaningful public and consumer participation in decision-making on priorities, policies and programs for the Health Products and Food Branch and for other branches with similar regulatory responsibilities.

◆ Policy and Strategic Planning Directorate

This directorate is accountable for the management of key strategic policy and planning files/issues in support of and as assigned by the ADM, Health Products and Food Branch; for the integration of strategic policy and planning initiatives with departmental policies and programs; and strategic input into branch business plans, and priorities.

◆ Regional Directors

Regional operations cover many of the Branch programs. Staff in the regions deliver on the mandate of the Inspectorate, the Food Directorate, the Office of Consumer and Public Involvement, and provide laboratory support to the Branch and Department. Staff who deliver the Inspectorate program are responsible for compliance and enforcement activities relating to health products regulated by the Branch. These products include drugs, medical devices, blood, tissues and organs, and natural health products. Regional inspectors conduct inspections of manufacturing / processing establishments, and provide advice to health care professionals, industry stakeholders and the Canadian public. They also investigate product complaints from all sources including consumers. Regional laboratory personnel in Toronto and Montreal perform analyses of domestic and imported drug products including products that may help in the investigation of a complaint. Regional food operations provide support to the policy, standard-setting, and risk assessment activities of the Food Directorate, and provide laboratory research and analysis in support of the national food programs. Regional Public Involvement and Outreach Officers actively establish public involvement programs, to effectively link with the Canadian public, in order to better inform and consult on Branch initiatives. The five regional offices are managed by Regional Directors who report organizationally to the Assistant Deputy Minister of the branch and work collaboratively with branch and regional Directors General.

◆ Therapeutic Products Directorate

The Therapeutic Products Programme is the national authority that evaluates and monitors the safety, effectiveness, and quality of drugs, medical devices and other therapeutic products available to Canadians.

Healthy Environments and Consumer Safety Branch

The Healthy Environments and Consumer Safety Branch promotes healthy and safe living, working and recreational environments. It provides occupational health and safety services within the federal government and establishes public health policies and services to protect the health of the travelling public and dignitaries visiting Canada. It assesses and reduces health risks posed by environmental factors and it regulates the safety of industrial and consumer goods. The branch also regulates tobacco and controlled substances, coordinates Canada's Drug Strategy, promotes initiatives that reduce or prevent the harm associated with tobacco, alcohol and other substances, and provides expert advice and drug analysis services to law enforcement agencies across the country. Finally, it is responsible for coordinating and monitoring Health Canada's Sustainable Development Strategy.

◆ Drug Strategy and Controlled Substances Programme

The Drug Strategy and Controlled Substances Programme regulates controlled substances and promotes initiatives that reduce or prevent the harm associated with these substances and alcohol. The Programme also provides expert advice and drug analysis services to law enforcement agencies across the country.

The following are the Programme's main areas of responsibility:

- Office of Canada's Drug Strategy (OCDS) provides national leadership and coordination on the development of Canada's Drug Strategy which focuses on strategies for prevention, treatment and harm reduction, related to substance abuse. Activities in this area include: collaborating with other departments, governments and expert bodies by chairing federal-provincial-territorial committees, advisory committees and interdepartmental meetings; researching, analyzing and distributing leading-edge information about substance abuse including best practices for prevention, treatment and rehabilitation; working multilaterally with groups, such as the United Nations Drug Control Program, and other with countries to address the global drug problem; and managing the Alcohol and Drug Treatment and Rehabilitation Program, a cost-shared contribution program involving the provinces and territories.

- Office of Controlled Substances (OCS) works to ensure that drugs and controlled substances are not diverted for illegal use. This involves developing legislation, regulations, policies and programs to ensure that these drugs and substances are used only for legitimate medical and scientific purposes. Activities in this area include: licencing manufacturers and distributors of drugs and controlled substances and issuing import/export permits when necessary, to manage and track the movement of drugs and controlled substances across the Canadian border; authorizing the disposal of illegal drugs that have been discovered or seized; licencing individuals and companies to cultivate, process and sell industrial hemp products; managing an exemption process that allows individuals with legitimate scientific or medical reasons to possess a controlled substance; and working with other groups such as the law enforcement community to address compliance issues.
- Office of Cannabis Medical Access (OCMA) coordinates the development of and administers the new regulatory approach permitting individuals to access marihuana (cannabis) for medical purposes. Activities in this area include: developing a regulatory scheme for individuals wishing to use marijuana for medical reasons; supporting research on the safety and effectiveness of marijuana used for therapeutic services; and establishing a reliable domestic source and distribution system for research-grade marijuana.
- Drug Analysis Services provides drug analysis services including expert advice and analytical support to law enforcement agencies in their drug enforcement responsibilities. Activities in this area include: analyzing the content and determining the quantity of illicit drugs seized by law enforcement agencies across the country - roughly 80,000 drug samples per year - and documenting the information for use as evidence in criminal prosecutions; and assisting in the investigation and dismantling of clandestine laboratories, by gathering evidence to determine the type and quantity of drugs produced, as well as advising on any health and safety issues related to shutting down these laboratories.

◆ Workplace Health and Public Safety Programme (WHPSP)

WHPSP is responsible for helping Canadian private and public sector employers maintain and improve the health of their workers by providing leadership and policy development in the areas that affect workplace health. A major component of WHPSP's portfolio is the Public Service Health Programme. WHPSP is the principle occupational health and safety advisor to the Treasury Board Secretariat. The Programme also provides public health services including food and water sanitation inspections on common carriers and cruise ships, and develops comprehensive emergency medical response plans for Internationally Protected Persons on official visit or attending international summits hosted by the Prime Minister in Canada.

◆ Product Safety Programme

The Product Safety Programme has the legislative mandate to identify, assess, and manage the health and safety hazards and health risks to Canadians associated with: new chemical substances; products of biotechnology; radiation produced by radiation emitting devices; environmental noise; solar UV radiation; consumer products (incl. cosmetics); workplace chemicals.

◆ Safe Environments Programme

The Safe Environments Programme promotes healthy and safe living, working and recreational environments through the identification and assessment of health risks posed by environmental factors. In addition to the activities carried out under its legislative mandate, the Programme develops national risk management strategies supported by scientific research to promote healthy environments and reduce the risks to human health from the environment. The Programme's main areas of responsibility include risk management initiatives associated with atmospheric factors, indoor environments and airborne contaminants; water quality, including the evaluation of water treatment processes and devices and the development of national standards in collaboration with the provinces and territories. The Programme is responsible for the implementation of the Federal Nuclear Emergency Plan and the National Dosimetry Service and Registry and for assessing and informing Canadians about the risks of radiation. The Programme conducts the environmental assessment of departmental projects and focuses on increasing knowledge of health impacts of pollutants and climate change, ecosystems and health and children's environmental health. Safe Environments Programme staff are located in the national capital region and in regional offices across Canada.

◆ Tobacco Control Programme

The goal of the Tobacco Control Programme is to reduce death and disease due to tobacco use. The Office of Regulations and Compliance administers the Tobacco Act, which regulates the manufacture, sale, labeling and promotion of tobacco products, in order to protect Canadians, especially young people, from the health consequences of tobacco addiction. The Office of Prevention, Cessation and Education works with partners to reduce tobacco-related illness and death through prevention, protection and cessation activities and provides access to information on issues related to tobacco use and second-hand smoke. It also fosters support for tobacco control measures and contributes to an infrastructure of coordinated planning, best practices and capacity building. The Office of Policy and Planning develops the policies, strategies and frameworks that are needed to reduce tobacco use in Canada, and also promotes international cooperation for tobacco control. The Office of Research, Evaluation and Surveillance monitors and analyzes knowledge, attitudes and behaviour with respect to smoking; monitors and analyzes tobacco sales, industry practices and consumption; and works to expand knowledge of the health effects of tobacco use. The Office of Mass Media develops mail, radio, newspaper, magazine and television advertising, as well as web site information. It also develops and provides promotional materials such as information kits, posters, media kits and fact sheets to health professionals, opinion leaders, decision makers, and individual Canadians.

Information, Analysis and Connectivity Branch

The Information, Analysis and Connectivity Branch (IACB) brings together, in one organization, three key levers of the information spectrum - from the creation of the knowledge and information through analytical research to the dissemination of that information through the information highway. IACB will, at the same time, build strong information management and technology networks in the department and externally with clients and stakeholders. Through IACB, the department works to: improve the analytical basis of decision-making; develop the creative use of the information highway in the health sector; and in cooperation with the provinces and territories, the private sector and international partners, provide advice, expertise and assistance with respect to information management and information technology, planning and operations.

The Branch is comprised of five Directorates and is home to the Chief Information Officer.

◆ Applied Research and Analysis Directorate

ARAD helps to build the analytical foundation for Health Canada's policy decision making and performance measurement and reporting. ARAD conducts economic analysis of health policy issues, funds external policy research in selected priority areas, and runs a policy research publications program, including publication of a Health Policy Research Bulletin. ARAD develops the department's program evaluation plan and standards, as well as conducts evaluations of key departmental policies and programs. ARAD develops the quantitative information base to support the department's and the Government of Canada's health system performance reporting commitments. ARAD develops, in collaboration with data providers, federal policy on investments in Canada's health statistics system and coordinates departmental core data requirements with data providers. ARAD has also developed a data dissemination system to give Health Canada analysts single-tool access to core data from a wide variety of sources. ARAD actively supports IACB, other branches, and regions through capacity building, partnerships, and the provision of analytical and performance information and tools.

◆ Chief Information Officer

The CIO is responsible for leading the Department's strategic IM/IT planning (including an annual work plan); establishing a common departmental architecture (including policies and standards); being a champion of the Computer Science (CS) community in fostering excellence and a shared management regime; and leading colleagues in the implementation of best practices for project management, procurement, and performance measurement.

◆ Information Management Services Directorate

Under the direction of the Chief Information Officer, IMSD is responsible for planning, directing and coordinating the department's information/knowledge management and information technology (KM/IM/IT) program. This includes coordination of a departmental planning process for information and knowledge management, development and management of a diversified technology architecture, and design and implementation of informatics initiatives, strategies, technologies and policies in the department.

◆ Office of Health and Information Highway

OHIH is Health Canada's focal point for all matters concerning the use of information and communications technologies (ICTs) in the health sector. The strategic orientations for OHIH are knowledge development and management, partnerships and collaboration, and federal policy development. OHIH coordinates, facilitates, and manages health infrastructure-related activities, both within Health Canada and with external stakeholders. The Government On-Line Division (GOLD), which falls under the responsibility of OHIH, is the departmental focal point for the planning and implementation of Health Canada's electronic access to key programs and services. GOLD works in collaboration with Branches, Regions and Agencies to identify information and services that Canadians will be able to access electronically and to facilitate the changes required to make them available on-line.

◆ Official Language Community Development Bureau (OLCDB)

The mandate of the OLCDB is to lead Health Canada's responsibilities under Part VII of the Official Languages Act by ensuring that English and French linguistic minority communities in Canada will have access to health services and relevant information in the language of their choice wherever they reside in Canada.

◆ Planning & Operations Directorate

POD is responsible for providing the Branch with a range of planning and management services including strategic and operational planning; input to departmental planning documents, and the provision of the full range of human resource and administrative services.

Pest Management Regulatory Agency

PMRA is responsible for protecting human health and the environment by minimizing the risks associated with pest control products. The agency's health activities will be linked to those of other branches, with emphasis on: monitoring disease trends to provide a signal of potential health effects from pesticide exposure, assessing the impact of pesticide use on the quality of the Canadian food supply, and regulating pesticides that are no longer registered but find their way into the environment as contaminants. PMRA collaborates with Environment Canada, Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada, the Canadian Food Inspection Agency (CFIA), and other organizations in environmental and pesticide research and monitoring, including sustainable pest management. Branch Executive Committee. A total of 1,200 First Nations and Inuit Health Branch staff work in these regions.

Population and Public Health Branch

Population and Public Health Branch (PPHB) is primarily responsible for maintaining systems for and carrying out surveillance and health interventions to promote health and reduce risk factors or change individuals or group behaviour so as to avoid or mitigate injury, illness or disease. The branch is also responsible for the Canada Health Network (CHN), a national Web-based service that will provide information on health promotion, disease prevention, self care and the performance of health system.

◆ Business Integration and Information Services Directorate

The Business Integration and Information Services Directorate provides corporate briefing activities to the Department on Population and Public Health Branch issues, particularly Parliamentary and Cabinet Business. This Directorate is also responsible for the scientific publications and multimedia services for the Branch. The Scientific Publication and Multimedia Services Section has the capacity to produce a variety of information products, from a bookmark to a book, by providing coordination, editing, creative design, layout, desktop publishing and quality control services. In addition, this Section is responsible for variety creation and maintenance to disseminate current surveillance data to its professional audience. Two indexed periodicals — Canada Communicable Disease Report and Chronic Diseases in Canada — are produced by this Directorate.

◆ Centre for Chronic Disease Prevention and Control

This Centre provides strategic leadership in the development and implementation of an integrated chronic disease prevention and control strategy at national and international levels, working with relevant stakeholders to ensure a coordinated approach to chronic disease prevention and control.

◆ Centre for Emergency Preparedness and Response

The Centre for Emergency Preparedness and Response (CEPR) was created as the principal contact point within Health Canada to address and consolidate the wide range of health issues stemming from natural and man-made emergencies. The Centre's responsibilities lie within the provisions of the federal government's Emergencies Act, the Emergency Preparedness Act, the Quarantine Act, the Transportation of Dangerous Goods Act, and the Department of Health Act. As well, some of its accountabilities relate to the Canada Labour Code and the Workplace Hazardous Material Information System (WHMIS). The Centre is a key player in the development and implementation of initiatives, actions and programs related to the Emergency Preparedness Policy Framework. As Health Canada's lead agency for counter-terrorism (biological and chemical), the Centre provides advice and guidance to a wide range of partners on bioterrorism and emergency response. With regard to emergency preparedness in general, it has the following functions: to develop and maintain national emergency response plans for Health Canada; to oversee disease surveillance and risk assessment in emergencies; to undertake special projects and crisis activities as necessary; to assess the policy implications of emerging issues and threats; to represent Health Canada on issues pertaining to bioterrorism, emergency health services and emergency response. The Centre also manages the regulatory aspects of human pathogen importation and biosafety, and is actively involved in the surveillance of international disease outbreaks and in medical intelligence.

◆ Centre for Healthy Human Development

The Centre for Healthy Human Development uses a life stages approach and is responsible for implementing policies and programs that enhance the conditions within which healthy development takes place. Through action founded on the principles of population and public health, the Centre addresses the determinants of health and facilitates successful movement through the life stages. The Centre acts through programs addressing healthy child development, families, aging and lifestyles, public information and education (Canada Health Network), as well as issues related to rural health and support of the voluntary sector.

◆ Centre for Infectious Disease Prevention and Control

The Centre for Infectious Disease Prevention and Control promotes improvement in population health status in the area of infectious diseases through public health action. Its objectives are to decrease transmission of infectious disease and to improve the health status of those infected.

◆ Centre for Surveillance Coordination

The Centre for Surveillance Coordination will provide leadership to enhance the capability to undertake health surveillance at national, provincial and local levels. This includes coordinating branch surveillance activities, pilot projects, standard development, policy issues related to information and skills development.

◆ Laboratory for Foodborne Zoonoses

The Laboratory for Foodborne Zoonoses provides policy-makers and other stakeholders with scientific information and advice on minimising the risks of human illnesses arising from the interface between humans, animals and the environment with special emphasis on infections due to enteric pathogens.

◆ Management Planning and Operations Directorate

The Management Planning and Operations Directorate (MPOD) is a centre of leadership and expertise that provides Branch-wide services to support the population and public health mandate of the Branch, including: leadership and coordination of performance measurement and evaluation activities, staff training, development, and workplace health; management of the Population Health Fund; administrative services such as accommodations, informatics, information management, and ministerial and executive correspondence. MPOD is responsible for safety, facility management, and common services at the Canadian Science Centre for Human and Animal Health.

◆ National Microbiology Laboratory

The National Microbiology Laboratory is the main laboratory directorate within Health Canada's Population and Public Health Branch. It is co-located in the Canadian Science Centre for Human and Animal Health — a state-of-the-art laboratory facility in Winnipeg — with the National Centre for Foreign Animal Diseases, Canadian Food Inspection Agency. The National Microbiology Laboratory consists of six National Laboratories which are supported by a Division of Core Services which includes DNA sequencing, Animal Resources and a Central Laboratory for Decontamination and Wash-up Services. The six National Laboratories are: The National Laboratory for Zoonotic Diseases and Special Pathogens; The National Laboratory for Bacteriology; The National Laboratory for Enteric Pathogens; The National Laboratory for Viral Diagnostics; The National Laboratory for Sexually Transmitted Diseases; and The National Laboratory for Host Genetics and Prion Diseases. These laboratories provide expert microbiological reference testing, surveillance and outbreak investigation support to the public health network in Canada. The National Microbiology Laboratory is a key element in Canada's preparedness for biologic terrorism and other infectious diseases emergencies.

◆ Strategic Policy Directorate

The Strategic Policy Directorate (SPD) provides PPHB with policy expertise and coordination. The Directorate collaborates with analysts in all areas of the Branch to develop, articulate and integrate branch policy. By gathering and synthesizing key policy information, creating and cultivating internal and external partnerships and providing sound, evidence-based policy advice, SPD helps to set strategic directions for PPHB and the Department.

Regional Directors General

Regional Directors General will become the focal point for the Department in their region, including ensuring, in their region, horizontal coordination and cohesion across both programs and issues, and in relations with provinces, territories and partners. They have also been given operational responsibility for program delivery in specific program areas.

Pesticide Research Groups

Description: Permits to conduct research on new or registered products. Topics: Policies and general information on research permits and submissions. Program Record Number: HCan 007 082

Pesticide Statistics

Description: Relates to numerical information about the number of registered pesticides, submissions, and uses. Topics: Policies and general information on statistics and product developments and registrations; and uses. Program Record Number: HCan 007 083

Registration and Fees

Description: Information on the registration of pesticides under the Pest Control Products Act. Topics: Application for registration; chemical; specification forms; product labels; registrant correspondence; pesticide registration review; technical and scientific data in support of pesticide evaluation; evaluation and registrations: the following database: Regulatory information on Pesticide Products. This database is provided to the Canadian Centre for Occupational Health and Safety. Access: Files arranged by registrant code and registration number. Program Record Number: HCan 007 097

Regulatory Communication

Description: Includes guidelines and procedures relative to the dissemination of technical information via various media. Topics: Regulatory communication; computer systems; presentations; publications; regulatory information by telephone. Program Record Number: HCan 007 095

Regulatory Liaison

Description: Relates to national and international aspects of pesticide management, coordination of policies and regulatory activities. Topics: Regulatory liaison with federal, foreign, international, national and provincial organizations and governments. Program Record Number: HCan 007 096

Population and Public Health Branch

Aboriginal Head Start Initiative

Description: AHS is an early intervention strategy which addresses the needs of young Aboriginal children 0-6 living in urban centres and large northern communities. Projects are locally controlled and administered by Aboriginal non-profit organizations with programs designed to meet the spiritual, emotional, intellectual and physical needs of the child. Topics: Culture and Language, Education, Health promotion, Nutrition, Social support programs, Parental involvement. Program Record Number: HCan 008 430

Breast Cancer

Description: The Canadian Breast Cancer Initiative (1993-1998) and the Renewed Canadian Breast Cancer Initiative (1998-2003) are departmentally-led initiatives that involve working in partnerships with key stakeholders from the provincial territorial governments, health professionals, care providers, associations, researchers, educators, consumers and support groups, the private sector and women affected by breast cancer. The goals of the Initiative are to reduce both the incidence of breast cancer in Canada and the mortality rate, and to improve the quality of life of those directly and indirectly affected by breast cancer from prevention to palliative care. The Renewed Initiative works through five linked components: the Canadian Breast Cancer Research Initiative; Prevention, Early Detection and Quality Screening; Surveillance and Monitoring; Enhancing Quality Approaches to diagnosis, Treatment and Care; Community Capacity Building; and Evaluation and Coordination. Topics: Prevention; Early Detection and Screening; Quality Management; Information Systems; Education; Awareness Raising and Recruitment; Treatment and Care; Support, Advocacy, Community Capacity Building and Networking; Policy Issues. Program Record Number: HCan 008 260

Canadian Breast Cancer Screening Database, The (CBCSD)

Description: The CBCSD is a national breast screening surveillance system designed to facilitate monitoring and evaluation of organized screening programs across Canada. Established in 1993, it is operated and maintained by the Chronic Disease Prevention and Surveillance and Risk Assessment Divisions in the Centre for Chronic Disease Prevention and Control. Topics: In addition to demographic data (such as age, ethnicity, place of residence) and risk-factor profile data (such as parity, gravidity, family cancer history) for each consenting client, the database records details pertaining to all screening episodes occurring within the programs. Hospital treatment and diagnostic databases and provincial cancer registries are linked to the CBCSD to provide diagnostic outcome data for abnormal screens. Data are available from program start date, and are updated every two years. Program Record Number: HCan 008 261

Canada Prenatal Nutrition Program

Description: Information on CPNP, a program which funds community based coalitions and agencies to establish, deliver or enhance services for at-risk pregnant women in order to improve birth outcomes. CPNP is targeted at pregnant women most likely to have unhealthy babies because of poor health and nutrition. Topics: Prenatal Nutrition, Prenatal Care, Lifestyle Counselling. Program Record Number: HCan 008 435

Canadian Strategy on HIV/AIDS

Description: The Canadian Strategy on HIV/AIDS is a pan-Canadian strategy based on collaboration among all levels of governments, communities, non-governmental organizations, professional groups, institutions and the private sector. Topics: Prevention; community development and support to national non-governmental organizations; care, treatment, and support; research; surveillance; legal, ethical and human rights issues; international collaboration; Aboriginal health and community development; Correctional Service Canada and consultation, evaluation, monitoring and reporting. Program Record Number: HCan 008 290

Cancer

Description: This Division develops and conducts cancer surveillance programs which address issues across the "lifecycle" of cancer ranging from the underlying causes of cancer to access to palliative care. The outcome of these programs will provide measurement tools needed to assess needs, priorities and progress in cancer prevention and control through the creation and strengthening of Canadian information and intelligence on determinants of cancer, impact and trends, and population access to effective interventions. The Division assists decision-makers in the formulation of policies for the adoption and diffusion of effective cancer prevention and control practices in Canada. The Division encourages and participates in multi-agency and multi-disciplinary activities to support actions needed to improve national cancer surveillance systems, facilitates and coordinates development of a clearly defined national cancer prevention and control strategy including goals, objectives and strategies, and recommendations for action based on new research/surveillance findings. Program Record Number: HCan 008 100

Cardiovascular Disease

Description: The national coordination component of the cardiovascular disease program now falls under the Chronic Disease Prevention Division. The Cardiovascular Disease Program has various components including: the overall coordination for the prevention and control of chronic disease, limited surveillance and data interpretation. The Canadian Heart Health Initiative is a federal-provincial partnership established in 1988. The purpose WS to: (1) encourage provincial health departments to adopt CAD prevention as a public health priority; (2) creation of a CAD risk factor database; and (3) carry out demonstration programs in all provinces to learn how to implement integrated public health approaches to CAD prevention at the provincial and at the community level. The Initiative has recently undergone a situational analysis and its future is currently under review. The Healthy Heart Kit (mini-CD ROM) is a risk management and patient education tool for the prevention of cardiovascular disease (CAD) and the promotion of cardiovascular health, as well as a practice organization tool to facilitate the integration of CAD prevention activities into clinical practice, and presents the following CAD risk factors: smoking, cholesterol, high blood pressure, obesity, physical inactivity, and diabetes. Topics: Develop information on Cholesterol, High Blood Pressure, Diabetes, Tobacco Use and Physical Inactivity, and obesity as modifiable risk factors for cardiovascular disease. Coalition building and management; research on prevention policy; coalition and dissemination of heart health interventions, children and youth, disadvantaged groups, social marketing, integrated approaches to CVD prevention at the community level, prevention and control of elevated blood cholesterol and high blood pressure. Program Record Number: HCan 008 265

Centres of Excellence for Children's Well-being

Description: Information on the Centres of Excellence for Children's Well-being program, which was created with a mandate to improve Canadian's understanding of, and responsiveness to, the physical and mental health needs of children and the critical factors for healthy child development. Each of the five Centres focusses on a different issue associated with child and youth well-being: child welfare, communities, early childhood development, special needs, and youth engagement. Each Centre is responsible for: collecting and analysing data, conducting original research, providing policy advice, disseminating information, and developing networks of individuals and groups who are working on the same issue. Topics: Children, early child development, health, youth engagement, disabilities, special needs, child welfare, child and youth centred communities, policy issues, research. Program Record Number: HCan 008 338

Cervical Cancer

Description: The Cervical Cancer Prevention Network (CCPN) is a network of federal, provincial, territorial, and non-governmental representatives which has been established to foster the development of provincially based organized quality screening programs in Canada and the development and use of information systems to enable monitoring and evaluation of the programmes through the activities of three working groups: the Quality Management Working Group, the Recruitment Working Group, the Information Systems Working Group. Topics: Prevention; Early Detection and Screening; Quality Management, Information Systems; Policy Issues; Awareness Raising and Recruitment. Program Record Number: HCan 008 333

Chronic Respiratory Diseases

Description: Co-ordination of a national approach to the prevention and effective management of chronic respiratory disease in Canada. Topics: National strategic plan in partnership with national coalitions for asthma and Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disorder (COPD), surveillance, population-based research on determinants of respiratory disease, dissemination of information on respiratory disease prevention and management. Program Record Number: HCan 008 317

Community Action Program for Children

Description: Information on CAPC, a targeted program which funds community based coalitions and agencies to establish and deliver services to meet the developmental needs of children, ages 0 to 6, and their family's living in conditions of risk; also information and reports on the evaluation of CAPC-funded projects. Topics: Parent training and support, child injury, child development, child health, prevention of abuse and neglect. Program Record Number: HCan 008 337

CAPC/CLNP National Projects Fund

Description: The purpose of the Fund is to finance initiatives that will support the objectives of

CAPC/CLNP programs and directly benefit CAPC and CLNP projects across Canada. The National Projects Fund will allow national, regional or local organizations to undertake specific, short term initiatives in support of activities that generate knowledge and action about children, families and the role of the community in supporting families. Topics: The theme over the next two years is strengthening program management and the funding priorities for 2001/2003 are: human resources, training and supervision; volunteer recruitment and management; national think tank; connectivity; fetal alcohol syndrome (FAS); and support for Francophone projects outside Quebec. Program Record Number: 008 436

Diabetes

Description: The Centre for Chronic Disease Prevention and Control is responsible for delivering three of the four components of the Canadian Diabetes Strategy. The four components are: Prevention & Promotion; National Coordination; National Diabetes Surveillance System; and the Aboriginal Diabetes Initiative - the latter of which is under the purview of the First Nations and Inuit Health Branch. The major goals of the Canadian Diabetes Strategy are to address the health concerns of diabetes for the entire Canadian population, with prevention and promotion as major elements; working in partnership, to increase awareness and education of diabetes, its complications and major risk factors; share best practices; coordinate and lead diabetes efforts nationally; and assist community based prevention projects. Program Record Number: HCan 008 331

Chronic Disease Prevention

Description: Responsibility for the integrated approach to chronic disease prevention falls within the Chronic Disease Prevention Division and the Integrated Chronic Disease Prevention and Control Policy Office. The Chronic Disease Prevention Division is a member of the Chronic Disease Prevention Alliance, a conglomerate of non-governmental organizations and government agencies, who share a common vision for an organized, integrated system of chronic disease prevention for Canada. The Division is also the lead on an intra-departmental working group on the primary prevention of chronic disease that seeks to synergise departmental efforts in the areas of chronic disease prevention. Topics: Chronic disease prevention policy, coalition building, needs assessment, stakeholder involvement, community empowerment. Program Record Number: HCan 008 295

Division of Aging and Seniors

Description: Acts as a central point for information about issues of aging and the health and well-being of seniors at the federal level. Topics: Research, health promotion and evaluation, policies and program development, liaison and partnerships; production and dissemination of information and operational support to the National Advisory Council on Aging. Program Record Number: HCan 008 259

Division of Aging and Seniors — National Advisory Council on Aging

Description: Group of citizens set up to help and advise the Minister of Health on issues of aging and the quality of life of seniors. Topics: Policy statements; reports; writings in gerontology; discussion papers; newsletter. Program Record Number: HCan 008 095

Division of Childhood and Adolescence

Description: Focal point for community-based programs, policy development, research, and strategic analysis of trends regarding the broad determinants of health for children and adolescents in Canada. Topics: Children, adolescents, healthy pregnancy, healthy child development, early child development, children's rights, parenting. Program Record Number: HCan 008 339

Early Child Development

Description: Information on the Early Childhood Development Initiative (a key priority under the National Children's Agenda) which was supported at the First Ministers' Meeting in September, 2000. Beginning in April 2001, the Government of Canada increased transfers to the provinces and territories by $2.2 billion over five years to build on existing services and supports that promote early childhood development. Provincial and territorial governments have agreed to use this increased funding to: promote healthy pregnancy, birth and infancy; improve parenting and family supports; strengthen early childhood development, learning and care; and strengthen community supports. All governments agreed to report publicly on their progress, and on how children are faring, which will allow governments, and Canadians, to track progress in improving the well-being of young children. The Government of Canada report entitled Federal/Provincial/ Territorial Early Childhood Development Agreement: Report on the Government of Canada Activities and Expenditures 2000-2001 was released in November 2001 and can be found at www.unionsociale.gc.ca/ecd/cover_e.html. Governments have also agreed to work together on research and knowledge on ECD and to share information on effective practices to improve child outcomes. Information on the expenditures of federal departments and agencies related to ECD. Topics: Children, policy issues, child welfare, indicators, health, inter-governmental issues, social policy, healthy pregnancy, maternity care, parenting, breastfeeding. Program Record Number: HCan 008 336

Emergency Services

Description: Information on the functions of this planning and coordinating body for cases of national emergency. Central capability is achieved by interdepartmental orientation and the continual updating of the national emergency health plan; coordination with the plans of other departments is effected through Emergency Planning Canada and the Privy Council Office; coordination with provincial plans is achieved through an annual federal-provincial meeting. Ongoing training and education programs provide for implementation of changes and continuity. Co-ordinate and support First-Aid training in the N.C.R. Topics: Establishment, development and maintenance of national capability to provide essential health services in an emergency; establishment and maintenance of a stockpile of health supplies as part of the Department's responsibility for war planning and for assistance to provincial and municipal governments; development and operation of training courses on emergency planning and survival. Programs to ensure office procedures are followed and accounting practices are maintained. Program Record Number: HCan 008 255

Enteric, Foodborne and Waterborne Diseases Division

Description: This Division implements an enhanced regionally-based capacity to conduct surveillance (data collection, analysis, interpretation, dissemination) and investigation of (a) food and waterborne diseases and (b) zoonotic diseases (diseases in domestic and wild animals relevant to human health). This work includes maintaining and developing a national food and water safety surveillance system and providing national leadership to improve enteric disease surveillance. The Division also investigates and coordinates investigations of foodborne and waterborne disease outbreaks across Canada and provides guidance and direction, as requested, by the Provincial Health Authorities; facilitates and coordinates risk analysis and risk management activities with international, federal, provincial and local partner organizations; conducts, supports and coordinates targeted research in critical areas; and identifies emerging threats to the health and safety of Canadians. Program Record Number: HCan 008 402

Environments for Health

Description: Information on improving natural and built environmental conditions for better health including, information on the Healthy Environment Program and the Active Living and the Environment Program. Topics: Built environments, natural environments, population health, air quality, water quality, transportation, urban planning, ultra-violet radiation, gardening, active living, pesticides, urban sprawl, Healthy Environment Program, Active Living and the Environment Program, recreation, housing, safe and accessible environments. Program Record Number: HCan 008 268

Fetal Alcohol Syndrome / Fetal Alcohol Effects

Description: In 1999, $11 million over three years was allocated to enhance FAS/FAE activities related to: public awareness and education; training and capacity development; early identification and diagnosis; coordination; surveillance; and a strategic project fund administered by the Population Health Fund. Health Canada, through its national and regional offices, works in collaboration with Provincial/Territorial governments, a National Advisory Committee, a National First Nations and Inuit CPNP/FAS/E Steering Committee, and other federal Departments on various FAS/FAE activities.

Topics: healthy pregnancy, FAS/FAE, social marketing, information for professionals and front-line workers, funding. Program Record Number: HCan 008 271

Field Epidemiology Training Program

Description: This Program was created in September 1995 to support directorate, branch and departmental surveillance activities by monitoring the health status of Canadians and associated health determinants and to provide infrastructure support for CDP&Cand CSC, branch and departmental surveillance programs. Topics: The activities of the Bureau are diverse and involve both national and international data collection and information exchange. Program Record Number: HCan 008 108

F/P/T Advisory Committee on Population Health

Description: The Federal / Provincial / Territorial Advisory Committee on population Health (ACPH) is a senior policy advisory committee reporting to the FPT Conference of Deputy Ministers of Health. The goal of ACPH is to address major issues that affect the health and well-being of Canada's population as a whole, as well as groups with less favourable health status. Topics: National Strategy for Healthy Child Development, National Population Health Goals, Public Health, Report on the Health of Canadians. Program Record Number: HCan 008 269

Health Canada / Veterans Affairs Canada Falls Prevention Initiative

Description: Health Canada and Veterans Affairs Canada have established a community-based, health promotion pilot initiative to help identify effective falls prevention strategies for veterans and seniors. A total of $10 million have been committed over a four-year period, from FY 2000-2001 to FY 2003-2004, to pilot community projects in three regions-Atlantic Canada, Ontario and British Columbia-as well as at the national level. The funds will be distributed through Health Canada's Population Health Fund. Topics: Falls, falls prevention, seniors, veterans, caregivers. English web pages: www.hc-sc.gc.ca/seniors-aines/hcvac/toc_en.htm. Program Record Number: HCan 008 274

Health Care Acquired Infections Division

Description: Through surveillance, risk assessment and targeted research, the Health Care Acquired Infections Division provides national leadership in the development and promotion of a national management/policy structure to reduce the risk of bloodborne pathogens infections (including hepatitis, prions and emerging pathogens), transfusion-transmitted injuries and infections resulting from the transplantation of tissues and organs. The Division also collects, analyses, interprets and disseminates epidemiological information on nosocomial and occupational infections to the Canadian population. Program Record Number: HCan 008 401

Health Promotion

Description: Health Promotion and Population Health are linked areas of health policy. Since the early 1970's Health Canada has been an internationally renowned player for its work in the field of Health Promotion. Since the mid 1990's Health Canada's main policy direction has evolved from Health Promotion to a Population Health Approach. Health Promotion includes five key strategies: building healthy public policy; creating supportive environments; strengthening community action; developing personal skills; and reorienting health services. Three of these strategies - building healthy public policy, creating supportive environments, and reorienting health services are better addressed from a population health's systematic approach and responding to new evidence on the role played by the broad range of social, economic and environmental determinants in improving overall health. Program Record Number: HCan 008 276

Health Surveillance and Epidemiology

Description: This Division, in partnership with many stakeholders (government agencies, non-governmental organizations, academic centres, international agencies) conducts national surveillance of selected child and reproductive health issues including data collection, analysis and response. Response activities include information dissemination, policy development, prevention / intervention programs and targeted epidemiologic risk assessment studies. Topics: Maternal and Infant Health Surveillance and Epidemiology, Injury Surveillance and Epidemiology, Child Maltreatment Surveillance and Epidemiology. Program Record Number: HCan 008 172

Healthy Child Development

Description: The focus is on healthy child development with a focus on the determinants of health, including physical, social, economic and mental/emotional health and well-being, family support, healthy, safe and non-violent environments, and international treaties and obligations such as Children's rights. Topics: Children's rights, UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, mental health, media literacy, children's environmental health, injury prevention, active living, healthy eating, parent support and education, international treaties dealing with children, etc. Program Record Number: HCan 008 171

Healthy Living and Environments

Description: Information on financial and technical support and services to provinces/territories, national organizations, communities and individuals to maintain and improve the health and well-being of Canadians through increased levels of physical activity. Topics: National organizations; strategic plans, models and policies; research; planning and evaluation; discussion papers; target-group-specific leadership initiatives; equity and access; financial and technical support to services and programs; ParticipACTION; fitness target groups — youth, older adults, employees and persons with a disability; Canadian Fitness and Lifestyle Research Institute; professional development practicum; fitness leadership; Federal — Provincial — Territorial Fitness Committee; Active Living Canada; consultations with the physical activity milieu. Program Record Number: HCan 008 420

Hepatitis C

Description: The Hepatitis C Division develops and implements national programs for the prevention of hepatitis C infections, it builds national capacity at the community level to provide support for people infected and affected by this disease and it supports national awareness campaigns. The Division also provides policy advice related to the Hepatitis C Settlement Agreement. It administers the $50 million Hepatitis C Prevention, Support and Research Program; the Undertaking, a special $300 million transfer to the provinces over 20 years for medications and health care services to ensure that Canadians infected with hepatitis C do not incur out-of-pocket expenses; and the $50 million Look-back/Trace-back initiative, which covers half the cost of provincial/territorial tracing of the blood system to identify Canadians infected by donated blood as well as infected donors. The Division acts as the focal point for a population health approach to Hepatitis C - and ensures a coordinated and integrated federal response to this issue. Program Record Number: HCan 008 421

HIV/AIDS Epidemiology & Surveillance Division

Description: The role of the HIV/AIDS Epidemiology and Surveillance Division is to describe the epidemiology of HIV infection in Canada and to assess the temporal, geographic and demographic trends in the HIV epidemic. This is done by collating and analysing national HIV and AIDS surveillance information, by providing technical and financial support for extramural research on HIV epidemiology, by performing intramural research and analysis, and by holding national meetings on issues of importance to HIV epidemiology and surveillance. The Division of HIV/AIDS Epidemiology and Surveillance is also responsible for providing public health intelligence on the size and trend of the HIV/AIDS epidemics in Canada, through analysis and dissemination of information used to describe and monitor health events. Program Record Number: HCan 008 400

HIV/AIDS Policy, Coordination and Programs Division

Description: The HIV/AIDS Policy, Coordination and Programs Division serves as the focal point for Health Canada in the coordination, implementation and monitoring of the Canadian Strategy on HIV/AIDS. The HIV/AIDS Division plays a central role in moving the Strategy towards a nationally shared vision with improved collaboration among all levels of governments, among communities, non-governmental organizations, professional groups, institutions and with the private sector. The division also provides national expertise on key activities under the CSHA such as: strategy management, policy development and information synthesis, prevention and care, treatment programs, marketing and communications and strategy monitoring and evaluation. Program Record Number: HCan 008 405

Immunization and Respiratory Diseases Division

Description: The aim of the Division is to reduce or eliminate vaccine preventable and respiratory diseases in Canada. In partnership with provinces and territories, the Division is responsible for the national monitoring of vaccine preventable and respiratory diseases, including influenza and tuberculosis, monitoring of vaccine associated adverse events and monitoring of immunization status (including the development of immunization registries). It provides technical and administrative support to the National Advisory Committee on Immunization, Pandemic Influenza Committee and the Canadian Tuberculosis Committee. Program Record Number: HCan 008 404

Mental Health Promotion

Description: The overall goal of the Mental Health Promotion Unit is to integrate mental health promotion principles in healthy public policy, and to facilitate research, knowledge development, evaluation, and innovative projects which promote and improve mental health and well-being, within a variety of environments. Topics: Mental health status of Canadians, mental health policy, mental health promotion practices, youth empowerment, community empowerment, suicide prevention, international network for mental health promotion. Program Record Number: HCan 008 270

Microbiology

Description: The National Microbiology Laboratory provides expert microbiological reference testing, surveillance and outbreak investigation support to the public health network in Canada. The National Microbiology Laboratory is a key element in Canada's preparedness for biologic terrorism and other infectious diseases emergencies. In addition, the National Microbiology Laboratory operates six External National Reference Centres on a cost-sharing basis with the Provinces. These Centres include Parasitology (Serology), Mycology, Yersinia, Streptococcus, Rabies and Epstein Barr Virus. Program Record Number: HCan 008 180

Middle Childhood and Adolescence

Description: The focus is on research, knowledge development and dissemination, consensus building and policy development activities, focussed primarily on the middle childhood and adolescence (6 to 18) stages of development, both nationally and internationally. Includes supporting opportunities and choices for youth and inter-sectoral collaboration with communities, governments and the private sector. Information on the Health Behaviours in School-Aged Children Survey and models, such as the School Health Model and Comprehensive School Health. Topics: Adolescent engagement and empowerment, Comprehensive School Health, School Health Model, Health Behaviours in School-Aged Children Survey, identity development, adolescent attachment. Program Record Number: HCan 008 182

Modelling and Projections Section

Description: The first role of modelling and projection is to provide public health intelligence for policy and planning. These are achieved by synthesizing multiple sources of data and information. Analysing data through applying modern models and methods from the field of biometrics (including biostatistics, biomathematics and computer simulation), epidemiology, econometrics and demography, translating public health information collected through surveillance, special investigations and epidemiology research into public health options. The second role is to provide services, in a horizontal manner across the lines of organization chart, to assist epidemiology analysis and research arising from different areas. One of these services is statistical consultation. The third role is to provide guidance, including statistical consultation on design and quality assurance, for data collection and surveillance.

Program Record Number: HCan 008 266

National Children's Agenda

Description: The National Children's Agenda (NCA), a co-operative effort by federal, provincial and territorial governments, was established to ensure that all Canadian children have the best opportunity to develop their potential. The governments' "shared vision" of the Agenda includes goals for all Canadian children: to be healthy (physically and emotionally), safe and secure, successful at learning, socially engaged and responsible. The vision also identifies six areas in which collaboration by governments could enhance child well-being: enhancing early child development; supporting parents and strengthening families; improving income security for families; providing early and continuous learning experiences; promoting healthy adolescent development; and creating safe, supportive and violence-free communities. Information on the process followed, results of the public dialogue held in 1999, and the revised vision issued in June 2000 by the FPT Ministerial Council on Social Policy Renewal. Working together, the governments of Canada are making progress in two important areas: fighting child poverty (through the National Child Benefit) and promoting early childhood development (through the Early Childhood Development Initiative). Program Record Number: HCan 008 184

National Clearinghouse on Family Violence

Description: National resource centre for all Canadians seeking information about and solutions to violence within the family and in other relationships of trust, dependency or intimacy. The Clearinghouse gathers and organizes existing information and develops and disseminates new informational materials. Clients, including professional service-providers and other front-line workers, researchers, community groups, politicians and media representatives, can access all Clearinghouse services and publications free of charge throughout Canada in both English and French. Topics: Prevention, treatment, training and research related to family violence. Areas include woman abuse, child abuse, abuse of older adults, dating violence, youth violence, and husband abuse. Program Record Number: HCan 008 313

National HIV and Retrovirology Laboratories

Description: Provides comprehensive laboratory expertise to National and international partners in all aspects related to human and emerging retrovirus testing. These partners include other Divisions within the Centre for Infectious Disease Prevention and Control, Regulatory Branches within Health Canada, laboratories associated with the provincial ministry of Health, hospital and blood-screening labs. This is accomplished by providing expertise in HIV/HTLV reference service testing and through the provision of national and international quality assurance programs for HIV serology, viral load testing and lymphocyte enumeration, as well as through the development, evaluation and transfer of related technologies to national and international partners. In addition the National HIV Laboratories provides laboratory support for HIV and STD surveillance programs through the provision of the specialised laboratory testing necessary for national HIV incidence estimates as well as laboratory support of the Canadian HIV Strain Surveillance Program (CHSSP). Program Record Number: HCan 008 185

Office of Rural Health

Description: The Office of Rural Health provides Department-wide strategic leadership and coordination to improve the health of citizens in rural and isolated areas of Canada. The Office provides expert advice to the Department on issues related to rural health promotes action by other federal government departments and agencies on rural health; and establishes partnerships or liaises with provincial and territorial governments, rural stakeholders, professional organizations and other federal departments and agencies on rural health issues. The Office is the Departmental focal point on research and initiatives to advance rural health, and promotes the use of the "rural lens" in the development of departmental programs and policies. The Office also provides policy and logistical support to the Ministerial Advisory Council on Rural Health. Program Record Number: HCan 008 186

Office of Special Health Initiatives

Description: This Office provides program development for new or re-emerging public health issues through developmental and initial administrative support functions. Topics: Tuberculosis Prevention and Control: All provinces and territories participate in this system by forwarding data relating to all reported cases of new active and reactivated TB cases in their jurisdiction to the TB Control Program and produces annual reports containing various analyses on the data, Global health intelligence, global and regional electronic information highways, HIV/AIDS, emerging pathogens, migration health and enforcement of the Quarantine Act. Program Record Number: HCan 008 170

Population Health Approach

Description: The Population Health Approach towards health policy building evolved from Health Canada's Health Promotion Policy Development activities of the 1990s. Strategies are now being employed to integrate the approach into broader Health Canada activities in order to inform Canadians about both the approach and population health initiatives. This to ensure that the population health approach is considered and included in the broader federal political agenda to position population health as the new vision for health in the next century. These strategies include a conceptual framework for thinking about health; decisions that are guided by a consideration of the evidence; a framework for taking action; actions targeted at the societal, community, structural or system level; and requirements of collaboration between multiple sectors. Program Record Number: HCan 008 328

Population Health Fund

Description: The Fund is designed to support time-limited projects sponsored by Canadian voluntary not-for-profit organization and educational institutions. The goal of the Population Health Fund is to increase community capacity for action on or across the determinants of health. Topics: Identified priorities in the following life stages: childhood and adolescence; early to mid-adulthood; and later life. For further information refer to the Population Health Fund Guide for Applicants - 2001 at www.hc-sc.ca/hppb/phdd/funding/index.html. Program Record Number: HCan 008 330

Primary Prevention of Chronic Disease

Description: The Disease Intervention Division is a member of the Chronic Disease Prevention Alliance, a conglomerate of non-governmental organizations and government agencies interested in developing an organized, integrated system of chronic disease prevention for Canada. The Division is also the lead on an intra-departmental working group on the primary prevention of chronic disease that seeks to synergise departmental efforts in the areas of chronic disease prevention. Topics: Chronic disease prevention policy, coalition building, needs assessment, stakeholder involvement, community empowerment. Program Record Number: HCan 008 327

Prostate Cancer

Description: The Cancer Division is managing the grant $3 million per year for the Vancouver Centre of Excellence in Prostate Cancer Research and the Canadian Prostate Cancer Initiative, for a period of five years. The purpose of this initiative is to advance research, care and treatment of prostate cancer. Program Record Number: HCan 008 329

Quality Care

Description: Information on visions for quality in health care, case studies / inventories of quality initiatives and planning approaches, in the acute care and long term/continuing care and primary care sectors. Program Record Number: HCan 008 305

Sexual and Reproductive Health

Description: Information on initiatives on sexual and reproductive health to increase awareness of risks and promotion of sexual and reproductive health to provinces/territories, national organizations, communities and individuals to maintain and improve the health and well-being of Canadians through improved personal health practices. Provides a resource booklet: Canadian Guidelines for Sexual Health Education. Topics: STDs/I, Teen pregnancy; infertility; sexual violence; breast, cervical and prostate cancer; abortion; contraceptives; low birth weight, HIV/AIDS; and menopause. Program Record Number: HCan 008 308

Risk Factors

Description: Through collaboration with other departmental and external experts, this project contributes to the development of quality data collection sources to enhance risk factor surveillance, evaluation and research in Canada. Lifestyle factors such as smoking, diet, physical activity, alcohol use and sun exposure are some of the most important contributors to the development of a wide range of chronic diseases. This project does not provide information directly to the public. However, expertise is provided on data availability and interpretation to those within the department who develop public reports. This project also helps to ensure that the current and emerging data needs of the Centre for Chronic Disease Prevention and Control (CCDPC) in this area are understood and considered when developing national data collection programs. Program Record Number: HCan 008 309

Retrovirus Surveillance Section

Description: The role of the Division of Retrovirus Surveillance (DRS), resulting from the recommendations of the Krever Commission, is "the national surveillance of HIV, AIDS and STD, and the development of surveillance and research activities on emerging human and zoonotic retroviruses and other sexually transmitted blood borne pathogens". The DRS works with the provinces and territories to improve the timeliness, completeness and quality of data on these diseases. Program Record Number: HCan 008 406

Sexual Health and Sexually Transmitted Infections Division

Description: The Sexually Transmitted Infections Division, Sexual Health Promotion and STD Prevention and Control provides national leadership and co-ordination in the area of sexual health and sexually transmitted infections (STI). This is accomplished through programs which develop and support surveillance and targeted research studies, develop evidence-based national standards/guidelines and policy, and provide the timely dissemination and exchange of information. The Division conducts national surveillance and field investigations and contributes to the development of laboratory science related to sexually transmitted infections and sexual health. The Division's programs are directed at identification and quantification of risks, assessment of proposed prevention strategies and the evaluation of existing surveillance, prevention and control activities. Investigation of STI outbreaks are carried out as well as development of recommendations for their control. The Division works in concert with provinces, non-governmental organizations, and health care providers to improve and maintain the sexual health and well-being of the Canadian population by addressing sexual health issues such as sexual health education and preventing and controlling sexually transmitted infections and their complications including infertility and cancer.

Authorizations for marihuana for medical use

Description: The office of Cannabis Medical Access, Drug Strategy and Controlled Substances Programme, has the mandate to process applications from individuals residing in Canada, to possess and cultivate marihuana for their medical use. The initial process that was put in place in June 1999, is called the exemption process under section 56 of the Controlled Drugs and Substances Act (CDSA). The exemption process was replaced by the application process under the Marihuana Medical Access Regulations (MMAR) on July 30, 2001, date of the coming into force of the Regulations. Files detained by the programme contain applications documents submitted by individuals and their physicians, records of decision provided to the applicant. Records of decisions may contain one or more of the following documentation: exemption letters under section 56 to possess or to possess and cultivate marihuana for medical purposes; MMAR Authorizations to possess dried marihuana; Personal Use Production Licences; Designated Person Production Licenses; and correspondence informing of refusals, when applicable. These files contain personal information, including names, addresses, date of birth, phone numbers, medical conditions, medical records, photographs, exemption letters, authorization letters, copies of ID cards and ID card numbers, correspondence from applicants and physicians and contact reports summarizing telephone conversations.

Class of Individuals: Individuals requesting to use marihuana for a medical purpose. Purpose: Files used to process applications under section 56 of the CDSA and under the MMAR. Consistent Uses: No information contained in the files is provided without the consent of the individuals. If a Consent to Disclose Information to Medical Practitioner and/or Representative is given, Health Canada is able to discuss the case directly with the medical practitioner (and specialist) and/or, if applicable, the representative chosen by the applicant, and to collect from them and disclose to them any personal information, including medical information, necessary to carry out the review of the application. This consent will also specifically authorize the medical practitioner and/or representative to disclose such information to Health Canada. The "representative consent" allows Health Canada to deal directly through the representative for the purposes of the application. In the case where an exemption under section 56 of the CDSA, an Authorization to Possess dried marihuana, Personal Use Production Licence or Designated Person Production Licence have been granted, and if a Consent to Disclose Information to Police Agencies is given, Health Canada is permitted to disclose personal information and the terms and conditions of the exemption under section 56 or the Authorization or Licence under the MMAR. Retention and Disposal Standards: Minimum of 5 years after the date of last correspondence. Related to PR#: HCan 005 150 TBS Registration: 005331 Bank Number: HCan PPU 073

Canadian Childhood Surveillance and Control Program

Description: This bank contains information about Canadian children under age 20 years diagnosed with cancer from 1995 on. Data are collected via questionnaire and clinical chart review. Information includes name, address, telephone number of the patient and the parent or legal guardian and the gender, health insurance number and biological specimens of the child. Other information include diagnostic, treatment, and clinical outcome data.

Class of Individuals: Canadian children aged 20 or less at time of diagnosis with cancer as identified via pediatric oncology centres or via provincial cancer registries, and who agree to participate in study.

Purpose: To facilitate development of prevention and control strategies, and to assess risk factors and to minimize long-term consequences. Consistent

Uses: For surveillance analysis. Information may be used to contact these individuals in follow-up surveys.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Retained a minimum of 10 yrs, then reviewed for possible transfer to National Archives (excluding questionnaires which may be destroyed after 2 yrs). RDA Number:

613215 TBS Registration: 004092 Bank Number: HCan PPU 082

Canadian Communicable Disease Surveillance System (CCDSS)

Description: This bank contains information provided by provincial health departments relating to socio-demographic characteristics of the patients, diagnostic information and treatment history. Class of Individuals:

The information relates to individuals with a diagnosed occurrence of a notifiable communicable disease. Purpose:

The purpose of this bank is to provide a database to monitor the incidence of notifiable communicable diseases for use in epidemiological studies in support of disease control and prevention measures. Retention and Disposal Standards:

Retained a minimum of 10 yrs, then transferred to National Archives (excluding questionnaires which may be destroyed after 2 yrs). RDA Number:

613215 TBS Registration: 004093

Bank Number: HCan PPU 078

Canadian Congenital Anomalies Surveillance System (CCASS)

Description: The bank contains information on incidence of birth defects in Canada. Participating provinces provide machine-readable information including the date of birth, sex, nature of birth defects, municipality of residence and a provincial registration number. The system was initiated in 1966.

Class of Individuals: All infants born in participating provinces and diagnosed as having a birth defect in the first year of life since 1973. Purpose: The purpose of this data bank is to provide a database to monitor the incidence of birth defects in Canada and to serve as a register for epidemiological research studies. Consistent Uses: Use of this bank is consistent with the purpose specified in section 5.

Retention and Disposal Standards: Retained a minimum of 10 yrs, then reviewed for possible transfer to National Archives (excluding questionnaires which may be destroyed after 2 yrs). RDA Number: 613215 TBS Registration: 004111 Bank Number: HCan PPU 075

Canadian Hospitals Injury Reporting and Prevention Program

Description: This bank contains information provided by injured persons and by the hospitals at which they were seen. The following personal information is in the bank: the hospital name, injured person's medical record number, date of birth, sex and postal code and the first three letters of the individual's family name. In addition there is information on the circumstances in which the injury occurred, the nature of the injury and how the case was handled in the emergency room. Class of Individuals: The information relates to individuals who seek care for injuries or poisoning at one of 10 pediatric and 6 general hospitals that participate in the program. Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to provide an ongoing surveillance of the circumstances in which injuries occur and, by making the information available to those who develop and evaluate injury prevention programs, to make an important contribution to reducing the number and severity of injuries in Canada. Consistent Uses: A postal code conversion program developed at Statistics Canada will permit linkage of CHIRPP data with grouped census data and analysis of the associations of sociodemographic factors with injuries. Retention and Disposal Standards: The files are retained for 100 years. TBS Registration: 003452 Bank Number: HCan PPU 066

Canadian Surveillance for Creutzfeldt — Jakob Disease

Description: This data will be collected about people with Creutzfeldt — Jakob disease and persons who do not have Creutzfeldt — Jakob disease (controls) by reviewing their clinical records for clinical information and for information about exposure to blood or certain procedures. Additional information will be collected by interviews with the family, by collecting blood samples for genetic tests and by collecting neuropathology samples after death. Class of Individuals: All persons who develop Creutzfeldt — Jakob disease and their controls, recruited through physicians from hospitals and the local community.

Purpose: To determine the risk of acquiring Creutzfeldt — Jakob disease through blood transfusions; to determine if there is any unusual forms of Creutzfeldt — Jakob disease as seen in England following the bovine spongiform encephalopathy (mad cow disease) epidemic.

Consistent Uses: None. Retention and Disposal Standards: Retained a minimum of 10 yrs, then reviewed for possible transfer to National Archives..

Extraordinary Assistance Plan

Description: Contains applications, correspondence, medical records of applicants who became infected with the AIDS virus (HIV) who received blood or blood products as well as their first order relative (spouse/partner or child) who was secondarily infected with HIV; and to living thalidomide victims who were born in Canada and whose mothers took thalidomide during the first trimester of pregnancy.

Class of Individuals: Individuals or agents of their estates who have applied for benefits. Purpose: To determine eligibility and administer financial benefits to HIV — infected persons and thalidomide victims.

Consistent Uses: Information contained in these files is used to determine eligibility for receipt of financial benefits only. Retention and Disposal Standards: The HIV — files are retained for a minimum of 20 years after last activity on file and the thalidomide files for 100 years after last activity on file. RDA Number: 647491 TBS Registration: 005078 Bank Number: HCan PPU 039

Fitness Research Funding

Description: The Directorate provides contributions to the Canadian Fitness and Lifestyle Research Institute for a 5 year Physical Inactivity Benchmark Program spanning 1998 to 2003. The program is designed to monitor the overall physical activity levels of Canadians and track changes in factors that influence participation in physical activity. Data includes: age, sex, province, education, household income, employment status, community size and marital status. Class of Individuals: Individual Canadians and professionals in the physical activity community. Purpose: The primary purpose of the program is to track physical activity levels of Canadians by region. The data is used to develop program strategies aimed at increasing physical activity levels of Canadians. Consistent Uses: None.

Physician Asthma Management Study

Description: Contains information provided by selected Canadian physicians on the management and education of asthmatic patients. Data includes name, address, age, specialty of physician, as well as descriptive indicators of their asthma management practice behaviours. Class of Individuals: Canadian physicians (family physicians / general practitioners, pediatricians, respirologists, allergists / immunologists, interns) with asthmatic patients. Purpose: To collect information on the variety and quality of asthma care and education in Canada; to provide advice to the National Asthma Control Task Force. Consistent Uses: None. Retention and Disposal Standards: Retained a minimum of 10 yrs, then reviewed for possible transfer to National Archives (excluding questionnaires which may be destroyed after 2 yrs). RDA Number: 613215 TBS Registration: 004106 Bank Number: HCan PPU 086

Spousal Determinants in Delayed Response to Chest Discomfort Survey

Description: The telephone survey contains information on how a woman would respond if her partner consulted her regarding chest discomfort. Personal information will only be collected on those individuals who agree to participate in future surveys on the same subjects. Personal identifiers collected will include name, address, age, and telephone number. Class of Individuals: Respondents are randomly selected adult women chosen by telephone number in Ottawa-Carleton. Purpose: Future surveys on delay determinants would be enhanced if repeated on the same individuals to examine changes over time or after community targeted interventions. Consistent Uses: To match an individual's response from the first survey to subsequent surveys. Retention and Disposal Standards: Retained a minimum of 10 yrs, then reviewed for possible transfer to National Archives (excluding questionnaires which may be destroyed after 2 yrs). RDA Number: 613215 TBS Registration: 004108 Bank Number: HCan PPU 091

Student Lung Health Survey

Description: This bank contains information provided by students (ages 5 to 19) and their parents / guardians. The following personal information is in the bank: the parent's postal code, education and income range, the student's date of birth, and sex. In addition, there is information on the student's lung health and the factors that may affect it. Class of Individuals: The information relates to students (and their parent / guardian) attending selected schools within the jurisdiction of nine volunteer public health units. The public health units are part of the Sentinel Health Unit Surveillance System (SHUSS). Purpose: The purpose of this bank is to collect enhanced surveillance data on current asthmatic and asthma-like students. Information will be collected on asthma prevalence, incidence, severity, clinical treatment, patient compliance, environmental control measures, asthma education, risk factors, health care utilization, and demographic and socioeconomic factors. This is needed for the planning and implementation of effective asthma control programs / measures in Canada. Consistent Uses: Respondents may be contacted in the future to provide other health related information. This information may be shared with other programs within Health Canada. The public health units will retain the original questionnaires and data for their own health services delivery. Retention and Disposal Standards: Retained a minimum of 10 yrs, then reviewed for possible transfer to National Archives (excluding questionnaires which may be destroyed after 2 yrs). RDA Number: 613215 TBS Registration: 004110 Bank Number: HCan PPU 081

Traveller Illness Reports

Description: The Traveller Illness Report form will collect information on an individual who arrives ill at a port of entry (airport, seaport, border crossing, etc.) as well as when needed, other passengers in contact with the ill individual(s). Information collected include some, if not all, of the following: traveller's (or contact's) name, nationality, home address and phone number, address and phone number while in Canada (if different), transporter details (airline, ship, seat/cabin number, etc.), ill traveller's symptoms (high fever, coughing, rash, bleeding, etc.), travel history, particularly if there has been recent travel in a tropical country, if any, similar illness in travel companions preliminary diagnosis, if available, if the traveller is being referred to hospital for medical attention, details on the ambulance, hospital, immigration status of the ill individual (and if not Canadian, passport number), name and phone number of person reporting the ill traveller. Class of Individuals: Travellers arriving at a Canadian port of entry who exhibit two or more symptoms of illness. Purpose: The Traveller Illness Report form is used to document arriving ill individuals and their contacts in order to determine the amount of illness among travellers and to proactively identify unusual incidences of diseases overseas as well as to facilitate tracing of passengers in the event of an outbreak of diseases of significance. Consistent Uses: Nominal information collected by the Traveller Illness Report form will not be matched with any other personal information bank. Data on countries visited and symptoms exhibited may be collected for research purposes. Disclosure of an individual's information will be limited, on a need-to-know basis, to appropriate port of entry personnel, Health Canada quarantine officials and, in the case of someone who requires further medical attention at a health care institution, medical staff as well as immigration authorities, should the traveller not be Canadian. Retention and Disposal Standards: Nominal and tracing information will be retained for at least two incubation periods of the suspected illness, to a maximum of three months, in order to ensure that there is no secondary spread of the illness. After abstraction of data on countries visited and symptoms for research purposes, the form will be retained for 2 years, then destroyed. TBS Registration: 004064 Bank Number: HCan PPU 071

Canadian Tuberculosis Reporting System

Description: Contains information collected and provided since 1996 by provincial and territorial public health authorities about persons reported with TB disease. Data may include initials, date and place of birth, sex, marital status, clinical data, any unique identifier and aboriginal status. For deceased persons, data may include cause and date of death. Some reports may include follow-up treatment and compliance. Earlier data are retained by Statistics Canada in Personal Information Bank STC PPU 070. Class of Individuals: Individuals with new active or reactivated tuberculosis. Purpose: To support the prevention and control of tuberculosis. An annual report called "Tuberculosis in Canada" is published and is available in bilingual print version and on Health Canada's website. Consistent Uses: None. Information may be provided to Statistics Canada. Retention and Disposal Standards: Retained a minimum of 10 yrs, then reviewed for possible transfer to National Archives (excluding questionnaires which may be destroyed after 2 yrs). RDA Number: 613215 TBS Registration: 004112 Bank Number: HCan PPU 087

Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada

Chapter 70

General Information

Background

The Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada grew out of the interplay of disparate elements of public opinion concerned with heritage preservation and government policy before the First World War. A growing heritage movement encouraged the government to preserve and develop sites with important historical associations. At the same time, the government was looking to extend its national parks system from the west into the east and the idea of creating historic parks around significant historic structures was conceived. The War delayed the introduction of a government program to identify and preserve Canadian heritage; however, in 1919, James B. Harkin, the Commissioner of Dominion Parks, suggested that "An Advisory Board for Historic Site Preservation" be established, and the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada was born.

The Board was given a statutory base for its operations through the Historic Sites and Monuments Act of 1953.

Responsibilities

The Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada has the statutory responsibility to advise the Minister of Canadian Heritage and, through him or her, Parks Canada on the commemoration of nationally significant aspects of Canada's past, including the designation of national historic sites. When forwarding a positive recommendation to the Minister, the Board will also advise with respect to an appropriate level of Program involvement with the subject of commemoration – that is, by the erection of a bilingual bronze plaque, by entering into a cost-sharing agreement with a third party in order to preserve or interpret a site, or, more rarely, when resources are of exceptional quality or rarity and associated with themes of particular significance, by acquisition and development as a national historic site.

The Board also advises the Minister on the designation of heritage railway stations and other matters relating to the implementation of the Heritage Railway Stations Protection Act.

Normally, the Board meets in plenary two times a year to consider submissions from the general public, heritage organizations, provincial and municipal governments, and others regarding matters of possible national significance. The various committees which it has established to expedite its work, such as the Cultural Communities Committee, the Built Environment Committee and the Inscriptions Committee, meet as required.

Legislation

- The following statutes provide for the operation of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada:
- Heritage Railway Stations Protection Act
- Historic Sites and Monuments Act

Organization

At full strength the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada has 19 members: two members from the provinces of Ontario and Quebec and one member from each of the other provinces and the three territories. The National Archivist and representatives of the Canadian Museum of Civilization and of the Department of Canadian Heritage also sit on the Board. The Director General of Parks Canada's National Historic Sites Directorate is the Secretary to the Board.

Provincial and territorial members of the Board are appointed by Order in Council (normally for three or five years). They must be resident in the province or territory that they represent, serve on a part-time basis, and are eligible for reappointment. The Chairperson is appointed by the Governor-in-Council from among the members of the Board.

Located in Hull, Quebec the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada Secretariat, provides administrative support to the Board.

Human Resources Development Canada

Chapter 71

General Information

Background

The Department of Human Resources Development Canada (HRDC) was officially created by Bill C-11. The Department of Human Resources Development Act which came into force on July 12, 1996. From November 1993 to the enactment of Bill C-11, HRDC had been operating under a series of Memoranda of Understanding involving various components of the founding departments: Employment and Immigration Canada, Health and Welfare Canada, Labour Canada, Secretary of State and the Department of Multiculturalism and Citizenship.

Responsibilities

Human Resources Development Canada's main objectives are to:

- Help Canadians prepare for, find, and keep work;
- Assist Canadians in their efforts to provide security for themselves and their families;
- Promote a fair, safe, healthy, stable, cooperative and productive work environment.

HRDC is responsible for:

- The Employment Insurance programs (such as income benefits, and employment related programs, investigation and control)
- The Employment Programs Branch brings together programs which are regionally delivered by the Aboriginal Relations Office, Youth Initiatives Directorate and the Labour Market Directorate.
- Human Investment Programs Branch programs include Canada Student Loans, Canada Education Savings Grants, Office of Learning Technologies, Learning Initiatives Program, Sectoral Councils, International Academic Mobility and Social Development Partnership Programs
- HRDC also contributes to Canada's commitment to achieving sustainable development by using sustainable development strategies in the planning process of programs and projects, and by making sure that for each project an environmental assessment is done prior to funding it.

Legislation

- Canada Assistance Plan Act
- Canada Labour Code, Parts I, II, and III

- Canada Pension Plan – Parts II and III

Organization

Corporate Services

The objective is to provide executive direction, policy development and management support services to the Department. It is pursued through the design and implementation of appropriate policies and programs, the rendering of strategic communications advice, and the development, placement and maintenance of a variety of operational systems. The activity components include: Communications, Finance and Administration, Human Resources Services, Strategic Policy, and Systems.

Communications plans, co-ordinates, and implements HRDC activities in the areas of external and internal communications, public opinion research, promotion, information, media relations, publishing, and advertising. This group ensures that information is available to the public about HRDC policies, programs and services.

Finance and Administration provides financial, administrative, operational, and management support services to HRDC's operations to ensure accountability, control, and security. This group is also responsible for the administration of the Privacy, Human Rights, and Access to Information Acts.

Human Resources Services provides a full range of personnel services to the Department.

Strategic Policy has broad responsibility for developing and maintaining statistical information banks which may be used for research, evaluation, policy and program analysis, and development in support of various departmental programs and services. This group is also responsible for Intergovernmental Relations and International Affairs.

Systems is responsible for the development and operation of the manual and electronic data processing systems required to execute HRDC programs and services.

Service Delivery Directorate

The Service Delivery Directorate (SDD) supports the Senior Assistant Deputy Minister (SADM) in meeting Human Resources Development Canada's (HRDC) service delivery priorities, objectives and policy agenda. The SDD performs a key cross-program role dealing with operational and client service issues within the Service Delivery Network (SDN). The SDD provides functional direction on all corporate-led service delivery initiatives, including supporting the Service Delivery Committee (SDC) chaired by the SADM. The SDD works to establish linkages between regional service delivery, corporate structures, and external partners in order to promote a citizen centred, integrated service delivery approach and ensure a consistent implementation throughout the SDN. The Operations Working Group is the key group supporting the SDC in dealing in an integrated fashion with operational issues from all regions and programs. The SDD is also responsible, on behalf of the Government of Canada, for the management and co-ordination of the Service Canada in-person network. This includes support to Service Canada Access Centres located in HRDC, Canada Post and Canadian Heritage locations. As one of the lead departments to pilot the five-year government-wide Service Improvement Initiative (SII), client satisfaction surveys will be conducted to establish a baseline of client satisfaction levels with HRDC key services. These surveys are one of the initiatives under way in the Department in support of the service excellence principle outlined in the HRDC's Service Delivery Policy, which puts the focus on clients. The findings of the surveys will identify service improvement based on client expectations and priorities. SDD will distribute results to programs and regions and request development of improvement plans and client satisfaction targets. The SADM has overall responsibility for the implementation of SII. The SDD conducts policy analysis and developmental studies pertaining to service delivery in collaboration with functional areas. In addition to consulting with clients, partners, and stakeholders on all new service delivery policies, the SDD represents the department on governmental service delivery initiatives.

Employment Programs Branch (EPB)

Since its inception in July 2000, the Employment Programs Branch's (EPB's) regionally delivered programs and services continue to help all Canadians to improve their employment prospects and participate fully in the community, while enhancing the fairness and efficiency of Canada's evolving labour market. These activities include: employment and support measures, older worker pilot projects, youth programs, Aboriginal programs and federal-provincial cost shared agreements. In order to facilitate these activities, EPB has forged partnership with the provinces and territories, other federal departments and agencies, businesses, labour organizations, Aboriginal authorities and organizations, voluntary and community groups.

◆ Strategic Integration

The Strategic Integration Directorate, within the Employment Programs Branch, is responsible for leading a variety of strategic improvement initiatives to enhance program management, accountability, performance and risk management, operational training, systems and service delivery. It also provides strategic advice in the areas of planning, policy, and information coordination and analysis.

◆ Corporate Services

The Corporate Services unit is responsible for a range of services for the Employment Programs Branch including finance, administration, and human resources. It provides strategic direction in the conceptualization, development and implementation of integrated management and control frameworks.

◆ Grants & Contribution Task Force

HRDC has initiated a range of measures to strengthen the management of its Grants and Contributions programs through an integrated action plan. The Grants and Contributions Task Force was established to provide coordination and comprehensive reporting of the various G and C renewal activities, that constitutes this plan.

◆ Labour Market Information Task Force

The newly-created LMI Task Force Secretariat has a mandate to create an integrated strategy for HRDC's LMI enterprise, encompassing the coordination, development and delivery of national, regional, and local labour market information. This will be achieved by assessing where we are, determining where we want to go, and deciding how best to get there in order to fully support Government of Canada initiatives, such as the Innovation Strategy, Modernization and GOL.

◆ Labour Market Directorate

The Labour Market Directorate is responsible for the design, development, implementation and evaluation of labour market policies and programs, including federal/provincial initiatives, assisting regional and local offices in the implementation of Employment Benefits and Support Measures and co-ordinating the delivery of the Opportunities Fund, Work Sharing and the Temporary Foreign Workers Programs. The directorate also co-ordinates Labour Market Information and develops a variety of information products for job seekers, employers and researchers, maintains the Labour Market Information Web site, and manages the national employment service, including labour exchange services like the Job Bank.

◆ Aboriginal Relations Office

The Aboriginal Relations Office (ARO) is part of the Employment Programs Branch of Human Resources Development Canada. ARO's mission is to support the Government of Canada's Aboriginal Agenda. It does this by ensuring that Human Resources Development Canada's relationship and investments are consistent with the government's policy and reflect individual, institutional, and organizational Aboriginal aspirations, particularly in regard to full workplace and social participation.

ARO is committed to working in partnership with Aboriginal people to boost their employability and to create meaningful job opportunities – on reserve as well as in rural and urban areas across Canada.

Through the Aboriginal Human Resources Development Strategy, ARO provides a focus for key initiatives for Aboriginal people on several fronts, including programs for Aboriginal youth, urban Aboriginal people, persons with disabilities, and First Nations and Inuit Child Care. These programs are community-driven and give Aboriginal people the authority and the resources they need to address local challenges.

◆ Youth Initiatives Directorate

The Youth Initiatives Directorate is the central co-ordinating point for the Government's youth employment strategy (YES). In addition to coordinating YES across 14 participating Government Departments, YID administers the Department's own youth employment programs, as well as information and awareness activities across the country. These initiatives are designed to help young people make the transition into the labour market by providing them with knowledge, employability skills, work experience, and relevant labour market information.

Human Investment Programs Branch (HIP)

Formerly part of the Human Resources Investment Branch, HIP brings together nationally delivered programs that enable our targeted clientele and communities to learn, acquire skills and participate fully in civic social and economic life. HIP delivers its programs and services through the following five directorates:

◆ Social Development

The Social Development Directorate addresses the social inclusion and strengthened partnerships priorities of HRDC through program investments in research, developing and capacity building related to children, their families and the social voluntary sector. Its responsibilities also include the Therese Casgrain Award wind-up of older worker programs and it fulfils the role of the federal central authority for inter-country adoptions.

◆ Learning and Literacy

In support of the development and improvement of the quality of Canada's human resources, the Learning and Literacy Directorate (LLD) plays a key role in increasing awareness, promoting access and building individual and community capacity for lifelong learning. Through the development and implementation of a broad range of federal learning-related policies, LLD enhances access and opportunities for education through programs such as the Canada Education Savings Grant Program and International Academic Mobility. The Office of Learning Technologies promotes and supports innovation in skill development and learning enabled by technology. The National Literacy Secretariat raises awareness of literacy and supports Canadians' involvement in literacy activities. The Learning Initiatives Program supports a wide variety of initiatives that promote innovation and relevance in the establishment of learning policies and programs, and contribution to the establishment of national learning goals. The International Academic Mobility Initiative supports international mobility for Canadian students via the development of multilateral partnerships with post secondary institutions.

◆ Canada Student Loans Program (CSLP)

The Canada Student Loans Program, part of HRDC's Human Investment Programs Directorate, assists full- and part-time students enrolled in designated post-secondary education institutions who demonstrate they are in need of financial assistance. The program objective is to promote accessibility to post-secondary education and ensure that Canadians have an opportunity to develop the knowledge and skills needed to participate in the economy and society. The program also provides four non-repayable Canada Study Grants. CanLearn Interactive at www.canlearn.ca provides a comprehensive bilingual resource for learning information, products and services.

◆ Human Resources Partnerships

The Human Resources Partnerships' (HRP) mission is to advance partnerships with industry and the learning system to ensure that Canadians have the skills and knowledge required for the workplace. The objectives that guide HRP's work are to increase sectoral capacity; understand and describe skills; encourage learning system to be more responsive to the labour market; promote the workplace as a learning place; and to develop labour market transition mechanisms.

◆ Office for Disability Issues

The Office for Disability Issues works to advance the Government of Canada's Disability agenda, particularly through collaboration with other branches and directorates of HRDC and other federal departments and agencies. Through horizontally managed initiatives with its partners, the directorate contributes to the social and economic inclusion of Canadians with disabilities by improving the coherence of governmental policies and programs, by improving knowledge and understanding of disability issues, by administering grants for the engagement of national disability organizations, contributions for research and innovation through demonstrations of access and inclusion, and by providing funding to provinces through the Employability Assistance for People with Disabilities (EAPD) initiative to enhance the economic participation of adults with disabilities.

Strategic Initiatives Directorate

The Corporate Services directorate provides corporate leadership and services to enhance the development, quality management, integration, and delivery of programs, services, and information to Canadians. The work of this group includes branch monitoring and follow-up, the management of grants and contributions programs, business planning and reporting, performance measurement, systems, and financial and human resource management.

Groups who operate under Corporate Services are

Finance and Administration, Program Policy Operational Support, Human Resources and Change Management, Planning, Performance, Reporting and Systems and Strategic Coordination and Analysis.

National Secretariat on Homelessness

The National Secretariat on Homelessness coordinates the implementation of the Government of Canada's National Homelessness Initiative, including the Supporting Communities Partnership Initiative. The Secretariat acts as a catalyst at the federal level to provide leadership and support in the form of information, and expertise, to help communities to respond to their immediate and longer term needs.

Income Security Programs Branch (ISP)

The Income Security Programs (ISP) Branch of HRDC administers the Canada Pension Plan (CPP) and the Old Age Security (OAS) Program. These two programs provide pensions and income support to eligible Canadians, including seniors, low-income pensioners, migrants to and from Canada, survivors, CPP contributors and persons with disabilities and their children. ISP also negotiates and administers international social security agreements.

◆ Strategic Direction and Partnerships

Key functions include:

- management of the Branch planning processes including input to Main Estimates, tracking and reporting
- management and implementation of Modernizing Services, (including Government On-Line), at ISP and co-ordination of partner relationships
- management of ISP Intranet and Internet development and support of both government on-line services development, and the Financial Assistance and Entitlements cluster on the Canadians Gateway
- input to parliamentary inquiries and Question Period

◆ Seniors and OAS/CPP Programs

Key functions include:

- provision of direction on CPP and OAS programs;
- development of amendments to legislation and regulations pertaining to CPP and OAS;
- provision of direction on policy interpretation and procedures; and
- development of forms, letters and policy.

◆ Disability Benefits and Appeals

Key functions include:

- national leadership and functional direction to regions

on the determination of eligibility for CPP disability benefits, training for regional staff, the reassessment of continuing eligibility, vocational rehabilitation services, resolution of problems and preparation of responses to ministerial inquiries

- development and implementation of related policies and procedures
- provision of direct service to clients through limited processing operations (reassessment, fast track applications);
- liaison with the two independent appeal authorities for CPP Disability (the Office of the Commissioner of Review Tribunals and the Pension Appeals Board); and
- provision of medical expertise in support of the last level of appeals, with physicians providing expert medical testimony at Pension Appeals Board hearings

◆ Contributors and Knowledge Development

Key functions include:

- provision of services to clients with dual CPP accounts (contributors to both QPP and CPP);
- maintenance of contributor records and provision of information to clients on the status of their CPP contributions;
- development of policies and procedures for CPP contributors' issues;
- direction and overall design of ISP College and knowledge development; and
- coordination of corporate services, including file management, accommodation, administration, security and occupational health and safety

◆ Low-Income Pensioner and Quality Service

Key functions include:

- development of policies and procedures relating to low-income pensioners;
- preparation and delivery of a public awareness program to provide Canadians with information on ISP programs;
- processing OAS, GIS and CPP applications from foreign clients or for Canadians who worked in foreign countries;
- provision of program integrity through risk management, payment accuracy and investigations; and
- coordination of continuous quality service using the National Quality Institute framework.

◆ Survivors and High Performance

Key functions include:

- development of forecasts and trends analysis;
- development of performance indicators, program data, statistics and reports on performance;

- development of Client Advisory Roundtables, Client Service Charter, surveys and other means of engaging clients and responding to their needs;
- development of policies and procedures relating to Survivors; and
- provision of national program focus and leadership focused on Survivors.

◆ Migrants and International Affairs

Key functions include:

- negotiation and implementation of international social security agreements;
- management of relations with international organizations involved in the field of social security; and
- provision of policy advice to the ADM on international social security and to the Branch on migrants' issues.

◆ Service Delivery

Key functions include:

- provision of strategic and functional direction to regional and headquarters service delivery networks for all modes of service (electronic, in-person, mail and telephone services);
- business systems support to help enable service delivery;
- establishment of ISP business vision with strategic and functional direction in the design, development and implementation of Information Technology renewal;
- development of the strategic vision and leadership in how programs and services are and will be delivered (the goal is integrated, seamless service for clients, no matter what mode of service they use to contact the government and no matter where they live in the country); and
- coordination of timely Ministerial and Executive responses to general inquiries on programs and services and the processing of Access to Information and Privacy requests.

Insurance Branch

The Insurance Group is responsible for the development, implementation and delivery of legislation, policies and programs for:

- coverage and entitlement in relation to Employment Insurance income benefits;
- program delivery efficiency, effectiveness and quality of service and payment of Employment Insurance benefits; and

- the prevention, detection and deterrence of abuse and fraud in relation to the Employment Insurance Program and the Social Insurance Number Program.

Labour Branch

Labour Branch's objective is to promote a fair, safe, healthy, stable, cooperative and productive work environment that contributes to the social and economic well-being of all Canadians.

Under Parts I, II, and III of the Canada Labour Code, and the Employment Equity Act, the Branch oversees industrial relations, occupational safety and health, labour standards and employment equity in the federally-regulated section (about 10 per cent) of the labour force.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service (FMCS) provides effective settlement of industrial relations disputes and also provides for third-party arbitration, adjudication and referee assistance.

The legislative mandate surrounding Occupational Safety and Health involves operations intended to promote and enforce compliance with the provisions of Part II of the Canada Labour Code and its Regulations in order to prevent accidents and injuries.

With respect to Fire Prevention, the Labour Program delivers fire protection services in federal properties and in First Nations major public buildings and schools to ensure the protection, conservation and minimization of risks due to fire to life, property and the federal Government's financial position.

The Federal Workers' Compensation Service (FWCS) administers the Government Employees' Compensation Act (GECA), the Merchant Seamen Compensation Act (MSCA) and the compensation for death and disability in accordance with the Corrections and Conditional Release Regulations (CCRR).

With respect to Labour Standards and Workplace Equity, this activity establishes and protects employees' rights to fair and equitable conditions of employment. The operations are intended to promote and enforce compliance with the provisions of Part III of the Canada Labour Code and the Fair Wages and Hours of Labour Act and their regulations, and the Employment Equity Act and regulations.

The Workplace Information Directorate (WID) tracks, analyzes and disseminates a vast array of information on industrial relations and collective bargaining in Canada. WID houses the most comprehensive, multi-jurisdictional collective agreements library in Canada (approximately 6,000 agreements) and regularly monitors major contract talks, those covering 500 or more employees. Data on smaller bargaining units (100 to 499 employees), based on a stratified sample approach, were introduced in January 2001 in response to client consultations and to better reflect the industrial and regional composition of the Canadian economy. WID produces the following publications on various industrial relations issues: the Wage Settlements Bulletin, the Workplace Gazette, and the Collective Bargaining Bulletin. In addition to the information on labour organizations and innovative workplace practices in Canada available directly from the website, subscribers can now also access and conduct research on collective agreements through a virtual library - the Negotech.

The Labour Branch is also responsible for Canadian participation in the International Labour Organization and for the implementation of international labour cooperation agreements with the United States of America, Mexico and Chile as well as ongoing participation in the Summit of the Americas and Free Trade Area of the Americas initiatives and the Inter-American Conference of Labour Ministers.

Corporate Affairs and Planning (CAP) Branch

The Corporate Affairs and Planning Branch works closely with all parts of the department to establish strategic directions and to develop and implement a departmental business plan. The branch focuses on improving the department's ability to track its activities and monitor progress. In addition to linking issues management to longer-term strategic directions and departmental objectives, CAP also plays a key role in supporting the Executive Committees in effective issues management. Through strengthened and integrated corporate planning, accountability and decision-making practices, the branch ensures effective support to the Minister and Deputy Minister.
